CRANBROOK

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

Having heard about Cranbrook for some time, I first made my way to campus in 2002 while researching schools for my sons and moving with my family to Detroit. I was immediately captivated. Now, 17 years later, I am still amazed by this remarkable community.

From the very beginning, I knew that Cranbrook was special. With a charge to challenge minds and transform lives, Cranbrook Educational Community champions a strategic vision and values that truly matter. What I've learned since that first visit is that Cranbrook opens doors every day to new ideas in art, science, and education. For learners of all ages, Cranbrook fosters countless opportunities to discover new interests, find inspiration, and unlock creativity.

As I reflect on why Cranbrook is a philanthropic priority for me, I am struck by four things that have engaged my commitment to this institution: powerful experiences of curiosity and discovery; excellence in all that we do; working in service to others; and collaboration both within the Community and beyond our walls.

Simply put, Cranbrook has changed my life for the better. I thank you for the many gifts you too have given to foster a community that challenges minds and transforms lives as it has for me, my family, and so many others who are inspired by this extraordinary place.

Cranbrook has always welcomed those with big ideas and those who lead with heart. Our founders set the standard by planting trees and seeding an institution they knew they would not see grow to maturity. They trusted its care to those who would follow, and it has been an honor to carry their work forward in partnership with you.

Thank you for your continuing support of Cranbrook.

Bruce D. Peterson
Board of Trustees Chair, Cranbrook Educational Community

In the spirit of the giving season,
THANK YOU for your support of Cranbrook!

Dominic DiMarco
President, Cranbrook Educational Community

FOUNDER'S SOCIETY

CRANBROOK CUMULATIVE GIVING SOCIETIES

Cranbrook's Cumulative Giving Societies, including the Founder's Society which recognizes cumulative giving of more than $1 million, honors Cranbrook's founding families and the donors who are following in their footsteps with their generous support of this Community. The following pages provide insight and background into each giving level and also list those individuals who make up the 2016-17 class of the Founder's Society as well as the dozens of other supporters who have given to Cranbrook over the years.

BOOTH • $10,000,000

George Gough Booth and Ellen Scripps Booth

George and Ellen Booth founded Cranbrook in 1904 and guided its growth into one of the world's leading centers for education, science and art. The idea for Cranbrook arose, in part, from their belief that beauty was essential to life and could inspire great thinking and creativity. That belief still inspires the Cranbrook vision today.

SCRIPPS • $7,500,000

Susan Flint Cooper K'58

Ellen Booth's family, the Scripps, were leaders in the newspaper publishing industry at the turn of the 20th century. The Scripps family was the foundation upon which many of Cranbrook's early successes were built.

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

Cranbrook plays a critical role in our region's cultural landscape, inspiring those who have the opportunity to experience its exceptional places, programs and the gifted people who provide them. Excellence, and the opportunity to support and promote the type of excellence for which the Cranbrook Educational Community is known, is why Cranbrook has been a part of my life for over twenty years.

As a parent with children at Brookside and as a spouse of an alumnus, my relationship with Cranbrook began in the Schools. While my children learned about the campus and its incredible history, I participated in their discoveries and shared their eagerness to explore the entire community. The Institute of Science, Art Museum, Cranbrook House and its grounds became favorite afterschool destinations and time spent here allowed us to befriend the dedicated people working in these exemplary institutions.

The enthusiasm and passion of Cranbrook employees for the programs they provide and the people they serve is infectious. When the opportunities to serve as Chair of the Schools and Trustees Committees on Development were offered to me, I was happy to accept them. Helping secure the resources necessary for the faculty, directors, artists, scientists, and staff of the Cranbrook Educational Community to achieve their mission has been of utmost importance to me. An entire community committed to inspiring creativity, curiosity, and innovation to an ever-widening audience is a resource worth nurturing and preserving.

Adele Acheson
Committee on Development Chair, Cranbrook Educational Community

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

How would you describe your passion for Cranbrook?

To me, Cranbrook offers a community where everyone understands that exposure to the arts is paramount to a well-rounded education and has an influence on the future of our built environment.

Many of Detroit's most valued treasures can be traced back to Cranbrook, whether in the parks' master plans or hanging on the walls at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Supporting the organization today means supporting the change makers of tomorrow, who will have a direct impact on the evolution of art, architecture and design throughout our entire region and beyond.

How has your association with Cranbrook made a difference in your life or work?

Cranbrook's dedication to incorporating technological advances into its curriculum and programming has been an inspiration to me personally and professionally.

Watching Cranbrook students, faculty, and supporters push traditional boundaries by pairing art and design with emerging technologies is an excellent reminder of how important it is to staying at the vanguard of industry advances, regardless of what you do for a living.

Why is giving to Cranbrook one of your philanthropic priorities?

Cranbrook embodies all of the aspects of the art world that I hold most dear, by offering the highest level of guidance to its students, by helping to nurture Michigan's incredible talent into the change makers of tomorrow, and by sharing that work with the community both within the museum and throughout the region with cutting-edge programming.

Long, long before recent investments downtown, Cranbrook's students and faculty were supporting the city by helping to weave the cultural, architectural, and artistic fabric of Detroit. I like to think of my support as building on that distinguished legacy.

