2017 PERENNIAL BARE ROOT CATALOGUE

Dear Darwin Plants customer,

Our goal at Darwin Plants is to always be your first choice for bare root perennials and service. We are committed to go the extra mile and do the right thing for your business.

Again we have selected the best new and existing varieties available in the market and in addition to that, we have reinstated on demand a number of solid performers!

Our goal is to provide you outstanding quality bare root so you are able to successfully grow and sell these plants. We understand that your success is our success, so in order to achieve that we offer you:

- A wealth of skill and experienced staff on hand to guide you from variety selection to cultural support
- A dedicated customer service team that will be helpful and efficient with all your order and shipping enquiries
- Access to the best new varieties offered by breeders around the world that look great at retail and have proven outstanding garden performance. New varieties are always popular, so early ordering is highly recommended as availability may be limited.

Thank you for choosing Darwin Plants as your bare root supplier and I hope you have a successful season.

ORDERING

For best availability for your desired ship, please order early.

Shipment dates cannot be altered after December 1, 2016

Our packing process begins on December 1, so no changes to your order can be made after this date. Although we do accept orders after this deadline, the selection will be more limited and some varieties will be unavailable.

An acknowledgment will be faxed or mailed to you as soon as we have processed your order. All orders are subject to crop conditions. We have a long growing season and many unforeseen problems may occur which can damage crops and thereby reduce the amount of plants available. Every effort is made to fulfill orders, but the availability of a particular variety cannot always be guaranteed until we begin shipping. Therefore, we may have to cancel some items from your order at a later date.

POT TAGS

United Kingdom & Ireland

Pot tags are automatically included with your bareroot order.

If you do not wish to receive tags, please clearly specify this information when you send or call in your order. Unless otherwise stated we will send 1 tag per plant.

Rest of the World

Pot tags are only shipped upon request.

You can request tags for your complete order by checking the relevant box on the order form. Unless otherwise stated we will send 1 tag per plant.

For the following items the tag multiple is one tag per three corms.

Convallaria majalis*, Crocoshmia and Liatris (except for Kobold)

Each tag includes full English descriptive information and notes on care and usage.

MULTIPLES

Product is packed in multiples of 25, with the following exceptions.

Convallaria majalis, Crocoshmia and Liatris (not Kobold), multiples of 75. We recommend 3 corms per pot.

Lilies, multiples of 50. We recommend 2 to 3 bulbs per pot.

Peonies, multiples of 25, 10 or 5. Details are available on the order form.

Cultural Instructions For A Good Start

1 Upon Arrival

Let the roots thaw out slowly.

Most plants are shipped frozen at 28°F (-2°C) to keep them dormant. If the plant material is still frozen upon arrival please leave it in a cool, dry place to thaw out slowly so that it is able to adapt.

Plants need fresh air: open all boxes and bags immediately upon receipt, but prevent dehydration.

Temperature and condensation will build up inside closed boxes, causing sprouting and rotting. However, plant material in open boxes can dry out easily, so ventilation should be minimal and prevent direct sunlight at all times.

Check the condition of the roots in the boxes daily.

Plants that have started to sprout must be planted immediately. If any sign of fungal or bacterial infection is suspected, plants can not be stored anymore. Infected parts must be removed and the plants treated with fungicide and/or bactericide.

Items that do not tolerate storage must be planted immediately.

Do not leave the plant material longer than necessary in the boxes and bags, for storage will reduce vigor for every species. If unable to transplant immediately, store in a cool place (2-8°C/36-46°F). When stored at higher temperatures with lower humidity, the vigor will be reduced dramatically. At temperatures higher than 68°F (20°C), the roots must be planted within 24 hours.

2 Planting

Do not plant roots that are still frozen.

Frozen roots are not able to transport water to the buds. If the buds have thawed out before the roots have, they can be damaged by dehydration. Do not force thawing as this will create stressful conditions to the roots and buds.

Handle the roots with great care to avoid breaking of buds and/or roots.

Some species have fragile buds and/or roots. Breaking off may decrease plant size.

