The American Dahlia Society Show One Long To Be Remembered

One of the most difficult, and believed most disappointing of recent dahlia growing seasons resulted in our 34th Annual Exhibition becoming one of the best displays in many years. The artistically decorated Colonades Ballroom of Essex House provided a setting than which there could be none more fitting for a floral display seldom equalled, and thought by many to have been possibly surpassed only by our New York World's Fair exhibition.

Entering the Ballroom the splendid exhibits of President Pollak, the Evergreen Farms, the Parrella Dahlia Gardens, and Brookdell Gardens made a most spectacular scene. Special mention, and much commendation should be given at this point to Leo Pollak's display, the culmination of the labor of a week end gardener whose duties in Washington gave him little time in his New Jersey garden, but whose concentrated effort produced the great results shown in his display. Ruschmohr Dahlia Gardens, true to their boast of never having missed an A.D.S. exhibition, were represented with a small but excellent showing of their introductions, after receiving the dis-benefit of a near tornado following a drought on Long Island.

The results of many weeks of planning by the Show Committee were seen as soon as one entered the Ballroom, where a well conceived floor plan displayed more truly exhibition quality blooms than had been seen for some years. Section A, upon which we count to develop our future big winners, was well filled and John Steele won the sweepstakes, also winner of most outstanding entry—a well grown and exhibited Mme. Elizabeth Sawyer. Harry Frank, President of the Dahlia Society of New Jersey, walked off with sweepstakes in the Amateur Section B, also winning the A.D.S. Trophy for best undisseminated small size dahlia and the Doctor Edward McDade Trophy—winning both with his white formal miniature Agatha, which was further an Achieve-

Our hard working Secretary, Fred Knocke, and his even more hard working wife set up a dahlia show of their own in Open-to-All. Winning the Margaret Gordon Waaser Memorial Trophy was a tribute to their floricultural ability during the growing season, their showmanship at exhibition time, and resulted in the satisfaction of winning that which they had aimed at since planting time—the Trophy. Fred had outstanding entries in all classes, winning sweepstakes as well as the Trophy. His Pride of Parkersburg, also winner of the Louis B. Tim Trophy, was really a triumph of growing perfection.

Seedling and Special Display classes on the stage were of more than usual interest this year. Chester Nelson's basket of 15 huge perfectly grown and exhibited Mrs. Hester Pape, was doubtless the most spectacular as well as massive display of the exhibition. Many interesting seedlings were introduced to the merciless attention of Conrad Frey's judges, and the result was that for the first time in our 34 years, a variety won both the American Home Achievement Medal for variety with no limit on size, and the Leonard Barron Memorial Trophy of The Flower Grower for "B" size. The winner of the two awards is a "B" formal decorative cream white with tinted Persian rose, and originated by Herman Rindfleisch of Mamaroneck, N. Y. It will be introduced by the Ruschmohr Dahlia Gardens. Betty Blossom, Garden Editor of Home and Garden, has consented to sponsor this flower with her name.

Henry Olsen, in addition to his many fine entries of large exhibition blooms throughout the show, dominated the miniature and pompon section, winning sweepstakes in both, with Arabeske in the miniatures and with Margaret Williams in the pompons as most outstanding entries. A.D.S. Seedling Sweepstakes were won by John Adelung of Nutley, N. J. in the informal decorative and ball type classes, by the Parrella Dahlia Gardens in the formal decorative class, and by Harry Frank of Far Hills, N. J., in the miniature class—again a winner with his Agatha.

At the conclusion of the judging, once more Fred and Mrs. Knocke stepped up to receive the award for the most meritorious and outstanding non-commercial entry in the exhibition. Our congratulations!

During recent years it appeared that the trend was towards exhibiting—and growing—the "B" types and smaller varieties. However, the large "A" dahlia was back this year in all its glory and excellence, resulting in one of our most spectacular and successful exhibitions.

Garden Club Section

By GEORGENA HUMBLE

The colorful fall season was spectacularly ushered in at the American Dahlia Society Show, with a rich wealth of exquisite dahlia blooms, reaching up from vases and baskets, standing atop rows of tables that stretched the entire length of the long exhibit room. As one entered, a breath-taking view met his gaze to the right, to the left and in front of him, where gay blooms extended an enticing welcome to each visitor.

The Garden Club Section invited a closer inspection of this queen of autumn blooms, intimately combined with containers to display new ideas of exhibitors in various combinations and uses of dahlias.

The horticultural classes showed some good quality blooms which included some of the newest as well as old reliables for exhibit purposes. Emma Caroline, a large white decorative, received top award in the class for three large decorative blooms. Renaissance, an orange semi-cactus, was also a blue ribbon winner. Three perfect specimens of Snowball won the tri-color award as the best horticultural dahlia exhibit, these having been shown by Mrs. H. D. Swain of Peekskill, N. Y., as peak of her garden glory. These blooms kept in excellent condition for the duration of the show and were enjoyed for several days after, by an invalid who thought their beauty and purity excelled all others.

Geneva Crystal, Baby Fonteneau, Mrs. Bytham, Mrs. Gil Willows, Bette Ann, Eventide, Windlassie and Ferser Beauty were winners in classes for the smaller types.

The composition in the arrangement classes were exceedlingly beautiful and attracted the detailed interest of spectators who made many favorable comments of the artistic appeal in this part of the show.

