Foreword.

OUR YEAR'S STEWARDSHIP.

Under ordinary circumstances this page would be devoted to an account of the Biennial Assembly which was due to be held in April of this year (1918) at Nashville, Tenn. But these are strange times, and owing to war conditions and for resultant patriotic reasons, it was decided that the anticipated Assembly should be omitted. Unusual efforts were put forth to increase the power of the Presbyterian meetings. In addition to the usual popular meeting held in connection with General Assembly, there was a day of conferences and joint meetings with the Woman's Board of Home Missions. Looking forward to our next Biennial Assembly in 1920, we see it with a golden halo, for we shall then be celebrating our fiftieth birthday.

At the Corporation Meeting, May 7, there were changes in the list of officers, the most important being the election of Mrs. John Harvey Lee to succeed Miss Hodge as President. Mrs. Lee, one of our China Secretaries, is a member of General Council and has been Chairman of Central Committee since Miss Hodge became Executive Secretary of that Committee. From these honors accorded to Mrs. Lee, and these responsible offices already filled by her, it can be readily seen how hopefully we enter upon the new administration.

At the same meeting the Treasurer's report showed the following remarkable advance: The total amount of gifts for Regular Work, Memorial Funds, Legacies, Interest on Investments, the Million Dollar Campaign and the great War Emergency Special is $347,887.31, an increase of $74,183.47 over that of last year. Our invested funds now are valued at $146,557.34, an increase of $61,081.34 over last year's figures. (Cost of administration, 4 per cent.) Such good things were accomplished by the Presbyterian Societies and by individual donors that their total gifts for Regular Work exceeded those of last year by $5,346.66. The call by our Board for a War Emergency Special of $36,000 was answered by our constituency with whole-hearted zeal and loyalty, in proof whereof behold the final returns—$37,545.66. All these sums show that Presbyterian women, while willingly retrenching in things, refuse to “retrench in souls.”

The financial goal for the new year, definitely outlined thus far, is as follows: For Regular Work, an increase of 10 per cent. over the gifts of 1916-17; for our Special, a duplication of all War Emergency apportionments of 1917-18. Besides these two there is being launched a great Jubilee program to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Woman's Boards—a national movement in which all Presbyterian women will take part. One of the features of the Jubilee is to be a mighty gift of gold—$500,000—to be gathered in two years, while three other great features planned for the program are a gift of Service, a gift of Life and a gift of Prayer.

For a more detailed account of the Station work we recommend the Report of the Assembly's Board of Foreign Missions, a mine of information, on sale at our headquarters for twenty-five cents, postpaid.

WEST AFRICA.

A lean year in letters from this field. Mail irregularities have tended to isolate our workers even more than usual. English steamers no longer come to Duala, and letters in transit by them have been subject to long delay through transshipment. Mail should now be marked via Bordeaux to insure a quicker delivery, except in the case of that intended for Benito, which should be directed as previously. It is cause for gratitude that parties of missionaries returning to or from the field, though passing through danger zones, have met with nothing worse than long delays and much discomfort. While called upon to add to the large measure of sacrifice they always bear, the fruitful ministries of our workers have been pressed with unabated vigor. The sudden death of Mr. Dager, just as he was ready to sail for Africa, has been a great blow to the Mission and native and co-laborer together mourn his loss. The interdenominational Africa Conference held in New York City last November, in which 24 organizations participated, must give an impetus to the work in our field, as well as to that in all others. The French Mission kindly loaned Mr. and Mrs. Vernet to our Mission that they might open a Normal School for the training of teachers in the required French language. Our Mission has been asked by the French Government in Cameroun to look after the work left by other Societies when the Allies came into the Colony. Twenty-five churches are under the West Africa Mission. During the year, 3,398 were received into membership, the total being 13,316; children baptized, 773; Sabbath school numbers, 69,356.

Batanga.—Mrs. A. G. Adams.

Although her furlough has long been overdue, Mrs. Adams remains at her post. To visit the village schools, to establish teachers in these, she has traveled weary miles by bicycle or on foot, along jungle path or forest trail, instructing, enheartening, seeking to make the wilderness and the solitary place glad.

Efulen.—Mrs. R. H. Evans.

This station has the distinction of having the only ordained Bulu minister.

Mrs. Evans has been in America on furlough since last April, and has made generous response to requests for missionary addresses. On February 21, another little son was born to her at her home in Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Evans are planning their return to Africa at the earliest possible date.

Elat.—Rev. W. C. Johnston (C. E. Missionary), Mrs. W. C. Johnston (on extended furlough).

During the year the mother Church of this station has been subdivided into 7 others with 7,000 baptized members, 4,000 in the advanced class which should come into full membership next year, and 10,000 in the beginners' class. In December last a Bible Conference was held here with 953 delegates in attendance, and "as much interest in the last as in the first of the 10 days' sessions." This station issues a monthly paper called the Mefoe, or Bulu News.

"It contains news from all the stations, a translation of the Sabbath school lesson, and comments thereon, and a Christian discourse or sermon. It is a great help to our Christian workers."

Mrs. Johnston, in addition to her great gift of her husband to Africa, while she must remain in the homeland, has also given the elder of her 2 sons to her country's service. She participated in the Africa Conference, and through the year has rendered valuable assistance in mission study on the topic so dear to her heart.

Fulasi.—Mrs. D. C. Love.

In addition to the work done at the station, Mrs. Love has accompanied her husband on a 150 mile trip to the limits of Bulu territory. Her assistance was given in the organizing of churches and visiting the evangelists. A visit was also made to a dwarf village, and an acquaintance begun with these small shy people, who live, not in tribes, but in little villages set far back in the forest and reached by—

“wading streams, ploughing through swamps, climbing over fallen trees, dodging thorny vines overhead and stumbling over roots and vines underfoot.”

Her Girls' School now numbers 190, 102 living in the dormitory. Of this latter Mrs. Love says:

“It is a bark house 80 feet long and 16 feet wide, with beds of bamboo poles running all the way along on either side, with an aisle through the center. There is another bark house with stones for grinding food, and little fires where they do their cooking. It sounds very different from dormitory life at home, but they are happy, and it is better than many of them have in their homes. There are no old husbands to beat them, or heathen fathers to sell them into marriages they hate.”

Lolodorf.—Mrs. A. C. Good, Mrs. J. A. Reis.

Mrs. Good is still on furlough at Wooster, although planning a return to Africa this year. In January she bade God-speed to her son and his bride as they started on their long journey to their field.

Mrs. Reis, with the rest of the outgoing party of missionaries sailing in October, reached Cameroun on Christmas Eve.

Metet.—Mrs. H. W. Greig (W. G. Missionary).

We have known this missionary as Miss Sudermann, but in August at the Government station, with Miss MacKenzie as interpreter, a French official to give the required civil sanction, and later in the Church at Metet with Rev. W. C. Johnston to perform the religious ceremony, she became Mrs. Greig. The cordial wishes of the Board will follow her in her new relationship.

Benito.—Mrs. O. H. Pinney.

After much delay at Spanish ports, and slow traveling by Spanish steamer, Mrs. Pinney reached America on furlough in September, well worn with her most eventful term of service and with nursing her husband through two sieges of pneumonia. Before leaving her station, she reported the reopening of the boarding school for both boys and girls, and says of the latter:

"My little black maidens are a happy lot and it is a joy to have the work started again, for the children influenced here at the Mission have a wide field to work in when they go back to their home towns."

Work among the Fan tribe on the Benito river has been recently established, and now has 6 centers.

"Hardly a week goes by without some one in these towns confessing Christ."

CHINA.

China is still in a disturbed condition politically, as she has been ever since the discontinuance of the Empire and the establishment of the Republic. Parliament has been dissolved and an effort to restore the Imperial form of government has failed. But the revolt in the South continues, and fighting is reported from many sections of the country. It is hoped that quiet will prevail soon. The Russian revolution and the consequent talk of intervention by Japan, who has invited China to join her, tends to enhance the problems. Serious floods have prevailed again in the north with their usual history of devastation and ruin and loss of life and the means of its sustenance. The dreaded pneumonic plague is threatening the country. But we are most interested in the religious situation. The effort to constitute Confucianism, the State religion, has failed. It was opposed by Christians, Buddhists and Mohammedans alike. Religious toleration is practically assured, for the present at least. The work of the Society for Religious Liberty has awakened the Church to a new consciousness of its place in the national life, and has led thoughtful men outside the Church to consider the claims of Christianity. What the attitude of the Church shall be toward polygamy has received new attention, looking toward unity of action among all Christian bodies. The spirit of evangelism has been manifested increasingly, as is shown by the observance of a National Evangelistic Week. The progress of coöperation is spoken of as probably the most significant development of the missionary movement in China during the past year. A bulletin issued by the Ministry of Education last May provides for the recognition of mission and other institutions above the grade of middle schools, after examination by the officials of the Ministry.

CENTRAL CHINA MISSION.

Shanghai.—Mrs. G. F. Fitch, Miss M. D. Morton, Mrs. C. M. Myers, Mrs. J. M. Espey.

Mrs. Fitch, our senior missionary in central China, has not fully regained her strength. In a recent letter received from her she says, "To tell the truth I am not a bit well these days. I can only choose a bit here and there such as the Lord seems to let me." Mrs. Fitch has many monuments to her faithful service in China in redeemed lives. She speaks affectionately of some of the Bible women, who, she says—

"are such a comfort; one, a dear teacher of the Girls' Day School, working so faithfully and doing such good work; two others, Mrs. Koo and Mrs. Lee, both growing in grace and sometimes in the forbearance of affliction. Another one, Mrs. Lee Leong Yong, seems to be doing specially good work also. She has four sons, all married and all living under her roof. Over the big family of children and grandchildren she is a typical head, but not the tyrannical mother-in-law, because ruling in the fear of God and in love. She has a class of women every Wednesday and many of the class have become Christians. I spend almost all of Fridays at a Chinese home with our Bible women as a special day for prayer and Bible study."

Miss Morton—I quote from her annual report:

"A bitter winter with no fires, the girls suffering from chilblains which frequently develop into running sores on hands and feet, together with an epidemic of scarlet fever in Shanghai, and the death of 2 pupils from this disease, made the past year very anxious and strenuous. But though uncomfortable we had a busy and most profitable year. The direct evangelistic work of the Mary Farnham Girls' School centers around the Y. W. C. A., the Street Sunday-schools, Voluntary Bible Classes, Vacation Religious Work and the Teachers' Kindergarten Training Class. There are more than 100 children in the Street Sunday-schools and they are taught by 13 of the older Christian girls. A very earnest Inquirers' Class was taught by one of the teachers during the term, half of the students being from non-Christian homes. At the close of the school, cards were distributed asking for volunteers for religious work during the vacation; 15 of the girls promised to conduct Street Sunday-schools in their own homes and others agreed to do some personal work. My mornings, from 8.30 to 12, have been given to school-room work. This leaves the afternoons free for all odds and ends which are a part of the routine of a boarding school. Being treasurer of the school, housekeeper and overseer of two kindergartens, my odd moments have been filled. Finding the superintendence of three kindergartens too much of a burden I persuaded the Commercial Press to take one of them under its entire control, financially and otherwise. A committee of Chinese ladies now has it in charge. The need of a proper building to house the kindergarten is just as urgent as ever. Each year there is a larger number of non-Christian families who send their precious little ones to the school and are very willing to pay the required tuition."

Mrs. Myers writes that she is busily engaged in study and, with the care of her growing family, has had no specific work assigned to her. She hopes later to be able to do more for the Chinese, in whom she is greatly interested.

Hangchow.—Mrs. J. H. Judson, Mrs. R. F. Fitch, Miss Lois Lyon, Mrs. F. W. Bible, Mrs. J. H. Arthur, Mrs. F. D. Scott, Mrs. W. R. Wheeler.

Mrs. Judson has been through a serious illness during the year, requiring a surgical operation. This laid her aside from her duties in the Bi-z school of which Dr. Judson is the Superintendent. Now she is much better and has resumed her duties. The school is an industrial institution and has the departments of rug making, using the hair of goats and other animals, yarn spinning, printing and carpentry.

Miss Lyon has sent a very interesting report which should be reproduced in its entirety, but there is not space for it. She tells of "The First Day of School," "An English Class," "An Excursion to the Great Street" to train the children in careful observation, "A Picnic on the Lake," "An Hour with my Chinese Writer," "A Rainy Morning," "A Pastoral Call at the School," and "Prayer Group." I must venture to describe the Prayer Group and will use Miss Lyons' own language:

"It is Sunday afternoon. The girls have been to church and Sunday-school. Now a small group comes to my room to learn more about the Christian life and how to pray. These are the girls who, at the last meeting of the Session, were examined for baptism, but the Chinese Pastor and Elders did not consider them ready for church membership, so the disappointed children come to me for help. Prayer does not come readily to their lips as we kneel together, and sometimes mine is the only voice that is heard, but the loving heavenly Father hears and understands."

Mrs. Arthur is at home spending her vacation with her aged father and mother.

Mrs. Wheeler has been compelled to return to the U. S. A. the second time this year owing to ill health. Her sickness was contracted by the necessity of studying in a cold and unsanitary building when she first went to China. She writes very beautifully about it all, "for out of it and the loss of our little son, Mr. Wheeler was able to secure $25,000 for the erection of a suitable building in which new missionaries may carry on their language study."

Mrs. Scott, who is one of our recent missionaries, records her impression on being in China and expresses her pleasure in looking forward to a life of eager work.

Soochow.—Mrs. O. C. Crawford.

Mrs. Crawford started on her return trip for Soochow, sailing from San Francisco September 1, 1917, after a year at home on furlough. A card announces her safe arrival at Soochow.

HAINAN MISSION.

Hoihow.—Mrs. H. M. McCandliss.

In a recent interesting letter from Mrs. McCandliss I note the following:

“This past year I have branched out into itineration and surprised my family and friends by taking several trips into the country. So many women have come to the hospital from the region called East River and many have become interested in the Gospel. It was very difficult for them to come to me for instruction, for the distance is great; so it has long been my desire to open a chapel in one of the markets near them and make it possible for them to get frequent instruction. The Bible woman and I had been praying for an opening, so it was with great joy that we welcomed the offer of a house in the market of Hah-si, 18 miles from Hoihow. As soon as the place was put in order we installed 2 Bible women, who give daily instruction to all who come. There are 60 women who have learned to pray. Many of them are suffering opposition and persecution in their villages and from their families. Most of them stand firm. On one of my trips I crossed the peninsula to the district city, 3 miles outside of which is a leper settlement. Here I was glad to see that they had learned a number of hymns from a book which our leper Christians had sent them, and remembered the teaching of our Christian leper helper who had visited them 3 months before. Our little colony of Christian lepers near Hoihow has lost 3 of its members by death the past year. One especially was such a beautiful Christian character, and I had so hoped he would be spared to go and labor elsewhere among his fellow sufferers. We could only rejoice for him when his release came. The medical treatment given the lepers, while not curing them, is relieving some of the distressing symptoms and has healed the open sores.

“The work in the hospital has been very heavy. There have been 1,240 in-patients and 16,000 out-patients. The Bible women have done faithful work both in the dispensary and the wards and we know it will bear fruit and that this island will give its allegiance to God.”

Kiungchow.—Miss Alice Skinner.

The following is quoted from a recent letter:

“Vacation is over and most of the girls have returned. There are 9 women studying in the Bible Woman’s School and several more are coming next week. The Bible women and two women students will leave as soon as the heavy rains cease for work in the country. I am hoping to go next boat day. There are so many places I wish to visit, but it takes a great deal of time as I have to go by chair or river boats

I made 2 trips in the spring, visiting 17 villages. The Bible women have been out in the country part of the time and the rest of the time they spent in work in the city and in study. There has just been held in this city a large idol festival. Thousands of people attended it. The streets and temples were wonderfully decorated. The priests chanted their prayers and performed their acts of worship all day and night. Five theaters were kept going from 3 P.M. to 6 A.M. This was the greatest attraction of all, for they love the theater. It is a great test for some of our Christians when there is a theater near. We object very strongly to their going, simply because they are connected with idolatry and we feel that, in order to have a strong Church in Hainan, the Christians must come out and be separate. During this festival we were kept busy receiving callers. There were as many as 30 in at one time. One of our helpers, Mr. Lew, brought in a young Chinese preacher one morning who was from Vunsio and as the house was full of Vunsio women I asked him to speak to them. He preached a fine sermon, lasting over an hour. Every one was attentive. The Bible women talked to groups of women all day long. One woman had tracts and Gospels to sell in front of her house. She put a bench out for people to sit on and rest as the prices for chairs and wheelbarrows were high and many walked rather than pay the price. In this way many heard the Gospel who otherwise would not have the opportunity. As a result of these days of labor we have been invited to a number of places and we shall go as soon as possible. A conference was held in Kachek in July for our helpers and any Christians who could attend. There were about 50 present. Four woman went from here. They enjoyed it and found it very helpful. Next summer the conference will be held here. One day the subjects discussed were 'What Christianity has Done for Women' and 'What Women Can Do to Help the Church.' Discussions followed and were very interesting and to the point. We meet as a Station every day at noon for 10 minutes of prayer."

Kachek.—

We have no missionary at Kachek, but some of our Societies support work there. We are glad to report the following from that station:

"The conditions which have disturbed China have reached to Kachek and have interfered with the work. Villages in parts of the field have been partially destroyed by fire and 2 of our members have been killed. In an attack on the city some of our buildings were hit by stray bullets but no damage was done. The most serious thing that has occurred was an attempt to kill Dr. Kelly. He saw the soldier aiming at him and dropped to the ground, but the horse he was riding was killed. Afterwards the soldier apologized when he learned he had shot at a missionary instead of an enemy. Later a pony was presented to Dr. Kelly to take the place of the one killed. We have had 4 'Big Sundays' as the Chinese call them, Communion Sundays. Thirty-one adults and 10 children were baptized."

Nodoa.—Mrs. J. F. Steiner.

HUNAN MISSION.

Changsha.—Miss Anna Morton, Miss Effie Murray.

A letter just in from Miss Morton says:

"I am in a house-boat away up the Siang River. Miss Davis is with me and we are getting such a delightful rest although it is very cold. The occasion of the trip is Executive Committee meeting at Hengchow. As neither of us has ever been to Hengchow we were glad of an excuse for going."

She adds an account of the work of the different missions in Changsha, for which we have no space.

"But as to our own Mission our largest work thus far is a union High School with its 40 pupils, all in the High School Department, and a graduating class of 10 to finish next June, our first class. The new building has the foundation all in, and after the Chinese New Year the walls should go up rapidly. We have a fine new church building just finished and dedicated this last fall, and a new pastor. He is doing good work. We have a splendid position for development, being the nearest church for Yale and all its constituency. The much needed kindergarten training school is delayed by the marriage of Miss Yee. We hear that the church which was supporting her is willing to support her successor. Dr. White is looking for a suitable person. If you know of any experienced teacher for a training school who would be willing to come and launch this work, do try and urge her to come. We do not want a young graduate, but one who has trained teachers. We would rather have one 35 or even 40 years old than one only 23 or 25. You see we wish to guard against prompt marriage, which seems to be our worst enemy. Of course we would like all sorts of equipment. Also we would like some simple, standard girls' books to start our English library. Perhaps some of the friends will have such books in their libraries which they need no longer. Simple histories and reference books also would be most useful. I could go on with a long list of real needs, but will refrain, for I know how many appeals you have these days from all sources."

Miss Murray writes:

"What would you do and what would you feel like if, after some 26 years in China, you were compelled to turn out of your home where for a year you had been so happy with your school and work; just have to pack up, not only your own belongings but all the school furnishings as well, and stow them away in any little old corner you could find, with the mercury registering anywhere from 90 to 100 degrees? Well, that is what we have been doing, for the little temporary building that was originally put up for the Girls' School about 4 years ago and which was dedicated to the Woman's School when the High School moved into their fine new building is now being torn down, not because it was no longer livable, but because another building is going up right against it. So out we had to go. And now what? Well, what can be pieced together of the remains, for it was largely composed of bamboo and plaster, is to be set back in a swampy piece of land that was bought for the Girls' High School and partly filled in, and in this we are supposed to tent until money comes for land.

"There were 25 in the Woman's School last year. Our hopes for this year are quite blighted because of the location and quarters. I had so hoped to have the new and permanent home all finished and the school located in it this year, as it is the last one before my furlough. Next June we hope to graduate our first class, and turn the school over to the new lady, Miss Davis, who comes to us from Kuling, and who has been assigned to this appointment for the present."

Siangtan.—Mrs. A. R. Kepler, Miss Emma Kolfrat, Mrs. T. J. Preston, Mrs. E. D. Vanderburgh, Miss Catherine T. Woods.

Miss Kolfrat writes:

"I had such a lovely journey, notwithstanding the rough passage, sea sickness and gray days. Only 4 sunny days since we sailed from Vancouver. I am glad to get back and hang up my hat for a long time. It is so good to see the dear old place once more and the Chinese. I am so glad I can have a share in this great work of spreading the Gospel and pray that many may come to know Him, whom to know is life eternal."

A letter from Mrs. Preston contains the following:

"I humbly admit that in my simple every day life as home maker and mother there is nothing of interest or value to report. We missionaries are so like other folk that it is extremely difficult, from our standpoint, to write anything interesting to the people at home. I have managed to go twice, since September, to the out-stations. Once we took both children and I could not accomplish much, only smile and chat a little and furnish, from my outlandish (from their standpoint) appearance, some amusement to the Chinese. The second trip baby Barbara remained with Miss Kolfrat, who kindly kept her, and I was able to be of some use. I held children's meetings, told the Gospel story to crowds of women, and visited in some of the homes. The women were much interested and almost always kindly disposed and hospitable. I began teaching music to pupils of the Boys' High School. I have 8 pupils in all. The music has been really my work. Eight lessons each week require time and preparation. This work is instrumental and the boys are making splendid progress and have talent. I have also 1 pupil in vocal work. We are busy preparing for a musical. One of the boys and I are to play a duet, Beethoven's Minuet in G. I am working hard taking the Chautauqua Nursing Course by correspondence. It is splendid and helping me so much in the care of the children. I hope to be of use in caring for the sick foreigners, as we have no foreign nurse. The missionaries are much indebted to Dr. Tooker for a tennis court, where we take recreation. There is a sand pile for the children in the court where they can amuse themselves while their parents are playing tennis."

The day Mrs. Preston wrote this letter there was a severe earthquake in Siangtan.

Mrs. Vanderburgh says:

"Substituting seems to be my lot. I took Miss Kolfrat's place while she was home and now I am taking Mrs. Tooker's place during her absence. Of course Dr. Vanderburgh does all the professional work and we have a trained Chinese nurse, one of Dr. Mary Stone's graduates, a woman of strong character and evangelistic spirit and an excellent nurse. This work is new and the building up process is slow. We have a training class for nurses and 3 young ladies are studying and doing practical work at the daily clinic in the general hospital. The women appreciate the nice bright rooms and would prolong their convalescence indefinitely if possible. One poor woman was in the ward for weeks with dropsy, incurable. She had been under the influence of the Gospel from Miss Woods' teaching, but seemed to become a Christian really while at the hospital. She died last week a very triumphant death, telling her husband and sister, who is a Christian, that she had seen heaven opened, that it was beautiful and bright, the most beautiful place she had ever seen, even nicer than the Woman's Hospital. In November we had our hands very full with refugees and wounded during the fighting which took place here between the Northern and Southern troops. The hospitals were crowded to the roofs during the attack and for weeks after. Our big ward was filled with women and children moaning and sobbing with horrible bullet wounds. One brave little tot was only 3 years old, with a bullet wound through her shoulder. Her mother was killed trying to shield her. All the cases made good recoveries, thanks to Mrs. Chang's good care. I helped Dr. Vanderburgh in the Men's Hospital during the worst of the siege when all the wards were crowded and the verandas full and the poor nurses worn out. Several of those battered and broken soldiers went away with the Gospel in their hearts as well as in their hands, and promised to hunt up a preacher and a chapel, if possible, on their line of march. All were very grateful for their recovery. Our eldest son is in war service and a younger son is at Yale in the naval Reserve Training Corps. We have had no news from them for a long time. God knows where they are and they are His sons."