Don't let roots dry out during potting.

Prevent dehydration of the roots by planting them right away after you have taken them out of the box. Serious damage to fine-haired roots like Epimedium or Phlox can be done in 10 minutes, they can dry out in 20 minutes! Make sure the potting room is free of draught. Always cover roots during breaks.

Rootpinching

Some plants root better if the roots are pinched (see table)

Soil

It is necessary to use a well-drained potting soil to avoid roots staying wet, which can cause them to rot. Many problems come from a lack of adequate drainage. Don't give plants fertilizer before they are actively growing.

Firm the soil around the roots: prevent air pockets

Roots should be centered in the pot and spread out evenly, with all roots facing downward. There must be good contact between all parts of the roots and the soil. Firm the soil around the roots. All of this is necessary for the roots to absorb water and nutrients.

Many perennials should be planted "high"

Results of experiments conducted by Dr. Bill Miller of the Cornell University suggest that many perennials should be planted with the crown (intersection of the roots and the shoots) at or slightly above soil level, after watering and settling. Some plants such as Geranium Ballerina showed an almost absolute aversion to deep planting (1/2 to 1" deep) with a nearly 100% loss. High planting, on the other hand, resulted in nearly 100% survival and good growth (Handling Bareroot Perennials, Growertalks, May 2004, by W.B. Miller and A. Bestic).

The most important reason for this, is that plants will receive daylight sooner than when they are planted too deeply. With daylight, plants make energy, which they need for growing. Also, when planted too deeply the crown may stay too wet for too long, which can cause them to rot.

3 After Planting

Water carefully.

After planting in early spring, do not water the first week: in this stage the roots can only accept little moisture and need to be stimulated to look for water. After this, slowly start with watering.

Also, the young shoots are especially vulnerable to overwatering before they appear above the soil: in this critical phase, over watering may cause suffocation of plant parts or damping-off diseases. Be extra careful with irrigation at low temperatures: plant growth is slower, therefore this critical phase lasts longer. Some plants need a dryer start than others. Once the plants have started to grow, revert to a regular watering schedule. Some plants prefer to be grown "dry," others "wet" (see table). Keep the soil moisture as constant as possible; too much fluctuation will harm the plant.

Fungicide drench

A fungicide drench applied on plant material one to two weeks after planting can prevent problems.

Greenhouse conditions

In early spring, plants have different requirements regarding temperature. Some plants prefer a cold start (35°-55°F / 1.6°-12.8°C), some a medium cold start (45°-65°F / 7.2°-18.3°C), others a warm start (60°-75°F / 15.5°-23.8°C). Prevent the young shoots from freezing at all times: some plants won't give you a second chance! Ventilation in the greenhouse is very important: little ventilation will cause problems with mildew and fungus.

Please contact your sales representative for additional cultural instructions on Delphinium and Echinacea.

Claims and Comments

Upon arrival, please check the plants you have received against the packing list and report shortages. Also, notify us immediately if you doubt the viability of a variety during planting; e.g. when roots are moldy or soft. We recommend that you still plant the stock because many plants will grow out of it. Never send stock back without letting us know first.

Please inform us WITHIN 14 DAYS if you discover any problems:

- Pre-notification within 14 days is necessary for credit allowance at later date
- No credit allowance after June 1, 2017

Incorrect varieties can be reported till June 1, 2017

Although we do our best to ensure all our stock is true to name, mistakes can occur occasionally. Therefore, you have until September 1, 2017 to report these mistakes. Photographic proof may be requested or your account manager may come to visit you.

Warranty

Orders are subject to crop conditions and other causes beyond our control. Orders are accepted subject to availability and we reserve the right to cancel a portion or all of your order if plants are not available due to causes beyond our control. We guarantee our nursery stock to be true to name. We make no other express or implied warranty and the plants are sold only with the limited guarantee. We will not be liable for any direct, indirect, special or consequential damages or lost profits, or business interruption. We shall in no case be liable for any sum greater than the amount originally received for said nursery stock.
