

RUSSIA TO INVADE BULGARIA; SERBIANS LOSING HEAVILY

ARMENIAN CRIES FOR SPEEDY HELP REACH HONOLULU

City is Asked to Raise Money for Relief of Hounded and Starving People

TURKS SYSTEMATICALLY ANNIHILATING A RACE

Letter From American Board Headquarters Tells of Cruelty of Ottoman Bands

Stricken Armenia's call to the world for aid has reached Honolulu. Coincident with stories of horrible cruelty by the Turks, who are apparently bent on annihilating the race, is the organization of a relief fund committee here and the public call for subscriptions.

Already more than $700 has been subscribed, and will be forwarded at an early date to the headquarters of the American relief organization in New York City.

The announcement today says: "A letter has just come from the American Board headquarters in Boston to Dr. Doremus Scudder asking that Honolulu cooperate in securing relief for the stricken Armenians. A call is hereby issued to the benevolent people of this city to come to the aid of the refugees, thousands of whom have been able to escape to Egypt, Russia and other countries where they are in greatest destitution. The world has never before witnessed an atrocity to compare with this wholesale murder of an entire race. Mr. W. A. Bowen has consented to serve as treasurer of the funds raised locally and to transmit them to Mr. Charles R. Crane, treasurer of the Armenian Relief Committee in New York City, who will cable them to Ambassador Morgenthau. Subscriptions will be acknowledged in the pages of the city press."

The following subscriptions have already been made:

- Mrs. J. M. Atherton and family $250.00
- George P. Castle 100.00
- A Friend 50.00
- Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen 200.00
- Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Westcott 100.00
- Andrew Westervelt 10.00
- Ruth C. Scudder Memorial Fund 100.00
- A Friend 50.00

Atrocities Confirmed. The letter to Dr. Scudder says: "The atrocities in Turkey upon the Armenians surpass anything in history. I think it is no exaggeration to say that half a million Armenians have already been atrociously put to death. The stories that come are sickening in their horror. Turkish officials look with gloating upon great groups of women and children starving by the roadside. Nothing seems to move their hearts and sympathy. I am enclosing a statement we are just giving out to the press here from Professor who has just come to this country. Multiply that by 500, covering the entire Armenian section of Turkey, and you have the story of the horrors of the situation."

"We have started a central committee for relief in New York with Charles R. Crane as treasurer. We called Ambassador Morgenthau yesterday $100,000 for relief. He had informed me by cable that he could handle that amount now, but that more would be needed at once. Almost a state of anarchy exists in the government at Constantinople."

"I wonder if you would want to start an auxiliary relief organization here in Honolulu to appeal for funds, the funds to go to our Central Committee in New York, which Charles R. Crane is treasurer, 70 Fifth avenue."

Fleet Sails By Hilo; Seas Too Rough To Stop

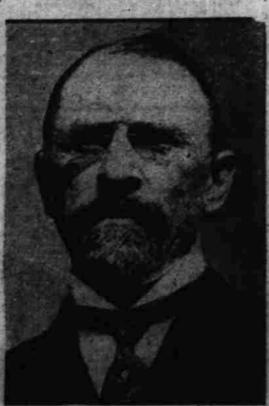

Made no stop at Hilo. Weather too rough, was the radio message received at 3:35 o'clock this morning by the naval station here, from Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle, commander of the U. S. cruiser Maryland, who is in command of the three ships towing the P-1, P-2 and P-3 to San Francisco. The message was sent at sea, and according to Hugh J. Duffy, chief boatswain at the naval station, was probably flashed from a point near Hilo, as the fleet was to have arrived there early this morning, according to schedule.

This means that the Maryland's crew will have no chance to visit Kilauea volcano, and also that the submarines will reach San Francisco about 24 hours earlier than at first believed. Provisions sufficient to last 15 days were taken aboard before leaving this port yesterday morning. The voyage should not take more than 12 days at the longest, it is believed here.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO PATHFINDER ALL CANCELLED

Directors Abandon Projected Advertising; Thornton Hardy Executive Secretary

Subscriptions aggregating $1850 to the advertising pages of the Carnival Pathfinder were cancelled this morning by the committee of three appointing the directors of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Ltd. Verbal pledges amounting to some $600 and odd additional will likewise be allowed to lapse.

The decision was one of policy rather than finance. Very little actual expense looking to the production of the Pathfinder has been incurred, and the best business sentiment of Carnival shareholders and the merchants of the town seemed to be against it. Several of the leading houses refused to subscribe at all. Others who contributed generously did so reluctantly. They were glad to help support the Carnival but they did not approve of the guise under which their support was asked.

The argument against the Pathfinder was twofold. Merchants who opposed it contended that, with few exceptions, the return to them would not be proportionate to the price asked. So far as they were concerned their subscriptions amounted to donations. Many of them, in fact, stipulated that they should prefer to make an outright gift. And within the board there was a feeling that, if money was to be raised for the Carnival it should be applied directly to the expenses of production, not to finance mainland advertising.

Tourists' Share Not Large. As a piece of general publicity, attractive to tourists, the value of the Carnival to the Territory is not questioned by the directors, but the tourists' share in making it a success does not appear on the face of the records to be large. For instance, the number of tourists who arrived in Honolulu during the months of January

Judge Ashford Calls Special Attention to Leniency in the Case of Poor Japanese

"I trust that certain persons in high places will take note of the fact that it is not only the hawker with rich and powerful connections who can successfully appeal to the leniency of this court."

Thus spoke Circuit Judge Ashford today just before he suspended for 12 months the sentence of one Seyoka, a Japanese charged with assisting in maintaining a chufa lottery. With these brief remarks, and the ruling regarding the suspension, Judge Ashford brought the case to a close.

LOUISIANA SUGAR MEN TO DEMAND FULL SUGAR DUTY?

Information which comes from a private source in Washington is to the effect that the Louisiana cane-sugar interests may not endorse the recommendations of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for a retention of the existing duties on sugar. The Louisiana interests are said to be quite determined to insist that the "full duty" be restored, that is, that Congress repeal the present clause providing for free sugar on and after May 1, 1916, and restore the duties which were in effect before March 1 of last year.

The former duties were: On 96-degree test raws, 1.685 cents per pound; on foreign refined, 1.90 cents. The existing duty on 96-degree test raws, the class which affects the Hawaiian sugar market, is 1.256, on Cuban 1.048 cents.

Hawaii's sugar men, insofar as they have expressed opinions concerning Secretary McAdoo's recommendations, agree that Hawaii should not attempt to secure the restoration of the former duty but should favor what the administration is recommending.

FINDS 3000 BAD EGGS FOR USE IN BAKERIES HERE

Food Commissioner A. W. Hansen Dumps Hundreds of Dozens Into Ash Cans

SOME WERE MOULDY AND OTHERS HAD BLACK ROT

Campaign Hoped to Lessen Importation of Spoiled Product From Mainland Cities

Three thousand eggs—stale, spoiled and just plain bad—were labeled "garbage," and consigned to the ash can this week by A. W. Hansen, federal pure food commissioner.

Thus began Commissioner Hansen's campaign for pure food for Honolulu in the egg line and thus were certain bakery and candy store proprietors forced to weep bitter tears of remorse and say uncomplimentary things and wonder why the United States ever enacted pure food laws at all.

Like the proverbial cow who jumped over the moon, the price of the product of the hard-working hen has soared to the clouds in Honolulu, and at the present time, fresh island eggs are bringing about 70 cents a dozen. Cold storage eggs from California may be bought for from 40 to 45 cents.

In spite of high prices, Commissioner Hansen threw his official hat into the ring and, with both feet, landed hard on all the rotten, stale and other unfit eggs in Honolulu. He waded in and his discoveries amazed him—and also the dealers.

Eggs With Black Rot. He found eggs affected with black rot, eggs that were mouldy, eggs that were suffering from white rot, eggs which had aged to the extent that their whites had turned a sickly green, eggs which had turned stale and which had the yolks adhering to the shells and—lastly—eggs with blood-rot.

"And these eggs were intended for use in bakeries in Honolulu for the making of cakes and other pastry and

SEAMEN'S LAW TO HAVE NO EFFECT ON INTER-ISLAND

All Members of Crews Can Understand English, and None Will Be Discharged

Rumors along the waterfront and on the street today to the effect that the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company has discharged several of its Japanese sailors because of the Seamen's Act, which goes into effect next Thursday, November 4, were denied at noon by officials of the company.

Three officials of the Inter-Island, Norman E. Gedde, secretary and treasurer; Joseph E. Sheedy, the general superintendent; and James L. McLean, vice-president of the corporation, while talking together at the offices, were asked by a Star-Bulletin reporter if the rumors were true.

"There is absolutely no truth in it," said Mr. Sheedy. "We will employ everybody we now have. There will be no men discharged whatsoever on account of the Seamen's Act."

"All of our crews can understand the language of their officers," said Mr. McLean. "We have discharged no Japanese, nor are we planning to do anything of the kind."

"I haven't heard anything about it," remarked Mr. Gedde.

The members of the federal grand jury for the October, 1915, term will meet in court at 10 o'clock next Monday morning, at which time they will be sworn and charged. According to the district attorney, there is enough work on hand to keep the grand jury in session at least two weeks.

RUMANIAN PREMIER IS TARGET OF BOTH SIDES

Premier Bratianu of Rumania is the target for criticisms by two opposing forces—those who demand that Rumania enter war with the Allies and those who demand neutrality. Recent despatches say that meetings have been held in Bucharest attacking him for not joining the Entente Powers.

JAPAN NOW ASKS U. S. TO JOIN TO INFLUENCE CHINA

Hopes to Postpone Change to Monarchy; Chinese Troops Sent to Yangtsi

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 30.—Japan has asked the American government to support its attempt to persuade the Chinese leaders at Peking to postpone action on the proposed monarchy.

Japan declares that if an election is held in the near future and the people, after being stirred up by agitators are influenced to demand a monarchy, the result of the change will be international disturbances. Consequently Tokyo is urging that the change be postponed until the war is ended. Japan's policy was determined, it is learned, following a consultation with Great Britain and Russian representatives.

What attitude Germany will assume is not known. Contradictory reports are received on this.

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, Oct. 30.—The Peking government has decided to dispatch troops to the Yangtsi Kiang region where the recent disturbances with the Japanese citizens occurred. The Japanese press looks upon this move with alarm as the feeling between the two races in that section is becoming one of intense hatred. The Japanese troops have already left for the seat of trouble.

VILLA'S FORCE IS SCARCE ABLE TO MAKE FIGHT

Associated Press by Federal Wireless] DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 30.—In spite of the announcements that Gen. Villa was coming to crush Gen. Calles, the Carranza commander at Agua Prieta, just across the border, the Villistas were still 18 miles east of here early today, the advance guard of cavalry being discovered at daylight by Carranza scouts.

The Villa army is said to be in decidedly bad straits, having been on short rations and with its horses underfed. The force, though estimated at 8000, is declared weak and barely able to go into a fight. Women and children are following the army, as is usual with the Villa forces, and they are said to be in a pitiable condition.

SAYS PICTURE BRIDES TAKEN TO COAST ARE MOSTLY 'BROWN SLAVES'

(Special Cable to Hawaii Shinpo.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—An American by the name of Ryan has returned to this city from Japan and has told the secret police of the United States that most of the picture brides that come to America are "brown slaves." The Japanese press in this city is much wrought up over the statement.

C. Kam Moon, proprietor of Kam's Variety Store, who had for sale a certain pennant which, a jury in federal court declared, contained an obscene picture, was fined $30 and costs today.

FALL OF PIROT SEVERE BLOW; U. S. NAVY EXPERTS NOW SURE LINER HESPERIAN TORPEDOED

MAY BRING ABOUT NEW DEMAND ON GERMANY FOR ACCOUNTABILITY—PARIS REPORTS MONTENEGRINS AND AUSTRIANS IN BATTLE—BRITISH WAR-VESSELS COLLIDE, 100 MISSING—RUSSIANS TO LAND AT VARNA

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless) COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct. 30.—According to news from Berlin today, received by Teutons from Bulgarian sources apparently, the Russians are preparing to invade Bulgaria in large force.

It is reported that two large armadas have set out from Odessa and Sebastopol, the principal Russian ports on the Black Sea, carrying many thousands of troops. Convoys of squadrons of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, the transports are proceeding south. The recent heavy bombardments of Varna, the Bulgarian Black Sea port, were in preparation for landing troops, it is now ascertained.

Hesperian Sunk by Torpedo May Raise New U. S.-Germany Issue

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Secretary of State Lansing announced today that the navy department has evidence which makes the experts certain the liner Hesperian, sunk in the war-zone nearly two months ago, was torpedoed. Germany has persistently claimed the liner was sunk by striking a mine. The state department, through Ambassador Gerard, will notify Germany of the findings.

The conclusions of the navy department may bring up a new and delicate situation with Germany. The Allan liner Hesperian was crippled by an explosion of some sort on the night of September 4, southwest of Fastnet light, off the coast of Ireland. Seventeen persons were lost. Two Americans aboard were saved and it was first thought no Americans had been lost but later reported that a member of the crew who met death, Wolff, was an American.

The captain of the vessel and other officers insisted that the Hesperian was crippled by a torpedo, from the effects of which explosion she sank in a few hours. Later U. S. navy experts reported that fragments of an explosive found on the decks indicated that the explosion was caused by a mine.

If the United States concludes the Hesperian was torpedoed, indemnity will probably be asked of Germany, together with the avowal of the sinking, as in the Arabic case.

Bulgarian Successes Lay Serbia Almost at Mercy of Invaders

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 30.—Bulgarian soldiers invading Serbia have won a series of successes opening the way to a terrific blow at the Serbian armies. The fall on Wednesday of the stronghold of Pirot was a severe blow to the Serbians. It opens the road to Nish and invites a Bulgarian advance toward the heart of old Serbia. Here the Serb forces have gradually been drawing together as they were beaten back from the Teuton and Bulgarian fronts.

Pirot was captured after three days' fighting. The Serbians finally evacuated it in a hurry, evading capture only at the sacrifice of baggage trains and large stores of ammunition. Many Serbians were killed or wounded in the vain defense of the town.

Montenegrins Said to Have Met Austrians, Winning One Battle

PARIS, France, Oct. 30.—It is reported that the Montenegrins, who sent an expedition into the Austro-Hungarian province of Bosnia, engaged in a severe battle with Austrian troops south of Visegrad, Bosnia, on Thursday, the results of which are not yet known. At Gera the Montenegrins defeated the Austrians.

British War Vessels Hit; Many Lost

LONDON, England, Oct. 30.—As a result of a collision between the British auxiliary war vessel Hythe, used as a mine-sweeper, and another British war-vessel off Gallipoli, the Hythe has been sunk and it is reported that 100 lives have been lost. That number of the crews are missing.

Teutons Continue Steady Progress

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 30.—Continued progress is being made both by the Teuton armies and the Bulgarian armies in Serbia.

FRENCH WIN VICTORIES AGAINST THE BULGARIANS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) LONDON, Eng., Oct. 29.—The first phase of the Teuton-Bulgarian campaign has now been completed in the view of local observers. The invaders have united to secure the passage of the Danube river. Steamers are ready to carry supplies to the Teuton camps. Nish is threatened.

The French expedition which went north from Saloniki is said to have taken the heights dominating Strumitza, the Bulgarian town in the salient jutting out into Serbia just above the Greek border. The fall of Strumitza is imminent. The French are proceeding also to take the Serbian town of Ietip, which was reported some days ago as captured by the Bulgars.

Ward Bailey, a civil engineer of England who was sent to Ellis Island on his arrival on the steamship St. Paul, was discharged by the immigration officials.

BREWERY BRANCH AT HILO SOLD TO PEACOCK & CO.

(Special Wireless to Star-Bulletin) HILO, Oct. 30.—W. C. Peacock & Company, Ltd., of Honolulu, has purchased the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company's interests here for a consideration said to be $40,000. The business is both retail and wholesale liquor. The license commissioners have agreed to the transfer of the selling company's interests. St. S. Sarvas, manager of the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company, and George O'Neil, president and manager of W. C. Peacock & Company, Ltd., are returning to Honolulu on the Whangama from this city.

"Antifester," declared Mr. Hansen today. Last Thursday was quietly celebrated as "Egg-Destroying Day." He spent the day testing out a large number of eggs in various bakeries owned by Orientals and, as a result, dumped 1400 of the shelled edibles into various ash cans until the contents of the containers represented material for huge omelettes. There was a breaking of eggs and a gnashing of teeth. Hansen broke the eggs and the bakers gnashed their teeth. It was a dark and unglorious day—for the bakers.

In the collection of 1400 Commissioner Hansen found several specimens of "one hand" eggs. A one-hand egg, according to his own description, is one which requires a holding of one hand to the nose when aforesaid egg is broken.

Seriously, however, Mr. Hansen believes the egg campaign is an extremely vital one. Will improve Quality.

"The campaign will result in a decided improvement in the grade of sold storage eggs which are imported from the coast for bakery and restaurant purposes," he says.

"Would these eggs, had they not been destroyed, have been used?" Mr. Hansen was asked.

"I have every reason to believe that they would have been used," he answered. "I believe that that grade of eggs has been used for some time past in Honolulu bakeries. But impossible for me to take up this line of investigation before."

"I was even told by one of the most prominent dealers in this city that, while on the mainland, he heard that rotten eggs actually had a fixed value for food purposes."

"Do you know of any legitimate use to which such eggs could be put?" Mr. Hansen was asked.

Condemned Under Law.

"Such eggs—those affected with white and black rot and other diseases—may be properly used for tanning purposes, but only for such technical purposes. The United States district court for the southern district of New York ruled that so-called No. 2 eggs—eggs showing blood rings and black spots—are adulterated under the national pure food and drug act."

"Are old storage eggs from the mainland sold here for household purposes?" was the question.

"Yes, they are," answered Mr. Hansen. "However, I believe that all reputable dealers are not attempting to deceive the public as to what these eggs are."

"It is undoubtedly true that a great many California eggs, which are properly ice-house eggs, have been peddled throughout Honolulu as fresh island eggs. In fact, several instances of this kind have received my attention."

Commissioner Hansen went on to say that, in a great many instances, California eggs brought to Honolulu are of a very high grade. Mr. Hansen will continue his campaign next week.

HILO RAILWAY BONDHOLDERS BACKING PLAN

Holdings of both issues of Hilo Railway bonds evidently favor the plan for a reorganization of the road which was worked out by the committee representing both sets of investors. Reorganization depended upon 60 per cent of the total issue of $4,500,000 being deposited with the Hawaiian Trust Company before November 10, but already more than 90 per cent of the bonds are held under the protective agreement. Out of the total of $4,500,000, only $120,000 worth of the bonds, at par value, have not been received, and they are held on the mainland by persons who have not had time to arrange for the deposit here.