In the class awarded $25 in cash by the management of Essex House, a composition to enhance the dahlia in combination with any other plant material, proved popular with exhibitors who brought several large pieces so different and beautifully done, that the judges had difficulty deciding which was best of all. Their final choice was a display in an elaborately decorated, gold-trimmed urn of mist color, displaying orange dahlias, with a high accent top of golden celosia Plumosa, while from each side, pale yellow gladiolus nestled among gray-green fruited sprays of eucalyptus. Yellow spotted and striped croton leaves were a front feature with more large brilliant orange dahlias. Mrs. Leo Pollak of Montclair, New Jersey, was the lucky winner of this award. Several other compositions in this class were attractively done. Autumn colored dahlias backed by beech sprays and bronzey castor-oil plant foliage were used to set off a tawny colored sculptured head figure on a block pedestal placed on a brown circular base. Another exhibit showed white formal decorative dahlias poised against bronze canna foliage, with bunches of matching brown and green grapes. Still another attracting much interest, displayed in a green oblong pedestalled container, a most unusual combination of a fascinatingly crescent-curved spray of embryo palm with red semi-cactus dahlias flanked among harmonizing red and green rhubarb Swiss chard foliage. Even banana tree sheafs were used as an erect backing with red semi-cactus blooms nestling in variegated funkia pink and white blooms displayed in an ornamental white and pink, gold trimmed, tall pitcher-shaped container with sprays of spirea and Baltic ivy and berries. Michigan White Dahlias, combined with curved sprays of broom and andromeda in a beautiful shell, was a highly commended composition. Forest Fire, Jr. dahlias suppied an idea for an informal supper table as shown in a composition with an antique slaw slicer, with bunches of green berried fruits, limes and peaches among Pieris Japanisa and Andromeda foliage. Still another attraction was a copper chafing dish on a copper tray combining Forest Fire, Jr. with wheat, coppery colored, southern grass seed pods and scarlet maple leaves. Even a pair of boxing gloves proved interesting as used with brown dock, gray green ink berries, Joseph's Coat and red dahlias on a brown board base.

One of the most clever and artistic compositions of the show was made by Mrs. Holtz, Upper Montclair, N. J. A dramatic, spectacular and subtley colored arrangement using tones of plum color in a two handled plum pottery container, showed perfect balance with Jersey Beauty, mauve pink and bronzey-purple canna leaves, large bunches of dark, black California grapes shaded to violet and purple rust Tokay grapes. Small narrow egg-plants, blue purple plums completed the balance at the base, tying in colors of the entire exhibit on harmonizing baseboards.

The tri-color for arrangement classes showing the exhibitors interpretation of the general public's idea of a prize winning dahlia arrangement, was won by Mrs. Engle of Harrison, N. Y. In a fluted spreading copper bowl, soft yellow decorative large-flowering dahlias, perfectly balanced with green-orange canna leaves, and a large piece of transparent quartz to give base interest, was exactly what pleased the spectators. This kept in splendid condition and was so much admired to the close of the show, a request was made to have it shown later

The sweepstakes for arrangement classes was won by Mrs. Goldson, Woodmere, L. I., with 1 first, 2 seconds and 1 third award.

Combined Exhibition

Mid-West Conference and Southern States Dahlia Ass'n and

The Dahlia Society of Kentucky

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 20-21, 1952

On September 20th and 21st-and for many days prior thereto and several thereafter-the Dahlia Society of Kentucky was host to, and sponsored the combined exhibition of the Mid-West Dahlia Conference and the Southern States Dahlia Association. Reference is given to the many days prior to the date of the exhibition, since it is recognized an undertaking and display of this magnitude in conception and result, does not take final form overnight. The annual Mid-West Show has always been in addition to a highest ranking display, in reality a convention of dahlia enthusiasts. When combined with the annual exhibition of the Southern States Dahlia Association, the result was a triumph for the host Society, the Dahlia Society of Kentucky, that will long hold a top spot on the record books of dahlia exhibitions and conventions. Delegates and exhibitors were present from 21 of these United States-from Connecticut to California and way points. In recognition of the importance of this affair, the American Dahlia Society sent all it's principal officers, several Past Presidents, and numerous delegates. A poll of all the delegates showed a unanimous vote in recognition of the success of the host Society's efforts and hospitality.

On Friday afternoon two bus loads of visitors were taken on a tour of the city and several Dahlia Gardens, ending up at the Wallitch's Nurseries with refreshments by Mr. John B. Floyd and Mr. A. W. Adams.

Prior to the opening of the exhibition, members of the host Society shed many tears in the presence of the visiting delegates. "Our gardens are all burned up in the terrible heat - we had a drought - we will have no blooms." We had been taken to the local gardens and shown the evidence. However, we must have been detoured at some points, since of the 56 exhibitors in the 400 classes, 20 winners were from the Louisville area where the growing season had been all bad and even worse than that. For instance, the Kentucky Derby, largest bloom in best condition-Sherwoods Peach-was won by Mrs. Carrie J. Simmons of Louisville. George Shee also did some fast over night growing with his Big Mo, after suffering a "complete loss" through climatic adversities. Blooms of the members of the host Society received competition from exhibitors in Chicago, Milwaukee, Birmingham, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Ohio and Kansas City, to name just a few points. Space will not permit a complete list herein of all the winners, however, congratulations to the following highlights of the Show:

Sweepstakes in Section 1 was won by John Mills of Louisville, Ky.; Sweepstakes in Section 2 was won by Paul Hale of Brighten, Ill.; Sweepstakes in Section 3—"B" dahlias was won by Mrs. Carrie J. Simmons of Louisville, Ky.; Sweepstakes in the Pom and Miniature Section was won by Mrs. Edwin J. McGuire of Alma, Mo. GRAND SWEEPSTAKES of the Show was won by Paul Hale of Brighten, Ill., and was awarded the Gold Medal of the American Dahlia Society.

