

Australian Orchid Registered Hybrid List

Introduction

An Australian native orchid species is defined as a species found growing within the boundaries of Australia. Where a species occurs both within and outside Australia, a plant of that species shall be regarded as an Australian species unless its provenance (or the provenance of one of its ancestors in the case of a line bred species), is known to be outside Australia. An Australian native orchid hybrid is defined as an orchid which is the progeny of Australian native orchid species or their hybrids.

Generally, only names that are accepted on World Checklist of Selected Plant Families (WCSPF) are used in registering hybrids. Breeders should consult the list before registering hybrids with the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS), Kew. In the past, some parents not on the current accepted list have been used, and in the interests of nomenclatural stability, resulting grexes are NOT altered when names change. Over time, accepted names may change following new information and taxonomic reviews.

Hybrid Listing

The RHS hybrid list is a complex historical record reflecting species recognised at the time of registration, and it contains some errors and repetitions. The lists of registered hybrids below are as supplied by the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS), and are annotated to indicate where species used in original crosses are no longer accepted. The RHS list does not use taxa below the level of species. The nomenclature generally follows the WCSPF, using only accepted generic and species names as parents. Current synonyms (earlier alternative names) of accepted names are listed in WCSPF. Other international and Australian lists may differ from the WCSPF for some taxa, and lists will change over time.

Accepted names may change when evidence becomes available to relegate a taxon to synonymy or elevate it to an accepted species. There may be a delay of up to several years in this process, resulting in the registration of some hybrid names (grexes) when breeders have used a parent that is later listed as a synonym. When names originally used by breeders are no longer accepted, the grex name is NOT rescinded, but only accepted parental names will be used from that time point. A note is made in the listings to indicate changes in accepted names or whether a grex name is a synonym.

e.g. *D. Aussie Tracey = D. johannis x D. phalaenopsis†

*synonym of D. David Baver = D. johannis x D. bigibbum (Baver 1956)

†synonym of current accepted name D. bigibbum

e.g. Crossings of varieties of D. teretifolium, made when they were accepted as species e.g. D. calamiforme, D. fairfaxii and D. dolichophyllum, are currently regarded as D. teretifolium.

Occasionally a cross has been registered under two different grex names using the same parents e.g. D. Suzanne (Willersdorf 1965) and the synonym D. Peewee (Cannon 1979) for the hybrid D. tetragonum x D. bigibbum. The earlier registration D. Suzanne is the correct name and D. Peewee is a synonym.

Dendrobium bigibbum Lindl. Classification and Hybrids

RHS and WCSFP recognise the Dendrobium bigibbum Lindl. complex as a single species with four varieties - D. bigibbum var. bigibbum, D. bigibbum var. superbum, D. bigibbum var. compactum and D. bigibbum var. schroederianum. Therefore, all these taxa are treated as one species, D. bigibbum, irrespective of whether they were once considered as separate species. Uncertain provenance does not allow registered hybrids to be referred retrospectively to particular subtaxa of D. bigibbum. Past hybrid names have not been changed, even though it is understood that a number of parents recorded would now be recognised as D. bigibbum. The following are examples of early registered hybrid names that are crosses between varieties of D. bigibbum:

Hybrid	Species Parents	Registrant and Year
D. Boisseyense	D. bigibbum x D. schroederianum	Vacherot-Lecoufle 1926
D. Helen Banks	D. Helen Fukumura x D. phalaenopsis	Palmer (Fernandez) 1963
D. Helen Fukumura	D. Lady Constance x D. schroederianum	Fukumura 1952
D. Lady Constance	D. Orchidwood x D. phalaenopsis	Weber 1947
D. Lehua	D. Lady Constance x D. Helen Fukumura	Fukumura 1957
D. Lovely Hawaii	D. Orchidwood x D. Lady Constance	McCoy 1959
D. Myola	D. Lady Constance x D. bigibbum	D'Bush 1982
D. Orchidwood	D. bigibbum x D. phalaenopsis	Orchidwood 1934

Symbols Used in List

* = synonymous with

- or () = originator of the cross if not the registrant, o/u = originator is unknown

X = natural hybrid

Persons and dates listed refer to the registrant of a cross and the date of registration.

Revisions and Updates

This online production is produced and maintained by the Australasian Native Orchid Society Inc. It has the advantage of easy updating and correction, not possible in a hard copy. It will be continuously updated and corrected as necessary. A version may be printed at any time.

Please send any corrections to the webmaster, contactable on our website (anos.org.au).