SAYS OLD CHEFA TICKETS NO PROOF OF GAMBLING

Kihara pleaded guilty to playing chefa this morning in the police court and was fined $25 and costs. He said the fine. Kihara admitted that he played the lottery, but said that the tickets found on him were not good evidence, because the drawing was past. He could not explain two other tickets found in his coat when he reported for trial some time ago after being released on bond.

LIME BARRELS FOUND INTACT AFTER BLAZE

With her hull somewhat charred inside as a result of the mysterious fire which took place in her while she was lying at the dock in Hilo, the inter-island steamer Helene arrived today from that port. Although the lime carried by the Helene is believed to have been the cause, all the barrels in the cargo compartment were found intact after the fire had been extinguished.

Damage from the fire consisted of the spoiling of 145 sacks of fertilizer which the blaze destroyed. None of the crew was injured.

MASS MEETINGS ON DEFENSE TO SPUR CONGRESS

and non-voters as well as voters will be included in the campaign. "It is one of the greatest movements of its kind ever undertaken in this country," says C. S. Thompson, chairman of the board of trustees, "but the situation is one of the most significant that ever has confronted the country."

The American Defense Society also has invited the cooperation of all other defense organizations and the movement is expected to become general throughout such circles.

Shortage of Cadets. Beyond its campaign for national preparedness the American Defense Society also has taken up the question of the shortage of cadets at the West Point military academy, where the enrollment is 79 below the regular quota. In a recent letter to the society the commandant at the academy said:

"On June 11, 1915, the date prior to the graduation of the class of 1915, there were actually 120 vacant cadetships. On June 16, 1915, after the date of the graduation of the class of 1915, and after the date of admission of the new class of cadets, there were 95 vacancies in the corps of cadets to July 1, 1915. This number of vacancies was reduced to 59 by admission of new cadets on July 1, 1915; at this date, due to casualties, there are 79 vacancies which will remain unfilled for the academic year."

Instead of endorsing various proposals for the establishment of more military academies, the American Defense Society will advocate a change in the existing laws governing admission to West Point, so that the vacancies there may be filled, or a more available type of candidate be recruited.

The Richard Watson Glider meeting in the parish house on Wednesday was one of the rarest evenings Central Union church has had this year. Principal Mabel E. Boster of Kawaiahaeo seminary presided and in a brief address of fine literary flavor as well as of unusual selective taste made Mr. Glider's character and contribution to his generation stand out in prominent relief.

She then unfolded his message as a poet, humanitarian, friend of peace, an interpreter of music and as a thoughtful Christian in full harmony with the devoutly critical spirit of his age. This was done with the aid of Mesdames F. C. Atherton, W. F. Frenz and T. Richards, Misses Stambaugh and Winne, Messrs. A. F. Cooke, Berney and Nelson and Rev. Drs. Wadman and Scudder, who responded by reading poems illustrative of the various lines of activity that marked the life of Mr. Glider.

Two of the delightful surprises of the program came in connection with the emphasis laid upon the poet's appreciation of music. Following the reading of his lines on Handel's Largo, Mr. Idefer and Miss Margaret Clark of Punahou rendered the masterpiece on violin and piano, while toward the close of the evening a choir of Kawaiahaeo girls sang the verses "Lost Readers" to music chosen therefor by Miss Mills. This series of mid-week services is proving unusually attractive and helpful. Next week the program will be in charge of Dr. Robert Day Williams, principal of Mills institute.

GOLDER EVENING PROVES BEST OF ENTIRE SERIES

The night of November 23 the army will be the scene of a big entertainment in honor of the rifle team. Plans are now under way for the event, which will culminate in the reception of the returning team. A high class vaudeville is planned for this affair, and a number of excellent acts have already been secured. Others are half promised and those in charge of the evening's entertainment declare that they will provide the "biggest and best" ever held in the armory.

Tickets for the dance tonight may be secured at the armory from Sergt. Evans any time during the day. For those unable to pay a visit to the armory phone 1624—the armory number—may be called. Sergt. Evans promised to be on hand from early morning until late in the evening for the sole purpose of distributing tickets at 50 cents each.

HASOTA TALKS HIMSELF INTO NEW JAIL TERM

J. Hasota, a young Japanese, finished serving a month's sentence in the city and county jail at noon today and would not be enjoying full liberty if he had not talked too much this morning, when he was brought to the police court charged with theft. As it is he will remain in jail for two months more, having been convicted of embezzlement.

Maggie Lee Sunshun caused the arrest of Hasota, and in her testimony said that he came into the room where she was sleeping a month ago and took her purse, containing $10, from under her pillow. Her nephew told almost the same story. But the prosecuting attorney was so far from convinced of the truth of the story that he exclaimed to the judge "I don't like this case." He was ready to allow dismissal when Hasota, seeing the trend of things, became triumphant and insisted on taking the stand.

With a bland smile Hasota told the judge that he did not take the money. He said he asked Mrs. Sunshun to lend him $5 and she gave him the $10 to get changed. Then he spent the whole $10.

"Did you pay her the $7 back?" asked Judge Monsarrat.

"Not yet," Hasota answered. He was charged with embezzlement and sentenced for two months. The judge made the sentence severe because Hasota also told on the stand that he was at present in jail and that he had previously done 50 days for "borrowing" $2 from a Chinese. Being questioned he admitted that to borrow the $2 he had used a paper to which he forged the name of another Japanese.

SAYS WOMAN WAS HELD IN JAIL TO MAKE HER 'PEACH'

Intimation that Anna Parker, a Hawaiian, had been held in jail for 10 days by the police department mainly because they wanted to force her to "peach" on some one else, was made in the police court this morning by L. M. Straus, who appeared as her attorney in a new case brought against her.

"The woman has been held for 10 days, until yesterday, on a mere vagrancy charge," Straus said. "It is unusual, and the fact that she has been taken every day to the office of the city attorney proves to me that there is some other motive than the mere vagrancy charge behind this."

The charge against the Parker woman this morning was the theft of a watch from Ah Cheong, who alleges that she went into his room and took away the watch. She was allowed to go on her recognizance, until her case is called again Tuesday, after Straus and Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth had indulged in a heated argument.

Keepers of old English taverns used to mark up "P" for plut and "Q" for quart against their credit customers, hence, it is said, the expression, "Mind you P's and Q's."

GUARD EAGER TO RAISE BIG FUND FOR WELCOMING

Tonight's the night the non-coms of the National Guard of Hawaii entertain with a Hallowe'en dance. The proceeds to be used as a fund with which to provide a fitting aloha for the homecoming rifle team, and especially for those members of the team who scored a big success in the national rifle meet at Jacksonville, Florida.

Sergt. T. J. K. Evans is the particular hero of the Hawaii rifle team, having captured the individual rifle championship in competition with the pick of the United States. Sergt. Evans returns with a cash prize, a medal and a letter from President Wilson which recognizes the sergeant as the U. S. champion. Close behind Sergt. Evans comes Sergt. Ho of the Chinese company—the only Chinese company in the militia or the regulars in the United States—he having secured 26th position in a field of 728.

A big time is promised at this dance and it is anticipated that the entire personnel of the guard will be on hand, besides the many friends of the members of the rifle team and others who wish to see the "boys" given a fitting welcome home. It will be Honolulu's opportunity to show her appreciation of the good work that has been accomplished by the rifle team and especially by those members who finished "in the money."

According to the plans now well under way, contingent, of course, upon the support given to the dance of tonight, mementoes of remembrance and appreciation will be presented to Sgts. Evans and Ho by Governor Pinkham upon the morning of their return, November 23.

Band Will Wait at Dock. These tributes will be the best that can possibly be secured for the money that is raised through the medium of the dance. A committee of non-coms will meet the Wilhelmina of quarantine and decorate the members of the rifle team with leis, while two companies of guardsmen will be awaiting their arrival on the dock. The recently organized First Regiment band also will be at the dock. With this escort the sharpshooters will proceed to the capitol, where the presentation will be made.

The new basis of organization is similar to that of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. The full board will meet twice a week, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. A tentative program will be adopted immediately and President J. P. C. Hagens will appoint chairmen from the community at large to take the different events in charge. If the services of women who take interest in public affairs can be obtained, so much the better.

Each chairman will be held responsible for the production and success of his own event. The executive secretary will harmonize the work of the committees and keep the full board posted on progress.

A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Promotion Committee, who leaves for the mainland in the Wilhelmina next Wednesday, will make use of every opportunity during his absence to bring the Carnival to the front. Vice-Chairman Ed Tovey gave his hearty approval this morning to any assistance Mr. Taylor can lend.

The Royal Rosarians of Portland, Ore., will be in Honolulu for Carnival week, and Riley H. Allen, who knows many of them, will write them a personal letter, to go forward in the next mail, telling them of the welcome the Carnival holds for them and inviting them to take a share in making it a success. The same steamer will carry a letter from President Hagens requesting them to inform the Carnival what part they wish to take in the celebration and assuring them of cooperation at this end.

"GOOD HOUSEKEEPING" WEEK TO BE FEATURE AT DIMOND & CO. STORE

During this week merchandise which is nationally advertised will be featured and many interesting demonstrations will be made daily. Every day prizes of various kinds will be given away.

Tea and sandwiches will be served to visitors between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock, and coffee and wafers will be served from 2 to 4 in the afternoon.

and February last year, up to the time of the Carnival, as shown by the figures of the Promotion Committee was less than 500. To be exact, arrivals of all descriptions came to just 557, including returning islanders. Obviously, the directors decided, the carnival was not staged for this haul, even supposing all of them attended all the events.

Mainland advertising, however, is not to be neglected wholly this year. As in the past, there will be a Carnival poster. The original of this drawing is already on view in the Hawaii building at the San Francisco fair, and replicas have been given advantageous display in the offices of the Santa Fe system at San Francisco and Los Angeles. The plates will be put to press early next week and 20,000 copies will be run off. Already the sheets are in demand for window display during the Pineapple Day campaign.

No New Director-General. At yesterday's meeting, the Carnival directors decided to dispense with the services of a director-general and run the Carnival themselves, through an executive secretary. Thornton Hardy, hitherto assistant secretary, was unanimously elected to the new office.

The election of a director-general is a difficult and delicate job. Difficult and delicate jobs demand time, and the Carnival this year has no time to spare. It must get down to business immediately and continue on the job every minute.

After canvassing many names and meeting failure in what seemed a promising opportunity to obtain a successor to Judge Henry E. Cooper, the retiring director-general, whose resignation was accepted last Wednesday, the board recognized that it was making no progress.

Frank E. Blake, treasurer of the corporation, moved the plan of reorganization adopted, and G. Fred Bush seconded it. Sherwood Lowrey observed that the motion agreed substantially with the recommendations of the last board. George P. Denton concurred, adding that events since then had so shaped themselves as to demonstrate the wisdom of the recommendation and that there never would be a better time to test it than now. On being put to a vote, the motion was carried unanimously.

Board Meets Twice a Week. The new basis of organization is similar to that of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. The full board will meet twice a week, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. A tentative program will be adopted immediately and President J. P. C. Hagens will appoint chairmen from the community at large to take the different events in charge. If the services of women who take interest in public affairs can be obtained, so much the better.

Each chairman will be held responsible for the production and success of his own event. The executive secretary will harmonize the work of the committees and keep the full board posted on progress.

A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Promotion Committee, who leaves for the mainland in the Wilhelmina next Wednesday, will make use of every opportunity during his absence to bring the Carnival to the front. Vice-Chairman Ed Tovey gave his hearty approval this morning to any assistance Mr. Taylor can lend.

The Royal Rosarians of Portland, Ore., will be in Honolulu for Carnival week, and Riley H. Allen, who knows many of them, will write them a personal letter, to go forward in the next mail, telling them of the welcome the Carnival holds for them and inviting them to take a share in making it a success. The same steamer will carry a letter from President Hagens requesting them to inform the Carnival what part they wish to take in the celebration and assuring them of cooperation at this end.

SUBMERGED RUNS ALL NEXT WEEK BY NEW SUBMARINES

K Boats Will Take Short Period Dives, in Preparation for Competitions

Brief submerged runs will be made all next week by the third submarine division, the K flotilla, Lieut. Joseph V. Ogan, its commander, announced today.

All the boats will participate, and the runs will be made either in the harbor or out at sea. If made in the harbor, the boats will touch bottom when submerged, as the shallowness of the water will require the craft to rest on the bottom in order to be completely submerged. Submergence will probably not last more than 15 minutes or half an hour.

These runs are preliminary to the engineering competition runs, which are expected to begin about November 15, or thereabouts.

The K-3, K-4, K-7 and K-8, comprising the flotilla, will all take part, in preparation for next week's short-period submergence work, the submarines were gone over today and their engines and diving apparatus tuned up and tested.

RESUME PROBE OF AFFAIRS AT JAIL NEXT THURSDAY

Grand Jury Returns No Bills, But Summons Other Witnesses for Next Week

A further investigation by the territorial grand jury of conditions at the city and county jail, and particularly to the alleged lax methods which resulted in the escape of John McGrath, will be taken up at 2 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, until which time the members of the tribunal have been excused.

During the investigation yesterday afternoon Kate Welsh, an inmate of the jail, was called before the grand jury, presumably to testify regarding charges that women of questionable character were freely admitted to the prison. Other witnesses called were R. O. Matheson, editor of the Advertiser; Judge A. S. Humphreys, Robert Ingersoll, former bartender; William Ponsou, deputy jailer, and John Martin.

Other witnesses, who have been subpoenaed, are Sheriff Charles H. Rose, Deputy Sheriff Julius W. Ache, Police Officer Palenas Likello and Police Officer Legros.

GODD CHARACTER FAILS TO STAVE OFF $15 FINE

Despite the earnest plea of Attorney W. T. Rawlins, who told the court that he had known D. P. Kauihiki since boyhood and that he was a young man of fine character and had never before appeared in court, Kauihiki was fined $15 today by Judge Monsarrat. He was taken with R. F. Watson, M. F. DeCosta, G. F. Felix, Alfred Machado, J. Johnson and H. Kapild when Arthur McDuffie last Wednesday arrested the crowd while they were "shooting craps" in the middle of the Kowalo road.

Rawlins told the court that Kauihiki was a chauffeur and that he was hired to take the party to the isolated spot where they were pulling off their game.

HOW TO SAVE YOUR EYES

Try This Free Prescription. Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Optona tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—Adv.

Who gets the Diamond this week? Poor, exploited Pearl White! She is perplexed. Why can't some one tell her that dear Craig is somewhere near and no harm can come to her?

The Jesse L. Lasky Co. believes in expansion. It's new Hollywood, Cal., studio is the largest in the world and 600,000 feet of film per week is now completed there.

Stolen Goods: A film version of the famous French play that has set the nation thinking. Done under masterly direction, with a cast of stars headed by Blanche Sweet.

Friday unlucky? No! Honolulu's elite seems to have monopolized the Liberty every Friday. It is as good as a fashion show. However, the rest of the week apparently suits the masses well enough.

Ina Claire, stranger to Honolulu, has set a new and original pace for film stars. Her appearance in "The Wild Goose Chase" on the Paramount program at the Liberty adds new laurels to the big list of Liberty stars.

Lionel Barrymore, brother of John, the noted comedian of "Are You a Mason" fame, has come into the "Elsie" serial, but unlike John, he puts another serious factor into the story. He is as good in melodrama as John is in comedy.

That the power of the film is quite as mighty as the power of the press in bringing the peoples of the earth into heartier unity and concord is the rather unanswerable conclusion to be derived from the costly, ring, encrusted with a small fortune in gems, which has just been received from an admirer in far New Zealand by the beautiful Morocco-Bosworth star, Myrtle Stedman. This priceless example of the jeweler's art is all the greater tribute, coming as it does from a wealthy woman in the Antipodes whom Myrtle Stedman had never known or seen and whom, as the generous donor rather wistfully suggested, in all probability she never will. Myrtle Stedman is initiating the ring as a professional tallman of good luck in the new Paramount feature, "A Wild Olive," booked for Honolulu the 1st of December.

Probably one of the greatest lessons of the present European war comes to us through the appearance of Blanche Sweet in "Stolen Goods," beginning tomorrow at the Liberty. As a Red Cross nurse in the Belgium war arena, she carries her sentimental faculties through a splendidly cast drama of love and war that is truly moulded for Blanche-the-emotional, as she has been universally christened. Miss Sweet is supported in this interesting drama of romance and justice by House Peters and Theodore Roberts. The Leaky Company, producing the picture, have a peculiar facility for placing characters in their casts who virtually live the parts they represent. Blanche Sweet's mastery of emotional acting is an art in which she stands alone. Many times at the great Lasky studios Blanche has sobbed real tears before the camera, so keenly she feels the realism of her part.

Over a million pairs of eyes are watching the great "Diamond From the Sky" serial photo-play. The Saturday Evening Post, the Ladies' Home Journal, the New York Evening Telegraph and many other leading publications have taken up discussions upon this wonderful production, which is still unfinished, and has cost the producers over $350,000 thus far. It is the masterpiece of the age. It is strongly dramatic, yet tense with thrilling dare-deviltry. The story embraces all types of existence from the lowly gypsy to the high hand of society. Lottie Pickford, leading lady, receives an average of 200 letters per day from ardent admirers. She opens them all herself, answering each and every little note, enclosing her photograph. Why not some from Honolulu? She would doubtless be proud of one from far-off Hawaii. Eugenie Ford, who is "Hagar" in the cast, is also a much-idolized character. She has received countless gifts from all over America in appreciation of her original, sympathetic and womanly interpretation of the gypsy mother.

Glen Martin, famous aviator, made a flying trip to New York. "Flying" it was, and the Famous Players Company caught him with his cameras, and with little Mary Pickford by his side, forming a thrilling scene in the Paramount feature, "A Girl of Yesterday." Glen has signed up with the Famous Players Company for other productions in course of preparation.

Some have expressed distaste for Mary Pickford's part in "child plays." There is nothing so sweet in the memory of a child as Cinderella, Mistress Nell, Fanchon the Cricket, and many other like stories, and little Mary's courage in applying her art to interpret these works for the sole benefit of the rising generation has done much to acquire the title "Queen of the Movies," which is unanimously her's. However, in the next production in which she appears in Honolulu, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," little Mary is a woman—a sweet, soulful, tender-eyed woman, with life's present-day struggles to conquer. She may be "queen of the movies" to the kiddies, but her versatile accomplishments also place her mistress of the screen.

The Mothers' Club of Kaimuki is giving a Halloween costume dance for the children at the Iliuokalani school hall this afternoon.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1915.

RIISING TO THE OCCASION.

The directors of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, suddenly faced with the loss of the director-general through resignation, have a right to expect that the community will give its support all the more staunchly to guarantee a big success of the 1916 playweek. In selecting Thornton Hardy as executive secretary, the directors have chosen a man who has done good work as assistant secretary and, though of short residence in Honolulu, has impressed those who know him as a "live wire."