Another outstanding display, both in dahlia culture and showmanship, was Jim Marsh's winning entry of a Midwest introduction in which he exhibited 6 perfect blooms of his Great Lakes. Also the winning of the Southern States introductions of Sylvia Ann exhibited by Wyndal Carter of Atlanta, Ga. The Largest Bloom "A" type Dahlia in the Single bloom entry classes was won by Larry Pelc of Villa Park, Ill., with his splendid Nearest Blue. Most Perfect Bloom "A" dahlia in Single Bloom entry classes was won by Paul Hale with Marilyn Dale. Best Bloom "B" Dahlia was won by Glenn Pierce of Summit Gardens, Villa Park, Ill., with Finesse Anversoise.

For displays of all types and colors of the dahlia, arranged and displayed as could only be expected from such master experts, the displays of the Happy Cabin Dahlia Gardens of Signal Mountain, Tennessee, and of the Golden Rule Dahlia Garden of Lebanon, Ohio, more than came up to expectation, and doing their customary part in making any exhibition at which they are present a success.

The spectacular spot in this great dahlia exhibition was the table on which the American Home Achievement Medal contestants were awaiting the attention of the judges. Five outstanding and beautiful dahlias were entered and exhibited in this class—the winner being an origination of James Marsh, Prairie Fire, a sensational "A" size orange semi-cactus variety. In the opinion of the judges, this dahlia has everything and a long and prize winning career is anticipated for Prairie Fire.

The annual meeting of the Midwest Dahlia Conference was held on Saturday P. M., providing opportunity for all members and delegates to congratulate themselves on having that attractive lady, Louise Kleinjohn, on duty to put over a show such as was on view then in the Kentucky Hotel. In recognition of her job well done, she was reelected to do it again, and that she will do it again in Cleveland on September 12 and 13, 1953 at the Hotel Hollendon, no one has the slightest doubt.

The show concluded with a banquet and entertainment, at which time the prizes were awarded to the winners, and the Distinguished Service Medal to Secretary Louise Kleinjohn in imperfect but hearty recognition of her distinguished services. Mr. Stanley Beckhart acted as Toastmaster in his customary happy manner, introducing President Leo L. Pollak of the American Dahlia Society who gave one of his inspiring and interesting talks.

The dinner and entertainment were excellent, the speaking not too long, and the hospitality of the Dahlia Society of Kentucky was, and is, something that will long be happily remembered by all those fortunate enough to have been present.

ED. B. LLOYD.

The Nineteenth Annual meeting of the Midwest Dahlia Conference was held in the Ship Room of the Kentucky Hotel on September 20, 1952 at 5:00 P.M. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown, and the Conference is definitely on the upward trend.

Orange County Dahlia Society, Inc.

September 12, 1952.

The 1952 annual dahlia show of the Orange County Dahlia Society, Inc., has come and gone, leaving a memory of many beautiful blooms. This year, the show was patterned after the A.D.S. show of specimen blooms and color classifications. With Dr. L. N. Sherrard as the efficient show manager, exhibitors were able to show their blooms and to have them efficiently judged with a minimum of time and effort.

Lonnie Frazier of Huntington Beach, a comparatively new grower and exhibitor, won the lions share of the show awards. The awards were: best amateur single bloom, advanced amateur single bloom, and three blooms, Kiwanis cup for the best 1952 seedling, and the best single bloom in the entire show. H. O. Allen won best commercial display and largest bloom in the show, Hobart Jordan won best 1951 seedling, John Hart, the American Home Achievement Medal, L. O. Archibald best 7 and mass display and smallest in the open class. El Nido Gardens, for the best 1 and 3 blooms in the open class, most artistic display, Mrs. Arthur, best entry in the entire show, Elden McNeil with 5 blooms of Abbott, best arrangement, Mrs. L. N. Sherrard. Mrs.

Zelda Osborn of Garden Grove won sweepstakes for the second consecutive year.

Soon after the show, the members formed a motor caravan and visited members' gardens, viewing their results in dahlia culture. The tour stopped at the home of our president, Dr. G. Emmett Raitt, where we enjoyed a swim and a picnic dinner before going on to visit other gardens in the afternoon.

With the 1952 show over, members have already started planning for next year, always trying to grow better dahlias and to have a more beautiful show.

At the September meeting of our Society, the following officers were elected:

Dr. G. Emmett Raitt, President; Laurence O. Archibald, Vice-president; Haywood Allen, Second Vice-president; Eldon McNeil, Third Vice-president; John Steen, Secretary and Frank Cannon, Treasurer.

A feature of the meeting was a demonstration of dahlia judging by Noel Scott of Glendale, Calif. He used a judging schedule developed by Mr. Berry and himself. The schedule, if adopted and followed by the show judges, should help in giving each bloom a fair and impartial judging.

LAWRENCE O. ARCHIBALD.

A.D.S. Trial Gardens

Eastern Trial Garden Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J. October 20, 1952

The season just past was of a nature the less said the better. The terrific heat and lack of rainfall in July resulted in a severe set-back to dahlias and other garden plants from which they did not recover until late in the season. As an outcome of this, the number of varieties certified is much lower than usual and no listing is given of any with scores lower than 85.