Miss Woods tells us—

"It is good to be back here and get to work again. The women have been making good progress and it is such a joy to be of service to them. Three women were baptized this month, one of whom is a very earnest, active Christian. Christmas was a beautiful day here and the Christians had a happier time than ever because, instead of having a big dinner themselves, they gave a big dinner to the 120 beggar boys from the poor house. The Girls' School entertained 60 girls from the women's poor house. Poverty this year is worse than ever. The fighting killed a great many bread-winners and the fire burned out many more, leaving them nothing. Rice is or has been almost prohibitive in price, so that we had rice riots about 2 weeks ago. I wish we could do more for these poor people."

Changteh.—Mrs. Gilbert Lovell, B.D., Mrs. G. T. Tootell.

Mrs. Tootell writes from Chenchow, where her husband has gone to substitute for Dr. Lewis, who is on furlough:

"My work this year has been divided between my home, the women's meetings and the medical work. I conduct worship each morning with the Bible women and domestics. The foreign women entertained 45

Chinese women at a feast at Christmas time. It was good to see their interest in the games, which some of them played for the first time in their lives. They especially enjoyed the potato race. We used turnips as potatoes are scarce and they did wonderfully well considering their small feet. Once a week I attend a meeting usually led by the Bible woman or the Evangelist's wife. We tried to get some classes started to teach women to read, but only one is very promising. It is somewhat discouraging when the women do not even realize their own needs. As there is no trained nurse here, there are many emergencies when a foreign woman's help is necessary. I have been on two maternity cases with my husband, and one mother and child I took care of for ten days. We are hoping and praying for a trained nurse. Since there is no woman's hospital, the isolation ward has been used for this purpose, with only an old ignorant woman to act as matron and only male nurses to attend the patients. It happens that the 5 now there all have some disease of the foot."

Hengchow.—Mrs. W. M. Highberger.

Chenchow.—Mrs. W. T. Locke.

Mrs. Locke says:

"In answering your question, 'What would you do if you had all the money and all the helpers you need' and I would add and all the strength, after spending 3 years almost in this city and seeing the needs of the women and children and trying to care for such as come to me with only the equipment I can beg or borrow from the men's hospital, I of course have a little dream of what might be if it were not for the 'ifs' mentioned above. There would be a fine hospital with a fine staff of educated workers, a trained nurse from the U. S. A., a Chinese doctor and a trained Chinese nurse and a good Bible woman. The hospital would be prepared to do the best medical work possible. It would be homelike and full of sunshine and cleanliness. There would be running water in the building and a way to heat at least a part of it. Some of the staff would be musical and there would be an organ and plenty of music. There might even be a victrola and a stereopticon. Instruction would be given in hygiene, care of children, etc. Special effort would be given to maternity work and children's diseases. The Gospel would be taught and lived by everybody."

KIANG-AN MISSION.

Nanking.—Mrs. W. J. Drummond, Mrs. J. C. Garritt, Miss Mary Leaman, Miss Lucy Leaman, Miss Frederica Mead, Mrs. T. D. Sloan, Miss Mary Boyd Shipley, Mrs. Lawrence Thurston (W. G. Missionary), Miss Isabella Day.

Mrs. Drummond writes:

"The work here has been progressing, the evangelistic outlook is good. Our school has fallen off necessarily and all school work is meeting with government competition. A near-by government school has 5 teachers, small fees, and good equipment. We had 1 teacher for all grades where 3 were necessary. Praise God, His grace is free to all and His boundless love in Christ."

Mrs. Garritt's year has been unexpectedly interrupted by the severe illness of a son and because of which she is now in the homeland. Mrs. Garritt has the entire sympathy of the Board and sincere wishes for the complete recovery of her son's health.

Miss Mary Leaman's work never seems to be adequately reported, for the full story of her splendid work cannot be given in one short paragraph. Her ceaseless efforts to make Christ known to her beloved Chinese have been followed with the richest results.

"From the beginning of the year until now, 'Ask and ye shall receive' has been a promise especially fulfilled in our work. It has been fulfilled beyond what we asked or thought, and we look out on the coming year thrilling with expectation as we breathe the words, 'Lord, teach us to pray.'"

Miss Lucy Leaman has been obliged to remain another year in this country on account of her eyes, but her life of ministering to others goes steadily on. She will be glad when the doctors permit her to return to Nanking.

Although Miss Mead was not permitted to return to Ginling College this year, she has been doing a great and necessary work for the College here in the homeland, interesting college women in the splendid project in Nanking, and securing teachers and funds for the development and maintenance of the institution and advancing its interests in every possible way.

Mrs. Sloan, among other things, has been teaching English in the Ming Deh Girls' School. As her husband is connected with the University of Nanking, she doubtless finds many interests in connection with the University life to more than fill her time, aside from the usual duties of a missionary home-maker.

Miss Shipley, who has been in Ginling College less than a year, seems to have caught the spirit of the school, for she writes:

"Ginling is fine and every day I am gladder that I really came last summer. It is a privilege for anyone to be connected with something so promising, and naturally to an American college woman a college is the most promising place of all. Our students are eager and bright, not stolid, as I was afraid they would be, and just as full of fun as American girls are."

Miss Shipley wrote of the wonderfully delightful and ingenuous Christmas celebration in the College, of the early morning carols sung by the girls in both English and Chinese, of the Junior Class reciting Tennyson's "Ring Out, Wild Bells" which seemed to her then to have been written just for China, giving an earnest of the work Ginling girls were to do in their great old country. Then she told of the whole College, faculty and students visiting their beloved President, Mrs. Thurston, who was in the hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation, "for," she writes, "it would not have been Christmas at all without a glimpse of her."

Miss Day, another new missionary, writes to Mrs. Holt:

"I have been in China now nearly 5 months. I do want to tell you what a privilege I consider it to be here, and seeing the need of the Gospel, to share in the work of spreading it even by as little as I can. Now China New Year is at hand. May I send New Year's greetings even if I am not putting sweets on the kitchen god's mouth before burning them—sweets so that he will take a good report of me to heaven."

During the past year one of our brave workers in Nanking, Miss Grace Lucas, was called in April, 1917, into the fuller and more blessed life beyond. For seven or eight years she had been the bright and efficient Principal of our Ming Deh School for Girls' and her sudden call away left the school and the station full of sorrow and a deep sense of their great loss. Many of her co-workers have written of her fine cheer and enthusiasm and her deep love and yearning for her school girls. She carried them all on her heart, and if one had any burden or anxiety of any kind, Miss Lucas gave her the full support of her loving and helpful prayers. The girls were deeply touched by her going from them, for they knew how she loved them. Of her Mrs. Williams writes:

"Grace was so alive! Her tireless energy showed in her voice, her walk; sometimes she seemed wasteful in the way she spent herself, yet she was so human, so full of fun; she rested easily, and quickly recovered when weary. She had a remarkably healthy spirit which never kept any bitterness concealed. Under that quick way and manner were an honest heart, a real humility, a wistful longing to be more loving and so have more power to help her girls, and an ever growing ideal of what a woman should be who was at the head of a girls' school in China."

NORTH CHINA MISSION.

Peking.—Deaconess Mary I. Craig, Miss Theodora Culver (W. G. Missionary), Mrs. F. E. Dilley, Mrs. Courtney H. Fenn, Mrs. John Hayes.

The northern part of the city of Peking has become the special field for Presbyterian Mission work. Miss Craig has been Mrs. Fenn's most valuable assistant in all of the woman's work until last fall, since which time she has had the full charge of it. One thus describes one of Miss Craig's Sundays: "She teaches a Sunday-school class of little girls from the day school, plays the organ for all the church services, conducts a service for heathen children Sunday afternoon, and sings in the choir of Union Church in the evening." Mention should also be made of her 2 or 3 trips a year to our country field to hold station classes for the Bible women and to visit in the villages.

Miss Culver, one of our new W. G. missionaries and a real daughter of our Woman's Board because her mother is one of our efficient Home Secretaries, sailed for North China in the midsummer last year. The time since her arrival in Peking has largely been spent in language study, but from her letters one can easily recognize how energetic and how eager she is to be really touching and influencing the lives of the Chinese with whom she comes in contact.

Mrs. Dilley's time is chiefly taken up with the care of her 5 little children. She is exerting a great influence over the young men who come into her house from the medical school and whenever possible leads some of the women's meetings at the Second Street Church and calls upon the women of the church. Her unusual musical ability is devoted cheerfully to the mission work as her home duties and strength will permit.

Mrs. Fenn returned home late in the autumn, bringing her 15 year old son with her to place him in an American school. Of her life in Peking, with its many and varied interests, she writes:

"Our station classes, which used to be held 4 or 5 times a year for 3 or 4 weeks each time, were last year in session almost continuously, teaching inquirers and catechumens and new church members to read, and holding classes in the Bible for more advanced Christians. When not holding classes, we, Miss Craig and I, have spent much time in calling on people who have been to our church and become interested in the truth, and in the homes of the day school children."

Besides all of this work, Mrs. Fenn has been actively interested in the Union Bible Training School for Women, serving on its Board of Managers, teaching 2 mornings a week and securing a large part of the money required for the maintenance of the school.

Mrs. Hayes, another of our new missionaries, writes of her delight in being in China and of her impressions on seeing for the first time the old Chinese Drum Tower, built to keep the devils from the north from coming upon the city and, close by, the Mission compound—

“a contrast which will stay with me for long. Turning in at the gate we saw a long paved walk shining like silver in the moonlight and at the end of it a slender, graceful tower pointing up to the stars, silent, half-ruined, yet speaking in every line of the power that alone can defy evil—not by strength nor noise nor human endeavor but by the force of righteousness and sacrifice and love. It was the tower of the old church, the only thing left unburned by the Boxers, and it seemed to cast a holy spell over the whole compound. Ever since that first night the charm and the fine vitality—almost personality—of the city has grown more and more alluring to us.”

Paotingfu.—Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Albert K. Whallon, Miss Bertha L. Savage.

The record of Mrs. Lewis' work as told by one of her associates gives us an idea of the service that she is daily performing.

“Mrs. Lewis gives her whole time to teaching nurses from both hospitals (men's and women's) Hygiene, English, Nursing and Ethics. Then her own little ones, John and Anne, need some time. She tries to look after the officials' wives who come on Sundays, has a class especially for them and makes rounds daily in the Hodge Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Whallon has charge of the evangelistic work among the patients there and rejoices in a new Bible woman who helps her faithfully. She says the afternoon in the woman's hospital is like one continuous station class with deeper interest every day.”

Mrs. Whallon writes of the terrible conditions in North China and of the suffering and destitution and helplessness of the people, because of loss of crops, high prices of food and fuel, and adds:

“Politically, too, China is in a bad way. All the daily papers have been suppressed, so that the last couple of weeks we have not known what is going on here. It is impossible to predict what the future has in store for this land.”

Miss Savage, though not yet 2 years in China, has been conducting a kindergarten during this year. One reads her devotion to the children and their mothers in every line of her letters, so it is no wonder that little “Beautiful Blossom,” in the story of the “First Christmas Tree in Paotingfu Kindergarten,” assured her mother that if there was no one to take her to the kindergarten she could “take a comfort and sleep on one of the kindergarten tables and live there.”

Miss Savige finds equal pleasure in teaching the mothers, and plans, as soon as her language study is completed, to hold just as many meetings and classes for mothers as her time will permit. She finds it just as true in China as in America, that little children do lead their fathers and mothers to Jesus Christ.

Shuntefu.—Dr. Elizabeth Lewis.

A letter from Dr. Lewis, dated February 13, the day after the Chinese New Year, describes somewhat in detail the efforts of the doctors in North China to stamp out the plague, which is just another horror added to the many others with which the Northern Chinese seem to be afflicted.

“The only measures against it,” Dr. Lewis writes, “are preventive—isolation of all contacts. The plague-fighters all wear masks for protection. Nothing can be done for it. Mortality 100%. Contacts usually die in from 3 to 4 days. It is no wonder that as many of our Mission doctors as can be spared throw themselves into this work, for they realize that the safety of everyone depends on their work of preventing the spread of this terrible disease.”

SHANTUNG MISSION.

Chefoo.—Rev. W. O. Elterich (C. E. Missionary), Mrs. Elterich, Miss Helen E. Elterich, Mrs. Mason Wells, Mrs. O. F. Hills, Mrs. R. W. Dunlap.

Rev. W. O. Elterich has continued to superintend all the country work of 20 out-stations in addition to his city work and has charge of Mission accounts and Mission correspondence. No wonder Mrs. Elterich writes, after seeing her husband off in July for his third trip since spring:

“These trips always bring extra work for me, first in getting him ready, and then in attending to affairs that come up while he is away, paying out money to helpers, teachers, etc.”

By September both had reached the limit of their strength and took a so-called vacation. They say they returned both refreshed and strengthened, but it appears to have been another itinerating trip, so often was Dr. Elterich called upon to preach and attend conferences—conferences on the foreign missionary work of Koreans in China, and of their home missionary work among the Chinese in Korea.

“Through my having helped their missionaries in China, I found I was known by name to a great many Korean leaders, and was able to take part in the conference held by their foreign mission board with reference to the re-launching of their Mission in Laiyang. They considered it providential that I should be there at the time to give them advice, and Mrs. Elterich and I took part in the celebration in honor of the two new Korean missionaries, giving the men a cordial welcome in behalf of our presbytery. In Pyeng Yang I spoke in Chinese, being interpreted by a young Korean lady who had been a pupil in our Woman's Union College at Peking. Although the audience numbered 2,000, she was not at all nervous. While at Seoul the committee in charge of the work among the Chinese invited me to meet with them, and I was pleased to hear what a good reputation the Chinese had in Korea as frugal, industrious masons, carpenters, gardeners, etc.

"After returning to Chefoo I started out for the country, examining 39 and receiving 21 of them into church membership. I was at Laiyang when the two Korean missionaries arrived, and at the recent meeting of presbytery I was appointed to assist them till they had the language sufficiently. In our presbytery over 300 new members were reported, making a total membership of over 3,000. The contributions amounted to nearly $3,000 Mex., which is splendid, considering these famine times."

Miss Elterich opened school on September 1, and put into force a new curriculum which raised the standard of the girls' school. Standards of playgrounds were also raised.

"I fixed up a new playground, and the girls are having fun playing basket-ball and tether-ball. The patrons of my Cantonese school bought an organ for the school."

Mrs. Wells has been spending her furlough in Wooster, O., where her son and daughter are studying.

From Mrs. Hills and Mrs. Dunlap, wives of physicians in the Chefoo hospital, no word has come this year, but a search in the portfolios of their friends brings the following items to light. A daughter was born in the Dunlap family January 19. Mrs. Dunlap wrote:

"It is with great regret I write that the hospital will have to close its doors at the end of January on account of lack of funds due to war conditions. The dispensary will still be open and can help many. A week ago the first class of nurses graduated—6 nice clean young men who had been in the hospital 3 years."

But later in the same month Dr. Hills wrote:

"When the announcement was made in the local papers that the hospital would be closed for three months for lack of funds, a number of Chinese subscribed 3,000 Mex. to keep the doors open. This is the first Chinese gift of importance, and it came without any suggestion from foreigners."

Tsinanfu or Licheng Hsien.—Dr. James B. Neal (C. E. Missionary), Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Miss Mary L. Hamilton, Mrs. A. A. Torrance, Mrs. R. A. Torrey, Dr. Caroline Merwin, Mrs. W. W. Johnston, Mrs. W. H. Adolph, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Luce, Misses Bertha and Effie Dinkelacker, Mrs. L. J. Davies, Mrs. W. M. Hayes, Mrs. W. P. Chalfant, Miss Caroline Beegle.

Dr. Neal:

"The year has been marked by the completion of the new Medical School buildings given by the China Medical Board (Rockefeller Foundation) and the removal to Tsinan of several professors and a large number of students. We have 118 medical students to train, 11 of whom came from the school at Hankow, which is closing up and sending its students to us. We are losing one of our professors, who goes to France for war work. A lot of Chinese have gone to France from Shantung to work on roads and wharves, and many men who can speak Chinese are needed to direct them. China is committed to the cause of the Allies, but so far she shows little disposition to send troops to France to fight—indeed, she is far from being at peace here at home, as north and south are arrayed against each other. Poor old China has had a hard time trying to establish a republic, but I have great faith that sooner or later she will succeed, for she is really a democratic country."

Mrs. Hamilton, unfortunately, did not return strong and refreshed, for her furlough had been saddened by sorrow and death. Yet she found herself deeper than ever in the work, and one of the extra things left to her supervision was the Hamilton Memorial Academy during the absence of Mr. Torrance. She writes:

"When we reached Japan a letter was waiting telling of the gift of money for our Woman's Bible Institute buildings, and other money has come for evangelistic work at our station. Opportunities are opening in every direction, and the work to be done seems overwhelming. We need most of all trained men and women among the Chinese to enter these open doors, and I want to do what I can in training the women. After the Bible Institute closed I kept the special class of Bible Women and a few of the more advanced Christian women for 2 weeks longer to hear special lectures. Also a Chinese woman evangelist addressed them a number of times, with the result that their enthusiasm was greatly quickened. Twenty-five have volunteered to do personal work, going out two by two to the homes of neighbors. A number of girls in government schools were also reached, and more than 20 want to become Christians, while a still larger number among the 60 Christian girls volunteered for personal work, each to try to bring one girl to Christ. The principal of the two largest government normal schools for girls is a man who has recently come out as a decided Christian, and we hope much from his influence. Heretofore the authorities of the schools have not been willing for any Christian activities to be carried on, so we are anxious to take advantage of these openings."

Miss Hamilton wrote in October:

"Here we are out in the country for a short time in a place mother used to bring me years ago, and there are still people who remember me. It is good practice to have to reminisce with them. I am going to concentrate on language work this winter, and try to get the two-years' work finished up this fall. The University people have all moved up from Weih-sien now, so we have a very large missionary community in Tsinan—about 95, including children."

Mrs. Torrance.—The Station requested Mr. and Mrs. Torrance to antedate their furlough by one year, owing not only to their state of health, but because later it would be still harder to take care of their work. Mrs. Torrance, as this goes to press, is studying in Teachers' College, New York.

Mrs. Torrey.

"When Mrs. Torrance left the kindergarten and kindergarten training school were turned over to me and her presence is being sadly missed. The expenses are heavier this year and the funds the same, and we have not been able to raise much from the Chinese on account of the drought the early part of the year and the floods this fall. We may have to close for lack of funds. A large part of Mr. Torrey's field has been under water, and the whole country is infested with robbers."

Reuben A. Torrey, 3d, was born in January.

Dr. Merwin.

"Did I tell you that our family provided money to fit up a memorial room for my mother? I have so enjoyed making it bright and pretty for a maternity room. I was so very short of helpers after the epidemic of matrimony that we had to close the clinic entirely, and limit our work to that which men doctors cannot do here—gynecology and obstetrics. My out-calls are many and take much of my time. Last year my statistics were over 10,000 clinic patients and nearly 400 out-calls. Miss Ding, whom I sent to Peking 3 years ago, graduated in June. She is such a comfort. We are hoping and praying for another doctor and nurse to fill the vacancies left by Dr. Keator and Miss Witmer."

Mrs. Adolph; Miss Beegle.—By Miss Witmer's marriage to Mr. Adolph in June, Dr. Merwin lost a nurse, but 6 months later Mrs. Adolph wrote:

"I was glad to learn a short time ago that Dr. Merwin has a nurse, Miss Beegle from Philadelphia, a graduate of the hospital of the University of Penna. I met her during the Christmas holidays while she was visiting Dr. Merwin. She is now attending language school in Nanking and getting on splendidly. I am helping Dr. Merwin with major operations, and also studying every day, hoping to take another examination in February or March."

Mrs. Johnston wrote:

"In Mr. Torrance's absence the Station has asked Mrs. Hamilton to take charge of the Boys' High School and me of the Woman's Institute. A beginning of our Advanced School for Women is to be made this year in connection with our Institute. . . . We see the latest war news, and Red Cross work is to be started in Tsinan. We have had plenty of opportunity to help the Allies—and now America!"

Indirectly we hear of the birth of a child in the Johnston family.

Rev. and Mrs. Luce have moved to Shanghai, Mr. Luce having resigned his position on the staff of the Shantung University to become Associate Secretary of the China Christian Educational Association.

Miss Dinkelacker and her sister Effie took their vacation in July at Tsingtau, and on their return found their pretty little Chinese house in ruins. It had melted away during the rains, but another and better has been prepared for them. In August they took full charge of the hospital while Miss Logan was away. On September 1, Miss Bertha took up her regular work—charge of the men's wards—being on duty in the morning and studying in the afternoon. Her sister spends the mornings in studying and goes on duty at 1 o'clock. She has charge of the operating room, and is training the first girl nurses in operating room work.

Mrs. Davies, wife of the Dean of the Arts College, has this year become one of our Associate Missionaries.

"We came to Tsinanfu 25 years ago, a place we have always loved, but 8 of the years since then were spent in the U. S. You know 11 Missions, American and European, are united in this truly Union University, and it is conducted by Christian gentlemen, with all that implies of unselfishness, self-control, courteous manners, together with efficiency. . . . China after the war is going to be the center of world politics. It is now for those who have eyes to see and ears to hear aside from the tumult in Europe. We who love China are very jealous for her rights and her normal development unembarrassed by the other Powers."

Mrs. Hayes had the keen pleasure in Tsingchowfu of welcoming her son and his family from Edinburgh and Princeton, before she moved to Tsinanfu with the rest of the University circle.

"I am trying to help with a new work among the women of this south suburb. We have a prayer meeting once a week, women's classes to learn the character, kindergarten, etc. I have the prayer meeting most of the time, and I want to visit and get acquainted in the homes. There does not seem to be much religion among these women, but I hope to find more when I know them better."

Mrs. Chalfant has had a sorrowful year. Dr. Chalfant died suddenly in Tsingchowfu April 21, to the grief of the whole Mission. Mrs. Chalfant wrote in December:

"I was overwhelmed with business and writing after my husband's death, and tried to take all my classes just the same in addition to one of my husband's, but I broke down completely. In September I had to settle up all my affairs and remove my household goods to Tsinan, my new station. I have 3 classes a day at the college, and I am so very thankful to have my husband's students (theological) in my class. I teach them English, and lately I was describing a Christian gentleman, telling them that all the virtues taught by Confucius as belonging to the 'superior man' in addition to all the graces of a follower of Jesus would make a perfect gentleman. One student rose with dignity and said, 'We want to be like Dr. Chalfant, for he was a perfect Christian gentleman.' At the name of my husband the whole class rose, bowed their heads, and one said reverently, 'We pray that we may follow in our Prof. Chalfant's steps as he walked in the steps of Jesus.' It was such an earnest, spontaneous tribute that it touched my heart."

Weihhsien.—Mrs. J. A. Fitch, Mrs. Ralph C. Wells, Mrs. Horace Chandler, Miss Rankin, Mrs. J. Winter Brown, Mrs. Courtland Van Deusen, Miss Lucile Donaldson.

By the removal of the Arts College to Tsinanfu there is more elbow room in Weihhsien. The Boys' School moved into the college plant, leaving their building to the Woman's Bible Institute, presided over by Mrs. J. A. Fitch. The Institute is chiefly for the training of Bible women, but other women, who in youth had no chance of an education, may attend if there is room.

Mrs. Fitch has generously kept us en rapport with Weihhsien, even illustrating her letters with photographs of the Teachers' (Summer) Institute, the station force, her own institute and the graduating class. Many a tiny biographical sketch has accompanied the pictures of the Bible women; also a description of the dedication of Coleman Memorial Chapel. Apropos of our War Emergency Fund she wrote:

"It certainly is most kind in the Board to give us the $2 Mex., where, at the present rate of exchange, we would only get $1.46."

In the general removal caused by the transfer of the Arts College, Prof. and Mrs. Wells moved to a house nearer their Point Breeze Academy.