The plan of reorganization calls for the distribution among the directors, committee chairmen and members of much work formerly done by the director-general's office. It means real responsibility for the committees, and we have faith that when the plan is fully explained Honolulu's men and women of intelligence and energy will gladly accept appointment and make the 1916 Carnival the biggest of an unbroken line of successes.

CUTTING OFF CITY PUBLICITY

It is short-sighted policy on the part of charter convention delegates to strike at the systematic publicity of city business by publication of proposed resolutions and ordinances as paid advertising.

One of the unwise clauses of the much-criticized majority report is that it would substitute for the present publication of ordinances a mere posting-up of these documents somewhere near the city clerk's office. An amendment has been offered, with some chance of final adoption, for publication of the measures after their passage, but apparently the delegates have concluded that the advance printing can well be dispensed with.

The reason given is that of economy—that the city cannot afford to pay for advertising its resolutions and ordinances. If this is the real reason, it is not well-founded. There must have been a strong lack of information before the convention as to the exact facts concerning city printing.

The Star-Bulletin is well aware that in urging the wisdom of giving plenty of publicity to city business the motives of this paper will be attacked. It is not an unfamiliar thing for newspapers to be accused of mercenary designs when they draw attention to the value of systematic publicity in municipal affairs. The accusation is made that the newspapers are after the printing jobs.

Once before in recent Honolulu history the same issue arose. At that time—some years ago—a faction on the board of supervisors related the criticisms of the daily press. The members of the faction determined to launch a municipal paper and to turn over to it eventually the printing of measures as required by law. A disastrous experience resulted—disasters for the city. After a few short weeks the municipal journal went on the financial rocks—a total loss and no insurance. It had cost the city a large amount of money and the officials who advocated it had learned something of the expense of printing—also that the law requiring full publication of municipal measures was well-founded and just.

Some of the convention delegates say that they were influenced by the fact that the publication of an improvement ordinance recently cost the city nearly $700. That single item broad broadcast the impression that the municipality squanders many thousands on the publication of ordinances. But what are the facts?

The facts are shown in the reports of the city and county auditor on the expenses of Honolulu, by semi-annual periods. The expenses of one period are fairly typical of all. The Star-Bulletin here presents some figures for the last semi-annual period—January 1 to June 30, 1915—showing that Honolulu in that period pays out only an insignificant sum for printing:

City Engineer's office—$8,787.61. Most of this for printing. One item alone is "Entertainment, amusements"—$3454.41.
City Attorney's office—$8548.52.
City Engineer's office, salaries alone—$5130.
Police department—$68,180.88.
Sanitation and health department—$35,130.53.

SAN DIEGO'S DECISION TO KEEP FAIR ON NEXT YEAR HELP TO HAWAII

San Diego's decision to continue the exposition throughout 1916 is expected to turn a large number of tourists to Honolulu. At the present time there is no prospect of peace, and the army of tourists will turn once more to America for their travels. San Diego has realized the amount of publicity and the amount of travel that would come to southern California and is now raising funds for the continuance of the fair.

Hawaiian Band—$14,269.79.
Parks, mostly wages and salaries—$12,604.02.
Engineer's office, mostly salaries—$9284.12.
Road Department—$133,023.99.
Advertising—$3370.64.

The items published above are not selected, they are picked out rather haphazardly from the long list on the auditor's records. But they show, as a selected list would show, as any list, no matter how compiled, must show, what a small figure the advertising expense cuts in city appropriations.

The total expenditures of the city and county for the last semi-annual period amounted to $608,478.39—and charter convention delegates are told that $3370.64 spent in advertising the city's business, in information for the taxpayer, is too much!

The estimated expenditures of the city for the year 1916 are $1,220,000—and charter convention delegates have flourished before them, as something enormously wasteful, a year's expense for advertising of $6740!

These are the figures. Nothing could more vividly exemplify the penny-wise, pound-foolish policy than the plan to cut off a few thousand dollars in advertising and allow many thousands to be wasted in inefficient government.

Publicity in city affairs is the watchdog that guards the treasury into which the taxpayers' money is poured and for which every taxpayer has a right to expect a fair return.

Publicity in city affairs is the glaring light which shows up incompetence and blocks dishonesty.

Publicity in city affairs is, above all, the medium which arouses, holds and increases the attention and interest of the citizen in the progress of his city.

The Star-Bulletin would point out, moreover, that the tendency everywhere on the mainland is to increase publicity of city affairs wherever possible. Modern charters are demanding greater instead of less publicity. A survey of these charters will show it. In a later article we shall give the facts concerning this.

The revenue that newspapers derive from official city printing is scant—a glance at the amount for the semi-annual period shows that. The very scantiness of this revenue—from which must be deducted, of course, the cost of typesetting, publishing, etc.—should free the newspapers from the charge of mercenary motives, in the minds of all fair-minded persons when demanding thorough publicity for city affairs. It is on behalf of the taxpayers whose money the city spends that the demand for publicity of pending ordinances and resolutions is voiced.

SUCH IS FAME!

You think you know a lot about geography, don't you? What's the other name for the Hawaiian Islands, and on what island is Honolulu located? (The writer knows because he just looked at the map).—Newton, Kansas, Beacon.

Mrs. Norman Galt is already the first lady in the land in point of pictures printed in the newspapers.

Recent White House developments make it quite appropriate that the new Chinese minister should be Dr. Koo.

City Engineer Whitehouse says he will retain the much-discussed Charlie Clark. Why not—when the same supervisors who officially said to discharge him privately passed the word along to keep him?

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

FRED KIRCHHOFF: The water has been so rough during the last few days that it has been impossible for the diver to do any consistent work mending the sewer outfall. It is necessary to keep hold of the pipe with one hand in order to keep one's footing.

HARRY MURRAY: Next Monday morning a force of men will begin overhauling Kaimuki pump No. 1, taking it to pieces and going over it in detail. When ready for use again it will be able to pump 6,000,000 gallons of water daily for the Kaimuki district.

S. W. ROBLEY: So far five persons have sent in to the Y. M. C. A. old clothes for discharged prisoners as requested in the story that came out in the Star-Bulletin a week ago. For all of this we are grateful and will be glad to receive any and all gifts, and at all times.

RAYMOND C. BROWN: The total number of merchants who have applied for a part in the window display contest is now 35. All of the merchants are very enthusiastic over the affair and if this enthusiasm keeps up until November 20, we are going to have some fine displays. I am much pleased over the outlook.

SUPERVISOR ROBERT HORNBERG: Our new shipment of Chinese and Japanese pheasants will arrive from the Orient next Tuesday on the Shinyo Maru. These are domesticated birds that were raised in Kobe, Japan, and will be released at the different places asked for in the petition that came in to us the other evening.

JAMES STEINER: I suggest to the supervisors that they lay a decent sidewalk along the seawall at the entrance to Kapiolani park. Walk-kiki has been waiting patiently for this greatly needed improvement and is sure the general public would appreciate it more than the artistic curb parking on the bridge. Do it before the tourist season sets in!

CITY TREASURER D. L. CONKLING: I have been looking over the Workmen's Compensation Act of late, and it seems to me that deaths of city employees have been so few and so far between since the municipality was organized that it would be foolishness on the part of the city to take out insurance against death or accident to employees. The premiums would amount to several thousand dollars each year.

COMMANDER S. TOGO, Tenyo Maru: I wish to make a statement regarding the submarine incident of yesterday, the fact that the Tenyo did not salute having caused comment. I saw three submarines going out of the harbor, but did not know that they were on their way to San Francisco. I imagined that they were merely rounding the harbor. I had received no wireless that the submarines were going to the coast, consequently did not order the whistle to blow as a salute.

PERSONALITIES

MRS. DR. WILLIAM DANIEL, who has been ill at the Berotania Sanitarium with dengue fever, is now on the fair road to recovery.

MISS R. K. BROWN, a local school teacher, and Miss C. M. Adam left for the Orient in the Tenyo Maru yesterday to tour Japan and China.

THOMAS B. STUART, judge of the third division of the local circuit court, who has been ill at his home with neuralgia, returned to court today.

WILLIAM G. COLBY, a missionary left for the Orient in the Tenyo Maru yesterday. Mr. Colby's wife died aboard the Chiyu Maru early this month and was buried in Honolulu.

WILLIAM H. HEEN, who will take up his work as second deputy attorney-general in place of Leslie P. Scott, resigned, will probably arrive from Hilo next Tuesday unless further delayed. Mr. Heen is busy at present with the prosecution of several cases for the government before the Hilo circuit court, and was not able to leave Hilo yesterday as formerly intended.

GOVERNOR'S APPROVAL TO EXCHANGES OF LAND

Governor Pinkham today signed several land exchanges submitted to him by Land Commissioner Joshua D. Tucker. The exchanges are as follows: Ramon Ori to Lorenzo Ruiz, lot 2, Omoa, Kauai; William Kema to Nellie Kema, lot 4, Ololeloana, Hawaii; Wilhelm Kruse to George Gardner, lots 151 and 152, Kalaheo, Kauai; Augusta Vasconcellos to J. C. Feliciano, lot 44, Omoa, Kauai; Tomo Yaoyao to Junaki Tanaka, lots 17, 18 and 19, Kapaa, Kauai, and Joe Silva to John Silva, lot 48, Wai, Kauai. A special home-land agreement with William K. Kahalochoa, on lot 36, Manowaiopae, North Hilo, was also included in the papers signed.

ARMENIAN CRIES FOR EARLY HELP REACH HONOLULU

We also cabled $6000 to Cairo, to care for the large number of refugees who had escaped to that haven. We are organizing a committee in Boston, and other auxiliaries throughout the country. We must raise at least half a million dollars, and that will not suffice.

The following statement is made in writing by a professor, a graduate from one of our best American universities and the bearer of several university degrees. He has lived and traveled widely in India and the Far East and now has just taken an extended journey through a part of Asia Minor. Every one familiar with the temper and spirit of Turkey at the present time will readily understand why his name and more particulars as to details cannot be given to the public now. They are known to the committee on Armenian atrocities, who vouch for the historic accuracy of the following statement:

"During the last week in April our professor of Armenian was arrested by the police at night and taken to the prison in the city along with 25 other prominent Armenians. After a few days he was carried to Sivas and was detained there along with the rest, and information from Sivas through the government agency stated that he had died in Sivas. That was the end of April. Then on the 26th of June the gendarmes arrested a large number of the prominent and strong men of the city at night. Among this number were included two of our most prominent Armenian professors, Professor Hagopian and Professor Manasadjian. They were taken to the soldiers' barracks and imprisoned there temporarily. For a number of succeeding nights the prominent Armenians were arrested in a similar manner and collected at the same place, the whole number amounting to 1215 men.

"These 1215 Armenians who had been collected in the barracks were bound together in groups of five or six men and sent away at night under the guard of the gendarmes by order of the government. At a place about three hours distant from the city on a lonely road leading to Zlich all of these men were brutally slain by the gendarmes and by the men called chekists. The latter were murderers who had been released from the Turkish prisons all about the country and let loose for the express purpose of preying upon the Armenians. They obtained as a reward for their work whatever money and other valuable possessions they might find upon their victims. One of the captives who took out this party stated to the professor of French in our college that he had personally killed 50 men with an ax and obtained from them 150 pounds Turkish. In addition to this we have as evidence the direct statement of the commissaire of police himself, and of many of the gendarmes who accompanied them. In a well at the place of slaughter, a German farmer reported to our consular agent, Mr. Peter, that he had seen 50 bodies of Armenians and long trenches on the side of the mountain where other victims had been buried. Our consular agent visited the scene of this slaughter and collected a large number of papers from the bodies scattered about on the ground. These were letters, identification papers, etc., which were carried in the pockets of the men. I personally saw many of these papers which had been saturated with blood.

"After thus disposing of the stronger and more influential men of the city the government gave notice to the people through the town crier on July 3, that the section of the city nearest to our institutions were to be entirely emptied of Armenians and that every Armenian man, woman and child must prepare himself to go in three days. Instead of allowing this time for preparation they came around the next morning with a large number of ox-carts and drove the people from their houses, allowing them to make little or no preparation for the journey; allowing them only to take a pillow and one bed covering and a supply of food only sufficient for a few days. This process of deportation was continued every day or two throughout the whole month of July until the city was entirely emptied of its Armenian population which amounted to about 12,000 souls. The officials who deported the people on the first stage of their journey reported that at some distance from the city the men and boys were separated from the women and girls and most, if not all of the males were killed, and the women and girls were sent on and gradually taken from the guards to be appropriated by Turks in their barems or to perish by the road side. The government officers declared that the destination of the exiles was to be Mosul, a city about six or six hundred miles distant in the desert regions of Mesopotamia. These same officials declared to us that it was practically impossible that any of the people should ever reach this distant place and if any of them did reach that place it was impossible for them to survive there in the deserts amongst hostile Arabs and other enemies.

School Girls Persecuted.
"The authorities put all of the girls into the wagons and sent off the 63 persons connected with the girls' school including the Armenian lady teachers, the pupils who were remaining there during the summer vacation, and all of the servants. The American principal requested permission from the governor to be allowed to accompany the girls, but she was refused. She was, however, allowed to follow half an hour after they had started. When the girls reached the edge of the city the kaimakam summoned the doctor to witness while each of the girls in turn was asked whether she would deny her faith and accept the Mohammedan religion. The whole 63 refused. The kaimakam's purpose in summoning the doctor was, as he said, to show that no pressure was brought upon these girls to change their faith; that they were left free to act as they pleased. Two miles further out of the city each girl was asked again by the police whether they would deny their faith and return to the city or not, and all 63 declared that they would not.

"The town of Samsoun was similarly emptied of its Armenian population, also Amasia, Vezir Kepru, Ghorum and all other towns and villages in the vicinity of Marsovan.

"The last of August along the Anatolian railway from Angora to Constantinople I saw as many as 60,000 Armenians scattered in the fields and at the stations along the road in a sad and pitiable condition without adequate supply of food and no means of shelter. At Merkedje alone, the station master told us there were 30,000 exiles. Many were weak from hunger, others almost dead. Would Annihilate People.

"Repeatedly the officers of the government declared to us: consult when he was making appeal on behalf of the Armenians in our employment, that the purpose of the government was to totally destroy the Armenians. He further said that when the Armenians were disposed of the Greeks would be similarly treated and after that the foreigners. A like statement was made by Enver Pasha, the minister of war, to our ambassador, Mr. Morgenthau in Constantinople. When Mrs. Morgenthau made a personal appeal to Talaat Bey, minister of the interior, in behalf of the Armenian women and girls who were being sent to death and worse than death, his reply was 'this amuses us.'

"The motive of all this terrible persecution of the Armenians, according to the government officials, was the fear that the Armenians would strike them in the back while they were fighting their foreign enemies. There was no organized opposition to the government in our part of the country. There was obviously something more than fear of the armed resistance of the Armenians in the motive which produced these terrible massacres and exiles. After they had disarmed the people and carried off all the strong men, they attacked the defenseless women and helpless children with greater ferocity than ever. Their motive was mixed. There was in it a large element of religious fanaticism, a greed for loot and a bestial lust."

EXHIBIT OF CHRISTMAS GIFT BOOKS NEXT WEEK

The annual exhibit of children's books takes place in the Library of Hawaii all next week. The books will be on display from 9 until 5 during the entire week. Lists have been printed and local dealers are handling the books advertised, many of which are inexpensive and all of which will make attractive Christmas presents. All parents and others interested in the welfare and happiness of children are invited to attend.

HEAVY CARGO AND SWIFT PROGRESS UNCLE SAM TO PAY SMALL MAIL ON S. S. MANOA ON DREDGING FOR SLIP PASSAGE FOR SURVIVORS

With 78 passengers, 109 sacks of mail, and over 6000 tons of cargo on board, the Matson steamer Manoa will dock here at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, a radio received this morning by Castle & Cooke, Matson agents, stated. There are 20 new automobiles in the cargo. They were left on the dock at San Francisco by the Wilhelm because there was not enough cargo space left to accommodate them. Freight for Honolulu consists of 4866 tons. For Hilo the Manoa has 739 tons, for Kanapali 76, Kahului 551 and Fort Allen 287. Express matter on board is seven packages. Mail is light, as the Ventura, due here Monday morning, took 322 sacks, leaving only 109 for the Manoa.

One of the largest pieces of work going on in this country with the exception of the naval work at Pearl Harbor, is the preparatory work for the new coal bunkers to be erected by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company at a point on Honolulu bay about an eighth of a mile beyond the railroad wharves. Some time ago this corporation purchased a large area of land from the Dowsett estate that fronts on the bay to the eastward of the big oil storage tanks in the Twelfth district. The largest portion of this is made land, formed from the dredging of the harbor a number of years ago. The purchase price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $250,000.

Transportation to San Francisco will be furnished the captain and crew of the American schooner O. M. Kellogg, provided they are found to be American sailors in the sense of the act of Congress providing for the relief of shipwrecked American seamen. This news was made public today by Acting Collector of Customs Rayermer Sharp, who received a cable answer this morning from the United States bureau of navigation, instructing him to furnish the crew transportation provided they come within the law's requirements. The answer received by Mr. Sharp is a reply to his cable of two days ago, requesting transportation for the crew. "I will take up the matter with U. S. District Attorney Jeff McCara," said Mr. Sharp this morning, "and if he finds the crew within the law, we will furnish them transportation back to San Francisco."

HARBOR NOTES

The Inter-island steamer Helene arrived today from Hilo with 75 cattle and one horse on board. The U. S. K. T. K. K. steamer Daleo Maru is due to leave Hongkong Monday bound for San Francisco.

Following is the sugar list reported by the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea today as awaiting shipment at Big Island ports: Punahoa, 11,614; Pepeekeo, 8679; Waialua, 8500; Oiaa, 7000; Honouapo, 5000.

Harbormaster William R. Foster today moved the schooner J. M. Weatherway from Pier 2 to Pier 16 to make room at the former slip for the lumber schooner Robert Lewers, due here daily from the Sound with lumber for Lewers & Cooke.

Next mail from San Francisco will arrive Monday morning in the Oceanic steamer Ventura, which is bringing 222 sacks, and 109 cabin passengers to this port. The ship will sail between 2 and 4 o'clock that afternoon for Australia.

More than 5000 tons of freight for the Hawaiian Islands are due to reach here next Tuesday in the Matson steamer Hyades from Seattle. The ship has 3700 tons for Honolulu, 525 for Eleele, 575 for Kahului, 350 for Hilo and 50 for Kanapali.

Capt. C. J. Campbell, port steward for the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, will return from the mainland Tuesday on the Manoa after passing several months visiting friends and relatives in the States. Mrs. Campbell returns with him.

Strong winds and heavy seas in both directions were reported by the Inter-island steamer Walleie, which arrived this morning from Hawaii. The steamer brought 75 cattle and 15 hogs from the Parker ranch, also 4 barrels of tallow, 24 bundles of hides and other freight.