The committee felt that any that came through with a certifying score certainly deserved the honor. However, there were a number that failed to attain this, that might have done so with better growing conditions. Accordingly, such as appeared to have promise will be retested next

There were a total of 49 seedlings in the garden, representing all of the dahlia growing sections of the country, and also Holland. Planting was practically completed before June 10, only a few late-comers being planted later. A mulch was applied as soon as planting was finished and the soil warmed up. Irrigation was used only to maintain the soil in a moist condition.

There was the usual incidence of virus diseases. As usual some failed to do well because of poor shipping and sometimes of overgrown plants.

We should like again to call attention to the lack of thorough consideration in the selection of seedlings. Many "B" dahlias come with stems too long and foliage too coarse. This year, a number had stems too short, were crotchy. Good proportion in all parts is a very desirable

The following have been recommended for certification: Stake 5—Prairie Fire, entered by Rocky River Dahlia Garden, Rocky River, Ohio, originated by James Marsh; "A" dahlia, informal decorative, Azalea pink; 10 in. x 6 in.; stems 8 in. disbudded. Score 85.

Stake 13-No. H 4, Maude Crawford, entered by Rocky River Dahlia Garden, Rocky River, Ohio, originated by Haugh; "B" (BB) dahlia, semi-cactus, primrose yellow;

5 in. x 3½ in.; stems 7 in. Score 85.
Stake 14—Cook MOF 2, entered by Dahliadel Nurseries, Vineland, N. J.; miniature, formal decorative pointed rays, between lilac purple and orchid purple;

3½ in. x 2 in.; stems 7 in. Score 85.

Stake 19-Betty Blossom, entered by Ruschmohr Dahlia Gardens, originated by H. Rindfleisch, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; "B", formal decorative, creamy yellow slightly suffused amaranth rose, 8 in. x 5 in., stems 9 in. Score Stake 26-Bingo, originated and entered by Robert R. Klein, Washington 18, D. C.; "B" dahlia, formal decorative, pointed rays, fuschsein pink, 8 in x 5 in., stems 10 in. Score 85.

Stake 28—W 5 R, entered by Comstock Dahlia Gardens, San Diego 16, California; "B" dahlia, straight cactus (to semi), white, opening center slightly tipped light phlox purple which fades away, 7½ in. x 5 in., stems 12 in. Score 86.

CHARLES H. CONNORS, Superintendent.

Long Island Agricultural & Technical Institute Farmingdale, New York

1952 Report

This summer has been a rather difficult one for the growing of Dahlias due to the extremely high temperatures during July and August. Here at Farmingdale, the temperature never dropped below 75-80 degrees Fahrenheit for days and at times reached a height of 100 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, of course such temperatures are unfavorable for good plant growth and the late plantings June 15 to July 1st never got off to a good start.

May I suggest that in this part of the country the Dahlia, whether from plants or tubers ought to be planted by June the 5th to insure good root action before the high temperatures are with us.

Timing for the September shows might well be done by cut back or pinching in the early part of July.

The committee composed of Messrs. Berzau, Guttler and Pitt deserve much credit for their continued effort in scoring the entries.

Digging and Storing Dahlias

This is the phase of culture appropriate to the fall season.

Too much fine Dahlia root stock is still being lost in wintering in spite of much writing on the subject

Dig your clumps very carefully to avoid broken necks.

Cut off the old stalk just an inch above the crown. Allow the clumps to "cure" in a cold garage for one week.

Then pack in shallow cartons well lined with newspaper. Examine stock frequently. Trim out any crown rot and dust spot with sulphur.

Or store clumps right on the cellar floor farthest away from heat. Filter garden soil thru the tubers and and cover all roots—approximately an inch or two of soil on top of the roots will be about right.

RUBELLITE

My 1952 introduction, and I still have not seen a better performer. It is a brilliant ruby red, with a silvery reverse, strong vigorous grower, on excellent stems. Grows 9 in. easily. Priced at $5.00 each for Roots, $2.00 for Plants. I catalogue the best of the Holland originations; also the cream of the Australians, all of which have been grown in my garden, and have proven good performers here. I think I have the best list of Australians in this country. Catalogue out in December. Want one?

Baltimore Dahlia Society

The Baltimore Dahlia Society staged its 27th Annual Fall Flower Show in the Sears Community Building, Baltimore, on September 14th and 15th. As has been the custom, the show again produced an outstanding display of the finest in dahlias as well as hardy garden flowers and arrangements. Show Manager Louis Gill and his committee deserve credit for their fine staging of the dahlias and this can also be said of Mrs. Edna Gill and her committee who so ably handled the Hardy Garden and Arrangement section. The attendance was fine and judging by the many fine compliments we can be assured of a goodly number of new growers in 1953. The judging was under the capable handling of Mr. Chas. Diffenderffer and we are indebted to the following judges for a job very well done: Leo L. Pollak, Roy W. Webb, C. L. Armentrout, Conrad Frey, E. R. Phillips, N. A. Scheel, J. L. Bowling, L. M. Clarke, Conrad Brieger, Dr. Bruce Preas, Walter Hardesty, Edward Lloyd, Dr. Edward McDade, Edward L. Schaun, Dr. Henry Parker, A. F. Mulcahy, Stanley Johnson, Otto Aumuller, H. # Virginia Dahlia Society

The 29th Annual Show of the Virginia Dahlia Society is a thing of the past now. To say that the show was a success is to put it mildly. The extremely poor growing season in Virginia made all those concerned with the show staging very dubious of its outcome. Final results, however, proved this pessimism without grounds. Where all the lovely dahlias came from is one of the usual mysteries.