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

The Cranbrook Community has played a central role in our lives since moving to Michigan. In addition to being the proud parent of one Cranbrook graduate and one current student, I am honored to be the Board Chairman of the Institute of Science, a part of Cranbrook doing extraordinary work. In addition to museum experiences, the Institute offers cutting-edge STEM programs each year to audiences throughout the region. Of particular importance to me, though, is the Institute's focus on underserved and special audiences. Many people don't realize that each year the Institute serves thousands of young students, teachers and families all over Michigan, with special emphasis in Detroit, Flint, and Pontiac. I'm happy to report that the programs and audiences they serve continue to grow each year. The data collected each year to effectively evaluate these programs show the remarkable impact the Institute's great work has upon students and, in fact, entire communities.

I am also delighted that the Institute's environmental education programs, delivered through the Institute's Freshwater Forum, continue to grow and have an even greater impact on the region. Living and working in Michigan makes me especially value our state's stunning outdoor resources, in particular, the value of our region's fresh water. The Institute is doing highly impressive work on educating stakeholders of all ages and backgrounds about how to protect this precious resource. During the last several years, it is hard to find a major community in Michigan where the Institute's Freshwater Forum has not offered programming. From statewide Waster Festivals for communities to classroom-based programs teaching about the daily positive impact people can have upon the environment, the Institute's outreach is especially needed in a state like Michigan.

It is a privilege to be Board Chairman at a time when the Institute is making such a statewide and regional difference in the lives of so many people and the communities they call home.

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

To be a part of a community committed to excellence, to be part of something greater than myself as a student (Class of 1986), a parent of graduates (Bennett Class of 2015 and Michel Class of 2017) and as an alumna volunteer, gives me tremendous satisfaction. I was brought up by parents who valued education. Together with my grandfather, they impressed upon me that hard work, when coupled with education, has the potential to change lives.

From a young age, my brother (David B. H. Williams, Class of 1987) and I were made aware of what Cranbrook, specifically the people of this educational community, made possible for my father (James A. Williams, Cranbrook Class of 1960).

I clearly remember watching my mom (Michel H. Williams, Kingswood Class of 1960) stuff envelopes for Cranbrook Horizons-Upward Bound (HUB) with Mrs. Margaret Snyder, the wife of Mr. Ben Snyder, who initiated the program. I remember watching my dad head off on Saturday mornings to HUB Advisory Board meetings—and him watching the Cranbrook baseball team play with a look in his eyes that this was ‘a field of dreams.’ He had been a catcher on the varsity team. More than anything, he realized that the opportunity to attend Cranbrook (10th thru 12th grades)—on a full scholarship underwritten by a single donor—changed the course of his life. Not only because of the education he received, but even more importantly because of the people he met who were all a part of this community.

I give to honor my father’s legacy. I give to honor my mom and my late grandfather. I give to honor my own experience as a student. My husband and I give to acknowledge the experience of our children. We acknowledge that the fabric of our lives and that of our children’s has been woven together with classmates, fellow parents, administrators, faculty, coaches and staff of the Cranbrook community, all of whom we call friends.

Our children, Bennett and Michel, have benefited from transformational gifts, including the new Middle School for Girls, renovations to the Middle School for Boys, the restoration of the Oval with the Del Walden Field, and significant curricular work in design thinking and innovation.

Giving back to Cranbrook in partnership with all of you has been the “why” in my life—second only to my children and family. It’s why I am here. Giving to Cranbrook truly is an investment in a better world.

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

Sixty-five years ago, I first stepped onto the Cranbrook campus.

My life has been changed forever because of that beginning.

The benefits that followed set me on a path to support this school's efforts to educate young students.

The Horizons-Upward Bound initiative taught me that with concerted efforts and caring, students from the most challenging circumstances can transform themselves, our community, and the greater world.

I attempt to convey the importance of supporting Cranbrook because the community has had a most profound positive effect on myself and thousands of others who have been touched by this most extraordinary place.

Michael Hermanoff
Advisory Board Chair, Cranbrook Horizons-Upward Bound

Why Do You Give To Cranbrook?

Memories of Cranbrook go back to my childhood—youthful imagination sparked by visits to the wildlife dioramas and geological collections of the Institute of Science, and fall color around Kingswood Lake and the Japanese Garden. Later, during my children’s earliest days at Brookside, it was even more clear that we belonged to a community of lifelong learners, sharing goals of excellence, innovation, and outreach.

How has this made a difference in my life? Why is giving to Cranbrook one of my philanthropic priorities? These questions call to mind the words of Ellen Browning Scripps, a pioneer in the world of philanthropy and journalism, and aunt of Cranbrook’s founder Ellen Scripps Booth. Offering advice to her brother, E.W. Scripps, on how to sustain community in a rapidly changing world, Ellen said: “Look outward, not inward. Look forward, not backward, . . . [and] lend a hand.”

I am honored to “lend a hand” now as the volunteer Chair of Cranbrook Center for Collections and Research, the division charged with telling the story of Cranbrook behind the objects and buildings. Not merely a collection of cultural artifacts, Cranbrook is a living, working educational community, and embodies transformative lessons in the interrelationship between objects, their creators, and their community, like no other regional institution does.

Cranbrook’s founders believed that close, active observation of the world that immediately surrounds us, fuels creative thinking and innovation—and is the source of true wisdom and fortune. It is this conviction and legacy that the Center honors in its programs and its stewardship of Cranbrook’s unparalleled art, architecture, landscape, and resources.

Center events welcome to campus visitors from around the region and around the world, presenting memorable educational experiences and meaningful research opportunities to an ever-widening field of audiences. Partnering with regional, national, and international organizations, the Center demonstrates the ways that Cranbrook is woven into the fabric of Detroit’s history and the history of art and architecture in America and beyond.

I am pleased to share in the stewardship of the remarkable community of lifelong learning that is Cranbrook.