At 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning the Matson steamer Manoa is due to dock at Pier 15. Capt. William F. Rind, who took this steamer to San Francisco, is in command this trip, and will take the captaincy of the Hyades on reaching here. Capt. Smith of the Hyades will take the Manoa to Kahului and San Francisco.

Nine first cabin, one second, and 82 steerage passengers left here at 5 o'clock last evening in the T. K. K. steamer Tenyo Maru, for Japan. The ship, which sailed, she carried 239 passengers all told. The Chiyu Maru had 1195 on board when she sailed from here for the Orient October 3.

Notice to mariners that the Kahului breakwater light is to be moved to its new tower about November 10, has been given by the bureau of light-houses. The light is on the northeast coast of Maui. It will be 39 feet above water and 29 feet above ground on a pyramidal skeleton tower on the breakwater 230 yards 301 deg. from present site and about 25 yards from end of breakwater.

Advices received this morning by C. Brewer & Company, local agents for the Oceanic, are to the effect that the Sonoma will arrive Thursday morning from Australia, and has room for 125 passengers from this port for San Francisco. Among those already booked are a number of army officers and their wives for whom there is no room on the transport Logan, due to sail the same day for the coast.

Considerable freight, also 35 cabin, 7 way cabin and 11 way deck passengers, arrived today in the Inter-island steamer Mauna Kea from Hilo. Freight discharged here included 10 crates of vegetables, 290 pieces of oil wood, 50 sacks of awa, 412 of corn and 252 of sundries. Rough weather crossing the Hawaii channel was reported. Inbound. Outbound there were fresh northeast winds and a choppy sea.

A radio received this morning by Castle & Cooke, local agents for the T. K. K., states that the Shinyo Maru will arrive here at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, and will sail for San Francisco at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. There are 250 steerage passengers for Honolulu, including 50 Filipinos. Cargo for this port is 1470 tons, and includes another shipment of Chinese goods for local Chinese merchants. The Shinyo is reported from San Francisco as booked full for her next trip to the Orient.

At noon today the steamer Mackinaw cleared for San Francisco and is expected to sail late this afternoon or tonight for that port, before going on to Panama. The Mackinaw, an American steamer, is taking 279 tons of canned pines and one ton of Hawaiian beeswax, to New York from this port, in addition to a large cargo of Australian wool and hides and New Caledonian chrome ore. The owners reported applications from nearly 100 men to sign on the crew.

The Isabel of the Norwalk Steamboat Co. of Norwalk, which ran upon Cow Reef, off Shippan Point, Stamford, has pounded to pieces in a heavy northeast storm.

There are eight men in the Kellogg's crew. The schooner went ashore on Maro reef and was pounded to pieces, the night of September 25. Capt. Charles A. Lunn, Mrs. Lunn and the crew made their way to Laysan Island, where they were loaned the ship Helene by Capt. Max Schommer.

In this boat they made Midway, from where news of the wreck was cabled. The tug Iroquois was sent to Midway to pick up the shipwrecked mariners. It brought them here Tuesday night.

The crew have been given food and lodging by the Seamen's institute since they reached this port. Only three are at the institute today. The Kellogg's first mate, S. G. Treanor, shipped on the Falls of Clyde and went out Thursday on the ship for Gavito. This leaves seven men to be sent to the coast.

Atkins, Kropl & Company of 311 California street, San Francisco, are the Kellogg's owners, according to Captain Lunn. The ship carried insurance. The owners have so far manifested no disposition to pay the expense of shipping the crew back to the coast.

Next week will be a strenuous one for customs inspectors, shipping men, stevedores and everyone connected with the waterfront, as there are seven steamers scheduled to arrive, not including tramp boats or sailing ships.

Monday the Ventura is due from San Francisco and the Chiyu Maru from the Orient. Tuesday will see the Manoa from San Francisco and the Hyades from Seattle.

Wednesday the Makura is due from Vancouver and the army transport Logan from the Philippines. Thursday the Sonoma will dock from Australia.

The freight steamer General Y. Pequeña is also due some time between Monday and Friday.

CHINA STARTS TODAY WITH NEW HOUSE FLAG Flying the house flag of the China Mail Steamship Company, the former Pacific Mail liner China was due to sail from San Francisco today direct to Yokohama and the Orient, with no stop at this port, as she is already booked full with both freight and passengers.

Commanding the staunch old craft will be Capt. R. O. Demarest. The China's former skipper, Capt. Hans Thompson, is taking the former Pacific Mail liner Manchuria to the Atlantic. Capt. Andrew Dixon, her former commander, having decided at the last moment not to go.

The China Mail's house flag is a banner bearing a red field, with a large blue circle in the center. Inside the circle is the monogram "C. M." The China will not call here on her return from her initial voyage as a China Mail boat, but will stop on her second trip westbound, and on succeeding voyages. H. Hackfeld & Company will probably be local agents, although they have received no official advices as yet. Cables to the Chinese papers here have stated this firm has been given the agency.

Francisco as booked full for her next trip to the Orient.

ORCHESTRA HAS MEMBER OF NINE; ONE OF SEVENTY

There have been orchestras and orchestras in Honolulu, but the amateur one which has been formed by George Casper, the well-known violinist, sets a new record, at least so far as ages of its members are concerned.

The youngest player is a little girl 9 years old. Her name is Miss Kathryn Kilbourne, and she has musical talent enough for half a dozen youngsters of her age.

Prof. Henri Berger is the "dean" of the orchestra. Mr. Berger boasts of 70 years to his credit. He is beloved here for his many decades of leadership of the Hawaiian band, and now his violin playing takes up most of his time. It would not be fair to call him an amateur, though.

Between these two ages, the balance of the orchestra has members ranging from 15 to 45 years of age. All of the pieces are pupils of Mr. Casper, and many of them play in the Central Union Sunday school orchestra. Violin, cello and bass are the only instruments in this novel organization.

WAR DRAMA MAIN EMPIRE FEATURE

Marc McDermott's impersonation of the principal character in the great stirring war-drama, "An Investigation and an Attack," is clever, forceful and gives that talented artist an excellent opportunity to make the most of a happy vehicle.

A filmed adaptation of one of the famous "Young Lord Stanleigh" stories will be featured at the Empire theater today. The book, written by Robert Barry, proved one of the popular sellers on the market.

Norma Talmadge returns to the Empire today in a fine type of comedy, "A Question of Clothes" contains romance with a touch of the dramatic at the conclusion of the unfolding of the excellent plot. Associated with Miss Talmadge in the cast are Van Dyke Brooke, Lillian Burns and Giadden James. It is a late play by W. A. Tremayne.

Mary Malatesta and W. C. Robinson are featured in the comedy "A Stray Shot." G. M. Anderson, a popular moving picture idol, in "Broncho Billy and the Escaped Handit" will close the program.

AD CLUB MEMBERS HEAR MUSICIANS

An Club night at the Popular Theater last evening was a big success, both in point of attendance and entertainment. The concert given by the trio of Australian musicians probably was the best since the opening of their engagement, and aside from the members of the Ad Club and their friends, the audience consisted of many lovers of good music.

The Australian musicians will close their engagement in this city tonight. On Monday night they will appear at the aerodrome at Fort Shafter, and in all probability this concert will be followed by one or two more in the islands before the trio sails for the mainland.

Miss Purcell, the soprano, was in excellent voice last night, and so was Richard Condon, whose lyric tenor always makes a hit with the people.

William Conway, the finished pianist of the trio, did some wonderful playing. The program drew for each of the musicians repeated encores.

During the concert moving pictures were shown, and this additional feature will apply at the farewell entertainment this evening.

Another feature of the evening was the rendition of a song written by two Ad Club members, "Bye Lo, Bye Baby," the words by Charles Dana Wright and the music by Carlos Caceres. Miss Purcell sang the song.

ENTERTAINMENT IS INTERESTING

The young women of the Portuguese Evangelical church gave a very interesting entertainment last night at the Central Union parish house. It was a beneficial entertainment, the proceeds to be used to pay for the new house that has just been completed, adjoining the church, on the corner of Miller and Punchbowl streets.

There was a very good attendance, and a very interesting program. A dialogue, "Mother Goose Has Come to Town," was the first number on the program, given by little children. "The Enchanted Garden," another dialogue, was the second number and this proved to be interesting and was well applauded. The third number, "The Lion and the Lady," proved also very interesting. Clifford Melim and Evelyn Carreiro fulfilling their parts nicely.

Nell B. Slattery of the Honolulu Gas Company was heartily applauded.

BLANCHE SWEET IN WAR PLAY

The big double bill at the Liberty theater, also the fifth chapter of "The Diamond from the Sky," close with the performance of this evening. This unique feature, composed of "Bootes' Baby," a heart-touching drama, and "The Man on the Case," a crisp comedy, has played to big business for the last half of the week, and John Strange Winters and Grace Livingston Furniss have become favorite scenario writers with Liberty fans. Also, little Mimi Yvonne, the child actress who appears in the title role in "Bootes' Baby," has earned a place in the affections of local film fans.

With the performance of tomorrow night Blanche Sweet returns to the home of Paramount Pictures, in "Stolen Goods," Margaret Turnbull's emotional dramatic success. Blanche Sweet was last seen at the Liberty in "The Warrens of Virginia," in the role of Agatha Warren, and immediately became a strong favorite.

"Stolen Goods" is a strong drama of justice and romance with a setting right up to the minute, many of the scenes dealing with the present European war. It is billed as: "The drama of a poor girl wrongly imprisoned who becomes a Red Cross nurse in Belgium, an emotional love story of exchanged identities."

House Peters, another favorite, plays opposite Blanche Sweet, while Theodore Roberts is entrusted with an important role in "Stolen Goods." The second episode of "The Romance of Elaine" is told in detail elsewhere in this issue. This episode will be the companion film to the big feature.

Where the French and the German armies are grappling in mighty conflict, there are the Ladies of the Meuse, two wood crowned beauties overhanging the river, near the town of Furnay, in the Argonnes.

When Love Is Young, the last number on the program, proved to be very laughable and interesting. The Misses Margaret Branco and Carmen Diaz, Mrs. J. Herrick and Alvin Branco carried their parts admirably and were well applauded.

Irene Garcia, a mere tot, amused the audience during intermissions with little bits of verse. The entertainment was given under the direction of the Misses Margaret Branco, Hermine Soares and Mrs. J. Herrick.

MUSICAL COMEDY ALWAYS POPULAR TEAL DECLARES

The hold of musical comedy upon the affections of the theater-going public is stronger than ever," is the assertion of Raymond Teal, who with his big company is playing an indefinite engagement at the Bijou theater. "Public taste in matters theatrical," says Teal, "changes about every seven years. When you think that you have things properly set for a long and unbroken patronage of this or that kind of entertainment, you suddenly find that the dear public is slipping away from you and giving its attention to some other form of stagecraft. This means, of course, that you cannot keep the public taste forever centered upon straight farce or the problem play, and that even the greatly over-produced melodrama is not able to hold its own against the uncertainty of dramatic favor."

"But musical comedy goes right on in one form or another, and the public never wavers in its loyalty. There never was a time when good musical comedy could not stand firmly on its legs in the face of all competition."

"If you will look back with me, you will find that the good old musical comedy was never out of the race for patronage. The musical plays will no doubt change, but while vaudeville and legitimate dramatic shows move around in cycles, you may take it from one who has observed the trend of his own profession, that musical comedy will always be with us."

Mr. Teal is well pleased with the patronage accorded his plays here and he and his company are endeavoring to give high-class entertainments at popular prices. That they are succeeding in pleasing the public is apparent in the crowds seen about the box office.

FLUSHES LIKE JOSEPH'S COAT OF MANY COLORS

Hollinger "Takes Exception," Larsen Says "Take Exception and Be Hanged"

"See-aw Margery Dav. The city shall have a new car. We'll trade the old one anyway. Because it can't go far."
—Old Nursery Rhyme.

Supervisor Larson got revenge last night, and the revenge was sweet. It came after the tender nursing of four days' wrath aimed at none other than Benjamin Hollinger. And while Mr. Larson talked, Benjamin's face turned as many colors as were contained years ago in that famous coat that was worn by his namesake's brother, Joseph.

Hollinger was favoring a certain resolution upon which the ink was not yet dry, and which provided for the purchase of a new car for Henry Freitas, building inspector. The purchase price was $548.75, the old car to be traded in as part payment on the new. "It is cars—cars—cars!" said Mr. Larson, springing to his feet before the resolution had been seconded. He waited for a moment while the mayor called for a second, and then went on: "Where's Hollinger's Buick?"

"We want bring an end to this continuous purchase of automobiles. We have been buying cars ever since we came into office. I'd like to know what has become of that little Buick car that we bought for Mr. Hollinger to ride in. At least I suppose that was what it was for. He got tired of riding in the mayor's car, and so had us get him 'this one. We bought it to satisfy him."

Hollinger jumped to his feet at this, his face livid. "I take exception to those statements," he cried. "I take exception to those statements, Mr. Larson!"

"Take exception and be hanged," growled the other, viciously snapping off the end of a fresh cigar. "They are true, nevertheless."

"I have ridden in that Buick car but three times since we bought it," continued Hollinger, growing calmer, "but just the same Freitas needs a car of his own—one that he can use in trips to the other side of the island whenever he wants to go over and inspect schools. His other car is no good, and the repair bills that we pay for patching it up will soon pay for a new one."

Just what Larsen wanted. "That's just what I wanted Hollinger to say," cried Larsen, smiling through his ire. "He says he has been in that car but three times. I don't believe it, but if it is true, that is all the more reason why it should be used by the building inspector. It ought to be put to some use as long as we have it."

Mayor Lane rapped for order and Supervisor Arnold rose to pour oil on the troubled seas. "That car is also to be used by the treasurer," said the supervisor from Aiea. "We have it stated explicitly in a resolution that the car is for the use of the treasurer and the supervisors. The mayor could not let the building inspector have it by any twisting of the rules."

Mr. Arnold then stated that he thought there was room for argument on both sides, and moved to defer the matter till the next meeting. In order that all of the supervisors may have time to bring over the question and be able to vote intelligently. The motion to defer carried.

"Before Supervisor Larsen made any such talk against the purchase of a new automobile, as he made last night," says Building Inspector Henry Freitas, the man who wants the new car, "he should have come down here and taken a look over the books to see what this car is doing in the way of helping out city finances."

"Our receipts in fees for the month of October have been $394 up to this morning," says Freitas, "which means that they will exceed the $400 by quite a little sum before November 1. The expenses of this office each month are $375, which includes pay for all clerks and maintenance on our automobile. All of which means that we are paying into the city treasury more each month than is taken out for us. I maintain that we deserve some consideration."

The public is cordially invited.

AUTO AMBULANCE MEASURE AGAIN ON SIDETRACK

Supervisor Daniel Logan had his resolution appropriating $3500 for the purchase of a second-hand automobile ambulance again deferred last night. The measure which Mr. Logan had hoped to have passed third reading was felt by Mr. Hollinger to be an improper one, and so strongly did Mr. Hollinger express his feeling that the board voted to postpone action. Mr. Hollinger had the same argument last night that he had at the second reading of the resolution, namely: That the city should not be satisfied with the purchase of a second-hand car; that it should buy the best or none at all.

"We'll get a second-hand car here," said Hollinger, "and then some night when the doctors have a sick man on the way to the hospital, trying to get him there in a hurry, the old machine will stall and the sick man will die while we are cranking the car, or spending half an hour putting on those old-fashioned tires with which the machine is equipped."

Mr. Hollinger stated for the information of the board that he had seen a car at the fair which was suited especially for just the sort of work the proposed Honolulu ambulance will cover, and that this car was listed at $3200, which is $200 cheaper than Mr. Logan's price.

"I know cars," said Hollinger, emphasizing the personal pronoun as he spoke. "I have driven them all. Finally the board voted to postpone action, which means that sick people will be carried around in the police patrol a little while longer."

WHITEHOUSE GIVES VARIOUS COSTS OF KAPAHULU PAVING

City Engineer L. M. Whitehouse last night submitted to the board of supervisors three estimates on the cost of paving Kapahulu road with asphalt macadam, concrete and bituminous, the estimates to form the basis of work planned on this section of highway in the future under Act 164, the frontage tax act.

It is believed by the engineer that the cost of asphalt macadam will be approximately $15,000; of concrete road, $27,000, and of Warrenite pavement, $33,200. Estimates for 9th avenue and 6th avenue in Kaimuki will be submitted soon. Notice has already been given to property owners on Kapahulu road to lay curbing.

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

The supervisors adjourned at 9:10 to meet again on the evening of Tuesday, November 2.

Supervisor Larsen voted "no" on at least two-thirds of the resolutions that were brought up for first reading last night.

Date of the proposed hearing on the street improvement project on Beretania street has been changed from November 16 to November 30.

Supervisor Larsen's famous dimming ordinance was returned to him last night for certain amendments which are felt by the board to be needed.

Supervisor Ahia was not present at the meeting. He sent word to the clerk that he would not be able to attend, and thus saved himself from the wrath of the mayor's new rules.

A resolution appropriating $375 for the purpose of mending the breaks in the city sewer outfall was approved last night. Supervisor Larsen stated that he did not think the sum would be sufficient for the complete job.

According to figures sent in to the board last night by Sheriff Charles Rose, $1089 came into the coffers of the city in September through fines paid by chefa players. A total of arrests for various crimes during the month is 429, the total fines amounting to $3187.

Appropriating $199 for the purpose of remodeling a certain bridge over Kaneohe stream which has been erected for several years, and which is now in need of immediate repair, a resolution passed the supervisors. Engineer Whitehouse will begin work immediately upon it.

Engineer Whitehouse was instructed by the board to confer with the city and county attorney and draft an ordinance providing that property owners must first submit to the engineer's office papers showing plots, grades and lines before constructing any buildings on their property.

Supervisor Charles N. Arnold stated to the members present last night that if Supervisor Ahia were present he would bring him to task. Ahia is supposed to have in his possession a request for a dairy license which has already been signed by the dairy inspector and the city physician. Mr. Arnold said that he supposed Mr. Ahia had forgotten about the request, and was carrying it around in his pocket.

H. Abbey, a blacksmith formerly employed by the city, appeared before the supervisors last night, and in a burst of fiery eloquence berated City Engineer Whitehouse, Supervisor Larsen and others who, he said, had given him an unfair deal. He stated among other things that he was the best blacksmith in the city, but that he was not made of electricity, and could not work as fast as is desired by the city engineer.

ARSENIC SPRINKLED AMENITIES FLY AT CHARTER CONVENTION

"Chefa," Shouted at Hokii; Kaleo Called "Makapaa;" Kali Dubbed "Fisherman"

Vociferousness marked last night's session of the charter convention and with it was also confusion, and at several periods personalities between members. Suspicion was rife that several of the members had been to a luncheon Senator Achi, who offered several amendments, had difficulty in making himself heard above the uproar at times and complained to the chairman, whose gavel brought merely a momentary lull.