"Our schools are having their summer vacation, but a Teachers' Institute is now in session with 104 men and women in attendance. These are the teachers of the country schools, where there are 1,600 children scattered over a large district. These teachers are all Christians, but we want them to realize more fully their responsibility toward the spiritual lives of the children, and the social service they could render to the parents. Besides regular courses they have S. S. methods, and also a lecture on corn-testing and one on flies."

As we go to press, Rev. and Mrs. Chandler are on the point of sailing for China after their two-year stay and study in Princeton. Mrs. Chandler's mother, Mrs. Edgerton, is to go with them. Mr. Chandler was ordained in March. Miss Rankin was not strong this year, yet she was in charge of the Girls' High School in Miss Rowley's absence. Their share of the old college buildings had to be got in order before the girls arrived, and soon after they came 31 were found with trachoma and 4 with typhoid. Miss Rankin isolated the trachoma girls in the new half of the buildings, and that gave her 2 schools instead of 1. She and the girls rose to the occasion, and there were separate classes, study-halls, chapel and drill. Under daily care the eyes quickly recovered, but the typhoid was a more serious matter, and those patients had to go to the hospital. At one time typhoid was epidemic in the province, and not enough coffins could be found to bury the dead.

Mrs. Brown wrote:

"This winter has been the best time I have had for language study, the baby has been so good and I have been perfectly well. We now have the plans for the new hospital which is so sorely needed. On account of the exchange being so low we do not have nearly enough money, but we hope it will come before long. At present there is no place in the hospital for foreigners—we have only a dispensary in fact—but according to the new plans any of us will be properly taken care of in the new hospital."

Rev. and Mrs. Van Deusen moved from Tsingtau to Weihsien in the fall of 1917, after a hard summer in which all had been ill. Little Katrina died in May. A son, Courtland, Jr., was born in September. After Christmas, Mrs. Van Deusen began teaching English and sewing.

"This Girls' High School is one of the first started in North China, and its graduates are working all over China. It is interesting to hear of all the good they are doing."

Miss Hawes, who came home in February, 1917, for medical treatment, was dangerously ill for a long time and cannot go back to China. Happily, she is now regaining much of her strength.

Miss Lucile Donaldson, now at the language school, is one of our new missionaries.

Tengchow.—Mrs. J. P. Irwin, Mrs. R. A. Lanning, Dr. Myrtle J. Hinkhouse.

Tengchowfu, the oldest station in Shantung, was opened in 1866. Mrs. Irwin has not written this year, but a letter from her daughter Sara says:

"Mother is still teaching in the Boys' High School of which father is principal, and since they have decided to graduate a class before Christmas rather than wait till spring they have been awfully busy. Mother teaches all day and superintends S. S. on Sunday. The S. S. teachers are usually High School boys, and mother goes over the lesson with them one evening a week. One evening is spent teaching music and another in training the choir."

Dr. Hinkhouse has not written this year, but from other sources we learn of her finishing her first year of language study in June, and of the prospect of her removal to Peking in the near future.

Mrs. Lanning's daughter was born in June. In December Mrs. Lanning wrote:

"We have had with us for the last two weeks Rev. Ding Li Mei. Special meetings were held for students, business men and for women, and we hope for much good fruit. Last Friday we had the pleasure of graduating three women from the training school here, and on Wednesday a fine class from the Boys' High School will receive their diplomas."

During the revival meetings led by Pastor Ding Li Mei came the date of the Girls' School graduation. The order had been given for the printing of the invitations, but this was changed. Because of a desire to put God first, the Seniors decided to give up their usual commencement, and urged that the meetings be continued. Through this attitude of theirs, a fresh impulse was given and the meetings increased in fervor.

Ichowfu.—Mrs. G. F. Browne, Miss Maria Wagner.

Mrs. Browne lost her little daughter, aged 6 months, and has herself been ill this year.

"School has closed and the boys have gone home. Last week we had them all at our home for an evening of fun. We played games and had victrola music. The laughing victrola records brought forth peals of laughter, for the Chinese seldom hear anyone laugh heartily. They are very passive. The boys seemed to enjoy the evening, especially the tea and cakes. At the close the pastor and some of the teachers exhorted the boys to show their religion in their home villages this summer. The school-yard is empty now except for the donkey who grinds the flour and the faithful gateman who stays at his post."

Miss Wagner:

"We had rather a hard summer, because we lost our oldest helper. Everything is very expensive. . . . Then the Chinese must have a notion that we have started an orphanage, for within a month 5 girls came, 4 of them thrown in front of our hospital gate. We have absolutely no way of finding out who the parents are."

Not all of the babies were kept, but Dr. Fleming and Miss Wagner each has a group dependent on her, though there is no convenient room, and the dining-room or Miss Wagner's study serves as a nursery.

Tsingtau.—Mrs. T. H. Montgomery.

Since the Van Deusens left for Weihsien, our only missionary family connected with Tsingtau is the Montgomerys. They are on furlough this year—a furlough full of sickness—and so we have no news from this station to report.

Yhsien.—Mrs. Charles H. Yerkes, Mrs. Ralph Coonradt.

Mrs. Yerkes has suffered much from ill health this past year, nor have the children escaped sickness.

"No one knows, except those who live through it, what time is consumed by Chinese callers, but I consider this the most important part of my missionary work. People come from long distances to the hospital and want to "look—see" the foreign houses while they are waiting. What regular work I have been able to do has been a weekly catechism class for women and the Christian Women's Class on Sunday. I have tried to get better acquainted with our women this year and have invited them all in groups of 2 or 3 to take meals with Elizabeth and me when Mr. Yerkes had to be away from home. This fall we have started a prayer-group among them."

Mrs. Coonradt.—In August a daughter was born to the Coonradts, and in December Mrs. Coonradt wrote:

"Last year I spent 154 days in itinerating work, visiting 17 different places, staying anywhere from a day to 4 or 5 weeks in a place. I have not been out itinerating since the baby came, for there is robbing and my one Bible woman had to come in last week, it was so unsafe. Many, many have gone to France and they are calling for 300 a day just now from here. Many of our helpers have gone, our best evangelist among them."

Tsining.—Mrs. C. H. Lyon, Mrs. T. N. Thompson.

Mrs. Lyon has been on furlough this year. Kenarden School, her charge, has had a record attendance of 45 girls.

Mrs. Thompson, who returned to China in October, 1917, took with her Dwight, an adopted son, aged 3.

"On two different occasions while on furlough the temptation came to me to compare the luxuries of America with the privations (?) of the missionary. I wondered among other things how I could manage without water piped into the house, and pay for every bucketful carried an eighth of a mile from a general well, or from a dirty canal. A second temptation was the testing of my real love for the women of China. I said, "Can I go back and put my whole life into the work of training those stupid women to understand the Bible and its valuable teachings?" But I can now truthfully say it is a joy to live in a mission home and I do love these women and the work the Lord has given me to do for them here. Annual meeting of Presbytery was in session here within 10 days of our arrival, and our 3 mission homes full to overflowing with guests from neighboring stations. Immediately after adjournment, my husband's food-box was packed, and with bedding and clothing to last for a month he was off. Baby Dwight has been a part of our home life for only 4 months, but he has found a warm place there."

Tenghsien.—Dr. Louise Keator.

Until Dr. Keator moved to Tenghsien this year, we had no work in this newest station, opened 4 years ago, 110 miles south of Tsinan. Dr. Keator wrote:

"I visited the school and saw 15 girls with frozen feet. The school had closed for the holidays and the girls with homes had gone to them, but these have no homes. The national shoe is a slipper, therefore very cold for winter, and most of the girls have dreadful feet. They have no fire and only a mud floor in the school-room. I ordered a sort of moss shoe for them to wear over their other shoes. These must be lined with cloth, and in my thoughts I worked all night with the shoes and consequently toward morning I was sick. Fortunately about dark I felt better and at 9 came a call to see a woman who had given birth to a child, and I worked just where she was on the floor, with my woman holding a candle and the melted tallow running over my hand. The Chinese women do suffer such agony on account of lack of ability among their own people! This station has only one family and one other single woman, but we hope it will grow. There were 7,000 patients last year. When the woman's class was in session I taught 'Miracles' every day and 'Hygiene' 3 times a week."

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

Canton.—Miss Harriet N. Allyn, Ph.D. (W. G. Missionary), Miss A. Catherine Arthurs, Mrs. J. J. Boggs, M.D., Mrs. Harry Boyd, Miss E. M. Butler, Mrs. R. F. Edwards, Miss Elizabeth Faries, Rev. A. A. Fulton (C. E. Missionary), Miss Mary H. Fulton, M.D., Rev. J. McC. Henry (C. E. Missionary), Miss Christine Hammer†, Miss Margaret Marr†, Miss Harriet Noyes, Miss Lulu R. Patton, Mrs. H. S. Thomson.

Dr. Allyn, Dean of the Hackett Medical College for Women, and closely identified with the work of the Turner Training School for Nurses and the David Gregg Hospital for Women and Children, tells of the dark outlook for all of the institutions until last October. But the clouds began to disperse then, medical and other necessary assistance was found and the whole work took on a more encouraging aspect. Classes have increased in size, students are coming to the college with better entrance preparation and the provinces represented by the student body show that the College and Training School are meeting the needs of a large area of China for women physicians and nurses.

Our Board and individual interests in True Light Seminary are very great because Miss Noyes, by whom it was founded in 1872, is one of our honored missionaries. We are especially delighted in this our Annual Meeting to join with the South China Mission in doing her honor upon the completion in January of this year of her 50 years of service in Canton. The interesting accounts of the various celebrations by Mission, Seminary and friends, give us an inspiring setting for the great Jubilee of Missions among Presbyterian women which we are planning to fitly celebrate in the 2 years' campaign which is being launched at this very time. Miss Butler, who has been Miss Noyes' constant companion and supporter for many years, has written of how the Chinese presented the most beautiful gifts they could find, of how the Seminary, students and alumnae joined in doing their beloved Principal all honor, of the Mission meeting in January which was turned into a time of feasting and rejoicing, and Governor Chue sending from Peking a medal in a neat little case, inspired no doubt by the memory of his visit to True Light a year ago when he said "Miss Noyes is the Pan Koo from beyond the seas who came to China to uplift her daughters." (Pan Koo was a famous woman who did much for the women of her own country.)

One of the most interesting features of the celebration was the unveiling of the memorial tablet in the beautiful new True Light building, by Miss Margaret Marr, one of our 4 young teachers and niece of Mrs. Margaret Marr Barber, through whose generosity the young women of China have their fine building. The inscription on the tablet reads:

"To the glory of God and in memory of Martha M. Barber and Mary G. Marr of America, who like Martha and Mary of Bethany loved the Lord Jesus and strove to make their homes His abiding place, these two buildings are erected by a daughter and hereby dedicated to the women of China."

Miss Butler further writes:

"We both thought of the society at home which has kept so closely in touch with the True Light since its establishment in 1872. It was one of the first special objects taken up by the Missionary Society of Philadelphia. The first letter received from the foreign field by the Philadelphia Board in 1871 was from Miss Noyes, stating her plans for a school and asking the Board's special support of it."

Thus was born True Light Seminary and with it our loving and sympathetic coöperation through all the succeeding years.

Miss Faries, Miss Arthurs, Miss Marr and Miss Hammer, our quartet of young teachers, are all enthusiastic over the Seminary, their work, the spirit of the students and the bright hopes both faculty and students have for the future of the school. True Light! founded in the prayers and sacrifices of Miss Noyes, nourished and supported by the devoted women of our Philadelphia Board, built anew by the gifts of our own Mrs. Barber of Haverford, our earnest prayers continue for your ever enlarging power and influence among the women and girls of China.

Special appreciation and gratitude are due Dr. and Mrs. Boyd for postponing their furlough for a year because of the necessity for Dr. Boyd's remaining in Canton until other medical help could be secured. Mrs. Boyd writes they are glad they stayed, for it has been a blessed year, "and so rich in its rewards and the prayers of my friends have been answered. I have been given strength for each duty as it came. I know it is nothing but prayer that has kept me going, for 'the flesh surely is weak.'" Mrs. Boyd, as have all the other missionaries in Canton, wrote at some length of the celebration of Miss Noyes' 50 years in China.

Mrs. Boggs, Mrs. Edwards and Dr. Mary Fulton are still in this country, the two former kept on account of the health of their children. Doubtless the climate of southern China is as hard on growing children as it is on the missionaries themselves, and that is another phase of the sacrifice and responsibility our workers assume when they go into these enervating, debilitating climates.

Dr. Mary Fulton is working among the Chinese in California and finds all to do among them and the churches of southern California that her strength will permit.

Rev. A. A. Fulton has charge of the evangelistic work of the field lying between Yeung Kong and Canton, considered one of the most fruitful fields of modern missions. Under his care are some 30 churches and chapels, with over 4,000 members, which represent something of his 25 years of service in China.

Rev. Mr. Henry returned to Canton last spring and is continuing his work in the Union Theological School. As he writes to the C. E. Society of the Church of the Covenant, Washington, D. C., directly, we know little in detail of his work of the past year.

Miss Patton, of the Union Normal School and head of the kindergarten department, finds her time fully occupied with teaching as well as with the administrative work which devolves upon her. This we glean from other letters and reports, for Miss Patton has not written to her Board Secretary during this year. Mrs. Thomson, though not regularly appointed for such work, has been of invaluable assistance in the Hackett Medical College.

Linchow.—Miss Hannah E. Kunkle, Miss Elda G. Patterson, Miss Helen I. Stockton, R. N.

Miss Kunkle, whose work in training Bible women has been greatly blessed, has been spending the year in this country resting and incidentally passing 3 weeks in our Woman's Hospital of Philadelphia. We are glad to report her splendid recovery and have every assurance that she will be much benefited by her furlough experiences.

By action of the South China Mission, Miss Patterson was asked to go from Linchow to Canton to take up work among Bible women, this work to be associated with True Light Seminary and Noyes' Memorial School. This plan was not followed out, however, because there was no one else in Linchow to carry on Miss Patterson's work. Of the year she writes:

"Of the 4 girls who graduated from our school last June, only one is engaged, quite an unusual thing for girls of their age in China, but the 3 others come from Christian homes where the girls are allowed to do as they please about being married. One of these girls is in Canton in the David Gregg Hospital, training for a druggist; one plays the organ nicely for all school meetings and sometimes for church meetings as well. I am especially anxious that all our graduates will be able to do something worth while, as that is the most convincing argument to parents as to the value of the school. They then naturally desire to see their daughters accomplished in the things they see other girls doing."

Last summer Miss Stockton of Canton was transferred to the Brooks Memorial Hospital, Linchow, to assist with the work there. She took with her a pupil nurse from the Turner Training School. The Linchow Parish gives her welcome to her new field and describes her tedious trip "up the river with a fleet of heavy cargo boats which traveled under the escort of a party of soldiers." The trip, which should have been made in 1 week, required 3.

Ko-chau.—Mrs. C. E. Patton, M.D.

On January 29, 1918, Mrs. Patton wrote:

"We have had to make one of those sudden changes in carefully laid plans which you spoke of in your letter. We are stranded here in Canton and do not know when we will be able to get a steamer or junk passage to our field. Reports from Ko-chau which reach us almost daily all indicate a bad state of affairs. Local soldiery have everywhere fled. People of means or in office in all the centers have fled to the country villages. Brigands have seized the opportunity afforded and the country is being ravished. All, however, seems quiet in the city of Ko-chau itself. The 'Little Angel' is now in charge of the church work and keeps us posted. He has promised all women and children, but without baggage, a refuge in the church building, or in the compound, in case of local fighting. In spite of difficulties they had their own Christmas celebration, with over 300 present."

Shek Lung.—Mrs. A. J. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher returned to their field last summer. As they have taken up the work, Mr. Fisher writes of their many welcome meetings and feasts and their being generally pleased with the condition of the church. He hopes to have our continued prayers.

"We need your increased support. The work is pressing on every hand. The opportunities were never better. China needs the Gospel as never before. Shall we halt?"

CHOSEN (KOREA).

The Thirty-third Annual Meeting of the Chosen Mission was held in Pyeng Yang in June, 1917. The population of the field under the care of our Assembly's Board is about 5 millions—while the missionary force stands 55 men, 75 women. The mission stations have increased to 8, the converts baptized and catechumens number about 67,000, total adherents about 108,000. There are 272 organized churches and almost 1,000 groups which hold regular services; 1,241 Sunday-schools, 1 theological seminary, 1 medical school, 1 college, 10 boarding and high schools, and 7 hospitals further the large and efficient work of the Mission. The report claims that while the Gospel seed has been sown broadcast so that there are few who do not know something of the Christ, and while the Mission holds the confidence of both the people and government, still Christian progress in Korea has been slackened. Why is this? The Mission finds the answer in shortage of workers, and finds that shortage appalling. Korea did not receive all the new missionaries authorized by the Korean propaganda of 1907 and 1908. While death and resignation have removed many, new fields are opening, the missionaries are constantly breaking down from the strain of overwork, so that the Mission appeals to the Board and Church to send 14 new missionaries "desperately needed at once," and the other 21 which the work demands as soon as possible.

Seoul.—The Capital. Population of field, 564,000. Mrs. J. S. Gale, Mrs. J. W. Hirst, Mrs. A. T. Ludlow, Mrs. W. J. Scheifley. Assembly's Board, 30 missionaries.

A Union Revival, in which all Protestant Korean churches participated last fall, was prefaced by preliminary prayer meetings; posters were put on the gate of every Christian home in the city. The Pierson Memorial Bible School building is completed and in use. Sunday-schools for the children of non-Christian homes are being organized by the churches.

Mrs. Gale has continued her work among the Japanese women; has started an international kindergarten where music and English are taught the children of Japanese officials; has stimulated the work among the women of the church who, Sunday after Sunday, when having no money, bring rice saved from each meal. As Treasurer of the Belgian Women and Orphanage Fund, Mrs. Gale passed 1,345 yen to the Belgian Consul in November, collected from the foreign ladies in Korea.

The interests of Mrs. Hirst, Mrs. Ludlow and Mrs. Scheifley are largely centered in the great work at Severance Hospital and Severance Medical School.

Dr. Hirst writes of the arrival of their second daughter, Carol, with the suggestion that their lively little quartette makes a very busy mother.

Mrs. Ludlow tells us of the unexpected duties that fell upon her shoulders because of the illness and return to America of the Superintendent of Nurses in Severance Hospital, the hospital being not only full to the limit, but the patients more numerous than the beds, the department for sick missionaries also being crowded. She speaks of Miss Samuel's illness and the joy over her recovery. She describes the opening of a kindergarten for the foreign children last April in the basement of the Hirst home, in which our Mrs. Scheifley, a trained kindergartner, helped to make happy the 16 little tots enrolled. Last autumn the department for Koreans was opened with a trained worker from the Methodist Girls' School as assistant. Severance Hospital had 35,000 patients during the year. The Medical College has secured its official permit from the Governor-General, giving it a standing immediately shown by the increased number of applicants last spring which made it possible to choose the best 25 out of 50 desiring to enter. Every medical student is a Christian. The Dental Department, thanks to the continued devotion of Mr. Severance's children, has all the newest mechanical devices, as well as electricity and compressed air and a fine dentist from Philadelphia. The Renardi Department is attracting well-deserved attention.

Pyeng Yang.—Population of field, 727,000. Miss Margaret Best, Miss Anna S. Doriss, Mrs. W. E. Smith. Assembly's Board, 29 missionaries.

Never must Pyeng Yang be considered an isolated or lonely station. Think of 60 missionaries and their children sitting down for the Community Thanksgiving dinner. Of them 29 are Presbyterian Missionaries and 25 children belong to the station. This field has about 18,500 communicant members, beside 16,000 new believers who must be trained before admission to the churches. There are 270 organized churches; 1,296 members were received last year. Four hundred and sixty-five special Bible Classes were held with an attendance of over 16,000. One Bible Institute for men and 1 for women was held. Beside all this, consider the work in Union Theological Seminary, in the Union Christian College, the Union Boys' and Girls' Academies, the School for Missionary Children, and the Primary Schools.

With the busy life of Miss Best we are all familiar. She reports an attendance of 70 at the Woman's Bible Institute, with 15 graduates in June; the graduating class is an especially earnest one, all have done splendid work; 24 post graduates were back for one month's study. She urges the need of another evangelistic worker for this work and the training classes, and says that the force of single women in Korea is constantly getting smaller, new missionaries not coming to replace those that drop out; that the work dependent on those in the field will soon have to be cut down because the strain is too heavy on those who remain. Whom have we sent to replace Miss Butts at Pyeng Yang and Miss Samuel at Syen Chun? This year Miss Best has been alone at Pyeng Yang, Miss McCune alone at Chai Ryung, Miss Helström alone at Syen Chun, each carrying a tremendous burden in town and country. Chung Ju and Andong have no single women at all.

Mrs. Smith and her family are on extended furlough. Mrs. Smith is at Ridley Park and often with us at Westminster Hall.

Miss Doriss, after a half term furlough, arrived in Pyeng Yang on January 25, after her 5 weeks' journey from Germantown, feeling in good condition to resume the large work awaiting her. She did much for us in and about Philadelphia, while also her presence at our meetings and her story of her Korean friends were always most welcome.

Taiku.—Population of field, 1,250,000. Mrs. H. M. Bruen, Mrs. A. G. Fletcher. Assembly's Board, 18 missionaries.

The Taiku Station has had a good year despite the depletion from workers on furlough. Progress in all lines of work has been marked. The church attendance has been large and there has been renewed activity in preaching to non-Christians, resulting in many new believers. The Winter Class for men enrolled 432, and the General Class for Women, 1,007, the largest in its history.

Mrs. Bruen arrived in Taiku from furlough in September, "made happy by a welcome that was all heart could wish." Three families having been in America, they found the force much overburdened and rejoiced to put their fresh strength into the work. The South Church Sunday-school was given over to her and she began visiting in its district, starting a reading class. She finds the weak Christians who slip back are those who have not learned to read. She is helping also in the Bible Institute, where she had the amusing experience of conducting examinations, pathetic as well, as most of the women being on their knees when she entered the room made it difficult for her to be strictly honest in "passing" them! She describes their Christmas as the "realest" one they ever had—even the children entering into the spirit of giving to those in need and making the day brighter for Korean children.

Mrs. Fletcher has written twice during the year, sending also reports of Dr. Fletcher's Hospital and Leprosarium. Her delight was great when the Mission voted as theirs the new home built by funds from the Philadelphia Board. We hope that by this time they are cosily settled in it, and that the little son, born in August last, is adding his voice to the merry laughter of his sister ringing through its every room. Mrs. Fletcher has continued her teaching in the two terms of the Woman's Bible Institute, and has charge of the Sunday-school in the Second Church, with its enrollment of 202. Dr. Fletcher's thrilling story of the new leprosarium, with its Christlike work for 100 patients, and also his report of the successful hospital year, can be secured at our office.

Syen Chun.—Population of field, 675,000. Miss Jane M. Samuel, Miss Hilda Helström, Mrs. S. L. Roberts, Mrs. H. A. Rhodes. Assembly's Board, 18 missionaries.

Syen Chun Station has this year welcomed back from furlough almost half of its missionary force. The work has grown in all departments despite the strain of added burdens on brave shoulders.

Miss Samuel arrived in Columbus in late August, and we rejoice to announce that her progress toward full recovery is quite assured. Her sweet faith and readiness "to walk with Christ through the garden," combined with the prayers of her friends and the Korean Church, and the skill of the "Severance" doctors and nurses, have been blessed of God in restoration. She is now taking special courses in the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and hopes to return to Korea in January next. Through a special gift from friends of Miss Samuel, a house is now being built in Syen Chun for her and Miss Helström, or single women of the Mission who may succeed them in later years.

One great pleasure of this year was our visit from Miss Helström last spring. In our meetings and in our home she brought sunshine and increased love for her and her Korean women. She writes of her joyful reception in Syen Chun on September 24, of her plunging into teaching in the Workers' Class the very next day, of the Bible Institute so homelike with its organ, chairs and matting, of the pleasure of her Bible woman in the watch she took her from Philadelphia. She closed her letter with a plea for a house to be built especially for the single women, telling us how the crowded conditions of the station had placed a family in the home long used by herself and Miss Samuel. The day her letter arrived we had news at the Treasurer's office of the special gift above noted for this very purpose.

