A few extras in the garden

Corsican snowdrops.

These snow drops have multiplied since I obtained a few from Ray Bills (Ex member of our group) years ago.

He told me he obtained them from our group before I was a member and they had multiplied quickly.

Laurie's little friends look happy!!

Edgeworthia Chrysanthera Grandiflora

This twiggy shrub/small tree is bare except for the heady scented flowers at this time of the year.

We saw a mature one at Kew last February, 8ft tall and the scent was overpowering