All the growers that were contacted in early September said they would not have a thing for the show. We did notice, however, that some of those pessimistic growers arrived at The Old Dominion Room of Miller and Rhoads in Richmond, Virginia, with great arm loads of dahlias, probably from the so-called smoke filled rooms of dahliadom. Be that as it may, we had a wonderful show, the biggest in quantity as well as quality in the society's history.

Dahlia Society of Ohio

The twenty-second annual Dahlia Show of the Dahlia Society of Ohio was held on September 15th and 16th. In spite of the generally poor season for dahlias, the show compared favorably with previous years. While perhaps only about sixty percent of the usual number of dahlias were exhibited, those shown were fine specimens worthy of exhibition.

Small Amateur Sweepstakes was won by Mrs. Angela Danko who was Chairman of the Arrangement Division. Leonard Fuerst, our Show Chairman, was runner-up. Because both of these members did a superb job in their show capacities, they are to be congratulated that they found time to exhibit a sufficient number of specimen blooms to win these awards.

Large Amateur Sweepstakes was won by Chas. J. Schaeffer who was awarded the Governor Lausche Cup. Garfield Heights Dahlia Gardens won the open-to-all sweepstakes by a large margin. There were many competitors in this division, but Jack Brack exceeded them all in the number of specimen blooms exhibited.

The American Home Achievement was won by Prairie

The best "A" Dahlia in our show was won with a bloom of Virginia B. Taggart and the best "B" cactus type Dahlia was won with a bloom of Aumonier Chandelon. Both of these winners were exhibited by a "Small Amateur" and a fairly new Dahlia grower, Mrs. Lloyd Davies.

There were many exhibits and strong competition in the Arrangement Division. Chairman Angela Danko had arranged the schedule so that in every class, Dahlias were required. Special attention was given to a class of arrangements by school children which was in keeping with a special division instigated by E. J. Wind for exhibition blooms grown by school children.

Jane Lausche, our Governor's gracious lady, cut the ribbon to open our show. She was presented with a bouquet of her namesake, Jane Lausche. A bloom of this variety was the largest bloom in our show.

Hagerstown Dahlia Society's Fine Show

The Twenty-third Annual Show of the Hagerstown Dahlia Society was held in the basement of the City Market House, September 25 and 26.

The exhibition was opened to the flower loving public at 5 P.M., on Thursday, September 25 and again Friday from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. at which time prizes were officially awarded to the winners for the hundreds of choice blooms on display. Although the principal classes featured dahlias, prizes were also awarded for zinnias, marigolds, roses, gladioli, asters, petunias, flowering and non-flowering potted plants, and baskets of mixed flowers artistically arranged.

Flower lovers from this county and surrounding areas in Pennsylvania and West Virginia poured into the local Market House to view the gorgeous display of flowers. Our attendance greatly exceeded that of former years. The Show was pronounced by the public, beautiful and a grand success, despite the extremes of weather, hot and cold, wet and dry and insect pests.

Best dahlia in the Show was exhibited by M. B. Keener, the largest dahlia by H. K. Ramsburg, smallest dahlia by Mrs. Roy Polsgrove, tallest dahlia with bloom by Mrs. B. F. Hoover. Sweepstakes, a trophy from the Governor of Maryland was won by Mrs. Roy Polsgrove. Mrs. Polsgrove had the most entries in the Show, Oscar R. Moser second and M. B. Keener, third.

Greater Philadelphia Dahlia Society

The Annual Dahlia Show of the society was held on Friday, September 26th and Saturday, September 27th at the Womens Club in Ardmore, Pa. While not as large as the previous shows, it must be classed as a good and successful Dahlia Show.

A hot and dry Summer which is detrimental to dahlia growing, gave most plants a slow start so that many gardens were not in full bloom at show time.

It was necessary to make last minute changes since the original location for the 1952 Show was not available. However, through the untiring efforts of the President, George Boyles, a fine show was staged in Phila-

Edward Smith, Show Superintendent, made the necessary plans and by the exceptional good work of William G. Ellis and Eric H. Jenkins the show was properly handled and staged. Charles J. Becker, Jr., Treasurer was one of the busiest men before and during the show. Fred Moore and other members did their share in the setting up of the show. Fil. Alleva had prepared a swell show schedule. It was through the good work of these men that we enjoyed one of the better 1952 Dahlia Shows.

Although the entries were not so great the quality of the blooms was indeed good. The American Home Achievement Medal was won by Keck-Stephens Gardens for Collector's Item, score 86.1 an "A" dahlia of flame color. Others winning A.D.S. sweepstakes rosettes are Henry J. ### Long Island Dahlia Society Show

The Long Island Dahlia Society held its 8th Annual Show on September 20, 1952, at the Plattdeutsche Park, Franklin Square, L. I. Despite adverse weather conditions, many blooms of excellent quality delighted the eyes of the numerous visitors who came from far and near.

One of the highlights of the show was the superb staging of the Court of Honor winners under the masterful supervision of Mrs. Frances Digi who also supplied the tasteful background material. A large number of artistic dahlia arrangements provided another breath-taking spectacle of the show. Credit for the smooth and orderly function of this division belongs to Mrs. Otto Aumuller, who was in charge of arrangements. Many beautiful baskets laden with exquisite prize dahlias, both large and small varieties, graced the Court of Honor.

To Dr. Ward Cook was awarded the Long Island Dahlia Society medal for the largest and most nearly perfect bloom with a Pride of Parkersburg. Mr. H. D. Swain of Peekskill, N. Y., carried off top honors in the medium section, winning both the L.I.D.S. medals for the most nearly perfect medium dahlia with a Snowball bloom, and for the three most nearly perfect medium dahlias with three Snowball blooms. This year the much coveted award, the American Home Achievement Medal, offered for the most worthy undisseminated dahlia, was won by Mr. Alfred Warren of Peekskill, N. Y., with Empire State. Miss Inez McGill was the winner of the L.I.D.S. medal for the best arrangement.