Mrs. Roberts has not been heard from this year save by the card announcing the arrival in their home on March 30, 1917, of William Dayton Roberts, Jr.

Mrs. Rhodes returned from furlough last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were transferred from Chung Ju to Syen Chun for evangelistic work. No letter since their return. The work will be greatly strengthened by the addition of these gifted and consecrated missionaries.

Chai Ryung.—Population of field, 415,500. Mrs. Wm. B. Hunt, Miss Katherine McCune (W. G. Missionary). Assembly's Board, 12 missionaries.

Mrs. Hunt has not written this year. The report says that Mrs. Hunt has been doing "the next thing," which every missionary knows keeps one busy all the time, for it means Women's General Classes, attending evangelistic meetings, acting secretary, home calls on the women, teaching the foreign children and so on ad infinitum.

Miss McCune writes in August:

"The heat is something one cannot express in words, and if this letter is dry, know that the writer is nearly reduced to a cinder! 'Keep busy' is a motto I try to carry out. I am now teaching in the City Bible Class where 500 are enrolled. In the afternoon I am studying 5 hours on the subjects I am to teach this next year. For diversion I paste white paper over the used post cards the W. G. girls send and write Bible verses upon them in Korean. I am having the missionaries' children over for dinner to-day to celebrate the birthday of 1 of them. The birthday cake is a perfect success (made with water and crisco) and with its nine little candles will make the eyes of those six children big with pleasure. The ice-cream will be made after the Philadelphia recipe, but we will not compare it with the real Philadelphia brand!"

Other letters in September and October tell of Bible Classes held in various country places, all largely attended and full of interest. To this dauntless little woman what matters it if all her clothing and boxes were soaked in transfer from the steamer to the island visited, if she wore Korean clothes and slept on the floor of the church with insects galore; if in her sailboat four long-horned oxen got to fighting, so that with drunken boatmen, prayer was the only refuge; what matters if half the women in the classes had lively babies, if carpenters were hammering; what matters it since the women were eager to learn, since they were ready to cheerfully endure persecution, since they were bringing in unbelievers until the church was packed, since many were turning to Christ!

Chung Ju.—Population of field, 390,000. Mrs. S. P. Tipton, Mrs. Edwin Kagin. Assembly's Board, 8 missionaries.

Chung Ju Station is one of the youngest in the Mission, having just completed its ninth year. It has 4 missionary families. The work in this southern province is more difficult than in the north, because of the division of the population into upper rich scholar class, the lower poor servant class, with a small middle class. However, the Gospel light is breaking through both superstition and ignorance, so that there is a growing friendliness toward mission work.

Mrs. Kagin wrote in the summer of the immediate prospect of moving into their new house, which certainly would bring much comfort after the semi-Korean home with its paper partitions preventing quiet or privacy. She tells of the necessity of caring for little Julia Elizabeth herself, as the Korean servants have slight idea of responsibility or care for the little ones. To be a good wife, an ideal mother and model housekeeper is indeed giving the Koreans most important lessons by example.

Mrs. Tipton's home was brightened in July by the arrival of a little daughter, Mary. The sister Helen, older by just 2 years, immediately adopted the baby and began to bring her up in the way she should go. Mrs. Tipton is rejoicing in the new dispensary just completed, which greatly increases Dr. Tipton's opportunity to reach many more of the people. The medical work is steadily increasing. There is great need of a graduate nurse. When she can be spared from the home and language study Mrs. Tipton helps in the hospital. Way off in that little village the people are suffering very much because of high prices and increased cost of living. Rice, their main staple, is exported in such large quantities that it has advanced in price 100 per cent. Wood is scarce and expensive and all cotton materials have advanced until almost out of reach of the people. Wages remain the same, the average laborer getting only 15 cents a day. Yet the Thanksgiving offering of this church was $25.00 gold for Foreign Missions. The transfer of Mr. and Mrs. Cook to Andong, and their appointment at close of this year to the new work among the Koreans in Manchuria, has caused much sorrow to all the missionary circle in Chung Ju. A host of the natives have a signed petition which they presented to the Presbytery, asking for the return of the Cooks to this people, who love and trust them. Should this request not be granted, they plan to urge it further at the coming annual meeting.

Kang Kai.—Population of field, 350,000. Mrs. C. S. Hoffman, Miss Carrie L. Few, Mrs. Archibald Campbell, Miss Jennie M. Rehrer, R. N. Assembly's Board, 9 missionaries.

The report of Kang Kai Station was presented to the annual meeting at Pyeng Yang last June under a series of 50 questions, beginning, "Do you know that Kang Kai has the most beautiful site in the Mission?" These 50 "Do you know's" will supply graphic information of this wide-awake station; copies may be had at our office.

The Rhodes family will be greatly missed by their co-laborers and their transfer to Syen Chun greatly regretted. Mrs. Hoffman now becomes our senior missionary at Kang Kai. She has charge of the Girls' Sunday-school, the Teachers' Training Class, and teaches in the General Class. She has an interesting Woman's Missionary Society which studies mission lands in turn. The return of Dr. Bigger from furlough was a great satisfaction; the request for a second physician does not seem extravagant when we consider that 300,000 people look to the Kang Kai Hospital for medical relief.

At last the station request of many years for a trained nurse was met by the arrival of our Miss Rehrer in October. Miss Rehrer, after visiting five stations, sees at Kang Kai the most wonderful opportunities for service. She finds the hospital smaller than any in the Mission, but feels it might be equal to any in its work if only it had proper buildings. She is working hard on the language, eagerly longing to be of more service to Dr. Bigger and to help the needy women who throng the dispensary.

Nothing has been heard from Mrs. Campbell since immediately after her arrival in Kang Kai in February, 1917, but we learn that a little son arrived last fall.

Miss Few writes:

"My third year language examination I took the day before Annual Meeting, and I am glad to report that I passed and am now a full-fledged senior missionary. I spent the rest of the summer with a teacher, preparing work for the fall teaching, calling on the sick and back-slidden or weak Christian women of the Sunday-school which I superintend. I held 2 classes in September, 50 miles from Kang Kai and realized anew the blessed privilege of teaching the Word of Life. These women could not read and their minds are dull, so that again and again I would have to repeat the simple Gospel story. This is not easy to do in a strange tongue, when the hearers are more interested to know how old I am, if I do not wish to see my mother, and why I left my home to come to Korea! Do you realize that at least seven-eighths of the women I teach have never spent one day studying in a school-room? Those who can read learned since they became Christians, when they were middle-aged, or even older, and only about 1 in 50 can read and write. Imagine these country women, who often cannot remember their own names, remembering the names of Christ's disciples, the apostles, the cities in the Holy Land. In the class I am now holding there is a brighter group of women, nearly all being able to read and having seen enough of foreigners to make me seem not so much of a curiosity. I am delighted that Miss Rehrer is assigned to Kang Kai. Both sent out by the Philadelphia Board, how delightful it would be if you could build us a home of our own."

Andong.—Population of field, 609,000. Mrs. W. T. Cook. Assembly's Board, 6 missionaries.

Andong Station reports a great year of seed sowing. The effort to get the whole Church to feel its responsibility for the distribution of the Scriptures resulted in a sale this year of 18,300 volumes. Not only this, but the salaried colporteurs in 8 months greatly increased their sales. The needs for a nurse and a woman evangelist are imperative.

Mrs. Cook. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were transferred to Andong for this year, as noted under Chung Ju. Returning from furlough they reached Chung Ju in August. Mrs. Cook gives a charming account of their home-coming, their joy as they walked down the long line of white-robed figures, the sun setting over the hills and the air filled with songs of praise and prayers of thanksgiving from the happy people. To leave this devoted people after 7 years of service for new scenes and strangers of Andong did not daunt the happy spirit of our little missionary, as the 3 letters from the new field bear good witness. She writes:

"For a month I felt as if I were doing so little outside my home, but now I want to sing all the day, for again I am able to do something for these poor, benighted women. I now have 2 classes a week, 1 for the young women, and 1 for the dear old ladies, and I am trying to teach the school children some songs, which is my most difficult task. I am scheduled for 2 Country Classes about the first of December. These will be precious hours, for the country women are so eager to learn. My Bible woman arrived this morning and now we can commence house-to-house visitation. I am well, but I get tired, the result of doing more than I ought, but so much is to be done, and there are not many here to do it. The churches who support me sent me 9 wonderful useful Christmas boxes for the Koreans. As they came, one after another, I could not believe my eyes. How many women have been made happy!"

INDIA.

NORTH INDIA MISSION.

So few letters have reached us during the year (doubtless owing to war conditions) that we are unable to give as full a report as we would desire, but in spite of the scarcity of news we have every reason to be encouraged by the reports of the Evangelistic Campaign. The great task now confronting our missionaries and native Christian workers is that of "consolidating the positions gained"—to borrow from the war telegrams.

Fatehgarh.—Rev. C. H. Bandy (C. E. Missionary), Miss Emily Forman, Miss Mary Lovett.

Twenty years ago when the Brahmins in this district had so strengthened their organization against Christianity as to make work among them almost impossible, Mr. Bandy and his co-workers turned their attention and efforts to the evangelization of the lowest caste—the untouchables—with the result that the village Christians now number 23,500 and 9,000 children. A teaching staff is being built up from among these people, the money for which has been generously provided by a friend deeply interested in the work.

The contract method is still felt to be the system for the village schools—that of paying a boy who has learned to read for everyone he teaches. At once mother, grandmother, wife, sisters, and sisters-in-law begin to read with only the commercial value in view, but so the number grows.

"Little by little, high and low, young and old, are learning to believe right, to talk right, to die right, and in time we hope to do better by living right."

Miss Lovett, who was obliged to return to this country for special throat treatment, we are glad to report has improved so much that she has been able to visit some of the societies interested in Rakha School and to tell them of the growth of the work. The progress of Rakha School during recent years resulted in an enrollment of 130 the past year. Two of the 5 girls who passed the government examinations were awarded scholarships.

The evangelistic work is having its reflex influence upon the girls themselves. Miss Forman wrote that she had been wanting for months to start a communicants' class and when she asked one evening who among them felt they would like to give themselves to Christ and make an open confession of Him, to her joy 40 came to her room.

Allahabad.—Mrs. C. A. R. Janvier, Mrs. Arthur Ewing, Mrs. Sam Higginbottom, Miss Jean Tracy, Miss Myrtle Dueret (W. G. Missionary) (resigned), Mrs. Don Griffin.

Mrs. Janvier's varied experiences are very interesting, covering, as they do, village preaching, zenana work, teaching and translating—success and disappointment accepted as equally God's will. At the close of her report she wrote that she could not recall a period in her life when she had worked so hard steadily, and that it seemed that the strength which often seemed to be giving out had been supplied miraculously.

Mrs. Higginbottom finds time not only to care for her own children but to treat an average of 36 patients daily in her dispensary, and to take care of babies whose mothers work on the farm. In one instance where a baby almost died from an overdose of opium given by a mother to quiet it while she was away, in answer to prayer the baby recovered and the mother began to listen to the Bible woman. As a result Mrs. Higginbottom had the joy later of having the mother and her 3 children baptized on the veranda of their bungalow.

The farm has grown in popularity so fast that missionaries who said 5 years ago that they could not get students are now begging them to tuck in a pet protégé somewhere. Requests have come for agricultural advice from rich and poor, high caste and low. The American farm machinery is in great demand and the native ruling princes are constantly asking to borrow agricultural missionaries, for whom they are willing to pay double expenses and allow them to preach in their States where missionaries have never been allowed before.

Mrs. Arthur Ewing, now on furlough, was hoping to return to India, but on account of her health she has been advised to remain at home for another year. We have had no report from the Mary Wanamaker School this year.

Miss Tracy. Indirectly we have heard that Miss Tracy is suffering with neuritis, due probably to overwork, as she is short of helpers. She lost a valuable helper in Miss Ducret, who resigned from the Mission last July to be married.

Mrs. Griffin we have not heard from this year.

Jhansi.—Mrs. Wm. Hezlep.

The work in Jhansi has grown so much that they are in great need of another missionary, but given the missionary they have no house for him.

Mrs. Hezlep is doing all she can in every way to help Mr. Hezlep, besides her work among the women and zenana visiting. The school building is completed and in use and they are talking of needing an addition in a year or two to make it a High School.

With prices as high as they are at present, the Christmas box sent out this year by the young people of the Pittsburgh Presbyterial Society was a great blessing, containing among other things, yards and yards of cloth, enough to make warm dresses for the wives and children of all the native Christian workers, and some left over for the poor Christians.

Etah.—Miss Mary Forman, Miss Elizabeth Galbreath.

We are sorry not to have Miss Forman's good report this year, which has no doubt shared the fate of many others on its way over. We know the school is there, and our faithful workers, so we can surely report progress along all lines. Miss Fish has been loaned to the North West Board so we cannot claim her now. Her last letter told of her having passed her first examinations and of her anxiety to be at work.

Mainpuri.—Mrs. W. T. Mitchell.

This station met with an irreparable loss in November in the sudden death of Mr. John Forman. Although on furlough and much in need of rest, Mr. Forman was working among the Hindus in California until shortly before his death.

After a long but pleasant journey Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell arrived in Mainpuri in November, where they received a royal welcome. As the train pulled into the station in the evening, they were met by about 300 people—Indian Christians, pupils, teachers, and friends carrying torches and singing songs of welcome. The horse was taken from their carriage and High School boys acted as the fiery steeds.

The torches made a good deal of smoke and 300 people a lot of dust, but the Mitchells declared they would not have missed it.

In April the good news was received of a gift to the Board of a piece of land comprising $7\frac{1}{4}$ acres by the Rajah of Mainpuri, to commemorate the arrival of a son and heir. Though a very devout Hindu the Rajah is very friendly to the Mission and is especially interested in the High School. The land just given has been used by the Mission for more than 20 years, but no rent has ever been collected by the Rajah. Including the 3 schools the daily attendance is about 430.

Cawnpore.—Mrs. S. M. Gillam.

Our workers in this station are rejoicing over the prospect of a new church building—a real church—something they have never had in Cawnpore, and already the interest in the furnishing is very keen, all wanting to have a share in it. Other denominations as well as Presbyterians have taken part in the Evangelistic Campaign in Cawnpore and this union has resulted in a great blessing to all, from 1,000 to 1,500 attending the meetings.

Kasganj.—Mrs. J. H. Lawrence.

Mrs. Lawrence, on furlough, has found the cold of the past winter almost too much for her. On their return to India, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are to be stationed in Mainpuri, to take Mr. Forman's place—to have charge of the Normal and Training Schools. Mrs. Lawrence writes that they are looking forward with pleasure to their new station, but feel sad at leaving Kasganj, where they started the work. With 6,500 Christians (about half women and girls), with 3 missionaries, 12 workers, 2 Indian preachers and a school of 150 boys, they found their days fully occupied.

No report has been received from Etawah this year.

PUNJAB MISSION.

“No news is good news” is a proverb which surely was never coined by a Foreign Secretary in the process of preparing her annual report, and it is most disappointing that no letters were received during the year from 5 of the 25 Punjab missionaries. However, in these days of uncertain mails, let us give these non-correspondents the benefit of the doubt and believe that their letters are lying at the bottom of the sea, as some of them doubtless are. The 20 faithful missionaries made up in the quality and quantity of their letters for the deficiencies of the rest. Next year there will be published in this report an Honor Roll consisting of the names of all those missionaries who have written three or more letters during the year, and it is hoped that the list may be a long one.

Ambala.—Miss Ada Ayres, Dr. J. R. Carleton.

It was a great joy to hear from Miss Ayres for the first time last April. She writes very interestingly of the work of the Mary E. Pratt School, where she is a teacher. They have recently organized a Normal Department from which 7 girls were sent up to take the government examinations at Lahore—5 of these girls passed, which was a good record. Miss Ayres writes of her 2 Bible classes, one composed of little girls, the other of the teachers in the school. She says that the work of the school is closely related to the village evangelistic work. To quote her own words:

“Our girls and teachers are desirous of spreading the Blessed Message among the village women and children. And we find many opportunities of going out in little groups to the neighboring villages. We usually spend our holidays in this way. Last year and the year before, in company with some of our teachers and girls, I spent nearly all my Christmas holidays in camping in this district where the need is so great that we wish we could give more time and effort to this work.”

A letter received from Dr. Carleton last July made record time, as it was an answer to a letter sent to India in April. If every letter to Punjab missionaries had elicited as prompt a reply, this report would be refreshingly complete. Dr. Carleton's letter is full of the effect of the war upon India. She says that one of the very best war hospitals in the country has been built in the Ambala cantonment. She tells an interesting incident of a number of fine, tall Sikh soldiers who were interviewed by an English lady who gave them tracts. She discovered that they were returning on furlough to their home after 2 years at the war and they seemed so pleased to be talked to and were glad to receive the tracts. They said of one apart: “Here is our commanding officer, do not forget him, give him a tract.” Then when the train was due they all stood up in line and saluted her, such splendid looking men.

Dehra Dun.—Miss Elma Donaldson, Miss Anna Benade.

Because of continued ill health, Miss Donaldson has resigned as the principal of the Girls' School and has been made principal emeritus, Miss Sleeth taking the position of acting principal. Miss Fullerton writes most appreciatively of Miss Donaldson's splendid work and influence. She says:

"A lady who has a protegé in the school said to us only a few days ago that she selected this school above all others because she found among the Indian Christian girls who had graduated from it, whom she had met in various places, a sterling character, which showed that Miss Donaldson, who has been 28 years associated with the school, had been able to impress them with the principles which make for true worth. Miss Donaldson's name has been a household word for wisdom, integrity and faithfulness in many Indian homes."

Miss Benade writes most enthusiastically of her new work in the Dehra Dun School, where she has recently gone as a teacher. It must be an exciting experience to plunge from language study into real teaching, and from the spirited tone of her letter Miss Benade enjoys it. She brings health and zest to her work.

Ferozepore.—Miss Alice Jones.

This is the first year in which no letter has come from Miss Jones, so it seems reasonable to suppose that a letter from her may be reposing in her relative's (Davy Jones') locker in the ocean.

Hoshyarpore.—Dr. Emily Marston, Miss Amanda Kerr, Mrs. A. B. Gould.

Another note of sadness has been sounded in the Punjab Mission by the sudden death of Dr. Marston, in August, after an illness of only 4 days. By quite a strange coincidence Dr. Marston, only a week before her death, wrote to your Secretary, and of course this letter was not received until many weeks after her death. In this letter Dr. Marston spoke of feeling so well that she did not need a vacation during the hot season as the holiday work was very light. Because of the season of the year no other missionaries were in Hoshyarpore at the time of her death, and the funeral services were conducted by the native pastor. This seemed especially fitting, because of the love for all natives which Dr. Marston had displayed during her 26 years of healing service in India.

Miss Kerr deserves a gold medal for the 4 splendid letters which have come from her during the year. Perhaps the fact that she sends her letters by registered mail is the secret of their safe arrival. The last one arrived only a week ago and is full of the Christmas festivities which they enjoyed at the school. The most original feature was a transplanted Christmas tree. Miss Kerr had a cyprus tree dug up from the garden, roots and earth well wrapped in banana leaves, carried into the school-room and placed in a bath tub. It was replanted the following morning. Surely the most ardent forest conservationist could not object to such a variety Christmas tree; though as Miss Kerr naively remarks, "I thought if it would die it would be in a good cause." One can read between the lines Miss Kerr's unselfishness in remaining at the school to give her kiddies such a happy Christmas party, and they echoed her spirit by giving half of the money for their candy to the children of blind sailors and soldiers.

Pleasant letters have come from Mrs. Gould, who is spending her furlough at Wooster, Ohio. As she is at present visiting in the East, it is hoped that Mrs. Gould will be able to visit her Foreign Secretary and also attend some of the meetings of the Philadelphia Board.

Jullundur City.—Mrs. Grant Jones.

Since their return to India, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Jones have been transferred to Jullundur, of which Mrs. Jones writes as follows:

"We are getting acquainted with our new district and shall no doubt in time get to love it as much as we did the Rupar district. We have a larger parish and a great many more people to care for. Our Christians alone are over 3,000, scattered in about 150 villages. There are quite a number from the upper castes here. Mr. Jones' 5 superintendents are all men from the upper castes, and all with very interesting histories. My work has some serious problems. It just happens that the wives of so many of the workers are shut out from doing much outside work, either by being young women with large families, or too sick or ignorant to do anything. Then there are several men who are wifeless. We cannot send single women to do this work, and I do not see what the solution is to be. But there will be a solution, of that I feel sure, before we have been here very long."

In district work she mentions visiting the province of a most progressive Maharajah, who gives mission workers a free hand. Here they found a model little town with good roads, electric lights, hospitals for men and women, schools for boys and girls. If only Christian churches might have been added to the list it would have been an ideal town, indeed.

Kasur.—Miss Sara M. Wherry.

In a letter written by Miss Wherry in October she speaks of the unusually long and severe rainy season which has wrought much havoc and brought much disease to this district. Bridges were carried away, villages along the river bank caved in, while other villages were so surrounded by water that the people could not get out—5 missionary workers were out of a house and had to live in tents. Miss Wherry says that it is only 12 years until her 50 years of service will be completed, but that much may happen within that time. She is hoping that the Lord will have come.

Khanna.—Rev. E. P. Newton (C. E. Missionary).*

Mr. Newton has spent the past summer recuperating his health in a quiet mountain village 7,000 feet above the sea level, a village which bears the unusual name of the Fort of the Sikh priest. The Sikhs now, Mr. Newton says, constitute the finest fighting material in the Indian army and are employed on all the battle fronts. Only 5 foreigners live in this remote place and the natives live in their terraced hillside farms where the land is naturally more perpendicular than horizontal. The marauders to these Indian crops are far more formidable in size than our American cutworms and weevils, since black bears disturb their fields by night and monkeys by day. Because of their religious superstition the monkey, which is a sacred animal, cannot be killed and Mr. Newton says these poor farmers have to let them destroy their fruit and corn, so the monkey does not seem as humorous an animal to them as it does to a boy visiting the Zoo.

Lahore.—Mrs. J. C. R. Ewing, Mrs. E. D. Lucas, Mrs. C. L. Rice, Mrs. Wm. J. McKee, Mrs. Henri Ferger, Mrs. J. LeRoy Dodds, Miss Eva J. Smith, Miss Clara Lloyd, Mrs. Arthur E. Harper (Sharakpur).

Dr. and Mrs. Ewing, who are on furlough, have been spending the past winter in New York City and your Punjab

*At the time this report goes to press, notice has been received of Rev. Newton's death.

Secretary had the very great pleasure and privilege of entertaining them in her own home after Mrs. Ewing had spoken at the December missionary prayer meeting. By quite a coincidence a letter arrived from Mrs. Lucas at the very time of her parents' visit in Doylestown. Mrs. Lucas wrote of their safe arrival in India last September after a long journey. Because of the prolonged rainy season malaria fever had become very prevalent in India and her 2 little children, Teddy and Jane, were ill with fever for some time. In regard to her new duties she writes:

"There are so many duties connected with being the wife of the Principal of Forman College that I find my time fully occupied, though I know I shall never be able to accomplish all that my mother, who is a perfect wonder for work, has always been able to do. For instance, 10 days ago there was the annual directors' meeting at the College with a dinner for all the Directors to be arranged. Fortunately we have an excellent cook, the nephew of the man who was for 37 years with my parents as their cook, and he managed everything splendidly. The college is full to overflowing with more men than ever before (about 800). We are thinking much these days about the India campaign which we hope is to be conducted in the churches at home during the coming winter, and are hoping and praying that more interest may be shown in India and more money given to the work than ever before. It is certainly a day of wonderful opportunity."