Delegate Hokii was interrupted once by Delegate Luning, who yelled loudly. "Oh, you che-fa," while Hokii was speaking, and the chairman had to insist on quiet before order was established. Peters got angry when Buckley hissed for quiet while another delegate was speaking, and arose to shout, "Who's running this convention, anyhow?" Another turbulent period occurred when Delegate Lake called Delegate Kaleo a makapaa, "blind man."

Most important of the amendments passed last night was one giving the board of supervisors power to levy and collect taxes on all classes of property in the city and county of Honolulu. Senator Achi presented the amendment, and in his argument in favor of it said that the power should logically be vested in the supervisors, and that it could only be done through an amendment such as he offered.

Lorrin Andrews warmly opposed the amendment offered by Achi, but before the vote changed his mind and stated that he believed the amendment was proper and he would vote for it. Violent opposition to the amendment at once subsided, and Andrews' delegates apparently changed their minds with him, most of them voting for Achi's proposition, which carried by a large majority.

Achi, in another amendment, sought to give to the voters the power to elect supervisors as the heads of certain departments, and made a strong address in favor of the plan. He said that under the present system, the cost of running the city government had increased 300 per cent in seven years, while the average increase in running expense of a progressive business house would not be more than 25 per cent. He said that extravagance was the rule throughout all the city offices, and that the money of the taxpayers was being wasted, under a loose system of administering municipal affairs.

When the convention adjourned, to meet again at 7:30 Monday night an amendment offered by Senator Achi to strike out the provision fixing salaries of the deputy sheriffs and to leave the matter of salaries of deputies to the board of supervisors, was still pending.

WEDDINGS

U. S. S. Maryland is a name to conjure with in Honolulu. The officers and men of the big cruiser have won a host of friends during the cruiser's visits to the port this spring and summer, and when the hospitality of the navy was exemplified in a farewell dinner-dance last Monday evening, the "aloha" of townspeople and service folk here was shown in their readiness of response.

It was one of the most brilliant affairs in the history of the U. S. S. Maryland, and that of the social season in Honolulu. As a farewell to Honolulu and the people who have entertained officers of the cruiser, it was a conspicuous success. Secretly the men of the Maryland feel that this has been their last call here for some time.

There was a large dinner party in each of the dining rooms; one in the captain's cabin, one in the ward room, and one in the staterage, each of which was a marked success.

Dancing commenced at nine-thirty and never did the quarterdeck look so gay and festive as it did on this occasion. There were flags draped overhead and flags draped along the rails, and pretty girls and women were in chairs and along the decks in gait costume.

Lieut. Hugh Brown seemed to be master of ceremonies, and took it upon himself to introduce all the unacquainted ones, so that before the evening was over it all seemed like one happy party. It was not until after 12 o'clock that the guests departed and even then they seemed loath to leave.

AMONG THE DINNER PARTIES WERE: CAPT. SUMNER E. W. KITTELLE'S DINNER.

Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle, commander of the Maryland, entertained at dinner in his cabin before the dance. An artistically arranged centerpiece of sweet peas adorned the table, while hand-painted place cards bore the name of each guest, among whom were Mrs. Katherine Yates, Miss Geraldine Boush, Miss Margaret Grey, Paymaster W. T. Gray and Ensign Karl Hlatze.

DINNER IN "THE STERAGE."

One of the pretty dinners was that given by the men of the "Sterage." Pink was the color predominant, and pink sweet peas were artistically used in decoration. Hundreds of vari-colored serpentine were strewn from the chandeliers to the corners of the table. Dainty baskets of sweet peas were placed at each corner, and hand-painted place cards bearing the name of each guest. Covers were laid for Miss Peggy Center, Miss Helen Dow, Miss Anor Hall, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Marion Chapin, Miss Hazel Buckland, Miss Kathleen Walker, Ensigns Ivan Graham, Lusk, O. H. Ritchie, Bates, Jondreau, Watson and Thomas Vinson. Mrs. William Montrose Graham was chaperone.

DINNER IN THE WARD ROOM.

The dinner party in the ward-room was a most brilliant affair, and surely the officers are to be congratulated upon the marked success. A low bowl filled with hundreds of roses was placed in the center of the table, while at each end was a basket of fragrant sweet peas. Corsages of roses were placed at each place. Pink candles were cast a rosy glow about the room, being the only source of lighting used. Among those present were Mrs. Christian De Guigne, Miss Isabel Chase, Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Anderson Sloan, Mrs. Beall, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles McCord, Miss Peggy Riehardts, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Miss Betty Case, Capt. and Mrs. C. W. van Way, Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Douglas Bode, Dr. and Mrs. M. Seaman and the ward room officers.

Some attractive gowns noticed were those worn by: Mrs. Frank Anderson Sloan, who was very charming indeed in a blue shimmering silk with a lace bodice. Her hair was smoothed back from the forehead, and was adorned with a pale blue band.

Mrs. Christian De Guigne wore a striking costume of peacock blue embroidered in silver roses. Her dark hair was worn straight back in the latest mode.

Mrs. Charles McCord wore a very becoming crown of blue chiffon-taffeta and shadow lace. It was made in the 1860 type.

A simple white satin, unadorned, was the gown Miss Isabel Chase chose for the evening. A black velvet band worn in her very blonde hair was attractive.

Miss Peggy Riehardts looked well in a pink taffeta frock made very full in the skirt. She wore a pretty corsage of Cecil Bruner roses.

Mrs. Wiley Howell's brunette type of beauty was enhanced with a deep purple velvet creation made with the long train.

Miss Peggy Center, a striking brunette, wore a becoming gown of blue taffeta trimmed with lace. She wore a beautiful corsage of American Beauty roses.

Miss Betty Case was gowned in an imported pink tulle gown which was most becoming. A corsage of delicately colored orchids blended harmoniously with the pink frock.

Miss Hazel Buckland wore a white lace gown which was most becoming. Miss Kathleen Walker's dainty frock of white chiffon, made with three bouffants, was very attractive.

A richly trimmed blue taffeta was the stunning gown worn by Miss Helen Dow.

Miss Geraldine Boush was becomingly gowned in a creation of white chiffon, richly embroidered over white satin.

Miss Marie Ballentyne wore a pink gown embroidered in white and gold.

Mrs. Willey Howell, wife of Capt. Howell of Fort Shafter and a recent acquisition to the service set in Honolulu.

Miss Marion Chapin's gown of white taffeta made with the scalloped double skirt was very becoming.

Miss Margaret Thompson, a vivacious type of dark beauty, wore a gown of black tulle which was very striking.

Miss Florence Hoffman was becomingly gowned in a green taffeta. The bodice was of tulle with silver pascometric trimming. Her skirt was handsomely embroidered with silver roses.

Mrs. William Montrose Graham wore a black satin gown made in the latest mode.

Mrs. W. Thompson was gowned in a chiffon affair of old rose, made in a becoming style.

Mrs. Beall was becomingly gowned in a creation of black tulle over satin. Some among those present at the dance were: Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle, Mrs. Christian De Guigne, Miss Isabel Chase, Mrs. Katherine M. Yates, Mrs. William Montrose Graham, Mrs. W. Thompson, Miss Peggy Center, Capt. and Mrs. Van Way, Miss Anor Hall, Miss Grey, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles McCord, Miss Peggy Riehardts, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Anderson Sloan, Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Douglas Bode, Dr. and Mrs. M. Seaman, Miss Margaret Thompson, Miss Kathleen Walker, Miss Helen Dow, Miss Betty Case, Miss Peggy Center, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Hazel Buckland, Miss Marion Chapin, Mrs. Beall, Miss Geraldine Boush, Miss Ruth Stacker, Capt. and Mrs. Wiley Howell, the officers of the Maryland, and many others of the service sets.

Miss Louise McNamara Weds.

Friends of Miss Louise McNamara of Wichita, Kansas, received the news this week of her marriage to Mr. David S. McGonigle of Kansas City. Miss McNamara visited here last winter with Miss Dorothy Hurd.

The Wichita Beacon gives the following particulars:

"St. Mary's cathedral was filled with a fashionable congregation this morning when she sets foot on the bleachers, calling out the names of her pet players and making a very good echo to her husband's rooting.—San Francisco News-Letter.

Honolulu Girl Kills Deer.

Echoes of the Japanese Coronation.

While the gay festivities or solemn ceremonials are going on in Japan in celebration of the coronation of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor, the Japanese in Hawaii will do their share toward making the event one to be remembered. From the mainland there have been many parties of wealthy tourists passing through Honolulu en route to the Land of the Cherry Blossoms, and the Tenyo Maru, which touched this port yesterday, had her cabins filled with Americans as well as Japanese.

Acting Consul-General and Mrs. H. Arita are to entertain on Wednesday evening, November 10, at a reception and ball in commemoration of the coronation, and the event is to be one of the most brilliant social affairs Honolulu has witnessed in many years. The reception will be held at the Young Hotel from half after 8 o'clock until 10, and then the dancing will proceed.

Prior to the reception there will be an elaborate dinner at the hotel to which the governor, Admiral Boush, General Carter and other representatives here both of the United States and territorial governments will be bidden.

On several occasions the members of the Japanese consular corps here have entertained at similar functions, but none of such importance or elaborate scope as this.

The following invitations have been sent out:

H. I. J. M.'s Acting Consul General and Mrs. Arita request the honor of your presence at a Reception and Dance to be given in honor of the Coronation of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Japan at the Alexander Young Hotel on Wednesday evening, November the tenth nineteen hundred and fifteen at half past eight o'clock. Circle Hear Lecture.

Professor Joseph Rock lectured before an interested audience last evening at the University Club when, for the members of the Outdoor Circle, he gave an illustrated address of his recent trip to India. The lecture was arranged especially for the Outdoor Circle, whose members invited a few Honoluluans who are interested in beautifying the city.

With very beautiful illustrations Professor Rock told of his trip, which included visits to Calcutta, the Himalayas, Central India, Bombay, Madras and Southern India. The lantern slides were handled by R. K. Bonine, and they pictured both the interior and exterior of the ancient temples, the inland work for which the Hindus are famous and scenes along the Ganges river. There were in all 60 views.

Professor Rock also touched briefly upon the nine religions of India and on this topic brought out many interesting points.

Martines as Hosts at Hawaiian Picnic.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Sept. 7.—United States Senator and Mrs. James E. Martine were the host and hostess yesterday for about 30 of their intimate friends and neighbors on the spacious lawns surrounding their home, "Cedarbrook." The guests were bidden to a "juau," which is the Hawaiian word for festival, and upon their arrival they found a big table spread on the lawn in the circle immediately in front of the house. As each one arrived, he or she was greeted by the senator or his wife, in the Hawaiian custom, having a yellow wreath thrown about the neck.

After the guests had an opportunity to greet each other, all took their places at the table, the positions being indicated by cards showing several views of "Cedarbrook," which was erected in 1717. On the back of the cards was a verse about the Hawaiian islands, which the hosts visited earlier in the year. The luncheon was daintily one, the guests being seated on rustic benches surrounding the table, which was decorated with golden glow and at each place by a large yellow chrysanthemum. A number of Hawaiian airs were played on a phonograph.

After the meal had been served, the party went to the house, where one of those present entertained with violin solos. Then the women of the party gathered on the porch and lawn to watch the men indulge in an all-weather baseball game until a late hour in the afternoon.

Olson-Lewin Nuptials.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Olson are hearing from California of the very pretty wedding that united the two only a short time ago. The following account of the wedding is from the San Luis Obispo Tribune:

One of the prettiest weddings seen in San Luis Obispo in a long time was that of Miss Bella Beatrice Lewin and Mr. Clarence Harmon Olson, which took place in St. Stephen's guild hall at half past twelve on Sunday last. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. H. L. Chandler.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal procession, preceded by the ushers, advanced towards the temporary altar, while the organist played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. During the ceremony selections from Cavalleria Rusticana was played as a refrain, and at the conclusion of the same, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the bridal party left the hall. Miss Helen Mills sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" as the guests were assembling prior to the wedding ceremony. The organ was presided over by Mr. C. H. L. Chandler.

The bride's gown was of white pussy willow taffeta and covered with white silk net. The bride wore a beautiful wreath of orange blossoms and carried a large bouquet of buttercup orchids and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Henrietta Lewin, wore a gown of yellow silk and carried a bouquet of yellow buds and lilies of the valley.

The guild hall had been elaborately decorated in green, white and yellow colors. Palms and cut flowers were used for this purpose and with a most beautiful effect. In front of the stage long palm branches had been so arranged as to produce the effect of great arches. A temporary altar of acacia studded with white centurias, surrounded by a huge bunch of white carnations gave a most artistic finish to the decorations. Rugs on the floor and a semi-circle of potted palms gave to the whole a most decidedly churchly effect.

The ushers were Dr. Howard B. Kirtland, E. C. Cole, J. H. Mathew and Dr. James A. Guilford. H. E. Gillette of Los Angeles was the best man. Mr. Gillette is a brother-in-law to the groom.

At the conclusion of the ceremony,

Miss Ruth Soper, who is expected to return to Honolulu in November, a visit on the mainland having improved her health.

the guests, numbering nearly 100 were served a wedding breakfast at the Lewin home, corner of Buchon and Garden streets. Here also the decorations were most beautiful, and the same color scheme prevailed as at the guild hall. These are the Hawaiian colors. The breakfast table was profusely decorated in bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridal couple left on the limited on Sunday afternoon for the city where they will visit the exposition, sailing for Honolulu tomorrow afternoon. The bride will be given away by her cousin, Lieut. Woodfin Brady, who on Wednesday, November 10, will be at Andrew's Cathedral.

It will be a "military wedding" and one which will be attended by members of both the service and civil branches among whom the bride's relatives are so many friends during her residence in the islands. The marriage ceremony will be performed at half past five o'clock, just at the twilight hour.

Miss Catherine Leitch, daughter of Major and Mrs. M. J. Leitch of the 2nd Infantry, with whom Miss Lewin has been seen since she was a maid of honor, and Lieut. Charles Webb, one of the popular young officers of the 2nd Infantry, it is to be learned. The bride will be given away by her cousin, Lieut. Daniel Swan, 2nd Infantry.

Miss Webb came to the islands in the early summer to visit her cousin, Lieut. and Mrs. Daniel Swan of the 2nd Infantry. She was very much pleased during her stay here, and received much attention from the officers at the post and always Lieut. Jones was one of the most ardent of her admirers. Their engagement was announced two months ago and the many friends of the young couple were delighted when they learned of the early marriage and that it would take place in Hawaii. Since the announcement of her engagement Miss Webb has been the motif for a number of affairs given by the ladies at the post.

The following invitation has been received: Lieutenant and Mrs. Daniel Swan request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ruth Soper, to Mr. Clarence Harmon Olson at the residence of Mrs. C. H. Olson, on Sunday, November 10, at half past twelve o'clock. Reception at the residence of Mrs. C. H. Olson, on Sunday, November 10, at half past twelve o'clock. Reception at the residence of Mrs. C. H. Olson, on Sunday, November 10, at half past twelve o'clock.

Parties Visit Coral Gardens.

Quite a number of special parties have made the Coral Gardens at Kaneohe their objective point during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, W. Merrymon of Ewa gave an automobile party there last Sunday, visiting the gardens of coral in the glass-bottom boat in the afternoon and spending a delightful afternoon at the beautiful grounds of Kaneohe Hale. They waited for the moon to rise at seven o'clock from behind the Kailua hills and assert that they were amply repaid by the wonderful effects on mountain and bay. From the Coral Gardens the party drove to the Paik and were fascinated by the fairy-like wonderland of hill and dale, plain and peak, lighted by the brilliant light of the tropic full moon, an scene from this vantage point for the sightseer.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Westervelt were the hosts for a party of 12 who spent the afternoon at the Coral Gardens, visiting the underwater home of the painted fishes and colored corals in the glass-bottom boat and later enjoying afternoon tea under the primitive lanai. It was a jolly party and all were much interested in the specimens of coral which have been collected by A. L. MacKaye. Several other parties visited the Coral Gardens during the week, including officers of the U. S. S. Maryland and others from Schofield Barracks.

Easterners Come on Honeymoon.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2.—Miss Anne Maynard Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Taggart Steele, was married here today to A. Perry Osborn, son of Prof. and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn of New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William A. McClintock, rector of Mount Calvary church, assisted by the Rev. Endicott Peabody of Groton, Mass.

The ushers were S. Taggart Steele, Jr., the brother of the bride, and Charles B. Reeves of Baltimore; John Lambert Cadwalader of Philadelphia; Devereux Milburn, Harold Minetti, Ronald Watson, John De Kover Allyn, William O'Donnell, Edwin Rogers, Henry Osborn of New York.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Josephine Osborn of New York; Alice Sergeant of Philadelphia; Helen White

SOCIETY

INTEREST in President Wilson's fiancée, soon to be the First Lady in the Land, is growing as the days pass since the announcement of the engagement. Washington is busy discussing the attractive Mrs. Norman Galt, as it has known her from 19 years' acquaintance.

Strange to say, the widely diffused information shows a most unusual similarity in all essential points, which should prove to the world at large that this next mistress of the White House is a lady of such genuine charm of manner and beauty of face and of such individuality that her interviewers and biographers can make no mistake in describing her person, her tastes, her manners or the home in which she lives.

While refusing to be interviewed or to add any detail to the brief and formal statement of her engagement and approaching marriage to the Chief Executive, Mrs. Galt, in accepting the congratulations and good wishes of old and new friends, lets it be seen that her plans are made for the forthcoming wedding, which will be the most important Washington has known since that of President Cleveland to Miss Frances Folsom on June 2, 1886.

Mrs. Galt's home, just off Dupont Circle, while one of the most modest in that region, has for years been noted for its charming appointments and homelike atmosphere. This quality made a strong appeal to the President in the trying days of the spring, when he found in its dainty French drawing-room a welcome rest from the cares of office and the lonely grandeur of the White House. Miss Margaret Wilson and her cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, who has been practically the mistress of the White House since the illness and death of Mrs. Wilson, have been entertained frequently in the pretty home on Twentieth street. But rarely were other guests present, as until the departure of the Executive household for Cornish in the early summer, no member of the Wilson family accepted any formal invitation, even from the closest of friends.

There were few days, however, that a White House motor was not seen to stop at Mrs. Galt's door, sometimes with the President as its occupant, but quite as often with one or two of the ladies of the family calling for their new but most congenial friend.

Like Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Galt is an accomplished musician, with the piano as her favorite instrument. She is also deeply interested in the serious things of life, with the same intellectual tastes and appreciation of simple living that characterizes the ladies of the President's family. She has been an active worker in the charities of St. Thomas' Parish and one of the most zealous promoters of the Southern mountaintop schools and sales. Associated with her in this latter work are Mrs. Claude Swanson, wife of the Senator from Virginia, and Mrs. Edith Meredith, widow of former Representative Meredith of the same state, with a number of other women residing permanently at the Capital.

A woman cheerful by nature, of keen mentality, fond of books, of music, of the theater, and even of baseball, she is the ideal companion for a busy man of President Wilson's tastes, and admirably adapted to the difficult rôle of stepmother to grown daughters.