The Society takes this opportunity to thank Messrs. Otto Aumuller and John Passler for their beautiful commercial exhibitions which attracted considerable attention and comments. We also wish to thank Mr. Chris Rissmeyer of the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute, Farmingdale, L. I. for the most exquisite exhibition which his students staged. It would be a grave omission if we failed to thank the judges who came a long distance to do a magnificent job. Last, but not least, the Society is deeply indebted to Mr. Edward Peterson, show chairman, and members of his committee who worked ceaselessly to make this year's show a success.

Lawrence Palminteri, Secretary.

Alabama Dahlia News

July found Alabama dahlia growers just about ready to cancel their 1952 Show. The extreme heat and drouth had played havoc with all plant growth. Finally, a little rain came and growing conditions improved. The dahlias perked up and so did we. With Mr. G. E. Alderson as Show Chairman and Mr. F. M. House, Co-Chairman, September 27th-28th found us ready for our 17 Annual Show. We could scarcely believe our eyes when we saw the number of beautiful blooms as we remembered the very hot, dry summer we had.

We are greatly encouraged over the development of the Novice Section both last year and this year, for not only was it the largest it has ever been but the largest bloom in the show came from this section. Mr. R. L. Vaughn, the proud exhibitor of this handsome Sherwood's Peach went on to win other important prizes in the show. Our best dahlia growers are now saying-"The Novices will get you if you don't watch out."

All sections were good. Especially large were the sections devoted to B type dahlias and to the small flowering varieties. These sections were literally overflowing with beautiful blooms.

Mrs. H. C. Rike, in charge of the Arrangement Section, brought to the show exquisite beauty in the many arrangements found there. Fifty-eight entries with themes, such as "Autumn Splendor", "Place Setting", "Song of the Pines", "Distinctive Pair", "Musical Score", "Thru' the Window" and "A Bit of the Orient" were developed with originality and charm.

Winners of Sweepstakes were: Section A, Novice Section, R. L. Vaughn; Section B, Mrs. A. C. Caraway; Section C, A. P. Mann; Section D, J. C. Bivins; Section E, J. C. Bivins; Section H, J. C. Bivins.

Special Awards were: Most Perfect Bloom A size was Maffie, grown by Dr. H. C. Rike; Largest Bloom, Sherwood's Peach was grown by R. L. Vaughn; Most Perfect Bloom B size was Abbott, grown by B. L. Kennedy; Best Three Blooms, A size were The Aristocrat, grown by F. M. House; Best Three Blooms, B size, Konigen Juliana were grown by E. E. Montgomery; Best Five Blooms, Dollie Sawyer, were grown by A. H. West; Best Seedling, Charles Perry; Best 1952 Inrtoduction was Tiara, grown by R. L. Vaughn; Best Foreign Introduction Maffie, was grown by Dr. H. C. Rike; Best Entry, Day Late, The Real Glory, was grown by F. M. A. Taff; Most Outstanding Entry, Miniatures, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kennedy; Most Outstanding Entry, Pompons, Charles Perry; American Home Achievement Medal, E. J. Wind's Wind Dee, grown by Dr. H. C.

Friday night, September 19th found nineteen members of our society and one "hitch-hiker" merrily riding in a chartered bus to the Mid-West-Southern States Show in Louisville. Now this "hitch-hiker" created no little curiosity and comment. He looked so pitiful with his basket of apples and his few possessions tied up in an old bandana handkerchief that in spite of the protests of some, others were willing to let him go along even as far as Louisville if he wanted to. And he did, for it was none other than our own "Jake Pate", treasurer of our society who had been telling it that he was going to fly to Louisville, Saturday. Well, this gag just set the scene for a wonderful time. Few slept, but then who wanted to sleep—one might miss something. Next morning about daybreak we rolled up to the Kentucky Hotel, not too tired to set up the flowers we'd brought from Alabama.

We've had a hot time this summer and it's been bad for dahlias but we've had a good time too. Now we are ready with new plans, hopes and aspirations for 1953.

MAUDE M. GOODWIN, Reporter.

1952 Greater St. Louis Dahlia Society 14th Annual Show

Let's be practical men, when you arose to accept the cups and ribbons for those prize dahlias you grew this year, did you feel as I did when I wished that my wife could be standing with me sharing my moment of achievement?

With exception of the manual labor of digging the patch and the distasteful job of spraying insecticide, Vicki (my wife), can do any of the chores connected with dahlia growing as well as I.

Many are the laterals saved from destruction when she ties the worst "wavers" during a sudden wind storm and many are the blooms saved from Mr. Cucumber Beetle when she dusts 6% Chlordane dust into the open face of the blooms three times daily before the show.

The fellows that saw Vicki helping me set up blooms at the Mid-West Shows this year will understand why I couldn't pass up this opportunity to voice my pride in her.

Incidently, this is a report on the 14th Annual Show of the Greater St. Louis Dahlia Society held September 27th and 28th.

Here's the data on the top winners . . .

Edw. Nolte Memorial Trophy for vase of 6 most perfect blooms awarded to Pat Bennett.

Largest bloom in show—Paul Hale, Powder Puff.

American Home Achievement Medal Awarded to Jim Marschs, Prairie Fire. (A wonderful grower for me.) Grand Sweepstakes Winner—Paul Hale.