The Punjab missionary bride this year is Mrs. J. Le Roy Dodds, who sailed for India last August. A delightful note came from her en route to Vancouver, while another new Punjab missionary, Miss Eva J. Smith, who sailed at the same time, writes that she and Mrs. Dodds are in the same language study class and live in different sides of a big house which has been fitted up for two families. Miss Smith seems to have plunged into work at once, as she writes:

"I go to visit a little school several times a week, the jail school, made up of children of the jail employés. I am not much use except to be interested in the school. The teacher speaks English, so I can talk to her and know what the children are doing through her. I am learning the little catechism and will teach it to the wee children."

To learn even a little catechism in a strange language within the space of a few months seems a great achievement.

There is a third new missionary this year in Lahore, Miss Clara Lloyd, from whom no letter has yet come, but it is hoped that she will prove a good correspondent later.

No letter has come from Mrs. McKee to break her record of silence, but strangely enough both Mrs. Rice and Mrs.

Ferger for the first time have failed to get letters across the seas. The Lahore report seems most incomplete without extracts from their interesting letters.

Sharakpur (Lahore District).—Mrs. A. E. Harper.

Mrs. Harper writes a charming vacation letter from the hills of Landour, often called "Saints' Rest," from the number of missionaries summering there, and Mrs. Harper gives interesting items about many of the other Punjab missionaries, 10 in all, so your Secretary suggested to Mrs. Harper that next summer she give a correspondence party, the chief feature of which should be a letter from each one present to the Punjab Secretary. Mrs. Harper speaks of the fascination of pioneer work like theirs at Sharakpur, so full of possibilities for new ideas and methods. Any one who read her interesting article in the Continent entitled "What Would You Do?" will realize that she has given much thought to the possibilities of their field. Mr. and Mrs. Harper are the proud possessors of a Ford, the first one in the Mission, and by means of it their field of usefulness will be greatly enlarged. One wonders whether they have christened it "Missionary Lizzie!" "This brings the Sahib softly, softly when we do not know."

Ludhiana.—Mrs. E. M. Wherry, Dr. J. H. Orbison (C. E. Missionary), Mrs. J. H. Orbison.

Mrs. Wherry shares with Miss Kerr the splendid record of 4 letters written during the year. The celebration of their golden wedding made the year one of unusual interest to Dr. and Mrs. Wherry. About 150 friends gathered at Woodstock College, where Dr. Wherry was acting Principal, and they all helped to celebrate the happy event. Mrs. Jones sent a full account of this festivity, which it would be interesting to include in this report, did space permit. Mrs. Wherry writes most appreciatively of the gift sent to her by the Philadelphia Board and says further:

"The Lord has been so good to me and I am thankful to have been permitted to live so long for Him in this dark land. I am thankful also to be living in this time of changes for the improvement of India's women. So many now desire to learn to read and write and also to listen to the Word of God."

Mrs. Orbison sent some very interesting data concerning the immense amount of work done during the Evangelistic Campaign in her district. Sixteen workers visited more than 1,600 people, spending hundreds of hours over the task.

Dr. Orbison's last letter arrived only a week before this report was compiled. In it he, too, emphasized the discomforts of the rainy season. Often trips had to be made on horseback over ploughed fields, but despite these difficulties he had enjoyed a wonderful camping trip through the Ludhiana district. Several of the missionaries have emphasized the fine qualities of the Sikh soldiers. Mr. Orbison also speaks highly of them in the following extract from his letter:

"In these days there is naturally great excitement over the war and everywhere people are anxious to hear the latest news. This gives us an opportunity to lead on to the subject of the greatest of good news regarding Him who is the Prince of Peace who came to bring peace on earth and good will among men. The Sikhs of this district are enlisting in the army in large numbers. They are the famous martial race of the Punjab and make splendid soldiers. Would that more of them would enlist under the banner of the Lord Jesus."

Missouri.—Miss Margaret C. Davis.

A delightfully original letter has come from Miss Davis, in which she tells of borrowing a prayer meeting when the girls were quarantined with measles. This was the beginning of a regular Sunday morning service for the girls of Woodstock College. Heretofore they had gone to different churches which were some distance away. Miss Davis also tells of her first glimpse of the mass movement. She says:

"It was fascinating and strenuous. In the day time we went from village to village and then every night held meetings in a big tent. In many of the villages there were people to be baptized. I wonder why religion has always been a matter of hairdressing. It has been, you know. The Hindu wears a little rat-tail of hair on his crown and everything depends on those few hairs. The people among whom we were camping were Sikhs who never cut their hair at all, but do it up in a knot under the turban. So when we went to villages where there were people to be baptized, a part of the ceremony was hair cutting. I remember in one village there were no scissors forthcoming; even though the high caste people who gathered to see the ceremony were earnestly asked to lend a pair—there were none. A fellow convert offered to cut off the wad of hair with a sickle, but the man objected and was not baptized that day."

Saharanpur.—Miss M. E. Johnson, Miss Emma Morris.

Miss Johnson spent last summer in recuperating from a severe but successful operation for goitre performed early in the spring. She writes that she was much touched by the way in which her Indian friends prayed for her and showed their love and sympathy during her illness. Miss Johnson sends the following interesting description of a drama of the "Prodigal Son" performed by lepers:

"Several months ago," she says, "a party of lepers with their teacher came to the leper asylum here, a mile away, to visit their friends, and the visiting party performed a drama out of doors one evening in the front of the Seminary, with us and our Seminary community and the lepers from the asylums here as audience. They had painted the rough scenery themselves and all the actors were lepers. The father had a long, white beard and the younger son was very realistic while he wasted his money and drank from supposed whisky bottles. He sang quite well, and when he tottered in in his rags it was quite pathetic to see him clinging to his father with his poor stumps of hands. The 6 or 7 women from the Women's Asylum of which Miss Boyd has charge seemed to enjoy the performance. After it was over they climbed into the ox cart which was to take them home and I stood in the moonlight and heard them singing quite sweetly as they went out one of their favorite hymns. One verse is:

When all had forsaken me,
When all stood afar off—
Then Thou didst take me in Thy arms—
O Light of my heart.

Yes, even in that terrible disease He can give cheer and comfort. I have seen it."

The only difficulty in reporting the work of Miss Morris is to make a selection from the wealth of interesting material contained in the 4 letters received from her during the year. In one she tells of a Ludhiana Presbyterial meeting where the treasurer declared that every report was in on time and was correct. American Presbyterial Societies, please copy!

She also depicts a vivid contrast between missionary methods old and new. "The schools of former days were nice little veranda ones as a rule," she writes, "no inspection, no examinations, no required training, no striving for a goal." She presents a missionary problem in mathematics when she tells us that in her district there are about 1,000 Christians in over 100 villages ranging over a district 35 miles long. No wonder that her friends think Miss Morris needs a Ford to help her in her journeyings. Concerning this she writes amusingly as follows:

"My sister has written to know whether I could use a Ford. They say that I can; but then they do not know what a coward I am, and that I sit in the back seat of my bullock cart so as not to have to see the road ahead of me because of the ups and downs, the ruts and mud holes fill me with such a panicky feeling that I lose half of my available strength wondering whether we are going to get through them right side up! If I look ahead I spend such a lot of time jumping out and walking to avoid the bad places that I do not know what I should do in an auto. Perhaps I'd get up courage, who knows? I would not dare to get out, for then we should lose time, and I can get out of the bullock cart without any fear of that. I told her that I did want one, and if I get it I shall pray for the grace to use it. It gave me an all night headache the first time I gave out some medicine, and now I have been able to go to a cholera camp and spend 10 days there and not be 'phased' by it. I remember a remark I once saw to the effect that the epitaph of any missionary might easily be 'She hath done what she could not.' So maybe I could learn to run a Ford without having a nervous fit at the very thought of it! And think of my being a missionary! I marvel greatly many times at the goodness of God who has 'counted me faithful,' putting me into this ministry."

WEST INDIA.

Sangli-Miraj.—Miss Grace Enright, Mrs. W. J. Wanless.

Reports from this station are most encouraging. The evangelistic work has been pressed forward in the villages the greater part of the year, and thousands of copies of the Bible, New Testament and other Christian books have been sold—more than in any previous year—indicating that old Hinduism has ceased in large measure to satisfy modern India.

As a result of the work among the women of Sangli and district there are many indications that a break among the higher castes is not far distant. Several women in Mahratta and Mohammedan homes have boldly confessed to the Bible woman their faith in Christ and have stated their desire for baptism, but are held back by fear, although confessing Him among their friends and relatives. The growing tolerance of the new doctrine is more and more marked, and there is now only an occasional village in the district where the Gospel is still rejected.

Dr. and Mrs. Wanless are on furlough this year, comfortably settled in Brooklyn, in easy access to New York, where Dr. Wanless is taking some special study in surgery. Mrs. Wanless writes that the 2 boys are enjoying American schools immensely, and that little Margaret Elizabeth, born last August, is thriving splendidly.

Patients have come from far and near to the hospital in Miraj; even Persia, Arabia and Africa have been represented and the building has been taxed to its utmost capacity at times. At the noonday Gospel services for women patients and their friends, amid such distractions as shaking an iron cot to quiet a baby, reading a letter aloud, hair-dressing, scouring pots and pans, the Gospel story has been told, as there are always the earnest listeners who encourage with a nod or word or with tear-filled eyes.

Kolhapur.—Miss Elizabeth Foster, Mrs. David Updegraff.

In Kolhapur another gold star has been added to those on the service flag of the King of kings. On March 18 our dear Miss Foster was released from her suffering to be with her Lord whom she had served so faithfully. One of her friends wrote that through all her suffering her trust and faith had been an inspiration to all. Quoting from Dr. Stanley White's testimony:

"No one at the Mission has given more faithful or devoted service than she, and while we shall mourn her loss, I am perfectly confident that she has entered into a fulfilment of life where she will be thoroughly at home, for she walked with God even when she was here, and now He has taken her. What it means for the Kolhapur Station to lose her unwearrying services, it is impossible to state."

We have not heard directly from Mrs. Updegraff this year, but were sorry to learn of her serious illness of typhoid fever last summer.

No hard and fast line can be drawn between a Mission's evangelism and its philanthropies. The 10,896 patients who have been treated in the Women's Hospital and Dispensary during the year came to get philanthropy and received evangelism as well. The doctor's recent attendance on various patients of the Maharajah's extensive connections have increased the already marked cordiality of His Highness toward our Mission in Kolhapur.

A striking object lesson was given to the community when out of a group of some 300 inoculated for plague, only 2 died of the disease, while the one family which refused the remedy was wiped out.

The Alice Home Mrs. Goheen likens to a nursery for young plants—29 varieties springing up rapidly, transplanted from very poor soil, but growing now with good promise of fruit and flowers.

Our town schools for girls continue their good work among all castes. There is no difficulty now in entering the homes of our pupils, many of whom will spend life between four walls.

Kodoli.—Mrs. Henry Howard.

It was left to America to introduce Mrs. Howard's 3 tired little folks to the measles and following that the chicken-pox on their arrival in this country, but fortunately they soon recovered and the family finally settled for the winter in one of the Wooster homes. Mrs. Howard had the pleasure of attending the annual meeting of the Cincinnati Presbyterial Society and meeting again the many friends who have been interested in her and Kodoli Station so many years.

When famine raged through western India years ago, Kodoli missionaries in huts and houses made of fodder, and in farmers' cottages, sheltered more than 800 orphan children. The Brownie Orphanage is a thing of the past now but the fruit is a large Christian community scattered over 30 villages; from fourscore Christian homes come boys and girls to the Kodoli Christian School. The school roll now numbers 200 and at a recent tea party for Christian mothers 115 babies were present—a good prospect for the kindergarten later. We are glad to be able to report that Mrs. Howard's dream of a new school building will soon be realized.

Vengurle.—Mrs. Robert Goheen, Mrs. J. M. Goheen, Miss Frances Goheen.

Mrs. Robert Goheen wrote from Kodaikanal, where there is a fine school for American children, that she was encouraged to find that Nancy and Alice, on being examined, had made fourth and third grade so that she could keep them at home with her another year. The need for more workers for Vengurle is very great—78 miles from a railway, lonely, the climate enervating and the Vengurle Brahmins as bigoted as any to be found anywhere; yet Mrs. Goheen asks if there are not some Livingstones and Chalmers among the young people of this generation who will come to Vengurle just because it is hard.

In October the Goheen family had the great joy of welcoming back to India Miss Frances, who is to help her brother, Dr. Goheen, as a nurse in the hospital. After having spent almost 40 years in Kolhapur, Mrs. Goheen, Sr., has been transferred to Vengurle to work among the women—she and her daughter Frances to have a little home together near the hospital.

Ratnagiri.—

This past year the workers in this station have successfully tried out their theory that the real missionary work is the village work, which means to have workers reside in village centers from which they can work out for 5 miles on all sides—over 50 villages have been reached in this way. The agricultural and industrial experiments with up-to-date methods were received with much misgiving—the completion and filling of a silo was the cause of much discussion—the villagers finally deciding that the missionaries' heads had gone wrong, but after seeing the cattle devour the silage, their opinion was changed. They decided that the heads were all right, but that God had worked a miracle because the missionaries had done the work, but that no such thing would work for them. All kinds of medical advice is asked for, from prescribing for their cattle to furnishing wooden legs—as the missionary had advised the amputation of the leg, he supposed he would have to make the wooden leg.

JAPAN.

It has not been a year of great things, our Mission reports, but rather a quiet, steady growth, and strengthening of work already established. The impact of the war is felt in the constant and rapid increase in the cost of living, and by many in their sacrificial gifts of sons to their country's need. But with even more than usual fortitude and calm assurance of faith our workers abate no jot or tittle in their service, and across the dark cloud of the world's tragedy they see always the bright bow of promise. Among the cheering signs of Japan's new day is the broad humanitarian spirit manifested by the Emperor and Empress, and by others of high rank, in their large benevolences to the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, hospitals and so forth. A special Educational Congress is advocating reforms, looking to higher general education, whereby many of the problems of higher Christian instruction would be solved. During the last 5 years there has been an increase of nearly 50 per cent. among young men seeking a Christian education. "The government now has only 2 schools for girls above High School grade—2 Higher Normal Schools. It is proposed to have universities for young women, and also to have the doors of the Imperial Universities opened to them." The summation of the 3-year evangelistic campaign shows that 4,788 meetings were held, with a total attendance of 777,119, and the number of decisions for Christ 27,350.

Tokyo.—Mrs. T. M. MacNair, Miss A. B. West, Miss E. P. Milliken, Mrs. H. M. Landis, Miss M. H. London, Miss I. M. Ward (W. G. Missionary).

During the fall this city suffered from a most disastrous typhoon, in which there was much loss of life and property. Our Mission was unscathed and was able to render assistance to the suffering and distressed.

The Chimoto Kindergarten, under the care of Mrs. MacNair, opened its new year with 52 in attendance and a waiting list. A new and favorable site has been purchased for the school and its future is big with promise. The homes of the children are faithfully visited and mothers' meetings held. Some of the indirect results of this work for children are illustrated in the statement that "on graduation day 2 of the mothers asked to be prepared for baptism, saying that their interest in the Christian life had first been awakened by what they had heard from the children."

The Training School for Women Evangelists, under the joint care of Miss West and Mrs. MacNair, is a strong contributing force to the evangelistic work carried on throughout the city.

"The students of this school have sole charge of 5 Sabbath-schools, work in 8 others, assist in women's meetings, visit the sick in home and hospital, and engage in personal work."

Miss West also reports:

"Seventeen evangelistic meetings a month held in my own home and other places. Ladies are often willing to come to the meetings when they are not yet willing to go to church."

No letter received from Miss Milliken.

Mrs. Landis, who has given 2 sons to their country's service, finds healing for her sore heart in motherly ministries to other mothers' sons in attendance at the Meiji Gakuin. Classes in the College, in the Foreign Children's School, and her Sabbath-school work, fill the residue of her time.

Miss London, with her classes in the Joshi Gakuin, her many duties as house-mother to the young inmates of the school, her Bible class for young men in one of the churches, knows no idle hours. She writes with enthusiasm of the Woman's Union Christian College, whose doors open this month. It is to be located temporarily in the suburbs of Tokyo. She says:

"In addition to the curriculum in the English and Japanese departments, it has been decided to add a course to train Social Service workers. In connection with the recent flood and typhoon disaster it was plainly shown that at present Japan has very few intelligent and sympathetic social workers. Money was given in surprisingly liberal amounts, but efficient distribution of this was lacking. No school in Japan is really training workers for this needy field of labor."

Miss Ward wrote in happy vein of her own little home in Tokyo, of her women's meetings and Sabbath-school work:

"My old Sabbath-school boys came yesterday, asking for another class such as we had 6 years ago. I want the class as much as they do, for from it have gone out 3 Sabbath-school superintendents, at least 9 Sabbath-school teachers, and several young elders for churches."

Kanazawa.—Miss I. R. Luther.

The year has been a hard one for this station in the depletion of its workers. Our own Miss Harris, in charge of the music department, has resigned from the Mission to become the bride of Mr. Converse, a Y. M. C. A. worker. Her service to Japan does not cease, however, but will continue in evangelistic work among the factory girls of Sendai. Twenty-one girls were graduated at the close of the school year; 65 new ones entered, making the largest class in several years, the daily attendance being 145. Miss Luther wrote in early fall:

"Ten girls have been baptized since summer, and others are preparing. Several young men have been taken into our church, too, lately, and over 30 attend my Wednesday night class."

Osaka.—Mrs. G. W. Van Horn, Miss S. Alexander, Mrs. J. E. Hail, Miss M. H. Fulton.

In this city of nearly a million and three-quarter inhabitants there are 4 self-supporting Presbyterian churches, with 2 in adjoining suburbs—35 churches of all denominations. Two thousand factories, with their thousands of employes, where nearly everything is made, are a constant challenge to the Christian worker.

Mrs. Van Horn reached America on furlough in August with health and strength at very low ebb because of long-continued overwork in Sabbath-school, kindergarten, women's meetings, visitations in homes, out-station work, and last, but far from least, in nursing a sick husband through typhoid fever. With rest and medical care she is slowly regaining health at Pasadena, California.

Since her resignation from the principalship of Wilmina School a year ago, Miss Alexander's health has been in a most critical condition. But in spite of her greatly depleted state, and contrary to the fears of her friends and physicians, her complete freedom from care and responsibility, supplemented by medical assistance, has wonderfully restored her, and she is again picking up the dropped threads of work. As we have had so long and vital an interest in Wilmina School, it might be said in passing that its enrollment this past year was 240 pupils, 110 of them being new ones.

Miss Fulton.—No letter received.

Mrs. Hail.—No letter received.

Wakayama.—Miss M. H. Ransom, Mrs. Merle C. Winn.

We have to add a new station to our list with the advent into it of these 2 missionaries. Miss Ransom during the year withdrew from her educational work in Wilmina School that she might give herself entirely to evangelistic work, and was assigned to the above station. She says of her new location:

“It is 2 hours' ride by electric car from Osaka, is an old castle town, and, consequently, has wide, clean streets. Its proximity to the sea and freedom from factories make it a much healthier place.”

With her home as the nucleus she is seeking to establish the Christian faith in this Buddhist center.

Mrs. Winn returned during the year to her native land, Japan, as the bride of a missionary's son. Here these young people are investing their heritage of missionary zeal and interest in Church, Bible-class work, in home visitation, women's and children's meetings.

Yamada.—Miss Jessie Riker.

Miss Riker was appointed last year to the Outlook Committee of the Mission, and in 10 weeks traveled 5,000 miles, visited 25 cities and towns and made 50 addresses to larger and smaller audiences. She says of this work:

“The outlook is an exercise, an education, a privilege and a joy.”

All of this work has been in addition to her oversight of Evergreen Kindergarten, to her church and Sabbath-school work. Because the pastor of the local church has been in ill health for months, and because his church refuses to accept his resignation, hoping for his restoration to health and to his pastorate, Miss Riker has been pressed into service as substitute pastor and has acceptably filled the pulpit twice a Sabbath for months. A recent unexpected, but highly-prized, opportunity has come to her to present the religion of Jesus Christ once a week to a group of girls employed in a factory.

Hiroshima.—Mrs. W. E. Hereford.

Like many other missionary mothers, Mrs. Hereford is undergoing the trial of separation from her young daughter, who has come to America to continue her education. The Hereford Grammar School, the High School, Y. W. C. A. and classes with young men, claim a large portion of the time remaining from her evangelistic work.

Kyoto.—Miss F. E. Porter.

In July last Miss Porter reached America on furlough, and for the first few months was obliged to remain under a physician's care and treatment. Since the return of normal health she has responded to calls from churches and societies for missionary addresses, and has in this way sought to quicken interest in our work in Japan. In her report for the year she says:

"The meetings for children averaged 50 during the year, and some of the mothers have come to listen to the Bible stories. I have Bible classes for men, one at my home numbering 20, one at the church of 15. They came for the English at first, but now are more interested in the Bible than in English."

Nokkeushi.—Rev. G. P. Pierson, D.D. (C. E. Missionary).

Mr. Pierson faithfully sends his quarterly letters to be distributed among his young constituency. They read like the inspired epistles of old. His annual personal report says:

"Assisting the work at 12 points extensively, and at Nokkeushi intensively, has made this year one of the happiest in my missionary experience. Two of our stations are local street chapels, at Sapporo and Asahigawa. The Obihiro prison work is sustained. There are small meetings of grown-ups, but large children's meetings. In Nokkeushi, at Christmas 25 adults were baptized; at Easter, 20 adults and 10 infants. It is a day of vast opportunity with us. We need as evangelists men who, being saved themselves, earnestly desire to save others. An earnest, praying, working Christian is of a price above rubies. 'One Christian in earnest will move a church; 10 Christians in earnest will move a city.'"

Shimonoseki.—Mrs. F. S. Curtis.

With 2 sons in their country's service and her one daughter in training in America for future missionary work in Japan, Mrs. Curtis gives her undivided energies to the tasks at hand. Having been released from her temporary position in the Girls' School, she says:

"The work here in this region, so far as we are concerned, lies principally across the narrow strait in the cluster of manufacturing towns, which need a resident missionary and settlement work."

As opportunity offers she revisits her old field in Chosen.

JAPANESE IN CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco.—Mrs. E. A. Sturge.*

The annual report of this foreign work in the homeland says:

"The year 1917 was the best in some respects in the history of our work. The Japanese of Stockton have subscribed over $6,000 for a new church; in Salinas they have contributed $4,000; in all, the 12 Japanese churches and missions have given this year for improvements and expenses, $22,697, or more than 3 times the amount appropriated by the Board for the field. There were 122 additions to the churches. In Los Angeles the Presbyterian Japanese church and 2 Congregational churches will be federated, to be known as the Central Japanese Church of Christ. Two new missions have been added and their expenses maintained without asking the Board for additional help. Six of our young men are in the San Francisco Theological Seminary, preparing to give their lives for the evangelization of their people on both sides of the Pacific."

MEXICO.

The delayed Regional Congress, held in Mexico City, March 27 to 31, 1917, was a marked success. Ten representatives of Boards from the United States were present and about 100 leaders of the Mexican churches. The programme outlined at the Cincinnati Conference was revised and its realization furthered. Arrangements were completed for the beginning of the Union Theological Seminary in Mexico City, which opened May 1 with 3 professors. Six Boards are coöperating, and the first 5 students were from 5 different denominations. Plans are being carried out for the consolidation of several Mission presses, the publication of a union paper, and the conducting of a union book depository. Presbyterian medical work has actually been started in Vera Cruz, where a dispensary is in operation, in charge of a member of the church who was a druggist for many years and who gives his services without remuneration. The Mexican Church has learned many lessons in self-support and self-propagation during the revolution, when the missionaries were out of the country.

* At the time this report goes to press, word had been received of Mrs. Sturge's death.

Merida, Yucatan.—Miss Blanche B. Bonine, Miss Jessie Bergens.

