GENERAL INDEX

NOTES CONCERNING USE OF INDEX

Preparatory to using this index please read its first page and also the part of PREFACE (Vol. I, pp xxx-xxxii) under headings, SEARCH AND STUDY OF RECORDS—The General Index—Biographical Cross References—Methods of Search for a Person's Data.

The reading of the entire PREFACE, particularly the parts under headings, ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS (p xi) and PLAN (pp xii-xxvi) will be helpful in conveying some understanding of the plan of index.

The designations after the names of persons express their lineages and precisely identify them as explained in PREFACE (pp xv-xvi) under heading, The System of Designations. Thus informed, the researcher by eliminations is spared much effort.

The running heads at the top of the pages are the guide to the designations. Look first for the name in the proper register, then for further information, if any, in the biographical text following.

The SUMMARY OF CONTENTS of each of the various Sections help in locating readily the designations.

In each Section, following its SUMMARY OF CONTENTS, is register of ascendants of its central couple, biographies of ascendants and their sons and daughters with registers of their descendants, the central couple, register of their descendants and their biographies.

Preceding each section of KINFOLKS is a summary of contents which shows the order in which the antecessors of that section are treated and in which the registers and biographical text of their descendants appear. The following recapitulation shows the designations of antecessors in the order in which they are treated:

- 1 Harlee Section: 11, 1 L11 111, 1L1 111, 1L 111. 1 L11, 1L1, S1, 1.

In each section the central couple and their descendants are treated after the antecessors and the other descendants of the antecessors.

Descendants of the central couple and other descendants of their antecessors are designated by their designations followed by zero and numerals or small letters to express their descent.

The general index shows the designations of the central couple and their kindred. Spouses of the kindred are designated by the small letter m preceding the designation of the husband or wife. References to persons not known to be kindred nor married to them are indicated by v (vide) followed by the designation of the person in connection with whom they are mentioned in either registers or biographical text.

The registers and biographical text are arranged in the order of designations. The captions or "running heads" at the top of each page will guide to the register or part of the text indicated by the designations shown in this general index.

The Preface (Vol. I, pp. xxx-xxxiii), under the headings THE GENERAL INDEX, BIOGRAPHICAL CROSS REFERENCES, and METHOD OF SEARCH FOR PERSON'S DATA, further explains the method of search and study of the records herein.