Not the least of the many attractions of the next mistress of the White House is her excellent example in the matter of dress. The shortage of imported materials or failure of the dyestuffs has no terrors for Mrs. Norman Galt, who, since laying aside her mourning several years ago, has evolved a style of costuming in white, in black, and in the softest of grays that is both modest and becoming.

Left a widow in her early thirties, Mrs. Galt wore the deepest mourning for several years, later adopting crepe de chine in both white and black as the material for her afternoon and evening gowns, with serge velours de laine and broadcloth for street wear.

At Cornish last summer she invariably wore white tailored skirts and soft blouses for the morning, white silk, sometimes white chiffon for evening, with any number of charming white muslins in between. All through the spring season she was noticed to wear a corsage bouquet of violets, but since her return from Cornish, orchids, now known to be the choicest blooms of the White House conservatories, have succeeded the violets.

A white serge, tailored suit on new smart lines, with the jacket decorated in military fashion in white silk braid, is one of the favorite costumes in which the future mistress of the White House is to be seen almost any pleasant afternoon. With this Mrs. Galt wears white kid low shoes, white silk hosiery, and a small black velvet hat.

Tall, dark-eyed and dark-haired, with regular features and clear complexion, the next mistress of the White House compares well in appearance with that other Presidential bride, the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland, who, until now, has been the great beauty in a long line of distinguished women who have played the rôle of first lady of the land.

Without any experience in official life, Mrs. Galt has lived 19 years in Washington, where she has seen administrations come and go while she was free to gather about her a circle of clever, cultured men and women of the resident sets which make up the permanent population of the District of Columbia.

Ethetic Dancing the Rage.
Because a noted physician during one of his lectures stated that no exercise will make a girl graceful as quickly as ethetic dancing, everywhere on the mainland that form of the dance is fast becoming the rage. Society women attend classes every week and their little children too are encouraged to learn the various steps. Mothers have lost the fear that as soon as pretty little daughters learn a few steps of the ballet they will apply for positions on the stage, and as a result the fancy dances are given at many of the fashionable entertainments.

In Honolulu there is considerable interest shown in the ethetic dancing, both along the simple and the interpretative line. At the Y. W. C. A. the simpler dances are being taught to groups of young women during the evenings and in the afternoon the children have their lessons under Miss Leonora Anderson. Mrs. R. J. Bolton, known in stageland as Rosemarie Zill, is a clever exponent of the interpretative dances and this winter she is to open a few classes. Most of Mrs. Bolton's work will be with the kiddies though a number of the young society maids have shown a keen interest in the dances. With this following of the fancy steps the next amateur theatricals Honolulu society folk take part in will in many ways be improved.

But with all the interest in the ethetic and classic dances the young folks have not lost any of the enthusiasm they have shown lately in the new ball room dances. On the contrary they seem even more keen over the new waltz and one-step, which are being standardized in all of the large cities. There are many informal clubs organized in the several social sets here, in which Madam Lester and Gordon Campbell are teaching the new steps.

Belgian Day Again.
November 20 has been set aside by some of the charity workers in Honolulu as Belgian Day, when pretty girls will again parade the streets selling Belgian badges, the proceeds of which will go to the starving Belgians. No offices will be entered and no one shall be accosted twice, is the system planned, as before. Honolulu will again do her part.

Lowen's stunts and later when they had all bobbed for apples and hunted for peanut fortunes a Hawaiian tinct club struck up a gay dance tune and the season's dances were indulged in. For her decorations Miss Schaefer chose black cats, witches and jack o'lanterns, which were very effective. The guests included Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Douglas Bode, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lymer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Peggy Center, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Marie Ballentine, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Hilda von Holt, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Harriet Hatch, Douglas Young, Bob Purvis, Walter Argabrite, Frank Kennedy, Mr. Hennoch, Mr. Pfueger, Kit Carson, Philip Spalding, Fred Schaefer, Mr. O'Connor, Armiger Drege, Philip Rogers, Stanley Kennedy, William Warren, Fred Wichman, Vivien Dyer and Francis Brown.

Maryland's Departure Regretted.
The departure of the Maryland Friday morning has left a void in society which is almost impossible to fill. The cruiser has made three trips to the islands this year and on each occasion the officers have been entertained and have entertained their Honolulu friends extensively. There have been numerous dinners on Uncle Sam's boat and the quarter-deck has often been the scene of informal dancing parties.

Now that the Maryland may go into reserve at Mare Island, that means that it will be many moons before she makes another trip to the islands. And while Honoluluans expressed much regret at the departure of the craft there was no less sorrow expressed by the Maryland officers. With the cruiser went the remaining F-type submarines and their popular officers, who had almost begun to think of themselves as "kamaainas."

It was thought that the navy here would be kept alive, however, by the officers and ladies from the K boats, but with the new order recently issued from Washington it looks as though the naval representatives in Hawaii are to be stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Crittenden in San Francisco.
"I feel just like an exile returning home. I never really appreciated San Francisco before."
This was the salutation extended to San Francisco yesterday by Mrs. K. B. Crittenden, wife of Lieut.-comdr. Crittenden, flotilla commander of the F group of submarines, who returned from Honolulu on the Manoa yesterday morning. She had been in the Hawaiian islands for over a year.

Mrs. Crittenden is a sister of Postmaster Charles Fay and of Maud Fay, the opera singer, who is expected to reach San Francisco about January 1 from Munich, where she has been appearing in benefits for the German soldiers.

Mrs. Bodrero a Hostess.
With a cluster of bright-hued American Beauty roses ornamenting the table, Mrs. Catherine Bodrero entertained at an elaborately appointed dinner on Wednesday evening at her home at Waikiki. The guest of honor on this occasion was Mrs. Seannal, a sister of the hostess, who is visiting in Honolulu this winter. Attractive cards marked the places of 18 guests, including Mrs. Seannal, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Ranney Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Christian De Guigne, Miss Ysobel Chase, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Harriet Hatch, Ed Hede-mann, George Fuller, Frank Kennedy, Stanley Kennedy and the hostess.

After luncheon the party motored to Alexander field, where the football game is being played.

Luau at the Outrigger Club.
In honor of Capt. J. van Beuren Mitchell of New York, who is visiting in Honolulu, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Lyon entertained at a luau at the Outrigger Club on Thursday evening. The table was prettily decorated with quantities of green ferns over a bed of lil leaves and the favors for the guests were yellow leis. Marking the places at the table were dainty hand-painted cards shaped as guitars. After the luau the guests spent an enjoyable evening dancing to the music of the electric piano in the pavilion. Among those present were Capt. Mitchell, the guest of honor; Dr. and Mrs. Henry Biekneil, Miss Cooper, Miss Florence Lee, Mr. Kay, Dave Larsen, Dr. Back and the host and hostess.

Illinois Woman Takes Long Trip With Party of New York Friends.

Mrs. H. W. Baum, formerly Miss Daisy Gaver of this city, left this week for Honolulu to spend several weeks. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Rowan of New York city. Mrs. Baum and husband have been making their home in Salt Lake City for the past five years, Mr. Baum being engaged upon the construction of the Utah capitol building, which costs $2,000,000. He is superintendent of construction, in the employ of James Stewart Company of New York city, one of the largest contracting firms in the United States, and has a very fine position. He has been with this firm for many years. He had charge of the construction of a huge dam in Utah, which cost $75,000, and will have charge of the erection of the new capitol building for Oklahoma, at Oklahoma City, the contract for which was recently let to the Stewart Company. Mr. Rowan is a member of the Stewart Company, and he and his wife have been visiting the Panama exposition in company with Mrs. Baum.—Bloomington (Ill.) Pantograph.

Miss Kathleen Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, is leaving for an extended trip to the mainland in the Wilhelmias on Wednesday. Miss Walker is leaving the islands with Mrs. J. R. Parker, the wife of Capt. J. R. Parker, formerly of Honolulu. During the past six weeks Mrs. Parker has been visiting friends in Honolulu who regret that she is to return to California so soon. During part of the time she is on the mainland, Miss Walker will visit Miss Annie Parker, a daughter of Mrs. Parker.

Miss Sophie Walker left for the mainland a fortnight ago in the Matsonia, and she and her sister will spend some time together before she returns to the islands in the Great Northern, when that boat makes its first regular trip to the islands.

Mrs. Reginald W. Everett, who has been visiting her cousin, Miss Maybelle Netherstrom, in Wilmington, W. V., for a few weeks, has returned to San Francisco. On Monday evening she was hostess at an elaborate dinner party given at the St. Francis in honor of Miss Fanny Woodcock, who will soon depart for Honolulu, where she will be married to Glenn Kennedy. The wedding will take place early in the spring of the coming year.—San Francisco Chronicle.

During the week Matteo Sandona has added two new portraits to the Gump gallery. They are the daughters of ex-Governor Carter of Honolulu. The pictures are executed in the usual Sandona style and show the young ladies in a wholesomely natural manner. Their own good looks create a beauty value to the drawings.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Wedding of Miss Ruth Kiernan and Dr. Thomas Martin Joyce solemnized in Portland.

Comes the account of the wedding of Miss Ruth Kiernan and Dr. Thomas Martin Joyce of Portland to the many friends of the young bride who are in Honolulu. Mrs. Joyce as Miss Kiernan visited Honolulu a little over a year ago and was a much feted guest in the younger set. The Sunday Oregonian of October 10 gives this account of the ceremony:

One of the earliest marriage ceremonies of the season was that which united Dr. Thomas Martin Joyce and charming Miss Ruth Kiernan in matrimony. At 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning the bridal party and throngs of guests assembled at St. Lawrence church, where the mass was read by Father Beutgen, uncle of the bride, assisted by Fathers Thomas Corbett of Columbia, and J. C. Hughes, pastor of the church. Father Beutgen also read the marriage service for the bride's parents, 23 years ago, being a brother of Mrs. Kiernan.

The bride, an unusually pretty blonde, was most attractive in her simple white satin robe with long court train, bodice of Duchess lace and her veil arranged in a semi-crown, wreathed with a tiny spray of orange blossoms.

She carried a shower bouquet of Easter lilies and maiden hair fern. Miss Ruth Dunne, maid of honor, was charming in a gown of pink chiffon veiled with a double flounce of silver lace. She also wore a large black velvet hat, adorned with a huge pink rose. Her bouquet was a shower of Richmond rosebuds and maiden hair fern.

Dr. Andrew Hall acted as best man. Ronald Kigings, an old schoolmate of the bridegroom, being unable to come on for the wedding.

The church was decorated artistically with huge clusters of pink gladioli, fluffy bows of pink tulle, palms and ferns, with a profusion of Killarney roses.

A color scheme of pink also was developed throughout the house, with roses, chrysanthemums and gladioli. Miss Marie Chapman contributed violin solos and Miss Dagmar I. Kelly was the vocal soloist.

The guests were ushered by Robert Marshall, Frederick Ames, Charles Mahafey and Victor Manning.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Kiernan residence for the relatives and a few friends.

Mrs. Joyce wore a smart-looking blue gabardine tulle trimmed with white orcasid cloth collar and cuffs and a small black velvet toque for traveling.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's academy of June, 1915, and is an especially charming and interesting girl. Dr. Joyce, who is associated with the firm of Coffey, Jones, Sears & Joyce of this city, comes from Missoula, Mont., and is a graduate of the University of Michigan, class of 1910, later doing special work in the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn. He also has been identified with other prominent physicians in the Middle West before coming to this city.

Dr. and Mrs. Joyce left Tuesday morning for the north and before returning will visit the old Joyce home in Missoula, various parts of Canada, New York, Chicago and other eastern cities. They expect to return about January 1.

Mrs. Harold Dillingham is to be among the luncheon hostesses next week.

The Misses Elizabeth and Agnes Anderson arrived Tuesday on the Wilhelmina to visit their brother, Robert B. Anderson.

Mrs. J. T. Wayson, who recently left Honolulu to take her daughter, India, to Maryland to school, will return to the islands in the Manoa next week.

Among the Honoluluans expected to return from the mainland in the Manoa next week are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mist, who have been spending some time at the exposition.

Mrs. Frank E. Blake is leaving on the S. S. Wilhelmina on Wednesday for a visit to San Francisco and the exposition. Mrs. Blake will remain about five weeks, returning for the holiday season.

Though Gen. J. P. Wisser, now at Schofield, expects to take command of the Hawaiian Department on Gen. Carter's departure, Gen. and Mrs. Wisser will hold their quarters at Leliu-hua until the end of November.

After having spent several months on the mainland visiting her son, Marston Campbell, Jr., who is a sophomore at the University of California, Mrs. Marston Campbell, Sr., is returning to Honolulu in the Manoa next week.

Hanibal Phillip will entertain at a Halloween party tonight at his home in Fifth avenue, Kaimuki. All of his friends have been invited, and it is expected that there will be quite a crowd. A jolly good time is promised to all who attend.

En route to the Orient to witness the coronation of the emperor of Japan, Mrs. H. E. Jaeger and her little daughter were departing passengers in the Tenyo Maru yesterday afternoon. They expect to remain in Japan for some weeks after the festivities, which are a part of the coronation.

Definite word that the Great Northern is to make regular trips to the islands was indeed good news to the Honoluluans who are on the mainland, particularly to those to whom the long trip on the water is no attraction. A number of the islanders who have been in California this summer are planning their homeward trip in November on the Hill liner.

The members of the academy set are looking forward with much pleasure to welcoming home the Farrington girls, Ruth and Frances, who left for the mainland early in the summer. They have always taken an active part in the social and athletic life at the academy, and during the past two months of this term they have been missed greatly. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Farrington and their daughters will return in the Manoa next week.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder who had expected them to return to the islands in the Wilhelmina this week were disappointed when the ship docked without them. Mr. and Mrs. Wilder have been touring California since June and had written that they were coming home the latter part of the month. The wonders of the Exposition City, however, have proved too great an attraction, and the Wilders have decided to remain in California for some weeks longer.

The Golden Circle Sewing Club, an auxiliary of Leah's Chapter No. 2, O. E. S., will hold its annual sale of fancy articles and delicatessen on December 4. The location of the sale will be announced later. A novel innovation of the sale will be the designation of the booths by the initial letter of the articles for sale in that booth. It is thought such arrangement will be of assistance to customers. In connection with the sale there will be a light luncheon served. The different booths will be in charge of committees headed by the following chairmen: Mrs. Anna Wright, president; Mrs. W. R. Riley, Mrs. C. E. Kellogg, Mrs. K. B. Porter, Mrs. J. R. M. MacLean, Mrs. C. F. Merrill, Mrs. C. Crabbe, Mrs. J. T. Boyd, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Black.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Oct. 29.
—On Tuesday evening before 1st Infantry hop at Castner a number of delightful dinners were given, the several parties later appearing in the pavilion.

Little Herbert Edger gave a real Halloween party on Wednesday in celebration of his fourth birthday.

The small guests enjoyed many of the old-fashioned games pertinent only to Halloween and later—delicious and highly appreciated "ice cream and cake." On the party table forming the centerpiece was a huge yellow pumpkin, from which radiated orange ribbons to each child's place, upon drawing their ribbons a toy appeared, occasioning much delight. Pinning the stem to the pumpkin was a popular game with Pelham Glassford's stem nearest the spot where stems be long, and the young winner was presented with a fascinating picture book. Elizabeth Glassford found the handkerchief after an excellent hunt and was given a toy as her prize. The party was composed of Valerie Chitty, Elizabeth Martin, Peggy O'Shea, Harold Browning, Allen Day, Guy, Elizabeth Pelham, Dorothy Glassford and Bennie, Janice and Herbert Edger.

Mrs. Americus Mitchell entertained in a charming manner at a bridge luncheon on Thursday which was given in honor of Mrs. Jack Hayes, who has recently joined the 1st Infantry. Invited to meet her were Mesdames John Wisser, L. W. V. Kennon, Charles Wyman, Livingston Watrous, Rawson Warren, Louis McKinlay and Pelham Glassford. Red hibiscus in a graceful cluster arrangement was used as decorations with little Japanese figurines in bright colored kimonos holding the place cards. After luncheon two tables for bridge were formed and the high scores won by Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon and Mrs. Livingston Watrous, who were given attractive Japanese ware baskets as prizes. A fragrant corsage bouquet of violets was presented to the guest of honor.

Mrs. Ethel Richardson, who is the house-guest of Lieut. and Mrs. George Gay, was the motif of the attractive dinner of twenty-two covers given by Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefer on Tuesday evening. The decorations were carried out in yellow, marguerites of that color and Jack-o-lantern candle shades making an effective combination. The guests included Mrs. Richardson, General and Mrs. John Wisser, Col. and Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon, Col. Julius Penn, Capt. and Mrs. Jay Whitman, Capt. Leo Mudd, Capt. S. S. Creighton, Lieut. and Mrs. John Hauser, Miss Margaret Fealy, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly, Mrs. Henry Lantry, Miss Dorothy Trout who is visiting at Fort Shafter, and Lieuts. Frank Riley, Edward McCleave, Snow and Ganser.

Major William S. Guignard was host at one affair which was greatly enjoyed, Captain and Mrs. Charles Lloyd, newcomers in the 1st Field, being the guests of honor. The color scheme of the charmingly arranged dinner table was carried out entirely in white, a bowl of white carnations and ferns making the centerpiece which was the center of a group of four white shaded candelabra. Covers were placed for Captain and Mrs. Charles Lloyd, Lieut. Freeman and Commander Boyd of the Maryland, Captain and Mrs. Arthur Cassels, Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Captain Harry Williams and Major Guignard.

On Wednesday afternoon after the dedication of the Carter library, a delightful reception and tea was given by the 1st Infantry Club in honor of General William Carter which took place in the club rooms and pavilion. Purple asters and white Shasta daisies were used effectively in decorating the hospitable club rooms. In the dining room at an inviting tea table Mrs. D. L. Howell presided, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Crusan, the wife of the newly-appointed adjutant of the 1st Infantry. During the afternoon a great many people of the garrison were present enjoying the hospitable occasion.

On Friday the regular bi-monthly hop took place in the 25th Infantry Club with a large number present. Mrs. William Ganoe gave a dinner before this hop in honor of Miss Edith Patton. Those invited to meet her were the Misses Ann Carpenter, Elizabeth Sears, Irene Farrell, Lieut. and Mrs. George Gay, Mrs. Ethel Richardson, Mrs. Thomas Lowe, Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Janda and Lieuts. Wallace Hall, Ivens Jones, James Uilo, William Dorman, Harold Huntley, Jenkins and Schneider. Black and yellow were used in the decorations, which were all of the Halloween favors.

The Maryland sailing on Friday Morning took quite a number of the departing men of the garrison with her as passengers to San Francisco, among them being Major Ralph Harrison, Lieut. Irving Phillipson, Capt. William Doane and Lieuts. Carl Spatz and Sheldon Wheeler, the latter two having been recently detailed to the Aviation Corps, and will join the school at San Diego.