With living expenses in Merida very much increased and a house in which to open a Girls' School well-nigh impossible to procure, Miss Bonine returned to the homeland early in the year. During the summer and autumn she did most acceptable Field Secretary work for the Board, and in December returned to Mexico City in time for Mission meeting, of which she says:

"We had a wonderful Mission meeting, both in the spirit of it and in the work accomplished. The Board granted the enormous rent allowance for Vera Cruz and Merida; Miss Turner can bring her teachers from Aguascalientes to Vera Cruz, but it is too expensive to take any across the gulf and pay what we must over in the peninsula, consequently I go alone to Yucatan, and my plan is to find a house and some of our own girls who can be trained to be teachers and to spend these months training them before September, when Miss Bergens and Miss Sage will come to Merida."

On January 21 the Assembly's Board approved the request of the Mexico Mission for a grant of $250 gold monthly as rent for the school at Merida, also $2,000 for equipment of said school.

In June the way was open for Miss Bergens to return to Mexico, where she continued her language study and passed successfully the first year examination. At Mission meeting in December she was appointed to City Mission work in Mexico City under Mr. Petran, with the prospect of going to Merida, Yucatan, in September, to be associated with Miss Bonine in the Girls' School.

GUATEMALA.

Guatemala City.—Miss Eleanor Morrison (W. G. Missionary).

The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. began mission work in Guatemala City 35 years ago, during which time a large brick church building, capable of accommodating 500 people, was erected near the center of the city, and also a commodious manse. At the side of the church a printing plant was built, from which millions of pages of Christian literature have gone to all parts of Central America.

On the north side of the city a fine brick building, covering half a block, represents the Girls' Boarding School, equipped with modern appliances, and which last year housed 57 pupils under the care of Miss Morrison, a Westminster Guild Missionary. Near the Girls' School a beautiful hospital building and Nurses' Training School was erected in 1911 at a cost of $13,000, the only institution of the kind in connection with missionary work among the 6,000,000 people in Central America. During the school vacation in December, Miss Morrison obtained permission to spend the holidays at her home in Stockton, Kansas, expecting to return in January for the opening of the school year. Late in December the startling message was flashed over the wires that Guatemala City was in ruins, owing to severe earthquake shocks. From Christmas day until January 3 there were 4 terrific shocks, interspersed with lesser ones of varying intensity, and we are told that there is not an uninjured house in the city. The Girls' School building is destroyed, the hospital in ruins, the church building reduced to a heap, and the printing house torn to pieces, while 100,000 people are homeless. The silver lining to this cloud of calamity is that the lives of all missionaries have been spared; and the call comes to us not only for sympathy, but to arise and build.

The Assembly's Board has granted to Miss Morrison her year of furlough at this time.

PERSIA.

EASTERN PERSIA.

"In the midst of the elements of a great conflagration or sudden explosion the missionaries occupy a very trying position, calling for the earnest prayers of God's people for them, and for the work of Christ in that troubled land." Eastern Persia is feeling more of the distress, though very little recent mail has come through to give us definite information.

Teheran.—Miss Faye Fisher, R. N., Miss Mary Gardner, Mrs. S. M. Jordan, Mrs. H. C. Schuler.

Our new missionary, Miss Fisher, left Teheran to assist in work at Severance Union Hospital, Seoul, Chosen, and has since resigned from the Mission and is returning home.

We have no word from Miss Gardner telling of her work in the Iran Bethel School for Girls, but this is an added proof that mail is being lost, and we may be sure she is doing good work. Three classes were taken by Mrs. Schuler, 1 a training class of Armenian girls in preparation for church membership. Three Armenians and one Persian girl, graduates of Iran Bethel School, all earnest Christians, are in the hospital training class, and another is in Resht, teaching Persian and Arabic in the Girls' School. Mrs. Schuler was elected President of the Iran Bethel Alumnae Association, which is having a valuable influence over the women. She also had charge of the Armenian Brotherhood of the American High School, which has a membership of 53, and 4 boys accepted Christ as their Saviour.

The Mission has been made custodian of much goods, entrusted to it by Armenians, who live in a constant state of terror. Many itinerating trips have been made by missionaries and natives. The first evangelistic journey by a Persian woman has been a success, and 2 Armenian women have entered this branch of service, while others are ready and anxious to do so. Mrs. Schuler reports crowds of women coming to the tent to receive simple remedies and staying to listen to the Gospel message.

Last year Mrs. Jordan was a welcome presence in the homeland wherever she went, carrying helpful messages of the work. She sailed August 30, and, though no details of the trip after leaving Japan have reached us, the safe arrival of the party in Teheran has been cabled and we can realize with what joy their return was heralded. Mrs. Jordan's ardent longing to take 2 young women back with her for school work was only half realized, and she is hoping we may find another one to follow when conditions make it possible.

Kasvin.—E. T. Lawrence, M.D. (C. E. Missionary), Mrs. E. T. Lawrence, M.D.

News of a busy year come from Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence, with evangelistic services 5 or 6 times a week, always followed by sale of Scriptures, and an open dispensary where bodily ills are cared for. The book sales are small because of the ignorance of the people, who have no use for books they cannot read. One convert from the Mohammedan faith is doing valuable work with his Bible readings and prayer. Ten places have been visited in itinerating trips, Dr. and

Mrs. Lawrence walking from place to place and camping out. In the services Dr. Lawrence has the help of a native assistant and Mrs. Lawrence gathers women and children, finding them eager for the Word of God; while the two daughters, Grace and Annie Ruth, do their part distributing cards among the children. War conditions brought many alarms, but our missionaries went steadily on their way unafraid, and ready to help wherever need was found. The coming of refugees and Russians gave unexpected opportunities for the spread of the Gospel.

Hamadan.—

Hamadan was "bottled up" for 6 months, no news of the outside world reaching it. Joy was great when home mail arrived; and, reading that the United States was in the war, all were thankful the Turks had left before it came to pass. Touring was curtailed and medical work hampered by loss of drugs en route from England. The hospital was loaned for Red Cross work, resulting in considerable damage to the building, which had been newly put in order. Returning refugees found their homes destroyed and there is much suffering. We can only "hope against hope" that conditions are no worse now.

Meshed.—

From Meshed an interesting letter pictures a doctor's visit in a Persian home, or what stands for a home in a country where there is no such word; where woman is "ignorant, superstitious, hysterical and neurasthenic," her only happiness in her children, though she has no idea how to take care of them.

"May we not pray that these little ones may have a fair chance to hear the glad tidings of great joy which they need as sorely as those who are taught Christian prayers at their mother's knee, and learn to trust in a loving God in their love-blessed home life."

WESTERN PERSIA.

The flag which protected Urumia Station and 15,000 "defenseless Christians" has been presented to the Assembly's Board to tell the story of "sorrow and suffering, injustice and extortion, cruelty and death," and to "preach powerful sermons on faith, love and sympathy." The presentation was made by Rev. H. A. Müller. Though little mail is getting through, we fear present conditions are little better than in those suffering days and relief work has been urgent, the needs being far beyond the means to supply them.

Urumia.—Mrs. Edward C. M. Richards (née Coan), Mrs. F. G. Coan, Miss Marie Gillespie, Miss Edith D. Lamme, Mrs. Hugo A. Müller, M.D., Mrs. W. E. Shedd.

In the midst of so much that is so hard it is good to know that a new joy has come into the lives of 2 of our missionaries, for the marriage is announced of Miss Coan to Mr. Richards, of the Y. M. C. A.; and Miss Mary E. Lewis was married July 5 to Rev. W. A. Shedd, President of the American School for Boys. To take Mrs. Shedd's place in school work Miss Gillespie was sent, sailing August 30, but owing to unsettled and distressing conditions in Urumia it was thought best that she should remain in Tabriz the first year while learning the language. Quilt-making has been continued under Mrs. Shedd and Miss Lamme's supervision and much relief work done. The effort to keep the regular work going as usual has been overshadowed by the possibility of flight, as the protection of the Russian Government was removed; and at this time we do not know what danger these faithful workers may be in, but God knows and all are in His keeping. Since her return from furlough 4 years ago Miss Lamme has been in evangelistic work for women. She writes:

“It certainly is enjoyable work, discouraging at times, encouraging at times. Every Sunday I have a class of Moslem women. Other days I visit in their homes and receive calls from them. This past year I had 4 or 5 of our school boys for lessons from the life of Christ. Every Saturday is devoted to the Jews. Little boys come in groups during the morning and sit attentively to listen to Bible stories. In the afternoon come their mothers with numerous babies, and they truly are a difficult set to manage.”

She tells of the annual meeting at Tabriz which was profitable and enjoyable. On that trip she saw a railroad train for the first time in 4 years. She, too, tells of the poverty and many ragged people and high prices, together with scarcity of food.

Two of our Urumia missionaries are home on furlough. Mrs. Coan being much of the time since her return under physicians' care is hoping to be able to go back to the field when war conditions make it practicable.

Dr. Müller, en route home with her little family, was held up 7 weeks in Russia, making the trip one of 16 weeks.

She is welcome among us and brings messages which are helpful and inspiring. The apparent endlessness of the need in Persia is made impressive, until we, like herself, long to be able to help.

Tabriz.—Mrs. C. W. Lamme, Mrs. W. S. Vanneman.

As in all parts of Persia, the work at Tabriz has been added to by suffering on every side, for everywhere people are hungry and this city has been on the verge of a bread riot.

“Among the Syrians there has been a universal call to service which has left only women, children and the decrepit. They have gone full of enthusiasm to win the prize of an open road home. Let us hope they will return as happy as they have gone.”

On her return to the field Mrs. Lamme has surely found an abundant field for service, and we may assume that the stay of Miss Marie Gillespie through the winter was greatly blessed.

Mrs. Vanneman, at home on prolonged furlough, is anticipating Dr. Vanneman's return this spring and a united family circle during his stay. Her plea is for more gifts for relief of Persia, where people are starving. It takes a strong faith to look forward with joy to Persia's future, but a prayer-hearing God is waiting to hear and answer. May we do our part and pray!

THE PHILIPPINES.

In view of American responsibility for the Philippine Islands, it is gratifying at this time to know of their patriotism, as shown by the instant and hearty expressions of loyalty on the part of the people and government of the Philippines. Immediately following war's declaration a cable was sent to Washington, pledging the government's utmost allegiance to the United States and offering to President Wilson 25,000 troops to do their part on European battlefields. The $1,500,000 allotted the Philippines in the Liberty Loan was quickly over-subscribed, and bonds are owned by rich and poor alike; while a branch of the American Red Cross has been organized, with Governor-General Harrison as Chairman. In the army of the King of kings we are told of 175 evangelical missionaries in the islands, 450 ordained Filipinos, and a church membership of 75,000, with as many more adherents. Last year the Bible Societies distributed 100,000 Bibles and Testaments throughout the archipelago, printed in 20 languages and dialects, and still the call comes to us for more recruits to win even greater victories for the Prince of Peace.

Manila.—Miss Clyde Bartholomew, Mrs. James L. Hooper.

Miss Bartholomew, Superintendent of Ellinwood Bible School for Girls, reports 23 Bible students and 13 dormitory boarders who are attending school or college in the city, also 2 little orphan wards of the Mission. During the year she has had 4 Filipino assistants, 3 of them being graduates of the school.

Notwithstanding the advent of a baby boy Mrs. Hooper has found time during the year for a Sunday-school Training Class and language study, besides sending to us two interesting articles, "One Year in the Philippines," which tells of the problems, the victories and the needs in the work, and "Your Missionary at Work," describing conditions in the Philippines as she sees them.

Batangas.—Mrs. P. F. Jansen.

Since our last report the Province of Batangas has been made a separate station, with missionary residence in the city of Batangas, the provincial capital. Mr. and Mrs. Jansen were transferred from Cebu and are in charge of this growing field. Mrs. Jansen tells us that while the climate is trying the people are eager for the Gospel, and to meet the needs of their field they are using 4 graduates of the Ellinwood Bible School for Girls as Bible women, and a fifth is the wife of one of the evangelists and a great help in the work.

Cebu.—Mrs. Edward I. Campbell, Miss Alice Heywang, Miss Olive Rohrbaugh.

Change has marked the personnel of the Cebu Station during the year, Mr. and Mrs. Jansen being transferred to Batangas and Miss Florence Heywang having resigned and married an English resident of Cebu, while her sister, Miss Alice Heywang, arrived from the homeland in January to take charge of the dormitory for one year.

Miss Rohrbaugh was adopted by our Board, having been assigned to Cebu to succeed Miss Heywang as superintendent of the dormitory. In 1913 Rev. and Mrs. Edw. I. Campbell, after 3 years of acceptable service in the Philippines, were obliged to resign owing to the illness of their little son.

Lucena.—Mrs. Chas. N. Magill.

With a comfortable residence of concrete and a church building of the same material completed and dedicated during the summer, Dr. and Mrs. Magill feel the satisfaction of a somewhat adequately equipped plant for the growing work of Lucena. Mrs. Magill reports a number of itinerating trips through each town in the Province, and mentions the joy of returning to the new home for rest.

Bohol.—Mrs. James A. Graham.

Mrs. Graham writes encouragingly of the work in Bohol. In some congregations where a year ago the older people could not read, they are now able to read the Visayan New Testament, having learned from the big Visayan text, Tim. 2 : 5, which is given to them to put on their wall after they throw away their images and which contains all the letters used in Visayan. Having first learned to read that, they become accustomed to the smaller print in the Gospels.

Tacloban.—Mrs. Chas. E. Rath, Mrs. Warren J. Miller.

Mrs. Rath writes of a 6 weeks' itinerating trip through southern Leyte, with its opportunities to present a living Christ to men, women and children, not only in the chapels but in the homes of the people and by the way. At one center where a church had been established, the women were eager to be organized into a Dorcas Society, which has the threefold purpose of Ladies' Prayer Meeting, Ladies' Aid and Foreign Missionary Society. The Boys' Dormitory at Tacloban has been opened again with 23 boys and Mrs. Rath has reopened her Primary School.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller, after a year and a half absence in Dumaguete, returned to Tacloban in January to resume the medical and dormitory work with which they had formerly been identified.

Dumaguete.—Mrs. Paul Doltz, Miss Eda C. Bowman.

From Silliman Institute comes a song of praise because of the oversubscribing of their Extension Fund of $100,000, thus assuring them a group of buildings which will correspond to their needs for many years to come. The new dormitory for girls, with its 30 students, has introduced a new element in the social life of the institution, and their first "at home," given June 26, has become an established affair twice a month, being much appreciated by the young men of the institute. Eight hundred and fifty students matriculated in June, while hundreds were turned away for lack of accommodations. A new feature of the year was the Agricultural Department experiments being made on the 50-acre farm owned by Silliman, and this promises to be a factor in the food conservation campaign which has been started in the islands. Sincere regret has been expressed both in the Philippines and in the homeland because of the resignation of Dr. and Mrs. Langheim, owing to the continued ill health of Mrs. Langheim. They have been a part of the Dumaguete Station for 16 years, and both in the large and important medical and hospital work, as well as in the class-room of Silliman, they have left their impress for the Master on the lives of those with whom they have come in contact.

Mrs. Doltz writes of their sorrow in parting with baby Dorothy, and of her inability as yet to start a kindergarten, owing to her help being needed in the class-room at Silliman, while the dormitory girls claim her attention and influence as their Sunday-school teacher.

No letter has been received during the year from Miss Bowman, who has charge of the girls' dormitory at Silliman.

SIAM.

NORTH SIAM.

Although Siam is one of our Allies in the great war, it probably has been as little disturbed as any country; for, though prices are high, means of sustenance can largely be obtained within its own borders, and while many men have gone into active service it has not been general. Work has been pushed with vigor, and one item of special interest is the enrolling in the Theological School in Chieng Mai of 2 ex-priests to learn about "the Jesus religion." They seem to mean "real business," and we pray they may learn not with mind only but by complete surrender to Christ.

Chieng Mai.—Mrs. Howard Campbell, Mrs. D. G. Collins, Mrs. Roderick Gillis, Mrs. Wm. Harris.

The return from furlough of Mrs. Campbell found a full year's work ahead of her, though the native teachers were able to finish the term alone in the Phraner Memorial School, which has enrolled 110 pupils. This left Mrs.

Campbell free for the summer for out-village work with her husband, resulting in many baptisms and the organizing of village schools wherever good Christian teachers could be procured. In most villages Harvest Home offerings were received for help in the work.

The home-coming of Mrs. Collins was saddened by the death of her husband; June 9, 1917. But with great courage she has taken up the changed life, speaking at many meetings to the interest of all. She had to go the first of the year for hospital treatment and is now recuperating. Her faith and good cheer have never deserted her through it all. On her return to the field, probably in August, she will be stationed at Prae near her daughter, Mrs. Park, and her valuable services will be greatly missed at Chieng Mai.

On the return to Siam of Mrs. Gillies the trip from Bangkok to Chieng Mai took 4 days by train and carriers, compared with 9 weeks by boat in 1891. She is experiencing for the first time the missionary's sore trial, separation from her child—the oldest, a girl of 10, being left in this country. During the past year she has worked in the girls' school, which is in charge of Miss Hatch of Chieng Rai, who writes, "Mrs. Gillies stays by and is such a comfort." The annual Mission meeting was in Chieng Mai, and was "an inspiration to go on with renewed courage."

Mrs. Harris remains in this country through this year with the daughter who is making such a brave effort to win back health. We hope for opportunities to see her before her furlough ends.

The Girls' School in Chieng Mai is in good hands, but all regret the absence of its principal, Miss Eula M. Van Vranken, whose health compelled her to leave, coming to this country in November.

By a gift of $5,000 through the Philadelphia Board the Chieng Mai Hospital has the promise of a women's ward, to be known as the "Wylie Memorial."

Chieng Rai.—Mrs. W. C. Dodd, Miss Mary A. Niederhauser.

Perhaps the most interesting news of the Siam Mission is the opening of a new station among the Tai people at Chieng Rung, Yunnan, China, a place cut off from the rest of the world, without post office or mail route near. To this station Dr. and Mrs. Dodd were appointed, but due to delay in passports came home for short furlough while waiting and are leaving in April for the new work. It was pleasant to see and hear Dr. Dodd, and he won but enthusiasm for this pioneer effort, which we will eagerly watch. We were disappointed not to see Mrs. Dodd, whose courage and interest have done much to urge on this undertaking, but the unusually severe winter made it imprudent for her to travel about while here. Our prayers will go with her and her fellow-workers at Chieng Rung.

Miss Niederhauser is principal of the Girls' School, which has about 25 boarders and 30 or more day pupils. She has several classes, beside chapel and Sunday-school teachers' class, and, being a nurse, is called on to attend to all the ills of teachers and scholars. Praising God for the privilege of working in His vineyard, she asks our prayers that she may be faithful.

Lakawn.—Mrs. J. L. Hartzell, Miss Hazel E. Brunner (W. G. Missionary).

The woman's work of Lakawn church is in charge of Mrs. Hartzell, who carries on 2 classes for women. Bible teaching in the young women's classes is supplemented by needlework, proceeds of which go toward different branches of the work. The class for the older women devote the time entirely to Bible study. It is a long step in advance when the women learn to think for themselves. Other years Mrs. Hartzell, with little Betty, has toured with her husband, but this year another little girl came and limited her mother's work to the city, the out-village people sending loving messages and gifts to the mother teacher.

Our W. G. Missionary, Miss Brunner, has lived an active existence, with 2 schools having 93 and 53 pupils respectively. Added to regular tuition are lessons in gardening, each child having a plot a yard square. When roads permit bicycling Miss Brunner rides 7 miles on Sunday, and, with the nucleus of 1 Christian family, holds a Gospel service, while in the afternoon she helps with the music in the city church. We are hoping to see both Mrs. Hartzell and Miss Brunner this year on furlough. The message from Lakawn is, "We need missionaries, we need money, we need prayers of all Christian people to back up our effort here on the firing line."

Lampoon.—Mrs. J. H. Freeman.

Mrs. Freeman's furlough was extended until the fall that she might undergo treatment which sent her back to the field in good physical condition. She sailed the latter part of September and our only word is from Japan, en route.

We hope her health has been equal to demands of the work on reaching Siam.

Nan.—Rev. M. B. Palmer (C. E. Missionary).

Our sympathies are extended to Mr. Palmer and his wife for the loss of all their valuables (wedding presents, heirlooms, etc.) by robbers. But we congratulate them on a new treasure, Robert Evans Palmer, added to the family July 14, making 3 boys, and Mr. Palmer says, "Our boys, white and brown, are our greatest assets." The school year has been satisfactory and 17 boys united with the church. The teachers all teach in Sunday-school and take turns leading prayer meetings.

Prae.—Mrs. Charles E. Park, Mrs. Allen Bassett.

The furlough of Mrs. Park has been one of trouble, beginning with the death of her father and including a hospital experience for both herself and her mother, but she has met it all courageously. Her furlough has been extended to August 10. In Prae the women of the church meet every Thursday, one day a month holding missionary meeting and the rest spent in study of the Gospel. The school gathered together by Mrs. Park's efforts will rejoice in her return. Mrs. Allen Bassett, appointed to North Siam, was at Board headquarters in June and shortly after started for the field. While not yet reported at North Siam, she made herself welcome to the South Siam force by her musical talent, delighting all by "skillful and sympathetic rendering" of vocal solos. She was with Dr. Taylor's party going north during the floods and had some difficulties, but many interesting experiences.

SOUTH SIAM.

"The floods came" to Siam this year, exceeding records of 20 years, and resulted in homeless people, loss of property and crops, great difficulty in traveling, and blessed opportunities for missionaries to give help and a word for the Master. The annual meeting was held in the fall at Bangkok and was stimulating, and the guests got safely through the flooded districts after some interesting experiences. The educational work of South Siam Mission includes 21 schools, with 660 pupils, and during the past year 24 of these were added to the Church. One aim of the school work is to provide teachers, pastors, etc., to establish the native work.

Bangkok.—Mrs. J. B. Dunlap, Mrs. R. O. Franklin, Miss Margaret C. McCord.

On return to Siam Mrs. Dunlap resumed the work of former years at Ban Moh Chapel, helping natives to interest passersby who stop and listen, the most encouraging part being among the street children each Monday afternoon. She says:

“When we are tempted to think it is a day of small things, we can remember that our Saviour’s praise came from the mouths of babes and sucklings.”

On Sabbath afternoon she gathers Christian women who cannot attend church service. Dr. and Mrs. Dunlap had an interesting vacation trip in November to the seacoast, passing flood ravaged districts. She says:

“Our Mission schools and missionaries have shared in relief work and carried help in form of food and blankets to the needy.”

From Mrs. Franklin comes a call for more helpers, as 2 of the school force go into evangelistic work. A year has been added to the school course, and, as Mrs. Franklin is the only one who understands shorthand, it falls to her lot to teach that. Her main work is to prepare her children mentally and spiritually to return to America, an important task and great privilege.

We have been praying for 7 non-Christian girls in Miss McCord’s class in the Harriet M. House School and hope soon to hear that all have accepted Christ. The “happy school family” numbers 100 boarding and 80 day pupils, and has long ago outgrown its quarters, but a site for a new school building has been purchased and plans drawn. Special prayer has recently been answered in the conversion of 2 teachers, who, with others, have gone to Manila to study medicine. In the present graduating class are the 2 daughters of Boon Itt, the greatest preacher Siam has ever had.

Miss McCord is active in the King’s Daughters, its 6 branches including most all the Christian Siamese women in its membership, all pledged for recruiting service for Christ.

Nakawn Sri Tamarat.—Rev. Charles E. Eckels (C. E. Missionary).

It is overcoming difficulties when a missionary not only travels about to reach people, but hires a room, sees to its cleaning, makes benches of boxes and lumber, and hangs his lamp before he can begin to preach, but this is one way Mr. and Mrs. Eckels are winning souls in Siam. They travel by rail or carriers, and one railroad station was in the jungle and consisted of a signboard and a few rods of red earth. They were met by carriers and an elephant, and found a pleasant bamboo rest house at the journey's end with welcome for themselves and their message. In addition to this, Mr. Eckels has charge of Bethlehem Church and Sabbath-school, has a week-night Bible class for young men and oversees daily chapel services in the hospital. The total number of church accessions this year from touring and local field was 66.

