PERSONAL BEST

We live in demanding times, supplying an increasingly demanding market. Growers and retailers who once faced only local challengers now square off against global competition. How we all handle these realities will define our industry's future.

Season after season, like you, we strive to outdo our past performance. Like you, we know that what was once good enough won't cut it today. Now, if all you can say about a product or service is "good enough," it probably isn't.

Each year, we're grateful for the opportunity to help you achieve your personal best. Here, simply stated, is how we do it.

- We work with the world's best breeders—an eclectic group who also strive to eclipse their past achievements. This catalog contains over 60 new varieties.
- We grow from our own divisions, seedlings and cuttings, or with the very best propagules available from specialists. In-house or outsourced, we provide the inputs and environment they need for as long as they need it.
- We grow in the best possible liners, some of which we designed, filled with media chosen for specific genera. Our sizes suit both cultural needs and market criteria.
- We deliver using materials and practices refined by decades of packing and shipping. And we stand behind our product with growing information and follow-up to ensure you turn out your best product.

Simple steps—but as you know, simple and easy are not synonymous.

Your customers won't settle for "good enough." Neither can you. Let us help you put your best foot forward. It's what we do best.

PERENNIALS

These are extraordinary times for growers. So many choices, such phenomenal breeding! Confronting today's cornucopia of perennial cultivars, how do you decide which to grow? We have suggestions. They start on the next page.

You know you can't afford to stand pat. That's why we're so set on separating grain from chaff, content from noise, trend from fad. This year brings over 50 new perennial intros. Some highlights:

Coreopsis: Our traditionally deep, wide selection is even more so, with four new intros by breeder Darrell Probst, and Darwin's highly evolved UpTick™ group.

Echinacea: This strong suit is more robust than ever: Three new Sombrero® varieties; the Kismet™ series by Terra Nova Nurseries; and 'Green Twister', a novelty from Jelitto Seeds.

Echinacea redux: Want a longer coneflower selling season? Plant our short-day-treated 'PowWow Wild Berry' and 'Cheyenne Spirit'. They'll flower on your schedule, right through summer into fall.

Stachys monieri 'Hummelo': The 2019 Perennial Plant Association's Perennial Plant of the Year! PPA has chosen wisely since 1990. That's why we grow 24 PPOY winners, and why you can confidently offer 'Hummelo'.

Native cultivars: Besides Echinacea, we've bolstered numerous indigenous genera. Check out Amsonia xButterscotch™, Lobelia cardinalis 'Black Truffle', and Penstemon digitalis Dakota™ series.

GET TO KNOW OUR SOFTER SIDE

Some non-hardy plants have too much charisma to ignore. That's why we grow:

Colocasia: Two dazzling new Royal Hawaiian® varieties, a Wow! element for border or container.

Senecio 'Angel Wings': Silky, silvery, and irresistible. Go ahead, touch it. You know you want to.

Duranta: Bold, gold and shrubby, "Dewberry" brightens up any space.

Rudbeckia hirta SmileyZ™: Vegetatively propagated, bred for uniform cropping and heavy flowering across all varieties.

SUCCULENTS

ALL THE JUICY DETAILS

America's love affair with succulents keeps growing stronger and deeper. Homeowners, decorators, florists and designers are smitten with the wide range of forms available, and with the near-zero maintenance factor.

Our offering also keeps growing stronger and deeper. In recognition of this group's popularity, we've promoted it: Once a perennial subset, it's now a category unto itself. And this year, we've added over a dozen varieties in three key genera.

DELOSPERMA

It's oxymoronic, but ice plants are hot. This year's hottest lick: heavy-flowering, fast-finishing HotCakes™, bred for uniform performance and consistent cropping across all colors. And we've enhanced the color palette of our established collections, with two new Jewel of Desert and three Wheels of Wonder® varieties.

LEWISIA

One of the few native American succulents that's not a cactus, Lewisia has a great retail-ready history to share: It was first collected by the Corps of Discovery, a.k.a. the Lewis and Clark expedition—hence the name. An obvious choice for rock gardens, it's also a great, low-maintenance flowering houseplant.

SEDUM

No perennial line is complete without Sedum. Our selection runs the gamut: We're a reliable source of reliable classics like Autumn Joy, and we keep you current with recent introductions. We grow Terra Nova Nursery's award-winning breeding, plus the popular SunSparkler® series. In all, you have nearly three dozen options!

