Bare Root Perennials in this catalog

Size I

Size II

We offer a wide range of bare root perennials listed as size #1 divisions. Most of these plants are field grown for one year to make them the perfect size for producing a 1 gallon container. We also offer a few of the best-selling perennials in a smaller size #2 division, at a lower price: ideal for smaller containers and quick sales. This size can also be planted in late spring or early summer for fall sales or extra-large plants for the following spring. We offer our bare root perennials in both small quantity bags and large quantity boxes. Please see our order form for more information.

Why use Bare Root Perennials for your Perennial production?

- Our Bare Roots will make a bigger, stronger plant in a shorter time, compared to many liners. This will directly decrease production costs and increase profitability of your perennial production;
- All our Bare Roots are quality products, true to name and proven to perform. This will minimize product losses during your production process;
- Bare Roots are easily stored dormant; many delivery schedules are possible. This makes your perennial production very flexible;
- All our Bare Roots are shipped as a dormant, cold stored crown so you can be certain the cold requirement has been met;
- Bare Roots can tolerate lower temperatures after planting than many greenhouse-produced plugs or liners. This directly leads to savings in your production process.

Growing information

Perennials

We are growing many different kinds of perennials in our nursery including a wide variety of Peonies, Hostas and Hemerocallis. Right now we are growing more than 200 varieties of perennials and we are always looking for proven new and better items to add to our nursery and your perennial mix. Because we are growers, we do understand the needs that other growers and business people like you come across each year. We can assist with technical support and other information as needed.

Growers

As you can see when you look at our Perennial listing, we carry more than the 200 varieties we grow ourselves. Varieties we don't grow at our own nursery are coming from other Dutch growers we are very familiar with. By working closely with those growers, we are ensured they are growing the same way we do, which results in a similar crop. Sizes might vary a little since soil conditions may be different. Our fields are in areas with very sandy soil while some of the growers we deal with have their nurseries in areas with a heavier soil which contain more clay.

Trial Gardens

Even though we have selected the best growers, we do take samples from all shipments we receive and plant these roots in our trial garden next to our office. This way we can make sure these plants are true to name and top quality. We can also keep an eye on the growing habits. Over the years we have been able to sort out which growers or growing locations supply us with the best possible quality and sizes. With the feedback we get from the trial gardens, we can give more information about the perennials/products customers receive from us.

Colorful tag

Tags are available for all plants in this catalog.

Tags will be supplied only upon request and not automatically sent. Must be marked on order form when ordering. Tags come in same multiples as plants unless otherwise stated.

Patent Protected Plants

The term PPAF written after a plant name, stands for 'Plant Patent Applied For'. PP 00.000 and EU0000 refers to patent numbers for the USA and European Breeders rights. Propagation of all patented and patent-pending plants is strictly prohibited.

Deer resistant perennials

If the herd is large enough and food is scarce, deer have been known to eat anything. Deer tend to have regional tastes, so plants not eaten in one area might be eaten elsewhere. Plants listed as 'Deer Resistant' in this catalog come from research that was published by several cooperative extension offices. These plants are less attractive to deer.

Production & Quality Control

Everyone at our company will make sure we provide you with the best possible quality perennials. De Vroomen Garden Products is known for delivering healthy, true-to-name and true size products. Because de Vroomen takes quality seriously, we are a member of the Holland Selection organization. Being a member of this organization we guarantee:

- the highest quality perennials;
- healthy plants upon delivery;
- that the variety, color and size of the plants agree with what is stated in our catalog;
- proper handling of customer complaints;
- tracking and tracing from grower to consumer in order to improve our quality and customer service.