La Vida Corsets

Are You One of Those Who Never Had Their Corsets Fitted?

If So, You May Be Ruining Your Figure.

Corsets are today constructed so differently than ever before that you do yourself an injustice to select your corset on the "hit and miss plan."

You can, by wearing the corset that is designed for your type, correct many figure defects; while if you wear the wrong corset you make more prominent those points, and you may so push the flesh into the positions that it will be very hard, indeed, to correct. Your health, comfort and good appearance demand of you the best care and attention in the selection of your corset.

You Can Look Trim and Slender.

There are La Vida corsets that do the very thing you are anxious and longing to accomplish with your figure. The La Vida system of corset design and construction has brought relief to many women and you will be no exception.

Put yourself in the hands of our corsetieres, who know La Vidas thoroughly. Allow them to select the proper model and wear the corset as they direct. Corset fitting is more difficult today than ever before and for this reason, the corsetiere must be the one to select your corset.

MANY RIVALRIES DURING YEARS OF INDIAN WAR

Gen. Carter, in Prize Essay, Pleads for Better Administration

Taking up briefly the history of the army during the years of the Indian war, Major W. H. Carter closes his essay, Human Element in Warfare, with a plea for guarding strict avenues of entrance into and promotion in the army in order that only the most fit may rise to high command. General Carter's essay was printed by the Star-Bulletin in three preceding Saturday editions having contained instalments. What follows is the concluding part of his scholarly and successful Indian War Rivalries.

The long period of presumed peace between the close of the Civil War and the war with Spain, when our army was engaged in the widely dispersed Indian wars incident to the progress of development of the great plains, beyond the Missouri, was without its full quota of ambitious valiant. These were all the more actively waged among virile men who had come up during the great Civil War, and having accepted lower rank in the reduced establishment, took fresh start for new laurels in seasons of further promotion.

In the normal course of events, the history of the war with Spain, Philippine insurrection, and the segment period, will not be known to the journals and diaries of a passing generation have become available, together with the official records. This is regrettable, for the period of our history has been so replete with changes of administration and bitterness over changes.

Honest differences of opinion prevailed upon many questions existing methods have brought about without bitter sentiment and rivalry for power the administrative heads of the army as well as among those of the military as to promotion and opportunity for command.

A study of the personal and eventual history would be a record of a century and a half, of steadily occurring and similar events, having a more or less detrimental influence upon the national welfare under any form of government, it is many impossible for the appointing power always to know and select in high office those best equipped and most deserving of public confidence.

It was in recognition of this fact that the broad-minded, practical men who wrote the Constitution of the United States prescribed the method of appointment by and with the advice and consent of the senate. This was clearly designed to prevent the elevation of any who, after fair investigation by our highest representative tribunal, should be pronounced unfit. Training is Necessary.

It would be Utopian to expect that any method or system could be devised under which the best man for any particular place would always be definitely known. What a republic should demand, however, is entirely practicable, and that is that its soldiers should never be entrusted to the command of men who are without military training, experience and demonstrated ability.

The nation would resent it at once if appointing power should nominate untrained men for captains of its battalions or admirals of its fleets, yet that is practically what has been done in the army in all our wars, and the practice in no small degree has been responsible for the miscarriages, bickerings and resentments in many important campaigns.

The success and well-being of our war armies demand a better and more business-like administration of affairs in future, and there is no way to bring this about except through guarding in the strictest manner the avenues of entrance into and progress in the army. The junior lieutenant of today becomes the colonel in due course should he survive the hardships of service.

Depends on Accomplishment. Beyond that, much depends upon environment, opportunity and successful accomplishment of important affairs entrusted from time to time to officers of all grades and duly reported upon by their seniors. An accumulation of recorded performances of merit constitutes a better claim to preferment and command than the haphazard method incident to personal and political friendships.

Promotion in the army under normal conditions is usually very slow, the advances from the lowest grade to the commanding of a regiment requiring upward of 30 years. For the young lieutenant recently commissioned the climb upward looks in part in keeping up an average movement toward the highest grade to be reached by seniority—that of colonel.

Rivalry Among "Higher Ups." Up to this point one suffers little from the rivalry later encountered and due mainly to the fact that the number of places available in the higher command is always insufficient to reward with promotion the many worthy, accomplished and experienced officers.

Altogether, whether in the government of Indian or Oriental tribes, in the fair and patient handling of angry mobs, in the tender nursing of earthquake sufferers or in the supreme test of battle, the army has ever deserved well of the country. With all the advantages and disadvantages weighed in the balance, there remains a goodly margin in favor of the army as a career for any educated gentleman adapted to the hardships incident to the profession of arms.

Who Pays for the Advertising?

During these war times the question often arises "Who pays for national advertising?" and, "If it were not for the advertising would not the products be sold cheaper?"

There is only one answer to this question—and that is—look at the products that are nationally advertised and see how many of them have actually gone down in price during the last ten years. And a long list have not raised their prices. The products are improved, the packages are improved, and costs of production have increased, yet the price is the same.

Advertised Brands—Safe Buying

Instead of just asking for a mop or some kitchen utensils the discriminating buyer has learned to ask for goods by name. You ask for O-Cedar Mop or Wear-Ever Aluminum Utensils, or you use some other name that you know and trust. Names like these are your assurance of high standards and safe buying. You can send a child for a product that's right in quality and price as if you went to the store yourself. Advertised brands mean safe buying. We keep them here.

While war-time prices have been resorted to, by many nameless unknowns, the vast majority of advertised goods are sold at no advance in price. Aluminum Percolators are a good example of how advertising has lowered the cost of the product to the consumer. As a result of advertising here is a product that is now sold in an improved form, at a price substantially lower. And this is only one of them.

One reason for Good Housekeeping Week is to show you the way in which nationally advertised goods cut down the cost of living. You will appreciate the true economy of buying guaranteed, standardized products when you attend the great exposition at our store this week.

DEVELOPMENTS IN WAR-ZONE OF IMPORTANCE TO WORLD

British Foreign Minister Makes Reply to German Chancellor on Blame for Great War

Sir Edward Grey Declares Violation of Belgian Neutrality One of Fundamental Issues on Which Britain Entered Conflict—Accuses Germany of Bolstering Up Case by Misquotation of Official Conversations

[Last Saturday the Star-Bulletin published in full the address of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg to the Reichstag, at Berlin. The address gave Germany's viewpoint on the war and declared Germany's intention of pursuing it until her ideals should be supreme. Today the Star-Bulletin publishes the reply to this address, made by Sir Edward Grey, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, as set forth in a letter to the London Times.]

There are some points in the speech of the German chancellor, made last week, which may, I think, be suitably dealt with in a letter to the press, pending the fuller review of the situation, which may be appropriate to some other method and time. I will state the facts and the reflections they suggest as briefly and clearly as I can, and ask you to be good enough to make them public.

The Belgian record of conversation with the British military attaché was published by Germany last autumn to prove that Belgium had trafficked her neutrality with us, and was in effect in a plot with us against Germany.

The conversation of which most use has been made was never reported to the Foreign office nor, as far as records show, to the War office at the time, and we saw a record of it for the first time when Germany published the Belgian record. But it bears on the face of it that it referred only to the contingency of Belgium being attacked, that the entry of the British into Belgium would take place only after the violation of Belgian territory by Germany, and that it did not commit the British government. No convention or agreement existed between the British and Belgian governments. Why does the German chancellor mention these informal conversations of 1906 and ignore entirely that in April, 1913, I told the Belgian Minister most emphatically that what we desired in the case of Belgium, as in that of other neutral countries, was that their neutrality should be respected, and that as long as it was not violated by any other power we should certainly not send troops ourselves into their territory. Good Faith and Belgium.

Let it be remembered that the first use made by Germany of the Belgian document was to charge Belgium with bad faith to Germany. What is the true story? On the 28th of July, 1914, the German chancellor tried to bribe us by a promise of future Belgian independence to become a party to the violation of Belgian neutrality by Germany. On the outbreak of war he described the Belgian treaty as a scrap of paper, and the German foreign secretary explained that Germany must go through Belgium to attack France, because she could not afford the time to do otherwise. The statement of Herr von Jagow is worth quoting again.

"The imperial government had to advance into France by the quickest and easiest way, so as to be able to get well ahead with their operations and endeavor to strike some decisive blow as early as possible. It was a matter of life and death for them, as if they had gone by the more southern route, they could not have hoped, in view of the paucity of roads and the strength of the fortresses, to have got through without formidable opposition, entailing great loss of time. This loss of time would have meant time gained by the Russians for bringing up their troops to the German frontier. Rapidity of action was the great German asset, while that of Russia was an inexhaustible supply of troops."

In the Reichstag, too, on the 4th of August, 1914, the German chancellor stated:

"The German chancellor, according to his speech, encouraged nothing except direct discussion between Vienna and Petrograd. But what chance had that of success when as we heard afterward the German ambassador at Vienna was expressing the opinion that Russia would stand aside and conveying to his colleagues the impression that he desired war from the first, and that his strong personal bias probably colored his action there?"

Some day, perhaps, the world will know what really passed between Germany and Austria respecting the ultimatum to Serbia and its consequences. It has become only too apparent that in the proposal of a conference which we made, which Russia, France and Italy agreed to, and which Germany vetoed, lay the only hope of peace. And it was such a good hope! Serbia had accepted nearly all of the Austrian ultimatum, severe and violent as it was. The points outstanding could have been settled honorably and fairly in a conference in a week. Germany ought to have known, and must have known, that we should take the same straight and honorable part in it that she herself recognized we had taken in the Balkan conference, working not for diplomatic victory of a group, but for fair settlement, and ready to side against any attempt to exploit the conference unfairly to the disadvantage of Germany or Austria.

The refusal of a conference by Germany, though it did not decide British participation in the war, did in fact decide the question of peace or war for Europe, and sign the death warrant of the many hundreds of thousands who have been killed in this war.

Nor must it be forgotten that the emperor of Russia proposed to the German emperor that the Austro-Serb dispute should be settled by The Hague Tribunal. Regret Proposals Refused.

Is there one candid soul in Germany and Austro-Hungary who, looking back on the past year, does not regret that neither the British nor Russian proposal was accepted?

5. And what is the German program for stated, in referring to the violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg:

Sir Edward Grey

As to the other statement attributed to me, not even when we were perfectly free, when Japan, who was our ally, had not entered the war, and when we were not pledged to other allies as we are now by the agreement of the 5th September, 1914, did I say anything so ridiculous or untrue as that it was in the interest of Germany that we had gone to war with the object of restraining Russia.

Germany Declines Conference.

Germany Purposes Supremacy.

Germany is to be supreme.

WAR-ZONE NEWS IN TRANSLATIONS AND NEWSPAPERS

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—General von Bissing, the governor-general of Belgium, has ended the Belgian custom of piercing the eyeballs of singing-birds held in captivity, and has issued a peremptory order that this cruel practice cease. In his circular order he says: "The blinding of birds is a cruelty which I will not suffer to continue under any circumstances."

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The German potato harvest, estimated at 60,000,000 tons, is the largest in the country's history, says a cable from Bern, Switzerland, to the Post. "The supply is so plentiful that the order prohibiting the export of potatoes to Switzerland has been rescinded."

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Deutsche Tageszeitung, a Berlin daily paper, has been suppressed for an indefinite period by order of the government. The reasons for this punishment are the articles recently reported in the American press, written by Count Reventlow, about Armenia and Macedonia.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Four French papers have been suppressed by the censor. The French press is protesting.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette is renewing its attacks on the "scandalous" activity of the censor. The paper says: "Chaos could hardly be worse, when one branch of the government appoints Lord Derby head of the Recruiting Bureau, and another proceeds to scratch parts of the speeches he has made in this capacity. The paper adds: 'Neutral countries have for some time past treated British official statements with serious suspicion. The recent experiences are making the same impression at home. However encouraging the contents of Sir John French's recent reports might be, everyone asks which changes in the wording might have been made at the well known source. We have had examples in the past of how descriptions of an impartial nature have been changed to give them a more friendly aspect to our country.'

GERMANY IS NEAR NORMAL AND IN FULL CONFIDENCE, SAYS McCLELLAN

Former Mayor of New York Describes Conditions in Kaiser's Empire

[George B. McClellan, former mayor of New York and now professor of economic history at Princeton, recently visited Germany and described his impressions and observations in a notable article in the New York Times, from which the following extracts are made. It is to be noted that Mr. McClellan, while of American parentage, is of German birth. He was born in Dresden, Saxony, while his parents were there on a visit.]

I have written of what I saw and heard in Germany, as I saw and heard it, giving my impressions with as little comment as possible. During the last six months I have visited Italy, France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and Holland, four belligerent and two neutral countries. Of them all Germany is by far the most normal, conditions within the German empire being much nearer the usual than anywhere I have been in Europe since the war began.

I entered Germany at Lindau, in Bavaria, visited Munich, Dresden, Berlin and Köln, and crossed the border into Belgium at Hubertshausen. Of the cities all of which I know extremely well, only in Bavaria, one Saxony and two Prussian. Yet in them all conditions were uniformly normal. There were fewer young men in the streets than usual and more people in mourning, each individual is limited to 250 grams of war bread a day, and the beer gardens close at 9 in the evening, so as to reduce the consumption of beer for the benefit of the men at the front, otherwise there is nothing to show that Germany is at war.

The hotels, restaurants and shops are all open and doing a good business. Prices are generally as they were before the war and there is no lack of any of the necessities and luxuries of life. The schools, theaters and opera are going, the food in the restaurants is plentiful and good, by far the best and cheapest I have had this summer; there are omnibus, excellent express trains, with sleeping and dining cars running on the usual schedules; plenty of horse and motor cars, and an ample supply of men in the vigor and prime of life to carry

As we gather it from the speech of the chancellor and public utterances in Germany now? Germany to control the destiny of all other nations; to be "the shield of peace and freedom of big and small nations," these are the chancellor's words; an iron peace and a freedom under German supremacy. Germany supreme, Germany alone would be free; free to crush when it pleased her; free to refuse all mediation; free to go to war when it suited her; free, when she did go to war, to break again all rules of civilization and humanity on land and at sea; and while she may act thus, all her commerce at sea is to remain as free in time of war as all commerce is in time of peace. Freedom of the sea may be a very reasonable subject for discussion, definition and agreement between nations after this war; but not by itself alone, not while there is no freedom and no security against war and German methods of war on land. If there are to be guarantees against future war, let them be equal, comprehensive, and effective guarantees that bind Germany as well as other nations, including ourselves.

GERMANS ANTICIPATING EARLY END OF CONFLICT

(By Associated Press) LEIPZIG.—In anticipation of the end of the war, thirteen of the most important branches of labor in Leipzig have petitioned the city fathers to install as a separate and distinct branch of the municipal employment bureau, a department specially for returning soldiers.

Store employees estimated that between 300,000 and 400,000 of their number will come back when peace is declared. The number of clerks is expected to be correspondingly large, and the number of technical workers is also very great. The figures refer to entire Germany.

The Leipzigers believe that the work of finding places for Leipzig's share of the returning throng must be begun now if there is not to be confusion and suffering for many seeking work. The mercantile, technical and office employers of the city are pressing the matter especially, in the belief that their branches of labor are going to be particularly hard pressed. In their petition, however, they do not hazard a guess as to when the return will begin.

BRITISH DIVER HALTS SWEDISH IRON TRADE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—Iron ore shipping is completely tied up owing to rumors that a British submarine has mined the waterway in the Baltic between Trelleborg, Sweden, and Sassnitz, Germany. Twenty large German steamers laden with iron ore and wood are anchored in Swedish waters.

For the last two days ferries belonging to the Swedish state railways have been replacing private steamers in the service between Trelleborg and Sassnitz. Traffic at Trelleborg is seriously congested and no German mail has arrived recently. Swedish shipping companies have decided to paint the national colors on the hulls of ships to avert danger arising from mistakes of identity.

A gold engagement ring, set with a diamond and containing an inscription, was recently found tightly fastened around the neck of a partridge shot near Gaschowitz, Bohemia.

prices, but there is money enough to clothe every recruit in a new uniform and to bury every dead soldier in the uniform in which he was killed. Luxuries which no other continental army has been able to afford.

I was in Germany during a period of great tension, just after the sinking of the Arabic, when American public opinion as voiced by the press was greatly excited, some American newspapers even clamoring for war. Yet nowhere that I went did I receive anything but the most helpful courtesy and consideration. Every German official, soldier and citizen with whom I came in contact was not only willing but anxious to aid me in seeing for myself the real conditions of the country.

Even those with whom I had no personal acquaintance, despite my evident Americanism and outspoken admiration for the French, were uniformly polite and kindly. Speaking English on the streets and in the restaurants results in only a mild interest among one's neighbors. One can easily imagine the consequences of speaking German in either Rome, Paris or London.

Hospitals Are Well-kept. The hospitals which I visited in Germany—and I visited a number—were scrupulously clean and well-kept, and very comfortable. Much is done for the men's amusement, including "kaffee und kuchen" every afternoon, during which there is usually a band concert. They are well-cared for and have all they need, even to two cigars a day which I am told is not the case elsewhere.

The German wounded, like the wounded of every other country, are patient and brave, cheerful and contented. Like other continental soldiers, they are a simple-hearted and children and very grateful and appreciative for any little presents of chocolates or cigarettes.

One of the largest items of expense for Germany in the war has been the care of prisoners. As the German war losses have been much smaller than those of the Allies, so the number of prisoners taken by the Central Empires have been much greater than the number taken by their enemies. The Central Empires have taken between them some 2,000,000 prisoners, of whom Austria-Hungary has captured about 600,000, and Germany about 1,400,000. Roughly speaking, of the prisoners in Germany 50,000 are British, 400,000 are French and the rest are Russians.

Besides these there are 5000 British civilians interned near Berlin. The Germans do not intern women as the French do, and only begin internment of civilian enemies after the Allies refused to permit civilian Germans to return home. Civilian Englishmen were not interned until November, 1914, three months after the war began, when it became evident that Great Britain would not release German civilians she had imprisoned.

What is even more impressive than the apparent economic strength of the country in the residence of the German people in the outcome of the war. During the time I was in Germany I talked with a great number of Germans of all walks and conditions of life, from the highest to the lowest. All alike, statesmen and soldiers, professional men and merchants, shopkeepers and hotel waiters, cab drivers and car conductors, expressed the same absolute certainty of German victory. It is not a matter of opinion or of hope with them, as it is with the optimism in the other warring countries, but a feeling that it is no more possible for Germany to lose than it is for the sun to set in the east. They are as certain of victory as they know it is coming, just as they know that spring follows winter. No German ever says "If we win," but always "When we win."