SEMPERVIVUM

You CAN teach an old genus new tricks. After generations of service as a rock garden stalwart, the cute, collectable Chick Charms® brand reinvents "hens and chicks" as a retail rock star. And with three mixes to choose from, growers and retailers can offer an exciting variety without tying up lots of bench space.

Growers, retailers and gardeners are tapping its potential—not just as a rock garden specimen, but as a flowering potted plant, outdoors or in. Jazz up your succulent selection with Lewisia!

ORNAMENTAL GRASSES

WE DIDN'T INVENT ORNAMENTAL GRASSES. WE JUST KEEP TRYING TO PERFECT THEM.

Emerald Coast Growers was born as an ornamental grass specialist nursery. Well into our third decade, we've diversified into other crops, as this catalog amply demonstrates.

Nonetheless, ornamental grasses remain a key component of our product line, and they're still our signature crop in the industry's consciousness. As grasses keep rising from niche market to garden staple, we're not just along for the ride. Our liners are helping to fuel the journey.

Homeowners and professionals alike have embraced grasses for their unique beauty, ease of care, multi-season interest, and unmatched diversity. Traditional favorites remain strong, while modern breeding and selection have given us myriad shapes, colors, sizes and habits.

Your customer base may call for petite varieties to complement mixed containers, or to highlight residential borders. Commercial landscapes thrive on large swaths of midsize forms punctuated by statuesque specimens. Demand for naturalistic meadows and sustainable plantings has created a market for native grasses, adaptable to everything from shade to full sun and near-zero maintenance.

Whatever your scenario, there truly is a grass for every purpose. From tiny to towering and everywhere in between, you'll find it in liners in the pages ahead.

We've said it for years: You know our grasses, because we know our grasses.

Miscanthus (Maiden grass)

Miscanthus is a premier group of ornamental grasses, favorites of gardeners and landscapers for many years. The genus contains literally hundreds of cultivars. M. sinensis, the major commercial species, forms large clumps of leaves that grow upward, then cascade gracefully outward. The showy flowers are composed of many small spikelets with needle-like awns of beige, red, or pink. These finely divided parts catch sunlight to glow beautifully, especially when lit from behind.

There are three basic foliage options: Solid green, longitudinally variegated, and horizontally banded. Foliage may turn bronze, red, or gold in the fall, and holds up well through winter. Miscanthus can be used alone as specimens, or massed for screens, hedges, and backgrounds. The plumes make long-lasting cut flowers. Spring and fall are both appropriate planting times. Ideal conditions include full sun to bright shade, and fertile soil. They grow well near water, and require irrigation in hot, dry conditions.

A picture says a thousand words.

Plant tags have tremendous power. A plant in its prime at the height of the season will sell itself, but tags help close the deal anytime. Our color picture tags make your ornamentals' potential tangible, showing your customers a beautiful, mature plant even when the real thing isn't at its peak. Finally, tags aren't just a pretty face: they provide the practical growing information your customers need to succeed.

Ask for picture tags with your next order.

In all but the most extreme cases, accept the delivery and keep a record of any losses. We will handle claims with the carrier as necessary, and arrange credit and/or replacements.

DORMANT PLANTS

In winter and early spring, you may open our boxes and find starters with brown leaves, or even no leaves. What's wrong? Probably nothing. Your plants are simply dormant.

Perennials rest in winter, storing precious energy in their roots, ready to push out new growth when warm weather returns. It's natural for foliage to turn brown or drop off. Examine the roots. They should be firm and fleshy, not soft and mushy.

Most perennials benefit from a cold period, and some absolutely require it to flower. Vernalized plants often out-perform those that have had it too soft. If you're unsure, just wait. Keep your trays evenly moist, NOT sopping wet, in a warm, bright house. When clear signs of life appear, pot up as usual.

Don't frown at the brown. Brown is beautiful. Like the rest of the world, your starters will be lush and green again before you know it.

CUSTOM GROWN ORDERS

Don't see what you want in a size that suits your needs? We will custom grow, year-round, many perennials and ornamental grasses in sizes other than our spec production. Quantity restrictions apply.

Please call or email your request. We will provide a price quote and earliest ready date for your order.