Pitsanuloke.—Mrs. H. W. Stewart, Mrs. R. C. Jones.

Mrs. Stewart has returned to the field after her first furlough at home. She spoke many times at churches and found it "a pleasure and inspiration to meet with the women and see the work they are doing." Mr. Stewart was commissioner from Siam Presbytery to General Assembly, 1917, and this year he and Mrs. Stewart will be stationed at Boon Itt Memorial Institute at Bangkok.

The Pitsanuloke field, with a population of 507,712, is a large touring parish, and Rev. Jones made 10 motorboat trips and many by rail during the year. The first trip was made in company with his family. A new church was dedicated in Pitsanuloke in December, the occasion made especially interesting by the part taken by boys and girls marching and singing, bringing flowers and wreaths. A strong C. E. Society is an interesting feature of this church.

Petchaburi.—Rev. J. A. Eakin, D.D. (C. E. Missionary), Miss Bertha M. Mercer, Mrs. R. W. Post.

"Development" is the watchword of Dr. and Mrs. Eakin for their touring work. The "parish" is a long narrow strip of country lying between the mountains and the sea, about 300 miles long by 20 miles wide, with a population of about 350,000. In each group an effort is made to find the Lord's choice of a leader who, when found, is given special training for the duty of leadership. The war is taking some of the best assistants, as they are the kind which are wanted.

The Howard Memorial School for Girls, with an enrollment of 65 pupils under Miss Mercer, has had a good year. The 17 girls in the boarding department are all earnest Christians. Morning watch and evening prayers are observed by all the boarders and daily chapel exercises are at 10 o'clock, so all the day pupils may be present and the atmosphere of the school is genuinely Christian. The first graduating class finishes this spring—6 girls, all Christians, who will be used as teachers. The future welfare of Siam not only calls for educated women but Christian women.

Mrs. Post is still waiting for the doctor's permission to return to Siam and the Mission force is "counting the days" for her return. In the meantime she is with her 2 young daughters, planning to leave them here when her opportunity comes to go.

Trang.—Miss Ruth Eakin.

Trang is the new name officially given to Tap Tieng.

School work has occupied the time of Miss Eakin. It was necessary to close the Boys' School, transferring the small boys to the Girls' School, which is taking on new growth, but it cannot expand much without a new dormitory to care for the teachers and scholars. Many children have to be turned away who are pleading for a chance. A valuable adjunct to the Sunday-school is a teacher training class under Miss Eakin, who also has begun evangelistic touring. May the seed sown bring an abundant harvest of saved souls.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The impression received by many thoughtful visitors to Latin America is that our entrance into the war is causing a material change in her attitude to North America. Where formerly the people considered themselves separate from the Anglo-Saxon and held it unpatriotic to adopt their religion or other features of life, they are now drifting towards closer conformity with the general plans of the United States. Religiously there is a growing interest in the schools and a deepening life in the churches. The evangelical church in Brazil has made larger progress than in any other Latin American country. Five theological seminaries are coming together to organize a Union Seminary in Rio de Janeiro and the Brazilian Church expects to raise one-half of the $100,000 needed for equipment. It is interesting to note that from our Latin America Development Fund there has been appropriated to date $5,000 to Caracas, Venezuela; $5,500 to Castro and Bahia, Brazil, and $1,000 to Bogota, Colombia.

BRAZIL.

SOUTHERN BRAZIL MISSION.

Curityba.—Miss Jean Stoner (W. G. Missionary).

From Brazil 2 of our veteran missionaries have entered a higher service during the year—Miss Mary P. Dascomb and Miss Elmira Kuhl, associated in Mission work for 40 years. In 1892 together they founded the “Eschola Americana” in Curityba, and have left behind them in Brazil the abiding memory of noble, loving lives; and the school which they created and which they lived to see provided for in new buildings, is one of the many monuments of their fidelity, courage, steadfastness of purpose, patience and Christlike love.

Miss Dascomb, after 44 years of service, suffered in her closing years from several accidents as well as from failing eyesight; but nothing could quell her energy or dampen her buoyant spirits. In Curityba on October 11, 1917, while peacefully sleeping, she received the call to come up high. Miss Elmira Kuhl, during her 43 years of service in Brazil, had never been ill, and only 4 times until her last return had she been willing to come home on furlough. Yielding to the feebleness of advancing years, she came to the homeland in June, 1916, and while staying for a season in New York entered into the joy of her Lord October 19, 1917, not knowing that her “other self” had been called only one week before. “They were lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided.” The new building of the “Eschola Americana” was completed during the year and accommodates the day school and the school family of 50.

Miss Stoner, our Westminster Guild Missionary and teacher in “Eschola Americana,” writes:

“Most of the pupils are bred in a materialistic atmosphere that is inconceivable. That is the deceptive thing about the civilization here, it seems almost twentieth century, and on the surface one wonders, ‘Why work in Brazil, why not go to needier fields?’ Because needier fields do not exist, the African and the Hindu still has his god—some god, a god—he has a religion, but here modernity has puffed in the face of the superstitious what the Roman Church calls religion and will have none of it. So there is no God, no religion, and the smooth and civilized surface of life conceals a medievalism of thought which is dark and pessimistic.”

Ponte Grossa.—Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Lenington, Mrs. George A. Landes.

Mr. Lenington, a C. E. Missionary, formerly of Curityba, writes that on their return from furlough in 1916 the Mission decided that he should take charge of the work at Ponte Grossa, a town of about 10,000 inhabitants, but where heretofore the gospel of a living Christ has met with little response. But Ponte Grossa is not all of his field, which reaches several hundred miles around that center and requires much travel. He gives an interesting account of a Layman's Convention held yearly at Castro; 57 delegates were present this year and three subjects discussed—"How to Conduct a Sunday-school," "How to Study the Bible," and "How to Direct a Public Service."

No word has come from Mrs. R. F. Lenington nor Mrs. Geo. A. Landes.

Castro.—Mrs. H. P. Midkiff.

Mr. and Mrs. Midkiff received an enthusiastic welcome on their return to Castro after a furlough in the homeland, and the farm machinery for the school was not only passed free of duty by the Brazilian Government, but hauled free of charge from Rio de Janeiro to a port nearest the school. Some of the boys in the Industrial Department are constructing a 50-ton water tank, while others are filling furniture orders, and building a barn, with the prospect of erecting a residence for the principal, and also a new dormitory. The girls in the school are learning not only to do their own sewing; cooking and baking, but are busy embroidering, in order to put their work on exhibition and sell it at the end of the year. These boys and girls are also keen to take advantage of the privileges of study offered to them, and the hope of the school is to prepare teachers for the surrounding communities.

CENTRAL BRAZIL MISSION.

Villa Bella das Umburanos.—Miss E. R. Williamson.

Early in the year Miss Williamson left Umburanos for Caetete, where, apart from household duties, she visited among the people and helped in the church work. Later, on the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Reese she visited the sick as assistant to Mrs. Reese, who is a physician. In November, after attending Mission meeting, she came to the homeland for a well-earned and much-needed furlough.

Ponte Nova.—Mrs. C. E. Bixler.

Mrs. Bixler has had her hands and heart full not only with her own family of little folk, but the care of 30 girls and boys who live in the school. She mentions the high cost of the commonest foods, and fears that the $50 a year tuition will have to be increased. Appreciation for relieved responsibility was expressed because of a medical missionary who has taken up his residence in Ponte Nova, where previously the nearest doctor was 50 miles distant.

Cidade Do Bomfim.—Mrs. A. F. McClements.

Mrs. McClements reports encouragement in the work at Bomfim and of itinerating trips of 1,000 miles made by Mr. McClements on muleback, by train and on boats, when during 2 months 26 persons were received into the Church. She also reports the arrival in November of a baby boy in their home.

At the December meeting of our Board of Directors a new missionary for Brazil was adopted—Mrs. A. J. Martin, who with her husband expects to sail shortly for South America.

URUGUAY.

Montevideo.—Rev. W. E. Browning, Ph.D. (C. E. Missionary).

The new position of Dr. Browning as General Educational Secretary for Latin America made necessary his resignation as Principal of Instituto Inglis in Santiago de Chile. From the amount of travel required each year it was deemed advisable to make his headquarters in Montevideo, which is centrally located and where the Union Graduate Seminary will be established to which students from all over South America may find an opportunity for still better training for leadership. Dr. Browning's work is to study evangelical schools, their curricula, influence on the native church and community, and their relationship to governmental education, to aid in the federation of Mission schools and to encourage union schools and enterprises. We are told that in the near future he will be occupied with the organization of an Evangelical Teachers' Institute for Argentina, Uruguay and Southern Brazil, and can be called at any time by any Mission school or Mission Board to help in the solution of educational problems.

CHILE.

Concepcion.—Mrs. E. G. Seel, Mrs. S. C. Henderson.

Two new missionaries, Mrs. Seel and Mrs. Henderson, who were welcomed at our June directors' meeting, sailed for Chile in August, and although no word has been received from them since their arrival, we understand that they are located in Concepcion for language study. From missionary sources we are told that a reactionary wave of moral and educational reform has swept over Chile during the past year and in consequence there are radical changes in government programs as well as substantial advance in Christian work. The missionary, however, is ever conscious of the problems of poverty, vice, unsanitary conditions, the inertia of ignorance, the callousness of wealth and the superstition and prejudice of Romanism.

COLOMBIA.

Barranquilla.—Miss Martha B. Hunter, Mrs. T. H. Candor, Miss Jane Morrow.

Early in the year Miss Hunter, Principal of the Girls' School, came home on furlough and we had the pleasure of having her with us at our November prayer meeting and hearing of the work of the school. Since her return to Colombia in December, she writes of the joy of service and of their gratitude for the new wing to the school building which was made possible by an appropriation of the Philadelphia Board, and which is now being used to good advantage. She mentions the satisfactory progress made in the church, where the men have recently organized definite and permanent work in 5 new centers in the city, and where the chapel is now filled to overflowing with earnest believers who are eager to show their love by service. During the year the Seminary students made a 4-weeks' tour of surrounding villages and brought interesting reports of work accomplished.

Miss Morrow, who had charge of the school during Miss Hunter's absence, writes a most interesting account of the work at Barrio Ariba, a populous section of the city about a mile and a half from the school. There is no church and the people are very poor, but for 2 years preaching services and Sunday-school have been held each week in the homes of the people, and 15 from this district have united with the church at Barranquilla.

Mrs. Candor, who has been on furlough during the year, returned to Barranquilla in December, and writes of their pleasure in occupying the new missionary residence erected during their absence and of the house-warming given them by 100 members of the church, who took entire charge of an interesting program of speeches of welcome and hymns.

Medellin.—Mrs. J. H. Cruickshank.

Mrs. Cruickshank writes that the work there goes on the same as usual, although the people are extremely fanatical. Mr. Cruickshank opened a school with 17 pupils, the number being restricted because of the fact that attendance at Sunday-school is required. Mrs. Cruickshank teaches in the school and has charge of the church music, besides caring for her 4 little children. The need of a young woman missionary for this station is being provided by the transfer of Miss Sayer from Bogota.

Cerete.—Mrs. John L. Jarrett.

The work of this scattered and needy field continues to keep the heart and hands of Mrs. Jarrett full of love and good works for the many who come to her for help. For part of the year she was deprived of the assistance and companionship of her daughters, who were in attendance at the Girls' Boarding School at Barranquilla. As this is the year of their furlough we are hoping that one of the daughters may become a full-fledged missionary.

VENEZUELA.

Caracas.—Mrs. T. S. Pond.

An important epoch of the year for Caracas is that in February, 1918, it attained its majority, having been a station for 21 years under the faithful leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Pond, who were transferred from Barranquilla to take charge of the new work. During these years the work has been confined almost entirely to Caracas, although when men and women and money are available, plans are made for the regions beyond that are calling for the Gospel. During the year 3 missionary families have been at work and 3 new places in different districts have been opened for services, while 9 cottage prayer meetings held on Friday evening are well attended. The church now numbers 107 communicants, of whom 30 were added during the year.

Industrial work was continued, and notwithstanding increased cost of materials and difficulty in disposing of work, the sales were more than for 2 previous years and the proceeds helped in many ways to further the work. The call comes for a young woman for kindergarten and evangelistic work, her support is assured and the need imperative.

SYRIA.

Still another year we must report Syria under the same dreadful war conditions. The Assembly Board's force in Syria numbers 36, 7 of whom have been on furlough this year because of impossibility of return. Let us daily remember the 13 of Beirut, the 7 of the Lebanon, the 9 of Tripoli, the 7 of Sidon. Let us repeat the names of our very own members of this noble band: At Beirut, Mrs. March, Miss Horne; at Zahleh, Mrs. Erdman, Mrs. Freidinger; at Tripoli, Mrs. W. K. Eddy; at Sidon, Miss Brown, Mrs. S. D. Jessup and Rev. G. C. Doolittle. May each memory be a prayer! Through the government at Washington, by way of the Swedish Minister at Constantinople, a cable on June 11 reported: "The Turkish Foreign Office assured me to-day, April 14, that the buildings of American institutions will not be occupied, and that it desired to act in everything as gentlemen toward the United States Government." He also said that American co-workers in the provinces could come to Constantinople. In August the Board reported 1 lady missionary, Miss Tolles, as having come out from Syria with a group that left in July; also that correspondence was not possible, although money could be forwarded through the State Department. A letter from Rev. Wm. S. Nelson, dated September 11, 1917, came through safely. He writes:

"All is well with the little circle in Tripoli. I spent last Sabbath out in a group of our nearest villages, and it was a sad experience, as the spirit of discouragement is gaining more and more on the people and they feel that if nothing develops in the way of release this fall that most of the people are doomed to starvation. The pressure on the people for soldiers and supplies increases day by day. Wheat is almost unattainable at quite 4 times the ordinary price in gold. The government is taking all the grain and soap, lumber and other supplies, and hurrying them into the interior. I expect to suspend food distribution soon, as we shall need all the money we can command to protect our own people in the coming winter."

Dr. Stanley White gives this information on March 18:

"On Friday, March 15, 1918, the Syria Relief Commission sailed from New York to go to Egypt via the Cape of Good Hope and Ceylon.

They had to take this roundabout route because the British Government did not want them to pass through the Mediterranean. In this relief expedition were Mr. Nicol and Miss Hunting of our Mission, and Miss Theodosia Jessup, who is under appointment to our Mission; also Mr. B. C. Millikin, Educational Secretary of the Board. It is the purpose of this relief expedition to work in the rear of General Allenby's line as it moves northward, and the hope is that they can eventually reach the Syria Mission and bring the relief which is so much desired. We have learned during the last few days that some time in January Mr. Charles A. Dana, the treasurer of our Mission, was probably deported to Konia, where he was with his family at the time we last received information. We know none of the particulars. You will be glad to know that we are laying our plans for strengthening and enlarging the Syria Mission at the close of the war. We hope not only to broaden the geographical limits of our Mission, extending them northward towards Aleppo, but also to increase the force by at least 8 men and 5 women, including the 3 now under appointment. In the various campaigns of the last 3 years Syria has necessarily been omitted. It is her turn next. Anything that can be done to broaden the activities, interest the home Church, and push along this matter will be the thing to do. We have reason to believe that our churches, schools and hospitals have not been closed, though scarcity of food and fuel has prevented opening the boarding department of the schools. The sorrows of our missionaries and the strain upon them because of the suffering of the people about them must be beyond our powers even to imagine. Their heroism and steadfastness in standing at their posts, when they might have escaped, is beyond all praise. Ambassador Elkus has said, 'Write the names of everyone of the missionaries left in Turkey with the greatest heroes on the western front.'

The story of the capture of Jerusalem from the Turks by the British on December 10, 1917, and the entrance of General Allenby and his victorious British army into the Holy City, is too familiar to need repetition here. The whole tale reads like romance, the joy in Jerusalem being unbounded, even the Mohammedans hailing the British as God's deliverers. The prayers of the Christian world will follow General Allenby and his victorious army as he presses northward to the relief of this land ravaged by famine and pestilence and under the heel of oppression and tyranny.

LATEST.

April 2, through the Assembly's Board, the United States Department of State, the Royal Swedish Legation at Constantinople and the American Board of Foreign Missions, Boston, information has been received as follows:

"Mr. Charles A. Dana, wife and 2 children left Beirut November 29 and are in Konia. The journey was not probably taken at Mr. Dana's own initiative. A telegram from the Dutch Consul at Beirut, dated December 10, states that Paul Erdman was elected his successor."

Through the Committee of Armenian and Syrian Relief a cable is received as follows:

"Nelson departed to Adana, and Dana with family to Konia. Information is received leading to the belief that they are kindly cared for in the places named, and that efforts are being made for their return to the United States."

HOME DEPARTMENT.

COMPILED BY MRS. CALEB GREEN, FROM REPORTS OF THE HOME SECRETARIES AND CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES.

The year 1917-1918 has been an unusual one for the Society, and we feel the need of much prayer and reconsecration to face the opportunities and sacrifices of the coming year.

What we should have done without Mrs. Watters' clear-headed leadership as Acting President it would be difficult to estimate. We are thankful indeed that she has been able to guide us during this difficult year.

Foremost in importance among the changes confronting us is the resignation of Miss Hodge from the Board and as our President. Who can measure the untiring zeal, the lovely consecrated influence which we have had in our midst. Miss Hodge has now take up in full the duties of Executive Secretary of Central Committee, and while her resignation brings much regret and a sense of personal loss, yet we appreciate and share the satisfaction of the Women's Boards at her acceptance of this influential office, knowing that the work will gain by a closer coöperation among all the Boards. Under our new President and with the splendid organization of our Society, let us go forward in the same spirit of consecration to meet the greater calls of the coming year.

Our Society again has been honored by the election of Mrs. John Harvey Lee as chairman of Central Committee to fill Miss Hodge's unexpired term, an honor bringing with it added responsibilities and opportunities.

Another sacrifice we are called upon to make for the greater benefit of all, is the loaning of our most efficient, almost indispensable, Field Secretary, Miss Gertrude Schultz, to the Presbyterian Department of Missionary Education, to occupy Mr. Milliken's place while he is absent in Palestine.

Although sincerely regretting the resignation of three of our number this year, Mrs. Harold Peirce, Mrs. J. W. Cochran and Miss Edith Hartwell, we all the more warmly welcome four new directors, Miss Agnes Nichols, Miss Clara B. DeHaven, Mrs. William D. Sherrerd and Mrs. Robert M. Veach, and feel sure that the work will be strengthened by their help. Our most efficient Literature Secretary, Miss Margaret Boyle, has also resigned, but we do not lose her valuable services since she takes the position of Office Secretary.

Pleasant recollections, broader vision and greater zeal are some of the results of the new Summer School of Missions at Chambersburg, Pa., last June 26 to July 5. This conference was planned to be similar to that of Northfield; being in a more accessible place, many large delegations attended from our territory.

Biennial Assembly for April 23-25, to which we had all been looking forward, was necessarily annulled, and all plans for it canceled, but the time and prayers given to it have not been wasted, simply transferred to cover a wider field during a longer time. Miss Allis heads a committee arranging for Central Committee's meeting, and also a special day for our Board during the session of General Assembly, while Miss Purves is chairman of the pre-Jubilee Committee for 1920, which plans great things for the Lord that year.

We state these facts briefly, but they mean much to the Society and to our constituency.

SYNODICAL, PRESBYTERIAL AND AUXILIARY SOCIETIES.

It is with deep gratitude and pride that we record the work of our Synodical and Presbyterial Societies this year in their splendid response to the Board's request for advances all along the line. The Auxiliaries increased in regular gifts $10,500. There was a decrease in gifts from individuals and miscellaneous sources of $4,400, but the record above shows sacrifice and prayer on the part of many.

From the Societies in Pennsylvania come messages of encouragement from the faithful effort put forth to meet the unusual conditions. One President writes, "We believe our women have put 'first things first' and have remained loyal to their missionary work in the midst of all the other demands upon time and purse." Another, "In these days of special drives and campaigns, the encouraging reports from the societies in our Presbytery show steadfastness of purpose in loyalty to our Board above every other good work." "Our women are showing by their wholehearted response that, ' . . . the roar of guns above the battlefield of France cannot drown in the heart of any true Christian that summons contained in Christ's last message to us.'"

The Every-woman Canvass has been carried out in a number of Presbyteries with remarkable success. From the President of one of these comes the word, "The response has been wonderful," but no doubt this has been due to the faithful, systematic work of the President herself, who in a letter to her constituency wrote, "We have about 1500 women in the Missionary Societies of our Presbytery; and it is our business to find the others, enlist them and make them see that at this time it is a question of duty, responsibility and loyalty that demands the allegiance of every Christian woman. We must all realize that this is not a matter to be carelessly nor half-heartedly taken up, but one to be thought out and prayed over most earnestly. I know that you will work it out to the glory of Him whom we serve." To such faithful, consecrated women throughout our whole territory we give credit for the splendid results achieved during the year.

We welcome a new President in Shenango Presbyterial Society and report with sorrow the death of Mrs. Robert H. Kirk the faithful President of Redstone Presbyterial Society.

Baltimore Synodical Society had a most inspiring meeting in Wilmington, Del., for its large gathering of workers. The Synodical Executive Committee recommended that the Presbyterial Societies unite the Home and Foreign organizations, and Baltimore Presbyterial Society has already done so, Mrs. John McDowell becoming President and Mrs. Stockbridge Vice-President of this new Society. New Castle is planning to do the same thing, where Miss Tyson is resigning. Washington and New Castle Presbyterial Societies had unusually fine Mission Study Institutes and Conferences, the latter having both Miss Schultz and Mr. Milliken.

New Brunswick Presbyterial Society elects a new President this year, Mrs. J. Ritchie Smith, and is rapidly coördinating the Home and Foreign work by electing joint Secretaries for the lesser offices.

New Jersey Synodical Society welcomes among its new officers Mrs. R. H. MacCready as its President. The Presidents of Monmouth, Newton, Elizabeth and West Jersey have kept in close touch with their societies and have helped to make the records of which we are justly proud.

Faithfulness and loyalty to our representatives in the field, and the realization that "missionary work is war work," are the high standards set forth by the Ohio women. One President writes, "We must enlist every energy, make every sacrifice that the missionary work may not suffer." From another we hear, "We have not learned to say 'We cannot.” The year’s report verifies this statement. The district meetings, notwithstanding zero weather, were well attended and most helpful. In one Presbyterian Society 7 new life members were added this year; may they be “live members” as well. Several new auxiliaries were organized in country districts.

The fifth annual session of the Synodical School of Missions was held at Wooster, August 18 to 25; the meetings were well attended and full of inspiration. This statement from one of its members speaks for itself: “You will never know the School of Missions until you have been there.”

Our Southern Synodical and Presbyterian Societies are manifesting a wide-awake spirit, for a determination to move forward is expressed in many letters. While much inspiration and helpfulness were anticipated from the Biennial at Nashville, and there is expression of great regret that it could not be held, more intensive work is being planned in many Presbyterian Societies to make up for its loss.

In West Virginia new Presbyterian Presidents have been welcomed in Wheeling and Parkersburg. Missionary education has made a decided advance, and one writes: “Our women feel that we have been playing at missions too long and the hour has struck for intelligent, consecrated study.”

Tennessee Synodical Society, while greatly disappointed that Biennial plans could not be carried out, rejoices in the offering of two young lives for missionary service, one being under appointment. New Presidents were welcomed in Columbia, Holston, Union, McMinnville and French Broad. West Tennessee added a new Auxiliary and endeavored to interest the young people.

In Alabama, a new Synodical President has been welcomed, and in one Presbyterian Society two new Presidents, owing to removal. “The outlook is hopeful,” one writes. “There has been great advance in mission study, with best results.” In Gadsden a relay mission study class was held for the first time. In Florida, interest is steadily increasing, but the lack of Presbyterian organization is greatly felt. Mississippi has suffered keenly the loss by death of its Synodical Secretary-Treasurer. A new President has been greeted in New Hope. An Every-member Canvass is being planned by two Presbyterian Societies. From Atlantic, Catawba and East Tennessee increased interest is shown by a desire for more definite knowledge. In Atlantic, one life has been given for service. A new President has been welcomed to Southern Virginia, who writes: “We are striving to do our best.”