The English press has brushed aside the German feeling of certainty in success by saying that the truth has been held from the people by government order, and that they have been fed on lies so long that they have at last believed them. This explanation does not explain the phenomenon of German confidence, for the very good reason that it is not true. In England and Italy the enemy's war bulletins are censored after having been reviewed by the censor, and are not printed at all either in France or Russia, while in none of the allied countries can any German newspaper or book dealing with the war be obtained. All bulletins published.

only do the German newspapers print every day the war bulletins of the Allies, just as issued, but in Germany alone of all the warring countries can the enemy's newspapers and books be bought. I nowhere in Germany had any difficulty in buying the English, French or even Italian newspapers, or any of the more recent and successful French and English publications on the war.

The result of this feeling of certainty which is reflected in the German press is a sentiment of greater tolerance toward their enemies than is shown by the latter toward the Central Empires.

The excellence of the British Tommy is everywhere acknowledged, while the recidivism but ignorant bravery of the British officers is always spoken of with the greatest admiration, the regret being often heard that men so gallant should be so incompetent.

Italy's declaration of war, while angering the German people, has not evoked the same hatred that is felt toward England. Germans profess to feel more contempt than hatred for the Italians, whom they refuse to regard very seriously. For Russia there is felt considerable respect. Her troops are considered excellent as defenders, patient, brave and of good endurance. Like the English, she is held to be badly officered, and she is held to be a German soldier's worst enemy.

In Africa and Asia the policy of recognizing nationalities is to be carried still further and a series of Mohammedan empires is to be created under the aegis of Germany, to act as buffer states against British aggression.

The sultan of Turkey is to be restored to his ancient authority as caliph in the Mohammedan world, Persia is to be freed from British and Russian intrigue and reorganized as a modern Moslem state. North Africa,

Germany's victories has been the result of the very hardest kind of fighting. The Russians have often been defeated, but never disgraced. Sentiment Toward U. S. The German sentiment toward the United States can best be described as one of pained astonishment. Germans cannot understand why the majority of American newspapers and so many of the American people are so strongly pro-ally. They cannot understand the constant talk in American newspapers of the violation of Belgian neutrality by the German army, of the so-called "Belgian atrocities," and the Zeppelin raids, any more than they can understand the failure of so many of our newspapers to print the German side of the case.

Every German believes that when the German army entered Belgium that country had already surrendered her neutrality; that the so-called Belgian atrocities never occurred, and that, on the other hand, what are called in Germany the Russian and African atrocities are unspeakably horrible, and that the Zeppelin raids were only undertaken in reprisal for the French raids on Freiburg of August 2 and 3, 1914, before the war had technically begun.

No German with whom I talked expressed himself in favor of war with the United States; on the contrary, all seemed honestly in favor of the maintenance of peace. It seemed to be the general impression that some way, honorable to both nations, would be found out of the submarine difficulty, although we are considered as unreasonable in insisting that the presence of a single American passenger should give a ship immunity from being torpedoed without warning in the war zone.

GERMAN AGED 87 OLDEST TEUTON SERVING IN WAR

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Germany.—The man who is the oldest to serve actively in the German army is 87-year-old Chief Hospital Inspector Engel of Thale, who, through the campaign of 1870-71 a hospital inspector, then became a barracks inspector, retired five years ago on a pension, and then enlisted in the present war. He was first called upon to organize a hospital in Gherleben, and then was put in charge of the institution in Thale, with 463 beds.

Max Metzger of Landau of the Palatinate, aged 70, another veteran of 1870, is one of the comparatively few whose son and grandson are actively serving along with him in the war. He volunteered from Karlsruhe last fall, and now is a non-commissioned officer in the Grenadier Body Guards. His son, Siegmund Metzger, aged 44, is a corporal in a force stationed at Karlsruhe. The latter's son, 17 years of age, is a non-commissioned officer in a Baden infantry regiment now at the front.

LONDON SCHOOLS MAY TEACH SPANISH NOW THAT GERMAN IS TABU (By Associated Press.) LONDON.—The educational authorities in London are considering the substitution of Spanish for German as a second language in schools and public examinations. The advantages of Spanish over German are thus stated by one of the advocates of the change: "We do not want German trade, but we do want South American trade. The Germans have made great progress there, but the war has held them for the time being, so that the field is open to Great Britain if we can speak the language. Spanish is easier to learn than German. It can be taught very quickly to a student of French, which is the first language in all English schools. German is of little use outside of Germany, whereas Spanish is spoken over a very considerable part of the world. The teaching of Spanish is being encouraged in the United States with a view to that country capturing Germany's South American trade. Great Britain, too, wants a share in that trade."

UDINE, Italy, Oct. 29.—General Cadorna, the Italian commander-in-chief, strongly opposes the plan of sending troops to the Danubian or to Salonika, weakening Italian forces engaged at the front and in a campaign which is truly popular.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The Frankfurter Zeitung is publishing the manifesto of the Bulgarian government to the Bulgarian nation. Its exponents are extremely nationalism.

Among other statements the following will be of particular interest: "Italy, one of the Allies, has faithlessly broken her alliance with Germany of 33 years standing. We believe in Germany which is fighting against the whole world in fulfilling her treaty obligations to Austria. Duce has in 1914 with the victors Russia will soon collapse completely, and then Serbia, Italy and France will be disposed of."

Russia is fighting for the possession of Constantinople; Great Britain wants to crush Germany's competition in trade and commerce; France wants Alsace-Lorraine, and the other Allies are all fighting to rob other countries. The Central Powers on the other hand are defending their possessions and their peaceful progress."

WAR PREPAREDNESS LEAGUE IS PLANNED BY SOCIETY WOMEN DENVER, Colo.—Women here have taken up the motto "Let us be prepared for war." At the residence of Mrs. L. E. Campbell, 950 Logan street, a group of fifty society women formed a branch of the Army and Navy League.

Mrs. Alexander Sharp of San Diego, Cal., the widow of the late Captain Sharp of the U. S. N., is explaining to the women the feeling in army and navy circles of the vital importance of preparing in times of peace for war.

The league has already spread to all sections of this country and has more than 25,000 members, women who are standing behind the movement to prepare the country in case of war. The Denver women took up the movement eagerly and already the new branch of the league has enrolled a number of members.

with the exception of Algeria and Tunisia, which are to be left to France, will be divided between the sultanates of Egypt and Morocco. It can be readily seen that while the anti-annexationist ambitions are extremely limited in the direction of territorial acquisitions they are designed with the purpose of forcing from Great Britain a part of her world rulership.

Germany has succeeded in establishing her influence beyond dispute in Constantinople. If she wins the war that influence without much doubt can be extended around the Mediterranean and across Asia Minor. What Germany needs for her economic development is not only colonies, although they are most important, but also markets for her products. All these can be obtained through the friendship of a number of Mohammedan empires under German influence she will have succeeded in displacing Great Britain from her position as the first Mohammedan power and in sharing with her the commercial hegemony of the world.

The anti-annexationists, like all Germans, insist that Germany has no ambition to become the ruling nation of the earth. That she merely desires to obtain from Great Britain a fair share of the world's commerce, and that in striving to displace England from her position of mistress of the seas she is fighting the battle of all the nations against British despotism.

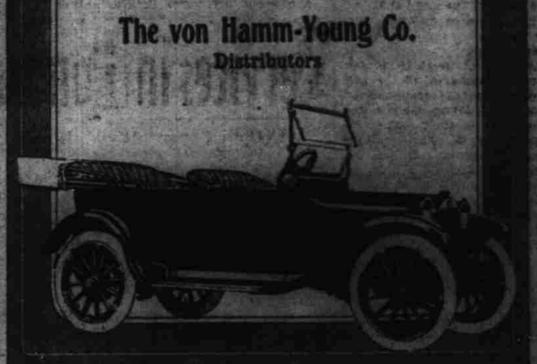

Dodge Brothers Motor Car

In nine months more than $25,000,000 worth of these cars have been bought by the American people and still our one problem is to satisfy the demand.

Extraordinary claims have not, as you know, played any part in creating this demand, which must therefore be directly due to the performance of the car.

The motor is 30-35 horsepower. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $785. (f. o. b. Detroit)

JOSEPH F. SMITH WOULD DEDICATE MORMON TEMPLE

Noted Leader Came Here 61 Years Ago; Structure for Hawaii Now Assured

Fuller and more complete plans regarding the proposed erection of a Mormon temple at Laie, this island, are given in the following article, which appeared in a recent edition of the Deseret News, Salt Lake City, Utah:

"The decision reached at the general conference of the church to proceed with the erection of a temple in the Hawaiian islands is one of the most interesting and significant events in church history in many a day. The great forest of spilled hands which gave affirmation to the proposal was also a most impressive and eloquent feature of the membership of the church in regular conference assembled, unanimously approved the preliminary action of the presiding authorities in this matter, thus complying with the wish of the Lord that 'All things shall be done by common consent in the church.'"

"It will be 65 years next December since the first missionaries of the gospel as revealed in this dispensation set foot upon these lovely isles of the Pacific. The story of their earlier experiences possesses a charm unique even among missionary narratives, and its personal production a feeling of almost exaltation in the mind of the reader. These few young leaders were coldly rejected by the white settlers to whom at first they conceived their message to be directed. A broader view of their instructions, however, and a deeper inspiration, led them to the study of the native language and the conveying of the truth to the dusky and benighted people in their own tongue. The result is written in one of the brightest chapters of church history. Much of the blood of Jesus was shed, thousands were brought into the covenant, and the affection and fidelity of the converts to their white brethren and their new faith have been a proverb from that day to this. Probably no part of the earth has yielded a richer harvest of human souls in proportion to size and population, than this same group of islands in the Pacific.

"Many of the most prominent men of the church began their missionary career among these childlike and warm-hearted natives, and the recollection of their joyful and blessed experiences in that far-away land has remained tenderly with them ever afterwards. Smith began work here. To mention only one notable living example, President Joseph F. Smith did his first missionary work when still a mere youth among these people; and it is safe to say that none of his later experiences, varied and important though they have been, have afforded him the memory of his first days spent fruitfully in preaching the plan of salvation to the heathen.

"It is entirely appropriate, therefore, that the site of the first temple beyond the limits of continental America should be fixed for the Hawaiian islands, which since 1898 have been a part of the United States by territorial annexation. And it is poetically and historically interesting that the suggestion for this temple should have been made and should be carried into effect under the presidency of a beloved leader who, 61 years ago, landed on Honolulu in a corvette, but lonely and unaccompanied by 16, and became one of the most profitable and blessed laborers of his life. The prayer of the Latter-day Saints, here at home and also in Hawaii, will be that his days may be spared to lay not only the foundation, but also the capstones of the new temple, and to dedicate the completed structure as a House of the Lord."

CALIFORNIA BEGINS PROHIBITION DRIVE

SAN FRANCISCO.—The first step in the campaign to make California dry in 1916 will be taken Sunday, Oct. 3, when petitions seeking the submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment to the effect in November, 1916, will be placed in circulation in 25,000 different California churches.

The law proposed by the dry advocates will prohibit the sale of all liquor except sacramental, scientific, medicinal or mechanical, to go into effect on January 1, 1920, if adopted by the voters at the November, 1916, election.

The petitions will be placed in circulation in the churches from the Mexican boundary to the Skagway line.

URGE PROHIBITION ON RAILWAY TRAINS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Recommendations that every state be urged to enact laws prohibiting the drinking of liquor on railroad trains were made in a report of the committee on railway service and accommodations submitted to the twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners which opened its sessions here Tuesday.

The committee also advocated the enactment of a code of uniform laws by all the states governing the service and accommodations furnished by railroads.

World's Strides In Temperance

Iron and Steel. Five additional iron and steel companies have voluntarily written the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League, stating that their companies absolutely prohibit the drinking of alcoholic liquors during working hours, industrial prohibitions.

The Brewers' Journal is horrified by the greed of the manufacturers. Here is what it states: "One of the most pregnant signs of the times is the steady and increasing tendency of big corporations to encroach on the personal liberties of workers. There are even companies and individual employers who threaten to discharge employees for drinking alcohol at any time. They do not care if that is social and economic slavery. Their main object is to protect their pocket books."

Rockford, Illinois. A Chicago newspaper correspondent has this to say about "dry" Rockford: "Rockford, Illinois, gets no money from saloon licenses, yet it has spent proportionally more money than any other city at its rank in Illinois for schools, streets and all city purposes. It has one policeman to every 1800 of population. Chicago has one to every 500."

Breweries in Washington. Numerous breweries in Washington are preparing for prohibition by remodeling their plants for other business. The Olympia Brewing Company is being converted into a dairy products plant. Brewers are also preparing to make heavy calls upon Oregon orchards and vineyards for fruit from which to make fruit extracts and soft drinks.

W. C. T. U. Advances. The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union which held its forty-second annual convention in Seattle, October 9 to 14, reported a remarkable gain in membership. Not only has the organization held the 1914 gain of 20,578 members, but in a W. C. T. U. year of less than 11 months, and in spite of the handicap of the European war, its net gain for 1915 is 29,709.

Prosperity in Russia. "When vodka was on sale the average saving bank deposits in Russia were in the neighborhood of from $16,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year—a year, not a month. In the 31 days of January, 1915, five months after the sale of vodka was prohibited—in one month—the former vodka drinkers put $20,000,000 into the savings banks in the empire. They saved nearly twice as much in a month as they formerly saved in a year."

News And Notes of Work of the Hawaiian Board

The new Kanae Filipino church, consisting of 80 members residing in Kilauea, Keala, Hanalei, Lihue and Koloa was received into fellowship as a member of the association, and the Rev. D. P. Mahihia was dismissed to the Oahu Association.

Rev. Albert S. Baker, agent of the board for Kona, came to Honolulu on Tuesday's Mauna Loa and returned by the same steamer Friday noon to his parish. He came down partly to attend the special meeting of the board on Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Frank S. Scudder has recently been making a tour of the districts of Kona and Kohala on the island of Hawaii in the interests of the Japanese department of the board. The new minister for the Kona work is Rev. Mr. Aoki, and he has taken hold of his new field of labor in a most earnest manner.

The installation service of the Rev. S. W. Kekuewa as pastor of the Hawaiian church at Waimea will be held on Sunday, October 31. Rev. James Davis, who has been called to a further term of service as pastor of the church at Waikane, will be installed as pastor over his church on Sunday morning, November 7.

Several items of business were transacted by the association, as for example an invitation was sent to Rev. Samuel K. Kamalopili to become traveling evangelist for the island of Kaula during the next six months, and the association put itself on record as not being in favor of the action taken by the last annual meeting to have the island associations meet but once a year. The next meeting will be in Lihue in April, 1916.

Rev. Henry P. Judd represented the board at the semi-annual meeting of the Kaula Evangelical Association held at Hanalei from Wednesday, October 20, to Friday, October 22. All of the Hawaiian churches of the island were represented either by pastor or delegate. In spite of a rainy morning and heavy roads in places, by noon almost all of the delegates had arrived at the Waiohi church. Meals during the meetings were served in the old church building.

The usual reports from the pastors and delegates were dispensed with, this being the fall session of the association which recent custom has set apart for the discussion of subjects pertaining to church life and work, rather than for the reading of the usual reports. The five main speakers were: G. H. Rice, J. M. Lydgate, J. M. Kaneana, Lyle A. Dickey and H. P. Judd, whose topics were, respectively, "Impressions of the San Francisco Fair," "The Work of Preaching," "Abstract of the Civic Convention in Lihue Last September," "Efficiency in Church Work" and "Duties of Church Officers." Mr. F. B. Cook, sanitary officer of Kaula, was slated to speak on "Sanitation in the Home" but the epidemic of measles at Hanalei prevented his being present.

The Second Chinese Congregational church is progressing very well since its organization a few weeks ago, and has called Rev. The Kei Yuen as its pastor. The installation services were held in the rooms used for church purposes in the Berea street Settlement on Monday evening. Rev. Tse was installed by a council of the Oahu association.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. O. M. Gulick. The council elected Rev. H. P. Judd moderator of the meeting, and Rev. I. L. Hopwood, clerk. Addresses were made by Rev. Soares, Rev. Okamura, Rev. Gulick and Rev. Lo. The installation prayer was offered by Rev. H. K. Poopoe and the right hand of fellowship was offered by Dr. Doremus Scudder. After the benediction was pronounced by the new pastor, a social time was enjoyed by all those present. The new church starts off under favorable circumstances and seems to have a very important and useful field to occupy.

The great green lawn in the rear has been lighted for night play, and fitted with reading and game tables, swings, see-saws, tennis court and other equipment. The play is directed both by the regular workers and volunteer helpers, including the principal and teachers from the public school. The success of the enlargement of the work is indicated by the fact that the playground is now used by from 50 to 75 young people nightly fully three times as many as formerly have made use of the privilege.

The settlement kindergarten is a hive of industry with its enrollment of 92 children. This part of the enterprise is under the zealous supervision of Miss Lorena Merriman, formerly of the Alexander House Settlement at Waikane.

TWO MEETINGS TO BE ADDRESSED BY DR. WADMAN SUNDAY. Dr. J. W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak tomorrow at services to be held at the Leahi Home at 2:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Oahu Young People's Union. At 7:30 o'clock in the evening Dr. Wadman will preach in the Kalihui Union church. His subject will be "God Is Love."

MINISTER PETERS TO GIVE SERIES OF TALKS AT 'Y'

"Studies in the Psychology of Christian Experiences" General Topic of Addresses

"Studies in the Psychology of Christian Experience" will be the subject of a series of eight noon-day talks to be given by David Cary Peters, pastor of the Christian church at the Y. M. C. A. These talks will deal in a popular manner with some of the problems of religious thinking and living which are of interest to every man. Mr. Peters speaks from the experience of years of study and practical observation of the subjects which he will discuss. He will deal from a scientific and religious viewpoint with fundamental facts of Christianity.

These talks will be given Fridays at noon in Cooke hall. They will commence promptly at 12:35 o'clock and close sharp at 1:50 o'clock. This will give men the opportunity to finish their lunch, hear the talk and be back at work by 1 o'clock.

Mr. Peters has given this series in more extended courses before several groups in the Christian church. Those who have attended these classes are enthusiastic in their statement regarding the practical helpfulness of his method of presenting these themes. The aim of the talks is to give an understandable solution to the common questions of life and religion which often perplex. The speaker has a facility for clear presentation which makes such classes most popular.

The first talk, which will be given Friday, November 5, will be on the subject, "The Idea of God." Mr. Peters will take up and discuss some of the ideas commonly held by men regarding the deity and will offer for consideration some of the elements of the teaching of science and the Bible which will lead to a clearer conception.

The following committee of association members is in charge of this series of noon-day talks and will interest the men of their respective church in hearing the course: Harry Newcomb, J. Howard Ellis, W. C. Furer and O. H. Walker.

The subjects show the scope of the series: November 5, The Idea of God; November 12, The "Logos"; November 19, The Place of Jesus; November 26, The Human Soul and Its Relations; December 3, Angelical Powers of the Soul; Dec. 10, The Reach of the Ideal; December 17, Some Methods of Social Development; December 24, The Ultimate Possibility.