All in all, the blooms were of fine quality and the number shown were far more than we expected due to the severe drouth we experienced here in the middle west this spring.

We were particularly glad to see such a fine showing in the novice section this year. We of the St. Louis Dahlia Society place much emphasis on the encouragement of novice growers and it's paying dividends! We are proud of them. Judging progressed exceptionally well under the leadership of Dan O. Gorman, and the "poor loser" was conspicuous by his absence.

PAUL HALE, Show Chairman.

DR. HERBERT L. DOZIER

Information reached us too late for inclusion in our spring Bulletin . . . of the untimely death on Dec. 4th, 1951, of Dr. Dozier, after a brief illness.

Dr. Dozier had many friends in the Dahlia fraternity. His success as a hybridizer was attested to in his splendid introductions. Among them, Tops and Topflight are still winning important prizes in major shows.

We extend to Mrs. Dozier and the family sincere sympathy.

Kitsap County Dahlia Society Bremerton, Wash.

The Kitsap County Dahlia Society held their 27th annual show on August 21st to 24th inclusive. A four day show is too much to expect of dahlias, but every one was much surprised to see how good many of the blooms were at the end of the show. Two very large ones, Black Monarch and Joseph B. Lanktree, were in excellent condition when the show ended. From the number of visitors and their comments, it was the best show the society ever has held. That interest is growing in our beloved flower was proven by the extra large number of flowers shown in the Novice Section. Many of these entries would give credit to more experienced growers. Such good numbers as Oakleigh Champion, Cosmopolitan, Prince Beautiful, Black Monarch and others were exceptional. Sweepstakes winner in this section was a lovely bloom of Carrone, shown by Mrs. E. A. Springer of Tacoma, Wash.

The Amateur division consisted of nine sections which were very well filled. Winner of Section A was a fine specimen of Abbott, shown by A. C. Ernst. Section B showed more class with more entries. Pink Nylon, a Washington origination, won the blue for Mrs. L. J. Harvey. Vitality, a nice yellow, won for Mr. Don Seery, while Samba won as best in the section for Mrs. L. J. Harvey. Section C presented some very excellent blooms. Well grown blooms of Sun Gay won first for Mr. Ernst and second for Joseph E. Olson. This section was really dominated by Mr. Ernst who won six blues and the best in section with a specimen bloom of Ballay Rouge. Section D really had the big fellows—Freda Gaylord, Edith Morrell, Joseph B. Lanktree, Pacific Queen, Black Monarch, Five Star General and good old Jane Cowl walked away with best in the section for Mrs. Buchanan.

Pom Pons and Miniatures were well represented in variety and types. In the arrangement classes visitors really got a thrill viewing superb adaptations for Dinner, Buffet, and Coffee tables. Mrs. Tom Forhan won the most ribbons with Mrs. Baush, Mrs. Ernst and Mrs. Dahlke in order.

The Advanced Amateur Section picked up over last season as Mr. N. S. McKamey returned after a few seasons as a Commercial Grower. His entries helped make the class more difficult for the Judges. The best bloom of incurved cactus was Val Saint Lambert won by Tom Forhan. Best bloom of straight or re-curved was White Superior by John Baush. Best semi-cactus was a fine bloom of Blush by N. S. McKamey. Nobby's Light won as best informal while Julia McKamey was the best formal. Largest bloom in the show was a huge Joseph B. Lanktree, shown by R. P. Turnquist. Most perfect bloom was awarded to Blush by N. S. McKamey. The Amateurs Sweepstakes cup was won by A. C. Ernst with his Ballay Rouge. This season the seedling class was weak. The Society held their annual banquet on September 25th, electing new officers for the ensuing year. A fine time was enjoyed by 90% of the members. Now to rest and plan for a better year to follow.

Baltimore Dahlia Society

The annual meeting of the Baltimore Dahlia Society was held January 17 at which time the following officers were elected for 1952: President, Otto Weber; 1st vice-president, Arnold Hens; 2nd vice-president, George Frock; Secretary, Herbert O. Aburn; Asst. Rec. Secretary, W. T. Sermons; Financial Secretary, N. A. Scheel; Treasurer, George Mumma. The Executive Board: Louis Gill, Chairman; C. M. Diffenderffer, N. A. Gossmann, Wm. Lampkin, George Schirmer, Marvin Shipley, V. Hush, L. Weber and F. J. Braun.

Plans were completed for the 27th Annual Show which will be held September 14 and 15 in the Sears Community Building, Harford and North Aves., Baltimore, Md. President Weber appointed Mr. Louis Gill as Show Manager, which assures a first class exhibition, and Mr. Gill will announce his committee later. Judging by the interest being shown and the great number of new members received we should have a fine show.

OUR 1953 SHOW WILL BE HELD SUNDAY AND MONDAY, SEPT. 20 AND 21

The East Liverpool Ohio Dahlia Show

The East Liverpool (Ohio) Dahlia Society held its twenty-seventh Annual Dahlia and Flower Show Saturday and Sunday, September 27-28, 1952 in Memorial Auditorium, East 4th St. and Walnut St.

Our show this year was the largest we have had since Mid-West Conference in 1947.

The varieties of dahlias, new and old, were of the best we have seen for years, and the tables were crowded. A count of the visitors who registered at entrance is estimated at 3,000.

Exhibitors from five states brought in their blooms by the machine load early Friday night until noon Saturday.

A high light of the show was a 45 minute concert given by the East Liverpool High School Choir, on Saturday night, and directed by Laurence Beck.