WESTMINSTER GUILD.

The year's report for Westminster Guild is more than ever a challenge to greater trust in God and faith in Westminster Guild girls. The year's statistics show how deep and genuine is the missionary interest, despite the call to Red Cross service. We report 342 Chapters and 163 Circles, with an estimated total membership of 9,680. This is a net increase in organizations of 25. Pittsburgh still leads with 46 Guild organizations, Erie follows with 21, Philadelphia North and Cincinnati with 18 each. Twenty visits to Chapters and Circles are reported by the Guild Secretary of Philadelphia, 12 by the Secretary of Philadelphia North. Thirty-four Chapters and Circles have attained all ten points on the National Young People's Standard of Excellence.

The gifts to Westminster Guild missionary salaries are $5,629.72; to War Emergency, $361.49; to other objects, $619.98, a total of $6,611.19. This is an advance of $1,037.79 to regular work and to all objects, of $1,626.56; 413 societies contributed, a gain of 79. We regret that 92 made no contributions.

One of the 3 new Westminster Guild missionaries adopted during the year is Miss Culver, a candidate of the Philadelphia Board. Two of our missionaries have married, one of these outside the Mission, necessitating her resignation. Our entire force numbers 12, 2 of whom have not yet reached the field for war and health reasons.

The fall months have been given to Home Missions, and the societies are now studying Africa. The Bible program, "Service: A Study of Essentials," has proved deeply helpful. The growing appreciation of the value to the individual of the Westminster Guild Bulletin is shown by a subscription list in Philadelphia territory of 577.

A cause for rejoicing, to which no figures can be fitted, is the increasing frequency with which the candidate papers reveal that experience and motive for foreign service were gained in the Westminster Guild.

It is impossible to express adequate appreciation of the work of our Synodical and Presbyterial Secretaries, or of Miss Schultz, Miss Wishart and Miss Bonine. The year's progress is largely due to their untiring efforts.

YOUNG WOMEN'S SOCIETIES.

The Young Women's Societies have attained a reputation for generous giving, organizations of large membership, and an appreciation of the vital importance of Mission Study; this is the fruit of the faithful work of our Synodical and Presbyterian Young People's Secretaries, and shows the incalculable value of the Field Secretary service so ably rendered.

The result of the year's work shows an aggregate sum of $13,318.06, contributed by 283 organizations, an increase of $1,421.93. Gifts to the War Emergency Fund, $1,437.28; to the salaries of the 4 general Young Women missionaries, $2,513.59, a decrease of $540.30; amount contributed to the salaries of 7 missionaries assumed by the Societies of Huntingdon, Philadelphia North, Pittsburgh, St. Clairsville and Washington City, $4,504.45. Last year's gifts of individual Presbyterian Societies to 6 missionaries, $4,158.59.

Two new names appear on our list of young women missionaries: Miss Eva Jane Smith, India, replacing as Huntingdon's missionary Miss Dora Eddy, whose marriage occasioned her resignation; and Miss Marie Gillespie, Persia, whose support has been assumed by the Societies of Washington City Presbyterian as the object of their gifts.

The Young Women's Bulletin, more than ever attractively illustrated, in its three issues has carried messages not only from field and headquarters but also from society to society through its newly inaugurated department, "What Some Young Women's Societies Are Doing."

STUDENT COMMITTEE.

The Student Committee shows its work hindered by war conditions; it was very difficult to find the right girl for Associate Field Secretary. But word of the students is that they are turning to Church work and to "things of the spirit," and our Field Secretary reports new and wonderful opportunities in the colleges.

Philadelphia Board has availed itself of part of the services of the Student Field Secretary of General Council for visitation in colleges. Miss Dorothy Harris has also rendered valuable service since last fall, particularly in a literary way.

Fifteen colleges, 16 women's meetings and 2 conferences have been attended by our Field Secretary. At all the summer conferences the committee was represented. In November letters were sent to over 500 alumnae.

Two definite objects have been assigned to the students for financial support, the Women's Christian College at Tokio, Japan, and the Community Life School at Smith, Kentucky. This is a new departure and we hope the college girl will fully meet the call.

The Northfield Conference last January blazed such a wide trail for the coming year that we must make every effort to go forward on it; so a concentrated missionary drive, with the aid of our Student Secretaries and our finest missionary speakers, is planned for next fall among our own students.

For the coming year the Student Work asks the missionary women of the Church:

1. To render any service requested of them in connection with the missionary campaign in the colleges next fall.
2. To send us the names of any undergraduates whom they wish the Field Secretaries to know.
3. To strive to use these girls whose missionary interest is awakening, that none may lack for a place of service.
4. To pray for all who are leading student classes and moulding student thought, and also for the girls who are beginning to consider the missionary cause.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES.

Christian Endeavorers have long since proved themselves to be Christian Doers, this year more so than ever. Many a brave and gallant soldier of the Cross has gone from their ranks to fight valiantly for suffering humanity. The secretary from Lackawanna says, "One of our societies reports 31 of their young men gone to the colors;" also that "three of our societies have held special meetings for definite prayer for missions;" a most hopeful and significant fact. Another secretary says, "No organization connected with the Woman's Board has been so seriously affected by the great world war as the C. E. Societies; but in spite of the fact that many of our best members have gone to the front, with none to replace them, the interest in missions is growing deeper and stronger."

"The Lure of Africa" is the book most used in the growing number of Reading Circles and Study Classes, while one Intermediate Society reports as their special study the Shorter Catechism.

Notwithstanding many difficulties hindering the regular work we rejoice over the final reports of the year. The gifts for regular work are $13,265.82; for War Emergency, $323.15; for Siam, $4.00; for Latin America, $71.33; for Million Dollar Items, $60.00, a total of $13,724.30, a gain over last year of $503.62. 867 societies contributed, a gain of 17 over last year.

"Twelve Christian Endeavor Missionary Programs," based on the topics of The United Society of Christian Endeavor, and prepared as usual by General Council, are most helpful in preparing for interesting missionary meetings.

CHILDREN'S WORK.

Energetic Young People's Secretaries; faithful leaders of L. L. B., L. B., and Jr. C. E. Societies; a splendid study book, "African Adventurers;" the magazine, Over Sea and Land; Our Foreign Mail, issued free to each Society in April and November, with the special news for children concerning their four stations and their four societies; union missionary meetings in which old and young take part—all these, and many others, have been contributing forces towards a successful year among children's societies.

We are glad to report many hopeful signs for the coming year. We have had 40 new societies start out with enthusiasm, making 994 altogether. Women are writing for information about children's work. Many young people have become interested in children's work at the summer conferences. Meetings for children and women at the same hour in adjoining rooms is a splendid sign. The promotion of the children to more advanced societies, and the filling up of the ranks from the younger set, is an onward step. The growing appreciation of the value of study books on Missions means much for the future.

The contributions for the past year have been as follows: 262 Jr. C. E. Societies contributed $1,641.34; 492 L. B. and L. L. B. Societies contributed $6,038.46.

DEPARTMENT FOR ASSOCIATE MEMBERS (EXTENSION DEPARTMENT).

Notwithstanding the distracting war conditions that have surrounded our women during the past year, our Extension Department has not only held its own but has advanced. The majority of the Secretaries show a spirit of courage, hopefulness and determination. Contributions, wherever reported, are good. Wider use is being made of our magazines, of study books, library books, leaflets on the subscription plan, and letters from missionaries. The value of having Extension Departments in churches where it seems impossible to organize a society has been proved, and one more Presbyterian Society has taken up the plan. The reports show that we have 203 departments, with a total membership of 2,454 in 47 Presbyterian Societies.

Acting upon a recommendation from the Chicago Conference, the Woman's Home Board and the six Foreign Boards have unified their plans for the Extension Department as follows:

1. The name of the department shall be, "The Department for Associate Members."

2. The Secretary in the department shall be called "The Secretary of the Department for Associate Members," and of Synodical, Presbyterial and Auxiliary Societies, "The Secretary for Associate Members."

3. Any woman of the congregation, or of the community, not actively connected with the Woman's Auxiliary Society, who cannot attend its regular meetings, but will read the literature provided for her, may become an Associate Member of the Society.

As there is no change which affects our former policy, we urge our Societies to renew their efforts to extend the work according to the plans already outlined by our Board.

LITERATURE.

Another year of increased effort on the part of the Literature Secretary shows encouraging results along many lines. One definite attainment is the marked increase in sales of the Year Book of Prayer; the combination of the Home and Foreign subjects in one book promises an even greater advance in the coming years. Despite the decrease in subscription to Woman's Work and Over Sea and Land, many Literature Secretaries report a real and deepening interest in missions. We would call their attention to the first editorial in the March number of Woman's Work and their responsibility in this matter.

There have been tables and exhibits of literature at Presbyterial meetings and in Auxiliary societies. There was also opportunity for an extensive exhibit at the "World in Cleveland."

This year an effort will be made to bring the literature to the attention of the young people. To this end it is urged that the Presbyterial and local Literature Secretaries keep closely in touch with the Young People's Societies.

Two points are again to be emphasized: the need of an allowance from the contingent fund for Literature Secretaries, and more time before and after missionary meetings in which to exhibit or sell new literature.

Although the work is growing and pushing forward, the year just beginning summons us to even greater and more faithful service.

MISSIONARY EDUCATION.

In occasional instances several classes have had to combine under one leader, and some courses have had to be shortened, yet through all the stress of these times much intensive mission study has been done and ways have been found to bring missionary information before our people. We have on our files a record of 721 mission study classes, 187 program classes, 95 reading circles and 23 lecture classes, making a total of 1,026 groups at work.

Missionary education during the coming year should bring about a realization of the relation of the missionary enterprise to the new industrial problems of the world, and in view of the labor situation for women in our own country and the attention that religious organizations are giving to it, the textbooks for the coming year are most opportune and of deep interest, dealing with this subject as presented in foreign lands.

1. "Working Women of the Orient," by Margaret E. Burton, for Women, Young Women and Westminster Guild Chapters, issued by the United Study Committee.

2. "Ancient Peoples at New Tasks," by Willard Price, for S. C. E. and other mixed groups, issued by the Missionary Education Movement.

3. "Jack and Janet in the Philippines," by Norma Waterbury Thomas, a book for Juniors, issued by the United Study Committee.

REPORT OF SPECIFIC WORK.

Few new assignments of station work have been arranged during the past year.

Twenty-four names have been added to our list of missionaries, 7 have been lost by death, 3 by resignation and 2 have been loaned to other Boards.

Our thanks are due New York Board for the loan of 1 missionary.

Eleven missionaries have been assigned for support, including 1 on Rockefeller Foundation.

Money for buildings has been provided from legacy funds as shown in the Treasurer's report.

CANDIDATES.

New applications considered by the Candidate Committee number 31; appointments by Assembly's Board for the year, 22; for support, or as associate missionaries, 21 of these were adopted by the Board. Assignments to India lead with 3 missionary wives, 2 nurses, 1 evangelistic and 3 educational workers. China's reinforcements include a doctor, a nurse, and an evangelistic worker, with 3 for educational positions; 2 of these are short term appointments. Persia, Chosen and the Philippines receive only 1 recruit respectively. South America will have new centers of gospel influence because of the appointment of 3 missionary wives; 1 single woman assigned to Colombia is temporarily detained.

World conditions have limited appointments to such as are especially equipped for leadership, a fact which indicates the high standard of the accepted candidates. Those assigned as educational missionaries have had systematic Bible study and are prepared to utilize all possible opportunities for direct evangelistic effort.

Attention is called to the fact that despite the constantly reiterated calls for doctors and nurses this Board sends only 1 medical missionary and 3 nurses to supply the present critical need. Here presses the double responsibility, the call not only to the student body but to the Church, which must come to the financial aid of those of whom it demands long and expensive professional training. Already we have correspondents who desire to dedicate their lives to medical missions, but who are held back by the expense involved in fitting them for this work.

Correspondence with candidates has grown to such an extent that it was decided to create the office of Associate Secretary for Candidates; the work to consist of correspondence with and advice to missionary volunteers, many of whom are undergraduates in our colleges.

The Student Volunteer Movement, realizing that only in Christ is the healing of the Nations, at its late conference resolved to send out an immediate call for volunteers to press forward into every land with the message of the Cross. This promises rich enlargement of the student list, and their Secretary is asking whether our constituency can be counted upon to keep pace with this advance movement and guarantee the support of these young volunteers after they have secured the requisite preparation.

DEPARTMENT OF FIELD WORK.

The past year has been one of unusual activities in the Department for Field Work. Miss Blanche B. Bonine was in this country on an enforced furlough and our Board gladly availed itself of her help: she visited all the Ohio Presbyterial Societies in April and May, and in July taught the Study Class at the conference in Ovoca, Tenn.

Our Board was represented at most of the summer conferences. Miss Schultz led Normal Classes at Chambersburg, Northfield and at the Wooster School of Missions. Miss Alice Wishart also attended Chambersburg and led the Woman's Class in Wooster. In the early fall our Field Department worked in coöperation with the Woman's Home Board; Miss Schultz and Miss Porter held two and three day institutes in a number of the eastern Presbyterian Societies. Miss Wishart went South in October, spending four weeks attending the Synodical meetings in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi; she also visited many local societies.

The "World in Cleveland" was held the first week in December under the auspices of the Federated Churches of that city. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society coöperated with the Assembly's Board and sent Miss Bonine to take charge of the Latin American exhibit. We were fortunate in having Miss Boyle also as our representative; she superintended the literature for both the Assembly's Board and our Board. Conferences for women were held each day in the denominational room.

In February Miss Schultz attended the Winter Conference held in Pittsburgh under the Young People's Department of the Board of Publication and led the Normal Class. From there she went to Cleveland, where she and Miss Wishart each spent two weeks speaking in Women's and Young People's Societies, meeting Presbyterian officers and thus bringing about closer coöperation with the Board.

MISSIONARY SPEAKERS.

During the past year suggestions as to missionary speakers were given for 85 local meetings, 9 district meetings, 25 Presbyterian and 4 Synodical meetings.

Assistance was given in arranging an itinerary for Miss Mary Lovett, of India, to address her supporters in West Jersey Presbyterian. Miss Hilda Helström, of Chosen, visited far-off Wellsboro Presbyterian Society which partially supports her. Miss Helström's desire was gratified in being able to attend its spring meeting and the President wrote with much enthusiasm of the helpfulness and inspiration of the visit. Helpful coöperation of the Assembly's Board through Miss Hodge is manifested in the information concerning women missionaries in our territory.

MISSIONARY BOXES.

That fewer Christmas boxes were sent this year is due largely to existing war conditions, uncertainty of freight delivery and increased rates. But that there is ample Christmas spirit in the hearts of individuals and societies is demonstrated by the many inquiries made. Twenty-one boxes and packages were forwarded to China, Chosen, Japan, Philippine Islands and Mexico. Sabbath School rolls, papers, magazines and picture postcards were sent to China, Japan, South America, Philippine Islands and Africa. May Christmas, 1918, be a real joy to those who know not Christ, through you who have the spirit of the Master-sacrifice.

BUREAU OF LETTERS.

From all of our mission field, except Syria and Africa, letters have been received with greater regularity than might have been expected in the disturbed condition of the world. These we have sought to pass on to supporters of the work as promptly as possible, always regretting when a desired letter was not forthcoming.

During the year 10,327 copies have been made of 232 letters and 13,878 packages were sent by mail and express.

LIBRARY.

The Library Committee has sought through another year to meet the need of our constituents by adding the new missionary books which are in demand and always welcomes suggestions as to desirable additions.

To the lending list of periodicals has been added the magazine Asia, which is of value to missionary workers, although not a missionary publication. During the year 438 books have been loaned and 40 added to the library.

PUBLICATION COMMITTEE.

The demand for our publications during the past year has been steady and large. Twenty-one new leaflets originated with us and 17 were issued in conjunction with other Boards. Sixteen of our own were reprinted after being revised or almost rewritten and a large number were bought from other sources, making a total of about 100,000 copies provided.

The number of Mission Study textbooks sold (7,413) did not reach the phenomenal figures of last year, but are in advance of any previous to that. The most popular was "The African Trail," 4,820 copies. Every effort has been made to supply instruction and information for the leaders and suitable leaflets for the packets of helps.

"The Year Book of Prayer," published for the first time in conjunction with the Woman's Board of Home Missions, at 20 cents a copy, has met with a hearty welcome. Of these we have sold 4,121 and 795 of last year's edition. The number of leaflet subscriptions increases yearly.

Two numbers of Our Foreign Mail, an illustrated paper for Light Bearers and Jr. C. E. Societies, have been issued and 3 interesting Bulletins for the Young Women's Societies. The Westminster Guild Bulletin is published in connection with the other Presbyterian Boards 3 times a year.

7,700 picture postal cards have been printed, as well as thank-offering envelopes, blanks, miteboxes, Extension Department envelopes and other helps. The committee aims to relieve the General Fund each year of additional items of expense in necessary printing. We have again contributed $55.00 towards the publication of Happy Childhood, the Chinese periodical. The year closes with a balance of $1,500.63.

PRAYER MEETINGS.

The prayer meetings have been very largely attended, and we find in this respect that war work has not drawn our women from Foreign Missionary work.

We have remembered in prayer our boys in the Army and Navy, as well as our missionaries in home and foreign fields. Over and over again our own missionaries tell us of the joy and help it is to them to know we pray for them by name.

Although the meetings during the Week of Prayer were not well attended, they were unusually full of encouragement and inspiration.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE.

The Hospitality Committee has secured a hostess for each of the monthly prayer meetings and for the meetings of the Week of Prayer; it also was in charge of the luncheon for the 50 ladies present at the annual meeting on April 3, 1917. The purchase of necessary additions to the equipment of the office were also made under the direction of this committee.

It is our privilege to get in touch with all missionaries who are in our midst; welcoming them, calling on them so far as possible, entertaining a few in the homes of members, informing them of boarding houses and dressmakers, and rendering them any needed assistance.

We would serve the missionary in every way that we can and pray that our little part in this great work may bring a rich blessing.

“WOMAN’S WORK.”

The year just closed has been one of peculiar difficulty for the magazine. With every one absorbed in the war of nations it has not been easy to secure writers in the interest of the great spiritual war that is always “on.” Nevertheless the editor has accomplished a difficult task and notable articles have appeared in every issue. There have been unusually fine illustrations and only lack of funds has prevented a more elaborate showing of our missionaries and their work. “Woman’s Work is not a money making enterprise and 50 cents must be spread out pretty thin to cover all it costs to produce it.” In spite of the higher cost of paper and labor, the year closed without a financial deficit owing to the care and vigilance of the editor and her assistants.

After a special drive for subscriptions there is apt to be a falling off, so it is hardly surprising that after the gain of 3,142 paid subscriptions in 1916-17, this year there should be a loss of 537, making the present number 27,972. But it is certainly to be regretted that in spite of the activity of our valiant Literature Secretaries we have lost 426 in our own territory. The little rouser, “Think a Minute,” prepared by Miss Boyle, our contribution toward publicity, brought in many a belated subscription.

The magazine starts on its journey promptly in time to reach all subscribers in this country before the first of the month; any late delivery is due to the postoffice disarrangements.

The new page, “The Book Stall,” is proving of great interest and value, but it is a mystery why orders for leaflets are sent frequently to the magazine in spite of the notice that they are to come to our office.

A real loss to the Editorial Committee has been the resignation of Mrs. Turner, but we are grateful for the many years of service she has given to the magazine, and are assured of her continued interest and help.

“OVER SEA AND LAND.”

The total paid subscriptions for the past year were 20,065, a serious falling off we regret to report, of 2,822, of which 1,060 were the distinct responsibility of the territory of the Philadelphia Board. This practically nullifies the gain of last year. The loss is undoubtedly due to war conditions, and the multitudinous duties which have come to the women during the year, eclipsing their interest, for the time, in the Junior magazine.

However, the loss is to the children and to the missionary work. We must regain, and it can only be done by each one considering it her responsibility to make the magazine known and to see that the children receive it. Over Sea and Land tells of the efforts for lasting peace in the world through the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the work of reconstruction which the children can do. Let us more than make up our loss.

In closing we see that a majority of the year's reports are far above our highest expectation, a cause for great thanksgiving. The Lord has shown to us the loyalty of His people in this territory and revealed His power over distracting hindrances.

Let us then "speak to the people that they go forward" still further. The times are inspiring, the opportunities unparalleled, the call to the service of the King has never been more urgent, thrilling, awakening, and never has response to it brought more uplift, or more surely led to paths of peace.

LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY,
Certified Public Accountants.
Morris Building, Philadelphia.

24TH APRIL, 1918.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

MESDAMES:—We report that we have audited the accounts of your Society for the year ended 15th March, 1918, and found the receipts as shown by the cash-book to be all accounted for and the disbursements substantiated by proper vouchers.

We examined the securities owned by the Society on 23d April, 1918, and found them to be in accordance with the records.

The typed copy of the Society's Financial Report for the year ended 15th March, 1918, which is to be published, has been verified by us and found to be in agreement with the records.

Very truly yours,

LYBRAND, ROSS BROS. & MONTGOMERY.

SPECIFIC WORK OF OUR SOCIETIES.

Pledges of Presbyterial Societies to the support of Missionaries and Station Work are given at the beginning of each Presbyterial Society's record.

Pledges of Individual Societies are given on pp. 122-133 and also in the Presbyterial records.

Pledges of Young Women's Societies in general are for the support of the following missionaries:

Miss Anna S. Doriss, Pyeng Yang, Chosen (Korea),
Miss Sallie Alexander, Osaka, Japan,
Miss Blanche B. Bonine, Merida, Mexico,
Miss Mary Louise Hamilton, Licheng-hsien, China.

Other pledges carried by Presbyterial and individual Young Women's Societies are given in the Presbyterial records.

National Westminster Guild Chapters and Circles have as their Foreign Mission object the support of the following missionaries:

Miss Isabelle Mae Ward, Tokyo, Japan,
Miss Katharine McCune, Chai Ryung, Chosen (Korea),
Miss Harriet M. Allyn, Ph.D., Canton, China,
Mrs. J. Lawrence Thurston, Nanking, China,
Mrs. Herbert W. Greig, Kribi, Cameroun, Africa,
Miss Hazel E. Brunner, Lakawn, Siam,
Miss Margaret Doolittle, Syria,
Miss Jean Stoner, Curitiba, Brazil,
Miss Laura Eleanor Morrison, Guatemala City, Guatemala,
Miss Marjorie Lucy Hanson (under appointment),
Miss Theodora Culver, Peking, China.

Pledges of Senior and Intermediate Christian Endeavor Societies are given at the beginning of the Presbyterial records.

Junior Christian Endeavor Societies, Light Bearers and Little Light Bearers support Miss Elizabeth Faries, Canton, China, and contribute to the following Stations: Tripoli, Syria; Laguna de Bay, Philippine Islands; and Saharanpur, India.

SUPPORT OF MISSIONARIES AND STATION WORK.

Arrangements for the support of missionaries by Presbyterial Societies, local societies or individuals are made by the Secretary for Specific Work. Such assignment makes our Board responsible to the Assembly's Board of Foreign Missions for the continued support of the missionary.

Each year the Assembly's Board of Foreign Missions assigns to churches, individuals and the Woman's Boards certain shares in the support of Stations. Station work includes all the activities of the Mission. Shares in Stations, at $5.00 a share, are assigned by the Secretary for Specific Work. All inquiries should be addressed to her.

Presbyterian work on the foreign field is conducted entirely on the Station Plan. Contributors are therefore reminded that assignments are not made for Bible women, native workers, scholarships, hospital or dispensary work separately, but only for shares in the Station.

List of Contributing Societies—1917-1918.

We are endeavoring to economize, and in order to reduce our report to as few pages as possible we print for each Society the total amount of gifts only, including the War Emergency, Latin America and Siam Specials. At the end of each Presbyterian record is given a division of totals.