The American Home Achievement Medal was won by Mr. Delbrugge of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, with a primrose cactus dahlia which is named Blendette, a lovely delicately shaded ower.

Among the new dahlias that were outstanding and exhibited for the first time was a large red formal dahlia Ceramic Beauty, named for East Liverpool, by Mr. John T. Eccleston.

Mr. Eccleston also showed his dahlia Bertha Shone, a seedling lavender cactus, a real beauty and I may say A MUST for our garden next year.

The first sweepstake or sweepstakes winner was Richard Heidel of Pleasant Heights, E. L. O., and this is his fifth year growing dahlias and has taken sweepstakes seven times in that period.

Washington State Dahlia Society

Our 42nd annual Dahlia Show was held at Hod Carriers Hall, Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 6 and 7. Despite the hot, dry summer the hall was filled to overflowing with perfect blooms. Surpassing previous shows by the number of entries, quantity and quality of blooms and numbers of new members signed up.

Chas. Julin and his committee handled all details of the show to perfection. We had many more classes this year. All were well filled. Will add a junior division next year. They have been competing against grown-ups and wanning too.

Best dahlia in the show was Hart's Whirlaway, exhibited by John Baush. This won the Society Cup. This makes 2 years John has won so will have to try and beat him next year as 3 years in succession and he can keep it permanently. Best 3 year seedling and Home Achievement Medal winner was Kiona, a coral insurved cactus. J. E. Hulin won Sunset medal with a min. cactus red called Trinket.

Largest in show was Lilac Giant by Chas. Julin. Smallest was Betty Malone by Dean Woods. Best arrangement by Rev. Don Glen.

Best Basket, Berger's Masterpiece by John Baush. Best arrangement by a man—Donald Clark with Bunne Esperance. Best dahlia by an amateur, Val St. Lambert by Dean Woods. Semi-cactus Irene Rich by Dorothy Springer. Formal Dec. Morocco, Dean Woods. Inf. Dec. Marion Tate by Barbara Ayler. In advanced class—Best cactus Hart's Whirlaway, John Baush. Semi. C. Helois, Mildred Bailey. F. D., Five Star General, John Baush. I.D., Freda George, John Baush.

Sweepstakes (Amateur): 1st—Dean Woods; 2nd—Barbara Ayler. (Advanced Amateur): 1st—John Baush; 2nd—Mrs. Glen Dunlap. The judges were as follows: F. S. McKamey, R. P. Turnquist of Brewerton; H. E. # The Dahlia Society of Tennessee, Inc.

The Dahlia Society of Tennessee, Inc., held its 1952 annual Dahlia Show in the beautiful, multiple mirrored Grand Ballroom, Hotel Patten, on October 4-5, 1952. All worries over the lack of rain, the extremely hot and continuously above normal temperatures day after day during the growing season and what would happen to the dahlia blooms during late September, proved groundless. The blooms came in in plentiful abundance, the blooms on exhibit were all of good quality and were up to standard.

The number of entries was exceptionally large—979 total entries. 389 of these were of the smaller type-miniatures, pompons, singles, collarettes, peony, orchid and dwarf. This section has proven, again, that the smaller types are just as important to a dahlia show as the larger "A" exhibition types.

The remaining 590 entries were in the "A" and "B" size classes and overed the major portion of the Ballroom. The newer varieties those of 1952 introduction were in evidence yet—those older varieties "Jersey Beauty," "Jane Cowl," Michigan White," "Thomas Edison" still win their share of the ribbons. "Mrs. Hester Pape" that majestic queen of all, the gallant lady-in-red, predominated in the larger variety and it was this dahlia that was judged the most perfect in the Show. It was exhibited by Mr. Elbert L. Freeman, Chickamauga, Ga.

Visitors were numerous on both Saturday and Sunday. Surely dahlias are coming into their significant prominence more and more each year. Coming in to their rightful throne as "King of All Flowers." The staging of dahlia shows each year are becoming more numerous and more and more regular. Each year County and State Fairs are including a Dahlia Section and after a Dahlia Section has been placed in the Schedule the entering of dahlias doubles, and triples, during the following years. Each year more and more Garden Clubs are entering dahlias in the horticultural sections, and the arrangement sections featuring dahlias, and dahlias only, is certainly on the increase. If a popularity vote could be taken on "Which Flower has Shown the Greatest Popularity During the Past Decade" dahlias would head the list by a large majority.

Our visitors from the Dahlia Societies of Alabama and Georgia, and also the North Georgia Dahlia Society flocked to Chattanooga all bringing their share of blooms—yet best of all—bringing that friendship that brings dahlia growers so close to each other yet separated by 100 to 200 miles of distance.

We count our 1952 Show a grand success. All who had a hand in the Show left Hotel Patten refreshed in spirit and in mind—perhaps physically tired but we soon recovered from that. Our efforts to show the public what dahlias look like proved to be worth while.

The arrangement section, under the capable leadership of Mrs. R. L. Millard, was extremely attractive showing that careful scrutiny, careful selection of dahlias, and material used, careful thinking in terms of harmony and lines, could produce such an elegant display. Beautiful arrangements made from drift-wood cast so carelessly on the ocean shores; beautiful from the standpoint that onions, catalpa seeds, beauty berry, coral, and other miscellaneous material could be thrown together-not without thought—but with the thought in mind that something pretty could be done. Judging, in this section, done by accredited Garden Club Judges was on the highest plane and showed evidence that Garden Club courses now stress, more and more, the judging of dahlias both from the arrangement and horticultural standpoint. Thank you Ladies.
